50th Anniversary - Head Coaches Introductions

On September 29, 1973, the field hockey team took the pitch on Nameless Field against Roanoke College. As the Cavaliers represented the University of Virginia that September afternoon, they represented more than just the field hockey team. They represented the first intercollegiate team contest by University of Virginia female students and ushered in a new era at the University of Virginia.

This weekend, we are celebrating the 50th anniversary of that historic game and have invited back to Grounds everyone who has played or coached at Virginia since that first game.

Tonight, we are honored to have seven of the eight head coaches in program history in attendance.

Chesley Garrett, who coached that first team, is not here. She started as a player on the club team and then guided the squad through its first season.

Joining us tonight is Dr. Diane Wakat, who coached the team in the 1974 season while working as a research associate in the Department of Pharmacology of the School of Medicine. Her team won or drew nine of its 12 games that season, setting the foundation for success that we still see today.

Linda Southworth, our third coach, was here for eight seasons, tallying 118 with a 781 career winning percentage. In just her second season, she took her team to the AIAW quarterfinals and in 1981, she made the first Final Four run in the program's history.

Jane Miller took over the program in 1983, the year that the ACC began sponsoring field hockey. She won the first ACC regular-season title in 1987 after being co-champions in 1985. Also in 1985, she took the team to its first NCAA quarterfinal after downing UNC on penalty strokes in the first-round game. After retiring from coaching, she spent decades as our sport supervisor and has been on hand for most of the important moments in our history.

Julie Dayton only spent one season as head coach, but she was an assistant coach on Jane Miller's staff for seven seasons ahead of that. Her teams went to two NCAA tournaments as an assistant coach and she led her 1992 team back to the tournament after a four-year absence.

Missi Sanders Gelnovatch coached here for six seasons, from 1993 to 1998. The 1997 National Coach of the Year took her teams to back-to-back Final Fours in 1997 and 1998, the first two NCAA semifinals in the program's history. She was also the first UVA coach to be named the ACC Coach of the Year for field hockey. She also took the team to a No. 1 national ranking in 1998.

Jess Wilk spent six seasons as an assistant coach on Missi Sanders Gelnovatch's staff before serving seven years as a head coach, spending a total of 13 years on the sidelines. As a head coach, she picked up 78 victories and led her teams to three straight NCAA tournaments. Ten of her players were named to various national teams and three players she coached were named to the ACC 50th Anniversary Team.

In 2006, Michele Madison was hired as head coach. In her 18 seasons, she has tallied 241 wins, taking her team to 14 (and counting) NCAA Tournaments including in seven of her first eight seasons. She took the team to back-to-back Final Fours in 2009 and 2010 and then added the fifth trip to the NCAA Semifinals in the program's history in 2019. She is the only coach in program history to have won an ACC tournament title, which she did in 2016. She was named the ACC Coach of the Year in 2017 and was inducted into the NFHCA Coaching Hall of Fame in 2013.

SENIOR DAY BIOS

These student-athletes came in during the fall of 2020 at the height of COVID-19. That fall, they were among only a handful of teams in the nation to compete. By their sophomore season, things were a little closer to normal on and off the field. They helped lead the team to back-to-back runs to the finals of the ACC Championship and back-to-back NCAA tournament appearances.

Now let's meet the seniors.

Escorted by her parents Mark and Robin Hengerer is Lilly Hengerer. The versatile midfielder has started every game this season for the Cavaliers. She logged her first career points by assisting on a game-winning goal at Syracuse in the spring of 2021. She tallied her lone goal last season, scoring against James Madison. Number 11, Lilly Hengerer!

Escorted by her parents Ellen Hulsman and Remy Knol is Anneloes Knol. The striker was the only one of these four players to start every game in the fall of 2020. She scored her first career goal against North Carolina, a game-tying shot in October of her freshman year. Last season, she scored the game-winning goal against Miami University. She is very proud to have been named to the NFHCA National Academic Squad each of her three seasons so far. Number 3, Anneloes Knol!

Escorted by her parents Brij and Roshni Shah is Esha Shah. The striker tallied her first collegiate goal in a home game against William & Mary last season and assisted on another goal against the Tribe in Williamsburg. She scored a very memorable goal this year at Temple. She is majoring in Kinesiology and minoring in real estate. Number 5, Esha Shah!

Escorted by her parents Mark and Robin Hengerer is Meghen Hengerer. The two-time team captain was voted the "Teammate of the Year" by the squad at last year's Hoos Choice award. She ranked in the top-10 in the ACC in assists last season including assisting on three goals during the run to the ACC tournament finals. Number 12, Meghen Hengerer!

One final round of applause for all of our seniors.
