BRONCO MENDENHALL

Mendenhall Enters Fifth Season at the Helm of Cavaliers

Since arriving at Virginia for the 2016 season, head coach Bronco Mendenhall's impact on the Cavalier program has been immense. From a two-win season, to the ACC's Coastal Division Championship and a New Year's Six bowl invitation, Virginia football's ascent has both remarkable and historic.

Mendenhall came to Charlottesville after a highly successful 11-year career at BYU with a vision and a plan of execution for the daunting renovation project he faced. He has masterfully crafted principles and culture, and instilled pride and purpose, leading to a standard of unbroken growth in just four seasons.

Having a plan and being able to execute a strategic approach to achieving results have been mission critical to Mendenhall's formula for success.

"Teams and organizations are perfectly designed to get the results that they get," Mendenhall is fond of saying regarding both successes and failures. His pursuit of "unbroken growth" centers around learning, applying and improving on tools, frameworks, networks, innovation and processes that deliver those results. His ultimate goal is more expansive than building a great football organization. He strives to build great people.

On-field success is just part of the story Mendenhall has scripted at Virginia. He is a powerful believer in balance, which he frequently sums up with one simple word ... AND. It has become the calling card for the UVA football program.

"I think decisions are made based on principle, and I think principles are governed by beliefs," Mendenhall said. "AND is one of our guiding principles, and that is based on my belief that football is a vehicle to develop people."

At his introductory press conference, Mendenhall stressed that he wanted students AND athletes and believed that combination was achievable, especially at an institution such as Virginia that ranks among the top three public universities in the nation. Since that time, he has not compromised his approach to achieving those means. More importantly, his teams have bought in on the concepts with great enthusiasm and demonstrated they can do so while also being successful on the field.

"I would love to win a national championship," Mendenhall said. "I'd love to develop a great program here. But what I would really love is for every kid in my program to have an amazing life."

In the world of big-time football, Mendenhall's philosophy is unconventional, but that doesn't faze him.

"I'm looking for the complete development of everyone in our program – and winning," he said. "One is not at the expense of the other. I think they go hand-in-hand, and winning, without the other, would be hollow to me."

Under Mendenhall, the UVA program has progressed from two to six to eight to nine wins. Achievements and recognitions on the field, in the classroom and around the community have exponentially increased as well.

In 2019, UVA placed 10 players on the ACC All-Academic team, the most in the program's history. Linebacker Jordan Mack was named the ACC's Jim Tatum Award winner as the league's top football scholar-athlete and was a finalist for the William B. Campbell Trophy, known in the sport as the "academic Heisman." Linebacker Micah Kiser, now a member of the Los Angeles Rams, won the award in 2017.

Giving back has become a cornerstone of Virginia football. Players frequently visit the University's Children's Medical Center and speak at local elementary schools. The team's Thursday's Heroes program has been recognized for its efforts to honor individuals across the state of Virginia who are dealing with personal adversity. In 2020, the ACC honored the Thursday's Heroes program with its "Game Changers" award, which recognizes and highlights specific conference teams' involvement with their local communities.

"I'm in pursuit, and we're in pursuit as a football program, of both of those things, and without compromising our expectations for one or the other," Mendenhall said. "I want good young people. I'm talking about morals, values, character, behavior and contribution to the world. And I want a great team. I know it sounds idealistic, but I would not coach football if I did not think it could be done, and I would not coach at Virginia if I did not think there was support for doing it that way."

Mendenhall's pursuit of individual growth is only magnified by the success his teams have also achieved on the field. His name appears often when the accolades of college football's leading active coaches are charted.

He completed the 2019 season with a career record of 124-70 that includes a 99-43 mark in 11 seasons at BYU. His career winning percentage (.639) ranks ninth among active Division I coaches (with at least 100 career wins) and his 124 victories is 109th all-time in Division I. With seven career bowl victories, Mendenhall figures 10th among active coaches and 34th all-time in that category. During nine of his 15 seasons, his teams have been ranked in the Associated Press poll at some point.

Mendenhall is one of two active coaches to have inherited at least two programs in his career that were coming off a losing season and then, in year one, or year two, played in a bowl game. The other coach to do so is Nick Saban (Alabama, LSU, Michigan State).

During the 2020 season he will reach the 200-game plateau in his head coaching career.

In Mendenhall's office, however, there are few mementos of his personal success or the multiple coaching award recognitions he has received. What you will find are artifacts from his personal journey and items that reflect the importance of his family. The walnut-colored bookcases provide a glimpse into his personal passion – the development of young people – in his case, through football.

An avid reader, Mendenhall consumes books dealing with psychology, organization, motivation, leadership, fitness, history and teaching. He shares influential information that he feels will benefit the team and also help players become outstanding people, fathers, husbands and ambassadors for the University.

While at BYU, with the assistance of authors, Alyson Von Feldt and Paul Gustavson, Mendenhall collaborated on the book "Running Into the Wind: Bronco Mendenhall -- 5 Strategies for Building a Successful Team." In addition to his personal history, it openly presented the steps he took at his first coaching position and philosophies he adopted that could be used by other organizations. To his delight, Mendenhall discovered upon his arrival at Virginia, the book was included on several freshman class reading syllabuses.

Mendenhall has also provided feature articles on his approach to building a successful football program to the American Football

Coaches Association and spoken on the subject at numerous coaches clinics around the nation. He freely shares his insights in the hopes that other coaches might take a similar path to the overall development of their teams and players.

UVA's program is built on a number of guiding principles, including one that states that everything is "earned not given." Mendenhall implemented a transparent scoring and tracking system that allows every Cavalier player to know exactly what his status is on the team. From state changes in the color of practice and conditioning apparel to the annual selection of jersey numbers, Virginia players truly progress through the program based on the choices they make and the effort they give. All of which is governed by a player council known as the task leaders.

"We're not going to compromise anything. I like the idea of "and," not "or." We will have fantastic students, fantastic people, and a fantastic football team, and it's not "or." You're not going to just have academics or football, and it won't just be football or character, and it won't just be character or being woven into the fabric of our community. It'll be "and." I want all of that."

– Bronco Mendenhall

Whether it is directing workouts, community service efforts, or team events, creating a foundation of leadership and self-governance ensures continuity for the program's principals. It also sets the stage for players in his program to carry those roles with them as they leave college and become leaders in their communities, faith and business ventures.

His passion for building leaders through football, and not just better people, sets Mendenhall apart in his field.

If his approach sounds unconventional at times, Mendenhall is okay with that. He's grounded in routine, ritual and traditions, and behind his desk is a quote from Albert Einstein that reads: "Great spirits are always opposed by mediocre minds."

"I think decisions are made based on principle, and I think principles are governed by beliefs," Mendenhall said.

To show his commitment and belief to the future of the football program at Virginia, in 2018 Mendenhall and his wife, Holly, made a $500,000 pledge to support construction of the University's new football operations center as part of the athletics department's master plan project.

"To me, football is just a magical and powerful platform to have motivated learners, and I get to teach life lessons through the sport of football," Mendenhall said. "The trophies, the wins, they're necessary for job security and the world makes a big deal of that. But it is hollow without the substance. Relationships are everything. Other than that, it would just be a game, and that does not sound quite meaningful enough to me."

At Virginia

The 2019 season was Mendenhall's fourth at UVA. It was a campaign frequently highlighted by the phrase "the first time." The Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll.

For Mendenhall, it marked the 14th time in his 15-year coaching career he has led his team to a bowl appearance. That 93.3-percent rate is tied for second among active FBS head coaches.

The Cavaliers played in the Military Bowl in 2017 and the Belk Bowl in 2018. Virginia has appeared in three consecutive bowls for the first time since going to four in a row in 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Mendenhall is one of just two college coaches to have increased his team's win total in each of the last three seasons. The other is LSU's Ed Orgeron.

In 2019, senior quarterback Bryce Perkins capped a brilliant two-year career as a Hoo by breaking the UVA single-season passing record and his own UVA single-season total offense record from 2018. Perkins finished the 2019 season with 3,538 passing yards and 4,307 yards of total offense.

"I celebrate effort. Very few people try as hard as they can at any one moment of their life, and when you do, you recognize it when it happens, and first and foremost, we will develop the will of our student-athletes. Skill will come along, the position mastery will come along, the execution will come along, but only after they learn to try hard."

- NJCAA National Champions (1985,11-0)

Oregon State (1986-87)

- Played safety and linebacker; team captain (1987)
- Leo Gribkoff Memorial Award (1987) given to the most inspirational player

Perkins spearheaded an offense that is No. 1 all-time in program history with 449 points. Wide receiver Joe Reed earned multiple first-team All-America honors as a kick returner, including from the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football Writers Association of America, while winning the Jet Award as the nation's top returner. He finished No. 1 in the nation with 33.2 yards per kick return. Reed was the only player in the nation with 600+ receiving yards and 700+ kick return yards, earning finalist honors for the Paul Hornung Award as the nation's most versatile player.

Despite losing multiple starters on the defensive side of the ball for the season, UVA broke the program record for sacks in a season. The Chris Long-led defense in 2007 set the standard with 43, and the 2019 edition concluded the year with 46, which ranked No. 6 in the nation. Inside linebacker Jordan Mack leads all ACC linebackers with 7.5 sacks. In all, 27 of UVA's 46 sacks were recorded by linebackers.

In 2019, Mendenhall was named the Bobby Ross Coach of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Richmond as the Commonwealth's top whistle for his efforts for the second year in a row. He first earned the accolade in 2018 after the Cavaliers shut out South Carolina, 28-0, in the 2018 Belk Bowl, giving them their first bowl victory since the 2005 Music City Bowl. UVA's shutout performance was the first over an SEC team in a bowl game by a non-SEC team since the 1975 Gator Bowl.

Year number three under Mendenhall saw great strides in performance on the field. UVA's defense finished No. 20 in the country, allowing 330.5 yards per game, while finishing No. 21 in the nation in scoring defense (20.1). UVA's defense also finished No. 16 in the nation in fewest passing yards allowed and the offense finished No. 6 in the nation in third-down conversion percentage.

Perkins and Heisman Trophy winner Kyler Murray (Oklahoma) were the only players in the nation with 2,600+ passing yards and 900+ rushing yards. Under Mendenhall in 2018, Bryce Hall earned second-team All-America honors from both the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football Writers Association of America. Hall led the nation with 22 pass breakups and 24 passes defended. Hall, safety Juan Thornhill and wideout Olamide Zaccheaus all earned first-team All-ACC accolades, leading UVA's eight selections. Thornhill finished 2018 third in the nation with six interceptions and Zaccheaus, the 2018 Belk Bowl MVP, was No. 1 in the ACC with 93 receptions (a UVA single-season record). Zaccheaus left UVA with a program-record 250 career receptions, which ranks No. 6 all-time in ACC history.

More "firsts" for UVA during Mendenhall's tenure include quarterback Kurt Benkert's final college season in 2017, when he became the first player in UVA history to throw for more than 3,000 yards in a season. In 2016, running back Taquan Mizzell became the first player in ACC history to record at least 1,500 career rushing and 1,500 career receiving yards. Benkert reached 1,000 yards passing and 2,000 yards passing faster than any other quarterback in UVA history, doing so in four and eight games, respectively. He matched that feat again in 2017.

The 2017 defense ranked No. 7 in the nation against the pass (165.8). The group was headed by three-time first-team All-ACC player Quin Blanding, ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year Brenton Nelson and third-team All-ACC cornerback Thornhill. Blanding finished his illustrious career with more All-America honors and as UVA's all-time record holder with 495 career tackles. The 495 career tackles tied for No. 6 all-time in ACC history and are the most by any ACC defensive back. Kiser, the 2017 Campbell Trophy winner, led the ACC in tackles for the third year in a row, joining Boston College's Luke Kuechly (2009-11) as the only players to accomplish the feat in league history. Kiser was also a three-time first-team All-ACC honoree and received multiple All-America honors over the 2016 and 2017 seasons, including becoming the first Cavalier since Tiki Barber in 1996 to earn both academic and athletic All-America honors in the same season when he was a second-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2016.

Mendenhall came to Charlottesville after 11 seasons (2005-15) as the head coach at Brigham Young University. At BYU, Mendenhall compiled an overall record of 99-43, ranking 12th in total wins among all FBS teams during that time.

BYU

In the three seasons prior to Mendenhall becoming their head coach, the Cougars compiled an overall record of 14-21. Over Mendenhall's 11 years at BYU, the Cougars were one of only 11 programs to advance to a bowl game each season. The others were Alabama, Boise State, Clemson, Florida State, Georgia, LSU, Oklahoma, Oregon, Virginia Tech and Wisconsin during that time frame.

Among those 11 teams, only Florida State achieved more bowl wins (seven) than than BYU (six) during that span.

More than 60 of Mendenhall's BYU players signed with NFL teams, including defensive end Ezekiel Ansah, the No. 5 overall pick in the 2013 NFL Draft and Kyle Van Noy, the No. 40 overall pick in the 2014 NFL Draft.

Under Mendenhall, the Cougars tied for seventh among all FBS programs for the most Academic All-America citations during his 11 seasons in Provo and BYU topped all FBS programs with the most selections (39) to the National Football Foundation Hampshire Honor Society (recognizing starters and significant contributors finishing their eligibility with a 3.2 GPA or better over their college career) during that same time period.

Mendenhall took over as BYU's defensive coordinator in 2003 before being named the Cougars head coach in 2005.

In 2015, Mendenhall led BYU to a 6-5 regular-season record and earned an invitation to the Maaco Bowl Las Vegas -- the team's first postseason bowl appearance in three seasons. The Cougars finished tied for second in the MWC with a 5-3 league ledger.

Following the 2006 season, Mendenhall was named the American Football Coaches Association Region IV Coach of the Year. In addition, the Football Writers Association of America named Mendenhall one of nine finalists for the prestigious Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Award. By 2007, Mendenhall became the only coach in BYU football history to win 25 games in his first 35 attempts. Mendenhall coached the Cougars to back-to-back 11-2 seasons in 2006 and 2007, while claiming consecutive outright MWC titles with a combined record of 16-0 against league opponents.

In 2008, BYU finished 10-3 overall and 6-2 in the MWC to achieve three straight 10-win seasons and become the first teams in Cougar history to go unbeaten at home over three consecutive seasons.

While recording an 11-2 record and 7-1 league mark in 2009, Mendenhall's team went 3-1 against ranked opponents, including a 14-13 season-opening win over No. 3 Oklahoma and a 44-20 season-finale Maaco Bowl Las Vegas victory over No. 16 Oregon State. BYU finished No. 12 in the final 2009 polls to earn the distinction of being one of only six programs nationally to be ranked in both final polls for four straight seasons.

The 2010 campaign was highlighted by BYU's 52-24 New Mexico Bowl victory and in 2011, the Cougars posted yet another 10-win season, capped off by another comeback bowl victory over Tulsa in the Armed Forces Bowl. That season the BYU defense finished the season as the No. 13 ranked overall defense in the nation.

That dominant defense was present again in 2012 and led BYU to its seventh winning season in as many years as the BYU football team finished the 2012 season with eight wins, a program-best fourth consecutive bowl victory. With an 8-5 record, BYU claimed its sixth season with at least eight wins under Mendenhall's eight-year head coaching tenure. Incredibly consistent all year long, BYU finished the year ranked No. 3 in total defense, allowing just 266.1 yards per game. The Cougars ended the season ranked in the top four in five major defensive categories.

BYU posted back-to-back 8-5 records in 2013 and 2014. The Cougars appeared in the 2013 Fight Hunger Bowl and in the 2014 Miami Beach Bowl.

Mendenhall has served as the BYU's defensive coordinator for much of his tenure as the head coach. He returned to a full-time role with the defense again in 2015.

During his tenure in Provo, the Cougars have consistently fielded one of the nation's strongest defenses. Mendenhall's defense excels at keeping opponents out of the end zone. Entering the 2015 season, they averaged a No. 20 national ranking in scoring defense while he oversees the defense, including three top-10 ratings.

While at BYU, Mendenhall worked to implement many of his outreach initiatives. On the night before Cougar road games, the team would visit with local Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints members. Mendenhall dubbed them “firesides,” a 60-minute period when players would speak, sing and interact all in the name of faith. From a crowd of 13 at the first such gathering, they grew to where more than 150,000 people attended them during his 11 years in Provo. At the events, Mendenhall and players shared their thoughts about character, faith, values and being the best you can be – all aligning to the mission of the University and the mission of the football program.

Playing Days and Early Coaching Career

Mendenhall played for two years at Snow College (Utah) before finishing his career as a starter at Oregon State during the 1986 and 1987 seasons. He played both linebacker and safety for the Beavers.

Mendenhall began his coaching career as a graduate assistant in 1989 at his alma mater, Oregon State. After earning his master’s degree in 1990, he moved to Snow College in Ephraim, Utah, where he served as the secondary coach and defensive coordinator from 1991-92 under BYU assistant coach Paul Tidwell. Following two seasons with the Badgers, Mendenhall became the secondary coach at Northern Arizona, where the Lumberjacks boasted the top-ranked defense in the Big Sky Conference. He was elevated to co-defensive coordinator for the 1994 season.

In 1995, Mendenhall returned to Oregon State to become the defensive line coach under then-defensive coordinator Rocky Long. When Long left to become the defensive coordinator at UCLA, Mendenhall was promoted to defensive coordinator for the 1996 season. At just 29 years of age, Mendenhall became the youngest defensive coordinator in Pac-10 history.

In 1997, Mendenhall became the secondary coach at Louisiana Tech where he helped the Bulldogs to a 9-2 record as his defensive unit was credited with 17 interceptions, allowing just 15 touchdowns on the season.

In 1998, Mendenhall moved to Albuquerque, N.M., to become the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at the University of New Mexico. Over the next five seasons, the Lobos improved from just three wins in 1998 to seven wins and an invitation to the Las Vegas Bowl in 2002. In the Lobos’ 27-13 loss against UCLA in the Las Vegas Bowl, the Mendenhall-led defense held the Bruins to a season-low 167 yards.

Under Mendenhall, the Lobos led the Mountain West Conference in rushing defense for three straight seasons. In 2001, New Mexico gave up just 87.4 yards per game over the season. In his final season in Albuquerque, Mendenhall led the Lobos to a top ranking against league opponents in total defense, allowing just 316.4 yards per game. The Lobos also led the MWC in sacks in the 2000 and 2002 season, totaling 46 and 38, respectively.

At New Mexico, Mendenhall played a valuable role in the development of the 1999 Mountain West Player of the Year, Consensus All-American and first-round NFL Draft pick Brian Urlacher. The ninth overall selection in the 2000 NFL Draft, Urlacher was voted the NFL’s Defensive Rookie of the Year and was a Pro Bowl selection.

Mendenhall and his wife, Holly, have three sons, Raeder, Breaker and Cutter.

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/INSIDE RECEIVERS

ROBERT ANAE

Robert Anae enters his fifth season at Virginia and 14th as an offensive coordinator under UVA head coach Bronco Mendenhall, which includes nine years at BYU. In addition to serving as offensive coordinator, Anae (Ah-NIGH) also coaches Virginia's inside receivers.

A three-time Frank Broyles Award nominee for Assistant Coach of the Year, Anae is a 31-year coaching veteran that has directed multiple record-breaking performances and NCAA top-25 offensive statistical finishes during his career. Over the previous 13 seasons as Mendenhall's offensive coordinator, an Anae-led offense has earned top-25 NCAA statistical rankings in 10 different offensive categories a total of 50 times, including 18 top-10 ratings.

Not only has Anae's offenses broken records and top the NCAA statistical rankings over the years, but he has tutored dozens of young men that have gone on to successful careers in the NFL. Former Anae pupils that paved their way in the NFL include the likes of Austin Collie (Colts), Ron Hall (Lions), Taysom Hill (Saints), Ed Mulitalo (Ravens) and Dennis Pitta (Ravens).

The records, statistical rankings and NFL careers are reflective of how Anae has been successful at every one of his coaching stops. Virginia has been no different. Since the arrival of Mendenhall and company in Charlottesville in 2016, UVA's offensive production has soared. In the previous 126 season of Virginia football before Anae took over the offense, UVA never had a 3,000-yard passer and only once had a quarterback that amassed 3,000+ yards of total offense in a season. In Anae's first four seasons as Virginia's offensive coordinator, the Cavaliers have had two 3,000-yard passers and the UVA single-season record for total offense has been broken three times. Also, you can find Anae's quarterbacks all over the UVA single-game passing and single-game total offense record book, as five of the top eight outputs in each category have come under Anae over the past four seasons.

Anae and UVA quarterbacks coach Jason Beck have worked together for the past seven seasons and quarterbacks have thrived under the pairing. Between 2013 and 2019, quarterbacks under Anae and Beck have averaged 3,286 passing yards and 522 rushing yards a season for an average of 3,808 yards of total offense.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

Anae's offense broke five team records in 2019, which includes most first downs (296), first downs passing (180), completions (337), passing yards (3,748) and points scored (449). UVA also tied the 1990 team for most touchdowns (56), while Anae's offense in 2019 averaged 33.2 points per game, which is No. 2 all-time to UVA's 1990 team. UVA amassed over 5,000 yards of total offense in both 2018 and 2019 under Anae, which marks only the second time in program history UVA has done that in back-to-back seasons. Prior to Anae's arrival UVA only surpassed 5,000 yards of total offense four times.

Bryce Perkins was a catalyst for Anae's offense, graduating as the program's career record holder for total offense (7,910) after playing only two seasons in Charlottesville (2018-19). Under Anae, Perkins also owns the top two spots in the Cavalier record book for single-season and single-game total offense. His program record for single-season total offense (4,307) in 2019 ranked No. 6 nationally and No. 1 in the ACC. A second-team All-ACC honoree, Perkins also set the single-season passing record at UVA with 3,538 passing yards in 2019, which ranked No. 16 in the nation and No. 3 in the ACC. Perkins was a special quarterback for the Cavaliers as he and Oklahoma's Jalen Hurts were the only players in the nation in 2019 with 3,000+ passing yards and 700+ rushing yards. In 2018, Perkins and 2018 Heisman Trophy winner Kyler Murray (Oklahoma) were the only two players in the nation with 2,600+ passing yards and 900+ rushing yards. Perkins was the only college player between 2018-19 to accumulate 6,000+ passing yards and 1,500+ rushing yards. Perkins also left UVA the program's all-time leader in career rushing by a quarterback (1,692) and games of 100+ rushing yards by a quarterback (7).

No ACC team had more than one receiver with 70+ receptions in 2019, while UVA had three in Joe Reed (77), Hasise Dubois (75) and Terrell Jana (74), finishing No. 2, No. 3 and No. 5 in the league in catches and all ranking in the top seven on UVA's single-season receptions ledger. Reed earned first-team All-ACC honors as an all-purpose player. Dubois (All-ACC) and Jana were two of four FBS receivers in 2019 with 100+ target, 70 percent catch rate and 10+ yards per target. Dubois was rated with the "Best Hands in the Nation" by Pro Football Focus after making 75 catches in 2019 with zero drops.

Other receivers have thrived in Anae's offense, including Olamide Zaccheaus, who finished his senior season in 2018 No. 1 in the ACC and No. 5 in the nation with 93 receptions, while earning first-team All-ACC honors. Zaccheaus concluded his career with 250 receptions, No. 1 all-time at UVA and No. 6 all-time in ACC history. Zaccheaus (1,058 receiving) and Jordan Ellis (1,026 rushing) gave UVA a 1,000-yard receiver and 1,000-yard rusher in the same season for just the second time in program history (1990). With Dubois recording 1,062 receiving yards in 2019, Anae's offense has produced two 1,000-yard receiving receivers in four years. Only two Cavaliers had reached the 1,000-yard plateau in a season prior to Anae's arrival.

Anae oversaw quarterback Kurt Benkert's record-breaking season in 2017. The UVA senior quarterback became the first player in program history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season. Benkert finished the season with 3,207 passing yards, which stood as a program record until Perkins in 2019. Anae's offense also created the first UVA receiving trio to each amass at least 600 receiving yards in the same season as Zaccheaus (895), Andre Levrone (689) and Doni Dowling (647) accomplished the feat. This happened twice in four years as Dubois (1,062), Jana (886) and Reed (679) accomplished the feat in 2019. Under Anae's tutelage, Taquan Mizzell became the first player in ACC history to record at least 1,500 career rushing and 1,500 career receiving yards.

Anae came to Charlottesville after serving as Mendenhall's offensive coordinator and inside receivers coach in nine of his 11 seasons at BYU. Anae helped BYU finish the 2015 regular season ranked No. 21 in passing offense after directing the 2014 Cougar offense to a No. 14 ranking in scoring offense, putting up 37.1 points per game, the most points by a BYU team since the 2001 season.

In 2013, Anae led the BYU offense to a No. 14 national ranking, including a No. 10 finish in rushing offense, setting a school record with 3,475 rushing yards. He helped coach two 1,000-yard rushers in Taysom Hill and Jamaal Williams.

BYU ranked in the top 25 in third-down efficiency each of Anae's first six seasons at BYU (2005-10), including a No. 1 ranking in 2009 and No. 2 ratings in 2008 and 2006. The Cougars were in the top-6 in passing offense three times (2005, 2006, 2008) during his first tenure overseeing the BYU attack.

BYU's offensive production under Anae helped produce the school's top three rushers of all time (Jamaal Williams: 3,901; Harvey Unga: 3,455 yards; and Curtis Brown: 3,221 yards), the program's top wide receiver in receiving yards, catches and touchdowns (Austin Collie: 3,255 yards and 30 touchdowns on 215 catches), BYU's highest achieving tight end in both receiving yards and catches (Dennis Pitta: 2,901 yards on 221 receptions) and the Cougars' winningest all-time quarterback (Max Hall: 32 victories as a starter). Hall and John Beck, who also played quarterback during Anae's tenure, both went on to the NFL with Beck earning All-America accolades at BYU. Dennis Pitta, meanwhile, not only set the BYU record for receiving yards by a tight end, but also is No. 1 in that category in NCAA history.

Anae's BYU stints from 2005-10 and 2013-15 bookend the two seasons (2010-11) he spent at Arizona under Mike Stoops and Rich Rodriguez, serving as offensive line coach both seasons and run game coordinator under Stoops. Arizona's offense ranked in the top 16 both years and was in the top 25 in passing both seasons as well. Arizona produced the No. 3 passer nationally with Nick Foles, who averaged 360.8 passing yards per game in 2011 before being drafted in the third round of the NFL draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. The Wildcats' offensive line, under Anae's direction, blocked for the nation's leading rusher in 2012 as Ka'Deem Carey totaled 1,929 yards and 23 touchdowns on 303 carries.

Arizona ranked No. 7 in total offense in 2012 at 526.2 yards per game to help the Wildcats to an 8-5 record that included victories over nationally ranked Oklahoma State (59-38) and USC (39-36). The Wildcats scored 38.2 points per game to rank No. 16 nationally, including a 49-point output to defeat Nevada in the 2012 New Mexico Bowl. The point total was just three points off the New Mexico Bowl record of 52 points set by BYU in 2010 with Anae directing the Cougar offense.

As BYU's inside receivers coach from 2005-2010, Anae helped Pitta, Jonny Harline and Andrew George earn a combined six All-Mountain West Conference tight end honors, including five first-team awards. BYU tight ends also achieved national accolades under Anae's tutelage as Harline received first-team All-America honors in 2006 and Pitta was named an NCAA Consensus All-American in 2009.

Anae has been part of many of BYU's most successful teams as both a player and a coach. As BYU's offensive coordinator, the Cougars earned bowl invitations each season, while winning two outright MWC championships. He was an offensive lineman on BYU's National Championship team in 1984 and part of four bowl teams from 1981-84, while earning second-team All-Western Athletic Conference honors. BYU achieved a 43-7 record during Anae's playing days under Hall of Fame coach LaVell Edwards. He played in the Hula bowl in 1985 and was drafted by the New Jersey Generals of the USFL.

Anae's first stint as offensive coordinator at BYU came following five seasons coaching with Mike Leach at Texas Tech from 2000-2004. As offensive line coach for the Red Raiders, Anae helped put together some of the most prolific offenses in the NCAA. The Texas Tech offense ranked No. 1 in the nation in passing three out of Anae's five years and in the top 11 the remaining two. The Red Raiders also ranked in the top six in total offense three times, including 582.8 yards per game to lead the nation in 2003—the fifth-best mark in NCAA history.

Anae began his coaching career as a graduate assistant working with the offensive line at Hawaii under Dick Tomey in 1986-87. He then was a graduate assistant for a pair of years at BYU in 1990 and 1991 before coaching the offensive line at Ricks College in Idaho from 1992-95. Anae coached the offensive front for a year at Boise State in 1996 before moving to UNLV for a pair of seasons, the final as running game coordinator along with his line duties in 1998.

Anae and his wife, Liane, have two sons and a daughter. His son Famika played on the offensive line at BYU before ending his career during the 2012 season due to injuries. Anae's father, Famika Sr., and brothers Brad and Matt, also played football for BYU.

He was born in California in 1958 and raised in Laie on Hawaii's north shore. He served as a missionary for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Tulsa, Okla., from 1978-80. He graduated from BYU in 1986, obtained a master's degree in sociology from BYU in 1990 and earned his doctorate in sociology from BYU in 1999 while serving as an assistant director in the Brigham Young student-athlete center and NCAA Life Skills director.

Anae graduated from BYU in 1986 with a degree in political science. He went on to earn two more degrees from BYU, an M.S. in sociology in 1990 and a Ph.D. in sociology in 1999.

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/TIGHT ENDS

RICKY BRUMFIELD

Ricky Brumfield is in his third season at Virginia after joining Bronco Mendenhall's staff in January of 2018 as the program's special teams coordinator. In July of 2020, Mendenhall announced that Brumfield would also serve as the tight ends coach.

Brumfield, who enters his 20th season as a collegiate coach in 2020, has consistently overseen record-breaking performances at the FBS, FCS and DII levels, while also boasting pupils that have been named semifinalists for coveted honors like the Lou Groza Award and the Ray Guy Award. The 2019 season was the most recent season serving of record-breaking performances as the Cavaliers won the ACC Coastal Division title and made their first appearance in the Orange Bowl.

The 2019 team broke the single-season record for both kick return yards (1,204) and kick return average (28.7). Heading the attack on the record book was Joe Reed, who was named to a myriad of All-America teams in 2019 as a kick returner. First-team nods by the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the Football Writers Association of America highlighted those All-America accolades. Reed also won the Jet Award in 2019 as the nation's top kick returner after leading the nation in kick return average at 33.2. Reed also led the nation in 2019 with two kick returns for touchdowns and left UVA No. 1 in program history with 3,042 career kick return yards, which makes him one of 10 players in FBS history with 3,000+ kick return yards. Reed also left UVA with a career 28.69 career kick return average, which ranks No. 22 all-time at the FBS level. Reed is the only player in FBS history with 2,700+ career kick return yards and a kick return average of 28+ yards.

Also in 2019, All-ACC placekicker Brian Delaney broke the UVA single-season record for points kicking (110), which also ranked No. 13 in the nation. His 52 PATs also broke a single-season UVA record. Overall, Delaney's 110 points in 2019 ranked No. 3 on the UVA single-season scoring list.

In Brumfield's first season at UVA his punt return defense finished No. 1 in the ACC and No. 7 in the nation with 3.21 yards allowed per return after he inherited a group that finished No. 117 in the nation the year prior (2017). On kick return Reed finished No. 10 in the nation and No. 2 in the ACC with 27.2 yards per kick return. Reed also became the UVA all-time career leader in kick return yardage, breaking the record in less than three seasons.

Brumfield comes to UVA after spending the 2016 and 2017 seasons at the University of Texas at San Antonio where he was the Roadrunners' special teams coordinator and coached the team's tight ends.

In 2016, his first season with the Roadrunners, Brumfield helped guide the team to six wins and the program's first-ever bowl game, the 2016 Gildan New Mexico Bowl. His special teams set several school records, including season marks for touchbacks (27), points (79), extra points (43) and punting average (42.0).

This season, Brumfield saw freshman placekicker Jared Sackett earn freshman All-America honors from USA Today. Sackett made a UTSA school-record 19 field goals on 22 attempts. He also set the school mark with 80 points. Sackett was a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award presented to the nation's top placekicker.

UTSA punter Yannis Routsas was a semifinalist for the 2017 Ray Guy Award presented to the nation's top punter. UTSA was one of just three schools in 2017 to have both its placekicker and punter as semifinalists for those two national awards.

During the 2017 season, the Roadrunners went 6-5 with four of those losses coming by a total of 17 points. In the current NCAA FBS football statistics, UTSA ranks No. 6 in the nation in punt return defense. This season the Roadrunners allowed just eight punt returns for a total of 23 yards (2.88 ypr.). UTSA was No. 39 in the nation in kickoff defense by allowing 19.61 yards per return.

His Roadrunner special teams forced five fumbles during the 2016 season and two in 2017.

Brumfield came to UTSA from Western Kentucky, where he spent three seasons as special teams coordinator and cornerbacks coach. He helped the Hilltoppers to a combined 28 victories, including a pair of bowl wins, during his tenure.

In 2015, WKU won the Conference USA title and capped off a 12-2 season with a 45-35 victory against USF in the Miami Beach Bowl, while finishing the season with a No. 24 final ranking. Garrett Schwettman, the school's career record holder for points, extra points and field goals, earned first-team all-conference honors, while kick returner Kylan Towner made the second team and cornerback Prince Charles Iworah and long snapper Nolan Dowling were named honorable mention.

In his first two seasons with the Hilltoppers, the defense and special teams were among the conference's best in nearly every major statistical category. He tutored five all-conference performers, including cornerbacks Wonderful Terry and Cam Thomas, who played for the NFL's Buffalo Bills in 2015.

In 2013, WKU led the Sun Belt Conference and finished 14th nationally in total defense, while also leading the league in interceptions (14), team pass efficiency defense and fewest passing yards allowed. Additionally, his kick and punt coverage units were tops in the conference.

Brumfield was the special teams coordinator and safeties coach at Nicholls State, in 2011-12. His impact on the Colonels' special teams was felt immediately, as they blocked six kicks and ranked 14th in the Football Championship Subdivision in kick return average, while punter Cory Kemps finished sixth nationally with a 42.8 average in 2011.

While at Nicholls State, Brumfield oversaw Chika Madu who left the school as the all-time program leader in kick return yards (2,076) and ranked No. 2 in the Southland Conference record book. Madu also ranks No. 2 in the conference record book in kick return touchdowns and No. 4 in kick return average (24.14).

Brumfield and Justin Anderson, UVA's director of player personnel, were both assistant coaches at Nichols State during the 2011 and 2012 seasons.

The New Orleans native got his coaching start in 2001 at Union College, where he oversaw special teams and wide receivers for three seasons.

Brumfield served as special teams coordinator and wide receivers coach at Fairmont State in 2004-10. He helped the Fighting Falcons rank among the nation's best in special teams categories by the end of his tenure, including the third-best kick return average in 2009.

In his final season with the Fighting Falcons, his special teams units blocked five kicks, forced two turnovers and had a pair of touchdowns. Three of his players earned all-conference accolades, including kick returner Zack Page, who set Division II career records for kick returns, kick return yardage and combined return yards. One of his receivers, Perry Baker, was one of a handful non-Division I players to be selected to play in the 2010 East-West Shrine Game. Baker went on to become of the premier rugby players in the world. Baker is an Olympian for the USA Sevens team and was a two-time World Rugby MVP (2017 and 2018).

During his time at Fairmont State, Brumfield spent five summers assisting with various NFL teams. He tutored wide receivers and special teams with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2007-09 and also spent time with the Atlanta Falcons, Buffalo Bills and Green Bay Packers.

Brumfield was a four-year letterwinner and two-year starter at wide receiver at Utah State. He helped the Aggies to a pair of Big West Conference Championships and a berth in the 1997 Humanitarian Bowl.

Brumfield earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Utah State in 1999 and his master's degree in secondary education from Union College (Ky.) in 2003.

He and his wife, Erin, have four children, Kyan, McKel, Tacy and Asher.

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/SECONDARY

NICK HOWELL

Nick Howell is in his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the defensive coordinator/secondary coach.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

Despite losing multiple starters on the defensive side of the ball for the season, UVA broke the program record for sacks in a season in 2019. The Chris Long-led defense in 2007 set the standard with 43, and the 2019 edition concluded the year with 46, which ranked No. 6 in the nation. Inside linebacker Jordan Mack led all ACC linebackers with 7.5 sacks. In all, 27 of UVA's 46 sacks were recorded by linebackers. Howell's defense accomplished this all despite having lost five starters and various role players to season-ending injuries by the time UVA kicked off in the Orange Bowl.

"Havoc Hoos" is the mantra of the UVA defense and they terrorized opponents' all season, but the six sacks against Virginia Tech to clinch the ACC Coastal championship and Commonwealth Cup were probably the most clutch. Leading 33-30 with 1:23 left to play, UVA sacked Virginia Tech three-straight times, including a strip sack in the end zone by Mandy Alonso and touchdown recover by Eli Hanback to seal UVA's first-ever appearance in the ACC Championship game. Howell's defense was No. 1 in the ACC and No. 12 in the nation in 2019 with three defensive touchdowns.

Howell's defense shined in 2018, finishing No. 12 in the nation in team passing efficiency defense (107.62), No. 16 in passing yards allowed (183.0), No. 20 in the nation in team defense (330.5) and No. 20 in scoring defense (20.1). UVA's 28-0 drubbing of South Carolina in the 2018 Belk Bowl was the first time an SEC team was shutout in a bowl by a non-SEC team since the 1975 Gator Bowl. Bryce Hall finished No. 1 in the nation with 22 pass breakups and 24 passes defended, earning All-America honors from five different outlets highlighted by Walter Camp and Football Writers Association of America. Safety Juan Thornhill also earned All-America honors, appeared in the Senior Bowl and led all ACC safeties in lowest passer rating when in coverage. Both Hall and Thornhill earned first-team All-ACC honors. Thornhill became the second round pick of the Kansas City Chiefs in the 2019 NFL Draft, while cornerback Tim Harris was the sixth round selection of the San Francisco 49ers.

In Howell's second season in Charlottesville he oversaw a secondary that boasted a corps that ranked No. 7 in the nation and No. 2 in the ACC against the pass (165.8). The group was headed by three-time first-team All-ACC player Quin Blanding, ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year Brenton Nelson and third-team All-ACC cornerback Thornhill. Blanding finished his illustrious career with more All-America honors and as UVA's all-time record holder with 495 career tackles. The 495 career tackles rank tied for No. 6 all-time in ACC history and are the most by any ACC defensive back. Blanding finished each of his four seasons No. 2 in the ACC in tackles, a feat that hadn't even been done three times in the league until he did it after his junior year. In his duties overseeing the defense, inside linebacker Micah Kiser was named the Campbell Trophy winner (Academic Heisman) and led the ACC in tackles for the third year in a row. Only Boston College's Luke Kuechly (2009-11) had previously accomplished the feat in league history. Kiser was also a three-time first-team All-ACC honoree and received multiple All-America honors over the past two seasons.

Howell served on Mendenhall's BYU staff in several roles from 2007-15, most recently as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach. Howell first came to BYU in 2007 as a defensive intern. From 2008-09 Howell was a defensive graduate assistant. Howell's first full-time position on Mendenhall's staff came in 2010 as the outside linebacker coach and from 2011-12 he was the secondary coach and a special teams coach.

Howell helped the defensive unit at BYU finish the 2015 regular season ranked No. 6 nationally in sacks per game and No. 15 in tackles for loss after the Cougars ranked No. 20 in rushing defense in 2014.

Despite having to defend more plays than all but four teams nationally in 2013 due to BYU's up-tempo offensive system, the Cougar defense ranked No. 12 nationally in yards-per-play defense, No. 16 in pass efficiency defense and No. 22 in scoring defense. Howell helped the BYU defense rank No. 3 in total defense (266.1 yards allowed) and No. 10 in passing yards allowed (179.2 yards per game) in 2012.

In 2011, Howell helped the defense rank No. 15 in pass efficiency defense, allowing a rating of 112.58. In that same year, the Cougars ranked No. 13 in overall defense.

Howell first came to BYU in 2007 as a defensive intern and then served two years as a graduate assistant before being hired as an assistant coach in 2010. Since first being hired at BYU by Mendenhall in 2007, he has helped coach defensive backs and linebackers. Howell started as a full-time coach working as the team's outside linebackers coach before taking over the BYU secondary partway through the 2010 season.

Prior to coming to BYU, Howell was the head coach at Ben Lomond High School (Ogden, Utah) from 2004-2006 and served as defensive coordinator at Weber High School (North Ogden, Utah) in 2003 and defensive line coach at Sky View High School (Smithfield, Utah) in 2002.

A native of Ogden, Utah, Howell earned a M.A. in education with teaching certification from the University of Phoenix in 2007 after receiving his undergraduate degree in history from Weber State in 2005. Howell and his wife Brooke have four children.

Howell's contributions at BYU helped the Cougars put one of the nation's top defenses on the field each year he was in Provo. In 2013, Howell was a candidate for the Broyles Award, given annually to the nation's top assistant coach.

CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS

KELLY POPPINGA

Kelly Poppinga is in his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the outside linebackers coach. On April 5, 2018 Poppinga (PUH-ping-guh) was promoted to co-defensive coordinator.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

Despite losing multiple starters on the defensive side of the ball for the season, UVA broke the program record for sacks in a season in 2019. The Chris Long-led defense in 2007 set the standard with 43, and the 2019 edition concluded the year with 46, which ranked No. 6 in the nation. In all, 27 of UVA's 46 sacks were recorded by linebackers, which includes 13.5 by Poppinga's outside linebackers. UVA also finished No. 22 in the nation in tackles for loss in 2019, led by outside linebacker Noah Taylor's 13.5 tackles for loss. Taylor also had seven sacks, finishing No. 2 on the team and No. 2 in the ACC among linebackers (behind teammate Jordan Mack).

In 2018 Poppinga's outside linebackers were key in helping UVA finish No. 12 in the nation in team passing efficiency defense (107.62), No. 16 in passing yards allowed (183.0), No. 20 in the nation in team defense (330.5) and No. 20 in scoring defense (20.1). UVA's 28-0 drubbing of South Carolina in the 2018 Belk Bowl was the first time an SEC team was shutout in a bowl by a non-SEC team since the 1975 Gator Bowl. Charles Snowden led the nation's linebackers with nine pass breakups and 11 passed defended. Chris Peace concluded his senior season No. 1 in the ACC among linebackers with 7.5 sacks, the second year in a row he accomplished this feat. Peace, a third-team All-ACC honoree in 2018, went on to star in the East-West Shrine All-Star Game.

Poppinga was also the special teams coordinator in 2016 and 2017 before the addition of a 10th assistant coach per NCAA legislation and the hiring of current special teams coordinator Ricky Brumfield.

In his two seasons as the special teams coordinator he had a few special Cavaliers. Poppinga coached the ACC's best kick return man in 2017 as Joe Reed led the league with a 29.7 average. Reed also led the league with two kick returns for touchdowns, a first in program history that a player had more than one in the same season. Reed also ranked No. 8 in the nation in yards per kick return. Poppinga also had two of the ACC's better punters in 2016 and 2017. Lester Coleman earned second-team All-ACC honors and was No. 4 in the league with a 43.7 yards per punt average in 2017. Coleman led the ACC with 23 punts of 50 yards or more, while ranking No. 2 in the ACC and No. 7 in the nation with 29 punts inside the 20.

In 2016 Poppinga also oversaw one nation's most effective punters as Nicholas Conte was named a first-team All-ACC honoree and led the league with a 44.3 yards per punt average. The Ray Guy Award semifinalist led the nation through regular season with 34 punts inside the 20 and with 15 punts inside the 10, while six of his punts were downed at the one. Conte was No. 3 in the nation before bowl season with 23 punts of 50 yards or more. Between Conte's punts and the punt coverage team, 80 percent of UVA's punts were not returned. Conte concluded his UVA career No. 1 all-time at UVA and No. 3 all-time in the ACC with a 44.45 yards per punt average.

Poppinga coached outside linebacker Chris Peace to honorable mention All-ACC honors in 2017. Peace ranked No. 5 in the ACC and No. 1 among linebackers with 7.5 sacks. The 7.5 sacks rank No. 7 among the nation's linebackers.

Poppinga started his collegiate coaching career at BYU, which began in 2009 as a defensive intern on Mendenhall's staff. In 2010 Poppinga was a defensive graduate assistant and interim outside linebacker coach. His first full-time position came in 2011 when Poppinga was elevated to linebacker coach.

From 2013-15 Poppinga was BYU's special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach. Poppinga helped outside linebackers Kyle Van Noy and Alani Fua advance to the NFL in recent years with Van Noy selected by the Detroit Lions in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft and Fua earning a spot with the Arizona Cardinals in 2015.

In 2014 BYU ranked No. 20 in rushing defense and Poppinga helped a defensive unit finish the 2015 regular season ranked No. 6 nationally in sacks per game and No. 15 in tackles for loss. Under Poppinga, BYU's special teams also ranked No. 7 in punting average and No. 19 in kick return coverage in 2014.

Poppinga assisted one of BYU's best-ever defenses in 2012 when the Cougars finished No. 3 in the nation in total defense and ranked in the top 10 in six different defensive categories.

Poppinga started his coaching career at BYU in 2009 as the defensive intern and contributed to the team's 11-2 record and 44-20 Maaco Bowl Las Vegas victory over No. 16 Oregon State. After the team's 1-4 start in 2010, Poppinga was asked as the defensive graduate assistant to assume the role as outside linebackers coach and helped the Cougars finish 6-2 over the remaining games, including a 52-24 win over UTEP at the New Mexico Bowl.

As a player, Poppinga was an All-Mountain West Conference linebacker and Academic All-MWC honoree at BYU under Mendenhall while helping the Cougars achieve back-to-back conference championships in 2006 and 2007. Poppinga redshirted Mendenhall's first season as head coach at BYU in 2005 after transferring from Utah State where he played two years (2003-04). Poppinga helped BYU achieve Las Vegas Bowl wins over Oregon and UCLA and led the team with 113 tackles his senior season. He spent the 2008 season with three NFL teams before going to Super Bowl XLIII with the Arizona Cardinals.

A native of Evanston, Wyo., Poppinga has completed bachelor's (2007) and master's (2010) degrees from BYU in exercise science. Poppinga and his wife, Rebekah, have four daughters.

RUNNING BACKS

MARK ATUAIA

Mark Atuaia enters his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the running backs coach.

Atuaia (Ah-too-why-ah) oversaw Wayne Taulapapa's first season as a starter in 2019. Taulapapa rushed for 12 touchdowns, the most by a Cavaliers since Keith Payne's 14 in 2010. Taulapapa had four games with multiple rushing touchdowns, highlighted by three in the win over Florida State, including the game-winning score.

Atuaia guided Jordan Ellis to a stellar senior season in 2018, rushing for 1,026 yards and 10 touchdowns, becoming just the third 1,000-yard rusher at UVA since 2004. Ellis was UVA's first 1,000-yard rusher since 2013 and 15th overall. Ellis went on to appear in the East-West Shrine All-Star Game and sign a free agent contract with the Cincinnati Bengals.

Atuaia helped All-ACC running back Taquan Mizzell take a big step as a senior in 2016 as the tailback became the first player in ACC history with at least 1,500 career rushing and 1,500 career receiving yards. Under Atuaia's watchful eye, Mizzell developed into one of the nation's most durable backs, and was one of four players in the nation in 2016 to led his team in rushing (940) and receptions (52).

Atuaia has been with Mendenhall since 2013 when he joined the BYU staff as the running backs coach. In 2013 BYU's run game ranked No. 10 in the nation averaging 267.3 yards per game, setting a school record with 3,475 rushing yards. He tutored Jamaal Williams as the Cougar rushed for 1,233 yards and seven touchdowns in 2013 as a sophomore. Atuaia assisted in BYU's offense ranking No. 14 in scoring offensive in 2014 as BYU put up 37.1 points per game, the most points by a BYU team since 2001. In 2015 the BYU offense ranked No. 4 in the nation in red zone offense, scoring at a 94.3 percent clip.

Most recently Atuaia mentored Paul Lasike, a former BYU rugby All-American from Auckland, New Zealand. Under Atuaia's tutelage, the big running back played football for the first time ever in his life and after three seasons at BYU Lasike signed with the Chicago Bears in 2015.

"Coach Atuaia does a great job recognizing NFL talent in young athletes," reflected Lasike. "Making the transition from a lifetime rugby player to a first-time football player, he saw the potential in me and cultivated it. The chances of making it to the NFL are small regardless of how long you have played the game, but Coach Atuaia recognized my potential and was persistent in my development. He had the utmost faith and belief in what I can become, even when I didn't see it myself."

Atuaia has a history of working with big, strong and powerful running backs. As a student assistant at BYU from 2005-11, Atuaia was instrumental in the development of former NFL running backs Fahu Tahī, Fui Vakapuna, Harvey Unga and Manase Tonga during their time at BYU.

A former running back at BYU during the 1991 and 1994-96 seasons, Atuaia first joined the BYU athletic department in June 2012 as the assistant to the athletics director for student services. He previously worked as the assistant to the dean of Student Life at BYU. He accepted that position after graduating in 2011 with both a doctor of jurisprudence from BYU's J. Reuben Clark Law School and a master of public administration from the George W. Romney Institute of Public Management at BYU's Marriott School of Management.

During Atuaia's four-year playing career, BYU achieved a 39-11-2 record, won three conference titles and was ranked in the final top-25 national rankings three times. In addition, the offense was ranked in the top 10 nationally during three of his four seasons.

As a senior in 1996 he started 13 games on BYU's 14-1 Cotton Bowl team that finished the year ranked No. 5 in the country after defeating Kansas State 19-15 on New Year's Day 1997. Atuaia also helped BYU defeat Oklahoma 31-6 in the 1994 Cooper Bowl to finish ranked No. 10 by CNN and No. 18 by The Associated Press with a 10-3 record.

Atuaia totaled 1,247 yards on 301 carries (4.1 yards per attempt) with 11 touchdowns during his college career, while adding 68 catches for 668 yards (9.8 yards per catch) and four scoring receptions. His career-long rush was 51 yards while his long reception went for 61 yards. Atuaia also added 113 return yards as a member of the kick return team his freshman and sophomore seasons.

A native of Laie, Hawaii, Atuaia prepped at Kahuku High School before attending BYU. He served as a missionary for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Tucson, Ariz., from 1992-93. He received his bachelor's degree from BYU-Hawaii in 2003.

Atuaia and his wife Elizabeth, an accomplished recording artist and lead singer for the 1980s pop group The Jets, are the parents of seven children. His brothers Alema (1993, 1995-96) and Donny (1995-1999) also played football at BYU.

THE ATUAIA FILE

- Fifth season at Virginia
- Last name is pronounced: Ah-too-why-ah
- In his first season as a full-time collegiate coach in 2013 he helped BYU's rushing game finish No. 10 in the nation in rushing yards per game

QUARTERBACKS

JASON BECK

Jason Beck enters his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the quarterbacks coach.

Since the arrival of Mendenhall and company in Charlottesville in 2016, UVA's offensive production has soared. In the previous 126 season of Virginia football before Beck started working with quarterbacks, UVA never had a 3,000-yard passer and only once had a quarterback that amassed 3,000+ yards of total offense in a season. In Beck's first four seasons as Virginia's quarterbacks coach, the Cavaliers have had two 3,000-yard passers and the UVA single-season record for total offense has been broken three times. Also, you can find Beck's quarterbacks all over the UVA single-game passing and single-game total offense record book, as five of the top eight outputs in each category have come since Beck started at Virginia.

Beck and UVA offensive coordinator Robert Anae have worked together for the past seven seasons and quarterbacks have thrived under the pairing. Between 2013 and 2019, quarterbacks under Anae and Beck have averaged 3,286 passing yards and 522 rushing yards a season for an average of 3,808 yards of total offense.

Becked guided Bryce Perkins' electric career at UVA. Perkins graduated as the program's career record holder for total offense (7,910) after playing only two seasons in Charlottesville (2018-19). Under Beck, Perkins also owns the top two spots in the Cavalier record book for single-season and single-game total offense. His program record for single-season total offense (4,307) in 2019 ranked No. 6 nationally and No. 1 in the ACC. Perkins also set the single-season passing record at UVA with 3,538 passing yards in 2019, which ranked No. 16 in the nation and No. 3 in the ACC. Perkins was a special quarterback for the Cavaliers as he and Oklahoma's Jalen Hurts were the only players in the nation in 2019 with 3,000+ passing yards and 700+ rushing yards. In 2018, Perkins and 2018 Heisman Trophy winner Kyler Murray (Oklahoma) were the only two players in the nation with 2,600+ passing yards and 900+ rushing yards. Perkins was the only college player between 2018-19 to accumulate 6,000+ passing yards and 1,500+ rushing yards. Perkins also left UVA the program's all-time leader in career rushing by a quarterback (1,692) and games of 100+ rushing yards by a quarterback (7).

Perkins finished 2018 No. 1 in the ACC and No. 13 in the nation in points responsible for with 206. His 25 passing touchdowns are tied for No. 2 on UVA's single-season ledger and were No. 2 in the ACC in 2018. Perkins' 34 total touchdowns (25 passing, nine rushing) set a UVA single-season record. Perkins is the only UVA quarterback to ever pass for 1,500+ yards and notch 900+ rushing yards, which he did in 2018.

Under Beck's watchful eye, UVA quarterback Kurt Benkert had a record-breaking season in 2017. The UVA senior quarterback became the first player in program history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season. Benkert finished the season with 3,207 passing yards and a single-season program record 298 completions. Benkert's 25 passing touchdowns in 2017 rank No. 2 all-time at UVA for a season. He also set the UVA single-season standard for total offense with 3,144 total yards. The 2017 UConn game saw Benkert break his own single-game passing and single-game total offense records he set in 2016. Against the Huskies he amassed 455 passing yards and 465 total offense yards. A UVA quarterback has only passed for 400 yards three times in a game and Benkert has done it twice.

Beck saw Benkert finish his two-year UVA career with 5,759 career passing yards and 46 career touchdowns, both numbers rank No. 3 all-time in the UVA annals. In 2016 and 2017 Benkert became the fastest quarterback in a season to reach 1,000 and 2,000 yards of passing, doing so in four and eight games, respectively. With 21 passing touchdowns in 2016 and 25 in 2017, Benkert is the only UVA quarterback to throw for at least 20 touchdowns in multiple seasons.

Beck, a former Cougar quarterback and offensive intern on Mendenhall's BYU coaching staff, returned to Provo in 2013 with six years of coaching experience, including stints at LSU, Weber State and Simon Fraser.

Beck helped true freshman Tanner Mangum break all BYU freshman QB marks in 2015 after taking over for injured Heisman hopeful Taysom Hill in the season opener. Mangum earned 2015 Freshman of the Year honors from the Touchdown Club of Columbus (Ohio) after he was the only freshman to finish the regular season with more than 3,000 passing yards and a 60 percent completion percentage.

In 2014, Beck helped BYU successfully navigate a season-ending injury to Hill in the season's fifth game as Hill and Christian Stewart combined to total 3,623 yards and 32 touchdowns on the year, including 25 TDs by Stewart. As a sophomore quarterback in 2013, Hill passed for 2,938 yards and 19 TDs while also rushing for 1,344 yards and 10 TDs under Beck's tutelage.

In 2012, Beck was hired as the offensive coordinator at Simon Fraser located in Burnaby, British Columbia, Canada. SFU is the first and only member of the NCAA located outside of the United States. Beck turned an offense that ranked last in the Great Northwest Athletic Conference in total offense, passing offense and scoring offense in 2011 into the league's No. 1-rated attack in all three categories during the program's first year as a full NCAA Division II member in 2012. The team nearly doubled its total touchdowns scored, going from 28 to 52, and more than tripled its passing TDs, jumping from nine to 28.

Under Beck's direction, the Clan offensive attack improved from 24 points per game to 34.3 points per contest to rank No. 36 overall in Div. II compared to a ranking of 109th the prior season. SFU also averaged 440.4 yards in total offense (No. 31 in Div. II) compared to 335.4 yards the prior year (which ranked 111th) and 306.3 passing yards (No. 14 in Div. II) compared to 147.4 yards through the air (which ranked 131st) in 2011.

Players also thrived individually as SFU quarterback Trey Wheeler ranked No. 14 in Div. II in passing yards per game at 297.1 yards per game while receiver Lemar Durant ranked No. 4 in receiving yards per game (119.8), No. 7 in receptions per game (8.27) and No. 18 in scoring (9.27 ppg). Durant received first-team all-conference, conference newcomer of the year, and All-America Second Team recognition with 82 catches for 1,227 yards and 16 TDs.

Beck served as quarterbacks coach at Weber State in Ogden, Utah, for three years from 2009-2011 under head coach Ron McBride. Under his tutelage, Wildcat quarterback Cameron Higgins set school records for most career passing yards (12,274), most career touchdowns passes (98), most career total touchdowns (105), most career pass completions (935) and career passing efficiency rating (144.5). Higgins completed his career as one of the most prolific players in Big Sky Conference history, ranking No. 1 in passing touchdowns, No. 2 in total touchdowns and No. 3 in total offense.

Prior to Weber State, Beck served the 2008 season as an offensive intern at LSU working with the quarterbacks under offensive coordinator Gary Crowton on Les Miles' staff. He also assisted with quarterbacks as an offensive intern on Mendenhall's staff at BYU in 2007 with Robert Anae as the offensive coordinator.

As a player at BYU, Beck served as the backup to All-American quarterback John Beck from 2004-2006, including a redshirt year due to an injury suffered his junior season. He totaled 553 passing yards and 28 rushing yards, including 305 yards on 20-of-28 passing in his lone start in a 38-0 victory over Utah State his senior season.

Beck transferred to BYU from College of the Canyons in Santa Clarita, Calif., where he led the COC Cougars to an 11-1 season and Western States Conference Northern Division title as a sophomore. A unanimous first-team All-Western States Conference pick, he led COC to a No. 1 ranking in California and No. 4 national JC ranking, throwing for 2,052 yards while completing 77.5 percent of his passes. He also added 430 rushing yards. Current UVA offensive line coach Garrett Tujague was the COC offensive line coach during Beck's year in Santa Clarita.

A Junior College Academic All-American, Beck spent his freshman season at Ventura College after prepping at Hueneme High School in his hometown of Oxnard, Calif. Before starting college, he served a two-year mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Denver, Colo., from 1999-2001.

Beck earned bachelor's and master's degrees in communications from BYU in 2006 and 2011. He is married to former BYU soccer standout Jaime Rendich, and they have a daughter, Peyton, and twin sons, Cameron and Jackson. Jaime was a four-year starter and All-American midfielder/forward during her BYU career from 2002-05.

WIDE RECEIVERS

MARQUES HAGANS

Marques Hagans enters his eighth season at Virginia as a full-time assistant coach and his fifth on Bronco Mendenhall staff as the wide receivers coach. Hagans spent the 2011 and 2012 seasons at UVA as a graduate assistant, working with the offense.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

No ACC team had more than one receiver with 70+ receptions in 2019, while UVA had three in Joe Reed (77), Hasise Dubois (75) and Terrell Jana (74), finishing No. 2, No. 3 and No. 5 in the league in catches and all ranking in the top seven on UVA's single-season receptions ledger. Reed earned first-team All-ACC honors as an all-purpose player. Dubois (All-ACC) and Jana were two of four FBS receivers in 2019 with 100+ target, 70 percent catch rate and 10+ yards per target. Dubois was rated with the "Best Hands in the Nation" by Pro Football Focus after making 75 catches in 2019 with zero drops.

In 2018 Hagans mentored Olamide Zaccheaus, who finished his senior season No. 1 in the ACC and No. 5 in the nation with 93 receptions. After 12 catches, 100 receiving yards and three touchdowns, Zaccheaus was named MVP of the Belk Bowl after a 28-0 triumph over South Carolina. Zaccheaus concluded his career with 250 receptions, No. 1 all-time at UVA and No. 6 all-time in ACC history. Zaccheaus also became only UVA's third 1,000-yard receiver, finishing with 1,058 receiving yards, which was No. 3 in the ACC. Zaccheaus also finished his career No. 2 all-time at UVA with 2,753 career receiving yards.

Under Hagans' watchful eye in 2017, UVA saw its first receiving trio to amass at least 600 receiving yards in the same season as Zaccheaus (895), Andre Levrone (689) and Doni Dowling (647) accomplished the feat. Dowling (136), Levrone (127) and Zaccheaus (122) also became the first Cavalier trio to amass 100+ receiving yards in the same game when they did so against UConn in 2017. It was only the sixth time such a feat happened in the ACC since 2000. Also in 2017, Zaccheaus set the UVA single-season record for receptions in a season with 85, while his 895 yards in 2017 rank No. 5 all-time on UVA's single-season ledger. Dowling, Levrone and Zaccheaus all reached 1,000 career receiving yards in 2017, giving Hagans seven wide receivers he has coached at UVA that have reached the mark.

In 2016 three members of the wide-receiving corps combined for 150 catches for 1,686 receiving yards and 14 touchdowns. Zaccheaus led the wide-receiving group with 51 receptions and seven touchdowns. Doni Dowling led the team with 626 receiving yards on his 50 catches and four scores. Rounding out the group was senior Keeon Johnson, who made 49 catches for 476 yards and three touchdowns.

Wide receiver Canaan Severin thrived under Hagans earning second-team All-ACC honors in 2015 after finishing the regular season ranked No. 3 in the ACC with 759 receiving yards. Severin's 759 receiving yards also ranks No. 15 all-time in the UVA record book for a season. Severin caught 54 passes and eight touchdowns. The 54 receptions tie him with Herman Moore (1990) for No. 11 all-time in the UVA annals for catches in a season. In 2015 Severin became the 20th player in program history with 100 receptions and finished his career No. 19 all-time with 102 catches, 96 of which came over the 2014 and 2015 seasons. Severin finished his career with 1,383 receiving yards, which ranks No. 15 all-time in the UVA record book.

Severin's rise began in 2014 under Hagans. As a junior Severin led UVA with 42 catches for 578 yards and five touchdowns after entering the season with six career receptions.

Hagans oversaw the emergence of Johnson in 2013, then a true freshman. Despite not playing the first four games of a potential redshirt season, Johnson completed one of the best true freshman seasons in recent UVA history, catching 20 passes for 282 yards and a score in the final eight games of the season.

Hagans was a four-year letterwinner at UVA from 2002-05 and currently is No. 7 all-time in passing at UVA with 4,877 passing yards. He finished his career at No. 5, but has since been passed by Jameel Seweel and Marc Verica, the two starting quarterbacks to follow him in Charlottesville. Hagans in No. 5 all-time at UVA in total offense with 5,779 yards and his 2005 season ranks No. 3 all-time with 2,802 total yards. Only his predecessor, Matt Schaub (2002 & 2003), and current quarterback Matt Johns (2015) had better seasons in the UVA annals in regards to total offense.

The St. Louis Rams selected Hagans in the fifth round (144 overall) of the 2006 NFL Draft. He spent three seasons with the Rams before being picked up by the Kansas City Chiefs for the 2009 campaign. Hagans finished the 2009 season with the Washington Redskins and was released in the summer of 2010 after injuring himself in off-season workouts.

Hagans is a native of Hampton, Va., and graduated from Hampton High School after spending two years at neighboring Bethel High School. As a junior at Hampton, Hagans led the Crabbers to the state championship in Group AAA, Division 5 of the Virginia High School League in 1998. Hampton advanced to the state semifinals in Hagans' senior season in 1999.

Hagans graduated with a degree in anthropology from UVA in 2005 and is currently finishing a graduate degree in professional studies.

Hagans resides in Charlottesville with his wife, the former Lauren Swierczek, a former Cavalier women's basketball player. The couple has two sons, Christopher Dex and Jackson Watford.

INSIDE LINEBACKERS

SHANE HUNTER

Shane Hunter is in his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the inside linebackers coach.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

Despite losing multiple starters on the defensive side of the ball for the season, UVA broke the program record for sacks in a season in 2019. The Chris Long-led defense in 2007 set the standard with 43, and the 2019 edition concluded the year with 46, which ranked No. 6 in the nation. Inside linebacker Jordan Mack led all ACC linebackers with 7.5 sacks. In all, 27 of UVA's 46 sacks were recorded by linebackers, which included 13 by Hunter's inside linebacker. UVA also was No. 22 in the nation in tackles for loss, which included 22.5 from the inside linebackers.

Mack, the ACC's Jim Tatum Award winner as the league's scholar-athlete of the year, also became Hunter's second Campbell Trophy (Academic Heisman) finalist at UVA which includes 2017 winner Micah Kiser.

Hunter's inside linebacker group assisted with UVA finishing 2018 No. 12 in the nation in team passing efficiency defense (107.62), No. 16 in passing yards allowed (183.0), No. 20 in the nation in team defense (330.5) and No. 20 in scoring defense (20.1). UVA's 28-0 drubbing of South Carolina in the 2018 Belk Bowl was the first time an SEC team was shutout in a bowl by a non-SEC team since the 1975 Gator Bowl.

In 2017, Hunter oversaw a tremendous senior season for inside linebacker Kiser, who was named the Campbell Trophy winner and led the ACC in tackles for the third year in a row. Only Boston College's Luke Kuechly (2009-11) had previously accomplished the feat in league history. Kiser was also a three-time first-team All-ACC honoree and received multiple All-America honors over the past two seasons. Kiser's 145 tackles in 2017 rank No. 2 all-time on UVA's single-season ledger.

Hunter was a graduate assistant coach on Mendenhall's staff at BYU the last three seasons, where he worked with the defensive front seven and special teams. The former Cougar linebacker was the defensive line coach at Snow College during the 2011 and 2012 seasons and was also the special teams coordinator in his second season with the Badgers.

Hunter is a 2011 graduate of BYU where he earned his degree in exercise science. As a player, Hunter was a middle linebacker for the Cougars during the 2008, 2009 and 2010 seasons and he started all 13 games as senior. During the 2010 season, Hunter recorded 85 tackles, 3.5 tackles for loss, two interceptions, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery and earned honorable mention All-Mountain West Conference honors.

He was also named to the Academic All-Mountain West Conference team and was a member of the National Football Foundation Hampshire Honor Society. The Idaho Falls, Idaho native spent his freshman season at Snow College.

Hunter is married to Carrie Draper and the couple has three children.

DEFENSIVE LINE

CLINT SINTIM

Clint Sintim is in his first season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the defensive line coach. Sintim returns to his alma mater for his second coaching stint in Charlottesville. He was an offensive graduate assistant in 2014.

Sintim returned to the Virginia after spending the previous three seasons as the linebackers/defensive ends coach for Danny Rocco at Delaware. In 2018 Sintim was elevated to co-special teams coordinator. Prior to that, he coached for Rocco at Richmond in the same capacity during the 2015 and 2016 seasons. Rocco is a former UVA assistant coach.

Sintim, a native of Woodbridge, Va., was a four-year letter-winner at Virginia and served as a team captain as a senior in 2008. He was a second-team All-ACC selection and received All-America honors from Phil Steele and Pro Football Weekly that season. He finished his UVA career with 245 tackles, including 29 sacks and 46 tackles for loss, while playing in 49 games. His sack total ranks as the second highest in UVA history, and his tackles for loss number is tied for the third most by a Cavalier.

In 2005, Sintim picked up freshman All-American honors by the Sporting News (third team) and was also named to that organization's ACC All-Freshman team. He received UVA's Bill Dudley award as the program's most outstanding first-year player. Sintim led the nation's linebackers in sacks as both a junior and senior, accumulating nine in each season.

After playing in the 2009 Senior Bowl, Sintim was a second-round NFL Draft selection by the New York Giants. He played in both the 2009 and 2010 seasons before a knee injury sidelined him for the 2011 and 2012 campaigns. He announced his retirement as a player in 2013. Sintim's NFL career included a Super Bowl (XLVI) championship (2011 season) when the Giants defeated the New England Patriots 21-17 in Indianapolis.

After his NFL playing career, Sintim spent the 2013 season with the West Alabama Tigers as the outside linebackers coach and assisted with the special teams as part of the NFL Players Association Coaching Internship Program. After one year at West Alabama, Sintim returned home and was a graduate assistant at Virginia in 2014, assisting wide receivers coach Marques Hagans.

Sintim left UVA in 2015 to join Rocco at Richmond. Prior to the 2016 season, Sintim took part in the NFL Minority Internship Program and worked with the Washington Redskins during their preseason camp.

In each of Sintim's two seasons at Richmond, the Spiders advanced to the NCAA playoffs. They reached the national semifinals in 2015 and the quarterfinals in 2016. Each of those UR teams finished with 10 wins.

At Delaware, Sintim helped the 2018 team return to the FCS Playoffs for the first time since the 2010 season. He also helped the Blue Hens land their best recruiting class in the program's history in 2020. It was Delaware's second consecutive top-10 FCS class, according to HERO Sports.

An all-state performer at Gar-Field High School, Sintim earned his degree in anthropology from Virginia in 2009. He resides in Charlottesville, with his wife Angie.

OFFENSIVE LINE

GARETT TUJAGUE

Garett Tujague is in his fifth season at Virginia on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and is the offensive line coach.

The 2019 season was special one in Charlottesville as the Cavaliers won the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division for the first time and made their first appearance in the ACC Championship game. UVA appeared in its first New Year's Six bowl game, the Orange Bowl, and finished ranked No. 24 in the final College Football Playoff poll and No. 25 in the final USA Today coaches poll. It is UVA's first string of three-straight bowl appearances since UVA went to four bowl games between 2002 and 2005.

Tujague's (TOO-jay) offense line blocked for an offense that broke five team records in 2019, which includes most first downs (296), first downs passing (180), completions (337), passing yards (3,748) and points scored (449). UVA also tied the 1990 team for most touchdowns (56), while the UVA offense in 2019 averaged 33.2 points per game, which is No. 2 all-time to Virginia's 1990 team. UVA amassed over 5,000 yards of total offense in both 2018 and 2019, which marks only the second time in program history UVA has done that in back-to-back seasons. Prior to Mendenhall and Tujague's arrival, UVA only surpassed 5,000 yards of total offense four times.

Heading Tujague's offensive line was All-ACC center, Olusegun Oluwatimi, who set the pass protection and had a 97 percent target success rate in five-on-five/six protections, while allowing zero sacks and zero quarterback hits in 2019 on Bryce Perkins. Blocking for Perkins in 2019, Tujague's line saw the senior quarterback collect the top two spots in the Cavalier record book for single-season and single-game total offense. Perkins' program record for single-season total offense (4,307) in 2019 ranked No. 6 nationally and No. 1 in the ACC. A second-team All-ACC honoree, Perkins also set the single-season passing record at UVA with 3,538 passing yards in 2019, which ranked No. 16 in the nation and No. 3 in the ACC. Perkins was a special quarterback for the Cavaliers as he and Oklahoma's Jalen Hurts were the only players in the nation in 2019 with 3,000+ passing yards and 700+ rushing yards.

Tujague's offensive line in 2018 assisted in helping block for an offense that scored 370 points in 2018, the fifth-most points scored ever by a Cavalier football team. At the time Perkins shattered UVA's single-season record for total offense (3,603), which ranked No. 3 in the ACC and No. 21 in the nation. Perkins and 2018 Heisman Trophy winner Kyler Murray (Oklahoma) were the only two players in the nation with 2,600+ passing yards and 900+ rushing yards. Olamide Zaccheaus finished his senior season No. 1 in the ACC and No. 5 in the nation with 93 receptions. Zaccheaus concluded his career with 250 receptions, No. 1 all-time at UVA and No. 6 all-time in ACC history. Zaccheaus (1,058 receiving) and Jordan Ellis (1,026 rushing) gave UVA a 1,000-yard receiver and 1,000-yard rusher in the same season for just the second time in program history (1990).

In 2017 Tujague coached an offensive line that blocked for quarterback Kurt Benkert's record-breaking season. The UVA senior quarterback became the first player in program history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season. Benkert finished the season with 3,207 passing yards and a single-season program record 298 completions. Benkert's 25 passing touchdowns in 2017 rank No. 2 all-time at UVA for a season. Anae's offense also created the first UVA receiving trio to each amass at least 600 receiving yards in the same season as Zaccheaus (895), Andre Levrone (689) and Doni Dowling (647) accomplished the feat.

In 2016, Tujague oversaw a line headed by Rimington Trophy watch list member Jackson Matteo and four-year starter Eric Smith. Tujague's line helped make UVA running back Taquan Mizzell become the first player in ACC history with at least 1,500 career rushing and 1,500 career receiving yards. Benkert set a couple passing marks in front of Tujague's line, including a program record for passing yards in a game with 421 against Central Michigan, which he bested in 2017 against UConn (455). Benkert also became the fastest quarterback in a season to reach 1,000 and 2,000 yards of passing, doing so in four and eight games, respectively. Benkert accomplished that feat in 2016 and 2017.

Tujague was Mendenhall's offensive line coach at BYU from 2013-15 after serving 15 years at the College of the Canyons in Santa Clarita, Calif., from 1997-2012, the last six as head coach. Under his direction, the COC Cougars earned a 43-25 record and received five bowl invitations in his six seasons. Under Tujague's guidance, BYU center Tejan Koroma earned freshman All-America honors in 2014 after helping BYU rank No. 14 in the nation in scoring.

While at College of the Canyons, Tujague coached and developed three conference players of the year, an all-state player of the year, eight all-state athletes and five JC All-Americans at COC. His teams earned three postseason wins and he was named the Southern California Football Association National Conference Coach of the Year in 2008 following a 12-1 season. He was also honored as the Western States Conference Co-Coach of the Year in 2007 after a 9-3 record.

Prior to his promotion to head coach in 2007, Tujague served nine years as assistant head coach and offensive line coach at COC under Chuck Lyon, helping build the program upon its reinstatement in 1998 after 17 years without football. Before College of the Canyons, he coached at Chabot College from 1993-95 and the University of Redlands from 1996-97. While at Redlands, the Bulldogs won two Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championships.

As a player, Tujague was a left guard at BYU under LaVell Edwards from 1989-1991 after two years at Chabot College, where he earned All-America honors as an offensive lineman. After redshirting at BYU in 1989, he contributed to the Cougars' second-straight 10-3 season and top-25 final ranking in 1990. Statistically, the offense ranked No. 2 in the nation at 565.8 yards per game while also rating No. 2 in scoring, putting up 42.5 points per contest.

As a senior in 1991, Tujague earned starting duties protecting Heisman Trophy winner and consensus All-American quarterback Ty Detmer. The Cougar offensive front helped BYU rank No. 5 in total offense at 479.5 yards per outing and No. 11 nationally in scoring at 35 points per game. The Cougars won the conference championship all three seasons Tujague was in Provo.

Tujague received a bachelor's degree in recreation management from BYU in 1992 and a master's degree in educational counseling from the University of Redlands in 1997. A native of Pleasanton, Calif., Tujague and his wife, Cami, are the parents of three children.

SHAWN GRISWOLD

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL DEVELOPMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Shawn Griswold is in his third year at UVA after joining the Virginia staff in January of 2018 as the director of football development and performance.

A native of Santa Rosa, Calif., Griswold came to Virginia after working at Arizona State from 2012-2017 as the Sun Devils' head coach for sports performance. He spent the 2011 season at Pittsburgh as the Panthers' director of strength and conditioning. Prior to that he was the director of strength and conditioning at Tulsa from 2008 to 2010.

During that 10-year period, he worked for former head coach Todd Graham at each of those schools. His training and conditioning programs were considered an integral part of Graham's fast-paced style of play. Griswold was a part of teams that went to eight bowl games during a 10-year stretch, including four that won 10-or-more games during their respective seasons.

Arizona State appeared in five bowl games while Griswold worked for the Sun Devils. The Sun Devils won the Pac-12 South Division in 2013 and the 2014 squad finished ranked 12th in the final Associated Press Poll.

In his only season at Pitt, Griswold saw the Panthers earn a berth to the BBVA Compass Bowl (Birmingham, Ala.).

Griswold had two stints at Tulsa (2004-06 and 2008-10) as director of strength and conditioning. During that time the Golden Hurricane earned four bowl berths and captured the 2005 Conference USA championship. In addition to working with the football team, he also had oversight of the entire strength and conditioning program for Tulsa athletics. He spent the 2007 season at Louisville as an assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Cardinals.

Prior to Tulsa, Griswold worked for five years as head strength and conditioning coordinator at his alma mater, Utah State. He oversaw the athletic development for 16 varsity sports and was directly responsible for designing the strength and conditioning programs for football, basketball and volleyball.

A former defensive line standout at Piner High School in Santa Rosa, Calif., Griswold played at Utah State where he earned four letters from 1992 to 1995. As a tight end in 1995, he caught 23 passes for 272 yards and four scores. Griswold's career began as a graduate assistant coach for the Aggies before he was promoted to assistant strength and conditioning coordinator.

Griswold earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Utah State. He received a bachelor's degree in exercise science in 1996 and a master of science degree in 1998.

MATT EDWARDS

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS ANALYTICS

Matt Edwards is in his fourth season on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and first as the director of analytics. His first three seasons at UVA Edwards was a football analyst.

Edwards came to Virginia after a two-year stint as an assistant coach at Southern Virginia. He was the recruiting coordinator, coaching the offensive line in 2015 and the wide receivers in 2016.

Edwards started his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at BYU under Mendenhall in 2013 and 2014, working with the offense.

Edwards graduated from Brigham Young in 2011 with a B.S. in mathematics and earned a masters in public administration in 2013. He was a tight end on the BYU football team, lettering in 2010 and 2011.

Edwards is married to the former MaryBeth Small and they have two sons, Luke and Shea. Edwards is the grandson of the late Hall of Fame BYU football coach LaVell Edwards.

DREW MEYER

FOOTBALL ANALYST FOR SPECIAL TEAMS

Drew Meyer is in his fourth season on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and first as a football analyst for special teams. Meyer spent the 2017, 2018 and 2019 seasons as a graduate assistant at Virginia, working with the defense and special teams.

Meyer is a former All-Big Ten punter from Wisconsin, earning four letters for the Badgers. Punting for Wisconsin from 2012-15, Meyer left Madison with more punts (256) than anyone in program history. He left Wisconsin third on the team's career punting yardage list (10,125 yards) and eighth all-time in punt average (39.8 yards per punt). Meyer is also tied for the program record for games played with 54.

Meyer, a native of Hartland, Wis., is a 2016 graduate of Wisconsin with a degree in agricultural business management. He played high school football at Arrowhead High School. In 2016 Meyer started his coaching career at his alma mater, Arrowhead High School, working with special teams.

C.J. STALKER

FOOTBALL ANALYST FOR DEFENSE

C.J. Stalker is in his second season on Bronco Mendenhall's staff and first as a football analyst. He spent his first season on staff in 2019 as a defensive graduate assistant.

Stalker is a three-year letterwinner at Virginia who appeared in 20 career games for the Cavaliers. He made a career-high three tackles in the 2017 Military Bowl.

Stalker collected 13 career tackles with a season-best eight in 2017. He spent all of the 2018 season on headset assisting by calling defensive plays in.

Stalker, a native of West Chester, Ohio, is a 2018 graduate of Virginia with a degree in foreign affairs. Stalker also earned a masters degree in higher education in 2019. He played high school football for Lakota West High School.

KIRK GARNER

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Kirk Garner is in his third season as a graduate assistant coach at Virginia. He works with the defensive backs.

Garner is a four-year letterwinner at Virginia who appeared in 32 career games for the Cavaliers. He missed UVA's last 12 games of 2017 after suffering a season-ending injury. Garner moved into a student-coach roll for the rest of UVA's 2017 season, which ended in an appearance in the Military Bowl.

Garner collected 22 career tackles and one tackle for loss. A career limited by injuries, Garner had his most productive season in 2016 when he made 15 tackles and one tackle for loss as a primary defensive reserve (1 start) and special teams mainstay.

Garner, a native of Baltimore, Md., is a 2017 graduate of Virginia with a degree in anthropology. He received a master degree in higher education from Virginia in 2018.

CHARLES MACK

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Charles Mack joined Bronco Mendenhall's staff as a graduate assistant in January 2020. He will work primarily with the offense. Mack moves to the coaching staff after spending the 2019 season as a regional scout.

Mack came to Virginia after spending 2018 at Georgia as an event management assistant. Before Georgia Mack was an assistant director of facilities and event management/gameday operations at Richmond, his alma mater.

Mack was a four-year letterwinner at Richmond as a defensive back. He played in 50 career games and posted a career-high 70 tackles in 2016 as a senior.

Mack is a 2017 graduate from Richmond with a degree in leadership studies and sociology. He is currently pursuing a master's degree from UVA in social and philosophical foundations of education.

JOE SPAZIANI

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Joe Spaziani joined Bronco Mendenhall's staff as a graduate assistant in January 2020. He will work primarily with the offense.

Spaziani returns to his alma mater after spending the 2019 season as a long snapper in the CFL with the Toronto Argonauts. The Hingham, Mass., native appeared in 30 career games for the Cavaliers as a long snapper. He made three career tackles on punt coverages and forced one fumble. He appeared in the the Military Bowl and the Belk Bowl for the Cavaliers.

Spaziani graduated from UVA in 2018 with a degree in foreign affairs, followed by a master's degree in higher education from the Curry School in 2019. He currently resides in Charlottesville.

DONTE WILKINS

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Donte Wilkins joined Bronco Mendenhall's staff as a graduate assistant in January 2020. He will work primarily with the defense. Wilkins moves to the coaching staff after spending the 2019 as a recruiting scout.

Wilkins returned to UVA in 2019 after spending the 2018 season as an assistant football performance coach at UCLA. Wilkins was a four-year letterwinner for the Cavaliers and started all 12 games on Mendenhall's first Virginia team in 2016. Wilkins played in 45 career games and made 89 tackles and 7.5 tackles for loss.

Wilkins is a 2017 graduate from Virginia with a degree in anthropology.
