HOOS SET SCORING STANDARD NATIONALLY SINCE 2011

- Virginia has had a high-powered offense under head coach Steve Swanson, but especially since 2011
- Over the past 12 seasons, UVA leads the nation as one of four teams to score 600 goals in that span
- With two goals against Syracuse (10/9) the Hoos became the only team to hit 700 goals in that time
- Virginia led the nation in goals scored in 2014 with 88 goals on the way to an NCAA runner-up finish

- It marked the first time ever that a team had trailed by two goals against North Carolina and rallied to win in regulation
- It was also only the second time ever a team had rallied from a two-goal deficit to beat the Tar Heels (Texas A&M - 9/11/11) as the Aggies overcame a 3-1 deficit to grab a 4-3 victory in overtime
- The three goals in the rally were also the most goals ever scored by Virginia in a match against the Tar Heels

- The two goals 13 seconds apart was the fastest goals in succession for the Hoos in program history, passing a mark set against Virginia Tech in the 1995 season.

HOOS TACKLE ACC SLATE WITH CHALLENGING FRONT HALF

- UVA faced an incredibly challenging front half to ACC play that featured four-of-five games against nationally-ranked opponents

- Virginia then went on the road to face No. 18 Notre Dame - who had been ranked No. 6 the week prior when ACC play opened
- The Hoos then came home for Louisville before traveling to face No. 4 Duke and returning home for No. 3 Florida State

UNIQUELY UVA

The University of Virginia is an institution rich with history and tradition. Here is some of the terminology that contributes to UVA's culture.

- Grounds: The term used by students, faculty and alumni to refer to the University dating as far back as Thomas Jefferson. "Campus" is never used.
- First Year, Second Year, Third Year, Fourth Year: Instead of freshman, sophomore, junior, senior. Why you may ask? To be a "senior" implies that a person has reached the final phase of learning, a feat that Thomas Jefferson believed to be impossible, arguing instead that education is a life-long process. This tends to be used less in athletic eligibility references.
- Commonwealth: Virginia is one of four constituent states of the United States of America that officially uses the name "Commonwealth" instead of the word state in all references. The other three commonwealths are Kentucky, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

UNIVERSITY NICKNAMES

- Virginia's athletics teams have been accompanied by a somewhat confusing array of nicknames. The most prominent and widely accepted of these monikers are "Cavaliers," "Wahoos" and "Hoos."
- Although the terms "Cavaliers," "Wahoos" and "Hoos" are used almost interchangeably to refer to University teams and players, "Cavaliers" is more often used by the media, while "Wahoos" and "Hoos" are frequently used by Virginia students and fans.
- Legend has it that Washington & Lee baseball fans dubbed the Virginia players "Wahoos" during the fiercely contested rivalry that existed between the two in-state schools in the 1890s. By 1940, "Wahoos" was in general use around Grounds to denote University students or events relating to them. The abbreviated "Hoos" sprang up later in student newspapers and has gained growing popularity in recent years.

THE CAVALIER MASCOT

- The costumed Cavalier with a large character head debuted during Virginia's 1984 football season and has remained the official mascot of the University.

UNIVERSITY COLORS: ORANGE AND BLUE

- Orange and blue were adopted as the University of Virginia's official athletic colors at a mass student meeting in 1888. UVA athletic teams had previously worn silver gray and cardinal red, but those colors did not stand out on muddy football fields, prompting a student movement to change them.
- One of the students attending the mass meeting was Allen Potts, a star athlete who played on Virginia's first football team in 1888. Potts showed up at the meeting wearing a navy blue-and-orange scarf that he had acquired during a summer boating expedition at Oxford University. Orange and blue were chosen as the official athletic colors after one of Potts' fellow students pulled the scarf off Potts' neck and, waving it to the crowd, yelled, "How will this do?" UVA later served as the inspiration for schools like Auburn and Florida when they selected school colors.

WAHOOWA

- The origin of "Wah-hoo-wah" is uncertain. The cheer was used to root on Virginia teams as early as 1890 and may have been borrowed from Dartmouth College, whose athletics teams were once known as the Indians.
- Legend attributes the yell to Natalie Floyd Otey, who sang the ballad "Where'er You Are, There Shall My Love Be" at Charlottesville's Levy Opera House in 1893. The predominantly student audience noticed that Otey warbled the first three words of the song between each of the stanzas and decided to join in the refrain. By evening's end, goes the legend, the crowd had corrupted "Where'er You Are" into "Wah-hoo-wah."
