HOKIES HEAD TO ATHENS TO FACE A PAIR OF SEC OPPONENTS

Tech success in August and in nonconference matches under Adair

- In its history, Tech holds an overall mark of 42-9-8 in matches played in the month of August, including marks of 25-1-6 at home, 12-7-0 on the road and 5-1-2 in neutral site matches.
- Since 2011, Chugger Adair's first season as head coach, the team has lost just one match in the month - at Alabama, 1-0, Aug. 30, 2018. Overall, the Hokies are 30-1-5 under Adair in the month - 17-0-3 at home, 9-1-0 on the road and 4-0-2 at neutral sites.
- The last time Tech lost in the month before last year's match was a neutral site game versus Long Beach State (2-1) on Aug. 29, 2010 at the Aggieland Invitational Tournament in College Station, Texas.
- The previous road loss in August was two days earlier, against the hosts Texas A&M on Aug. 27 (5-3).
- Tech's lone home loss in August dates back to Aug. 27, 2000 - a 3-2 setback to Seton Hall. The team is now unbeaten in its last 30 matches at home in the month.
- Under Adair, Tech has only lost 13 nonconference matches, nine in the postseason, and only four during the regular season - one at Tennessee, Sept. 10, 2017 (3-1), two matches in Blacksburg - Ohio State on Sept. 1, 2016 (2-1) and Nebraska on Sept. 9, 2011 (4-3), and last year in Tuscaloosa.
- In nine seasons under Adair, Tech is 59-4-6 in nonconference regular-season matches.

- Versus Georgia, Tech is 1-0-1 with meetings each of the last two seasons against the Bulldogs.
- In Athens last year, the teams tied 0-0 in double-overtime, while Tech won 1-0 in Blacksburg in 2017. Alani Johnson scored the lone goal in the 18th minute, meaning the two teams have gone without a goal for 182 consecutive minutes and Mandy McGlynn has held Georgia scoreless for 200 straight minutes.
- This will be the first ever meeting between the Hokies and the Auburn Tigers.
- Tech's next three matches are all against SEC opponents (adding the Hokies' Alabama match at home next week) and all-time against current conference foes, the Hokies are 8-6-2.
- On the road, Tech has yet to win a match, but are 5-2-0 in neutral site match-ups, including a 1-0 double-overtime win in last year's NCAA Second Round against Arkansas.

Starting the season unbeaten after two matches and beyond

- For the 10th straight year and 17th overall, Tech is unbeaten after its first two matches, while a 2-0-0 start to the season has now been accomplished for the 12th time, but the first since 2017.
- Extending that to this weekend's matches, the Hokies are seeking their 10th 3-0-0 start in program history while a 4-0-0 start has only been done seven times (Tech started the 2017 season 4-0-0).
- Lastly, all-time after four matches, Tech has been unbeaten 12 times.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

Probably the most frequently asked question regarding Virginia Tech athletics and the answer dates back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With it came a contest held by the student body for writing a new cheer and senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Old Hokie" yell. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull said the words had no hidden or symbolic meaning, but had been thought up in an effort to get attention. "Hokie" soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics. Below is the "Old Hokie" yell:

Hoki, Hoki, Hoki Hy!
Tech! Tech! V.P.I.!
Sola-Rex Sola-Rah
Polytech-Vir-gin-i-a!
Rae, Ri, V.P.I.

JUST "VIRGINIA TECH", PLEASE!

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech." Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896. Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech. The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today. Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as "Virginia Tech." VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT, VA Tech or Virginia Tech University are not recognized names and should not be used.

Tech in season and home openers

- Overall, the Hokies are now 17-7-3 in season openers, are unbeaten in 11 straight (10-0-1; had won nine straight before last year's season-opening 0-0 tie versus San Diego) and they are 8-0-1 under head coach Chugger Adair.

- In home openers, Tech is 8-0-1 under Adair and is unbeaten in 19 straight matches (15-0-4; had won 11 in a row before last year's home-opening tie) dating back to 2001. Overall, the team has posted a 21-2-4 mark in home openers, losing just the 1993 and 2000 home openers.

- The Hokies are unbeaten at 7-0-3 when their season opener coincides with their home opener.

- Over the nine seasons under Adair, Tech has outscored its opponents 25-2 in season openers and 31-3 in home openers.

Home weekend draws impressive crowds

- Helped out by move-in day in Blacksburg for Virginia Tech's largest freshman class ever, Tech's home opener on Aug. 22 against Liberty, a 3-0 victory, brought out the fourth largest crowd in Thompson Field history at 1,667 fans.

- The crowd for Sunday's game was less, announced at 863, however that figure is greater than any home attendance during the 2018 season, as would have been the third largest crowd to watch a Tech women's soccer match last year - behind the 976 fans at Louisville (Oct. 25) and the 932 at Georgia (Sept. 2).

Top 5 crowds at Thompson Field

1. 2,173	Clemson	Sept. 19, 2014
2. 1,773	North Carolina	Sept. 19, 2015
3. 1,703	James Madison	Aug. 28, 2015
4. 1,667	Liberty	Aug. 22, 2019
5. 1,602	Clemson	Oct. 1, 2016

Starting Streaks and Ironwomen

- During the 2018 season, five players started all 22 matches - Emily Gray, Jordan Hemmen, Kelsey Irwin, Mandy McGlynn and Jaylyn Thompson.

- Thompson, a senior, currently holds the longest consecutive starts streak on the team at 52 straight matches, as she started the final 10 during the 2016 season and all 18 in 2017.

- McGlynn's streak is the second longest, now at 43 - having started the last match of 2016 and all 18 matches in 2017 as well.

- Hemmen started all 17 matches she appeared in during the 2017 campaign, but only started the last 16 consecutively, and is now at 40 straight starts.

- Gray became the first freshman at the school to start every match since 2013 (Murielle Tiernan) and is now at 24 straight starts

- Irwin has started 36 straight matches and had played every single minute of them until this season's home opener. Dating back to Sept. 4, 2017 versus Longwood, the last match she did not start, she played the final 66:05 minutes of that contest and 3,302:05 straight minutes entering the season.

- In the waning minutes of the 3-0 Liberty win, Irwin was taken out for the first time in 35 matches, ending her streak at 3,386:27.

- McGlynn's consecutive minutes streak is even longer, as she has not been subbed out since Aug. 25, 2017 - vs. the College of Charleston. McGlynn did not play the final 14 minutes, but has played every one since - a streak of 3,686:43 straight minutes.

- Four others started the first two matches, sophomores Emmalee McCarter (22 straight), Molly Feighan (5 total) and Grace Sklopan (5 total) and redshirt-freshman Nicole Kozlova.

In 2018 Tech games, scoring first was critical

- In Tech matches last season, only once did the team that scored the day's first goal not go on to win the match, and that was then-No. 22 Georgetown, which resulted in a 1-1 draw on Aug. 19.

- Since then, the team that scored the match's first goal was 19-0, with the Hokies holding an 11-0 record while the opponents were 8-0, with one double overtime 0-0 tie in the mix (Sept. 2 at Georgia).

- In fact, once the first goal of a match had been netted, the team who scored never relinquished the lead and had gone on to register a shutout in 15 of those contests, with Tech earning eight of them.

- In all, Tech and its opponents combined for 19 shutouts in 22 matches last year (Tech 10, Opp 9), which surpassed the most prior of 17 in 2011 (Tech 11, Opp 6) in 23 matches played that season.

- The good news last year was that when the Hokies scored a goal, they are 11-1-1.

- Lastly, when reaching the half in a scoreless tie, the Hokies were 4-1-2 and they were 4-1-3 when the match was tied at intermission.

- The last time Tech came back from a deficit to win a game was Oct. 15, 2017 at Notre Dame, scoring twice in the second half after trailing 1-0 at the break.

- The last time Tech lost a game it was leading was Oct. 23, 2016, when Miami scored twice, the second in double overtime, to win 2-1 in Coral Gables.

The score first and win trend continues

- Just two matches in, but last year's trends continued in the first weekend, as Tech scored first in both, never relinquished the lead, won both and registered shutouts in both.

- So, the team scoring first, in a Tech game, has now won the last 21 matches with 17 shutouts.

- Lastly, since the 2017 Notre Dame contest (25 matches), the team that netted the first goal is 22-0-1 with two scoreless ties.

Score first, win trend in front of McGlynn

- In Mandy McGlynn's 58 career starts as Tech's goalkeeper, the team has never lost a game after giving her a lead (31-0-2). She did not play in the 2016 Miami game (see note above).

- Only four times with McGlynn as the starting goalkeeper has Tech taken a lead and relinquished it. The Hokies went on to win two of them, while earning a tie in the other two.

Date	Opponent	Result
Sept. 21, 2017	at Pittsburgh	T, 1-1 2OT
Oct. 9, 2016	at Boston College	W, 3-2 2OT
Oct. 6, 2016	at Syracuse	W, 2-1
Sept. 30, 2016	Clemson	T, 2-2 2OT

Opening the season with a pair of shutouts

- For only the third time in school history, the Hokies recorded back-to-back shutouts to start the season.

- Tech first accomplished the feat in 2012, while the 2014 squad posted three shutouts to start that year.

- The longest scoreless streak (by minutes) to start a season is 322:39, which opened the 2014 season. Tech lost the streak on Aug. 31 in a 3-1 win at Ohio State (goal was scored in fourth match at 52:38).

- The second longest scoreless streak is 245:49 and was ended on Aug. 24, 2012 in a 3-2 win at Nebraska (goal scored at 54:20). This streak included a double overtime win to start the year.

- The Hokies enter this weekend with a streak of 180 straight minutes.

- One other note, after two matches, Tech's +5 goal differential is the best since that 2014 season (+10) and is tied for the seventh-best.

THOMPSON FIELD HOME OF THE HOKIES

Thompson Field serves as the home of the Tech men's and women's soccer teams as well as the lacrosse team. Located in the center of the Tech athletics complex, the facility ranks as one of the finest for both soccer and lacrosse in the ACC.

Located across from Lane Stadium, the Hokies' football home, Thompson Field was completed in the fall of 2003 and dedicated in 2008 in the name of Sandra D. Thompson, a longtime supporter of women's athletics at Tech.

The field is a bluegrass playing surface and measures approximately 75 by 120 yards. It is equipped with an underground irrigation and drainage system that allows for it to be ready for play quickly following rainstorms.

The athletics department has gradually made improvements since the venue opened in 2003.

The most recent updates to the complex includes new light fixtures and a videoboard for the start of the 2019 soccer season and access to upgraded team rooms for use during pregame and halftime of matches played at Thompson Field.

In 2005, workers completed a new restroom facility for the complex, and during the summer of 2008, a new game operations center was erected atop the stadium above the grandstand.

The approximately 900-square foot facility now includes one dedicated broadcast booth for ACC Network TV broadcasts. The area also has two covered areas on each end devoted to camera operations for these broadcasts. There is a similar booth on the opposite side of the center, where working media members who are covering the Hokies have access along with the opportunity for teams to record their video as well.

In the main area of the center is a large working area for game operations, which includes the scoreboard and videoboard, PA, official statistics and visiting school officials.

The climate-controlled facility contains a state-of-the-art sound system and Ethernet capability. The Internet-ready facility allows Tech's official athletics website, hokiesports.com, to originate live stats of the Hokies' matches from the press box. Above the grandstand is a wired camera deck.

Between each team's bench area is the Sandy D. Thompson Press Box. Formerly the press operations center for the field, the facility is now used as a halftime room for game officials and as an auxiliary area for press and game operations. This is also where the replay monitor is housed for ACC Broadcasts.

Thompson Field, which has been expanded since it was opened, now features approximately 2,028 bench-back seats, where each fan has an unobstructed view of the playing surface. Spacious area around the field allows for nearly 1,500 more fans to watch games.

Goalkeeper scoreless streaks to start the year

- In the 2012 and 2014 seasons, Tech's starting goalkeeper was Caroline Kelly, meaning she holds the two longest scoreless streaks to start a year. - However, her longest consecutive stretch of minutes played is the 245:49 to open the 2012 season, since she was replaced in the second half of that third match in 2014. - That season's streak did reach 277:38 (non-consecutive) before she allowed the first tally of the year, but she played the first 225:00 consecutively. - Mandy McGlynn starts the weekend at 180:00, the longest stretch to start the season in her career. - Interestingly, she has posted a shutout in the season opener all four years at the school and went at least 129 minutes in each season before allowing goal No. 1 for the year. - Her longest streak before this year was 171:52 to open the 2016 season, her freshman year.

Mance scores in both matches

- Mikayla Mance scored a goal in each of 25th-ranked Tech's first two wins last weekend. - Her first goal came in the 30th minute against Liberty, the first insurance tally in a 3-0 victory. It was her first goal since Sept. 7, 2017. - On Sunday, just 83 seconds before halftime, Mance gave Tech a 1-0 lead over Cincinnati with her second of the weekend, and the third of her career. - It held for the game-winner, the second of her career, as the Hokies beat the Bearcats 2-0. - She became the first Tech player to score a goal in the first two games since Murielle Tiernan to start the 2015 campaign, who actually scored in the first three matches of the season. - Tiernan is also the last player to score goals in three straight matches at any point, scoring in five straight from Sept. 19 through Oct. 8, 2015.

Other goal scorers from the opening weekend

- Molly Feighan, a sophomore, scored the first of her career to open the Liberty game just 8:43 into the match and held for her first game winner as well. - It was the fastest goal to start a season since 2014, when Shannon Mayrose found the back of the net at the 6:33 mark in Tech's 6-0 season-opening win versus VCU on Aug. 22. - Tech scored two goals last year faster than Feighan's, Kelsey Irwin's game-winner (5:38) versus Notre Dame (10/18) and Allyson Brown's game-winner (8:32) at Miami (9/23) - Both Mak Graham and Nicole Kozlova also scored the firsts of their careers as well with Graham tallying the third versus Liberty and Kozlova the second against Cincinnati.

The goal setters from the opening weekend

- Emmalee McCarter tallied a pair of assists in the Liberty victory, marking the first Hokie to have two assists in a match since Lilly Weber had a pair in a 2-0 win over James Madison on Aug. 28, 2016. - She now has three in her Tech career. - Emily Gray, the team's leader in assist last year, also notched an assist versus Liberty, and despite being only a sophomore, she currently leads the team in career assists with seven. - Tech's leader in goals in 2018, sophomore Karlie Johnson and classmate Emma Steigerwald each had an assist against Liberty as well, marking the first of their Tech careers. - Against Cincinnati, seniors Kelsey Irwin and Weber each had an assist, giving each of them their fifth career goal at the school.

McGlynn, again, named preseason All-ACC

- Senior Mandy McGlynn, who racked up a number of honors last season which included being named to the All-ACC First Team, a first for a Tech goalkeeper, has been named to the 2019 Preseason All-ACC Women's Soccer Team, as announced by the league office on Aug. 8. - McGlynn was one of 11 student-athletes to make the preseason team, which was voted on by the conference's coaches. She was also named to the preseason team before the 2018 season. - She was a 2018 United Soccer Coaches All-Atlantic Region Second Team member after starting 22 matches and playing every single minute (2,056:43), the second-most in a season at Tech. - The Jacksonville, Florida native stopped 91 shots (seventh) for a 79.8 save percentage (eighth) and posted a 1.01 goals against average (T-fifth). She also recorded 10 shutouts (second), won 11 matches (T-third) and became the first Tech goalkeeper to play every minute of the season in goal since 2004 (Mallory Soldner, 1,800). - She helped the Hokies make a return trip to both the ACC and NCAA Championship tournaments, a run that saw Tech reach the Round of 16 for the first time since 2014. She recorded back-to-back shutouts to open the NAAs, which included a first round upset at No. 17 Texas. - Entering the 2019 season, she was second all-time at Tech in wins (29), shutouts (22) goals against average (1.06) and save percentage (78.1), third in minutes played (5,262) and fourth in saves (221). - The chart on the right displays where she currently stands in those career categories.

The Hokies started the season ranked No. 25

- Tech was one of seven ACC programs to be ranked in the United Soccer Coaches' Preseason Top 25 poll, the organization announced Aug. 6. - The Hokies checked in at No. 25 after ending the 2018 season ranked 21st. - It was the first time since the end of the 2015 campaign Tech was ranked at the end of the year and it was the first time the Hokies opened a season ranked since 2016, when they started out at No. 17. - TopDrawerSoccer, which tabbed the Hokies the No. 23 program in the nation at the end of the 2018 season, had Tech listed as one of five programs in the "Others considered" category outside the Top 25. - College Soccer 360, which does a "Composite Top-50", had Tech at No. 29.

And are now currently not ranked

- After the first weekend of 2019, in which the Hokies outscored their opponents 5-0, recorded a 2-0 record with two shutouts, the United Soccer Coaches' poll saw Tech fall outside the top 25. - The Hokies are one of 11 ACC programs either ranked or receiving votes in the latest poll and check in at No. 28 this week. - TopDrawerSoccer again has the Hokies as one of five programs in the "Others considered" category and appears to be No. 28 as well.

Hokies finish preseason with 2-0 record

- Tech played two scrimmages during the preseason and won both, shutting out Marshall 3-0 on Aug. 10 and defeating George Mason 2-1 on Aug. 17. - At Thompson Field against the Thundering Herd, the Hokies held a 10-2 in shots in the first half but the match was scoreless at the end of the first half. - Holly Weber quickly changed that scoring 1:42 after the break and then 83 seconds later to put the

Charles "Chugger" Adair

Virginia Tech Head Coach - Ninth Season

On December 7, 2010, Virginia Tech Director of Athletics Jim Weaver announced the hiring of Tech's fourth head women's soccer coach Charles "Chugger" Adair, the associate head coach for the team the previous five seasons. The 2018 season marked Adair's 13th season in Blacksburg and his eighth year as the Hokies' head coach. In that time, he's become the all-time wins leader in program history, ended the 2018 campaign with a 106-48-18 overall record, and became just the second soccer coach at the school to reach the 100-win milestone with the team's victory at Miami on Sept. 23 (Jerry Cheynet, 238 wins, 28 seasons for Tech men's soccer). He's also just the 10th women's soccer head coach to reach that mark in the ACC.

Prior to Adair's arrival on campus, the women's program just once (2004) made the postseason - playing a game in both the ACC and NCAA tournaments. Since, the team has qualified for six ACC tournaments, playing for the conference title twice (2008 & 2013), and earned eight straight bids to the NCAA championship (2008-15) - nine overall, as the Hokies made it back to the tournament in 2018. Tech has reached the Sweet 16 four times under Adair (2009, 2011, 2014, 2018), but enjoyed its greatest success in 2013. That record-setting season included the Hokies posting a school-record 19 wins (most by any soccer team at the school), playing for the ACC title and advancing to the NCAA College Cup, where their season ended with a 3-2 loss to Florida State in a national semifinal game.

Along with the great strides the Hokies have made on the pitch, the Tech women's soccer program is also known for producing outstanding students who are major contributors off of it. Each year, the Hokies boast a high team grade point average and have student-athletes who compete for state, regional and national academic recognition. In fact, during the 2017-18 academic season, the team posted a program-tying best ever team GPA of 3.53 in the spring semester. Also, in the past three years, both Ashley Meier (2015) and Alani Johnson (2017) have received an ACC Postgraduate Scholarship, with Meier also earning an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship as well. Lastly, in 2018, Heather Timothy became Tech's sixth women's soccer player to earn the Skelton Award for Academic Excellence in Athletics - the highest designation handed out by the Tech athletics department

In his eight seasons at Tech, Adair has led his program to a winning record each year, but saw a streak of double-digit win totals come to an end in 2017 as the team posted a 7-6-5 mark, with the five ties setting a program record. Despite an 11-win season in 2016 - the team's ninth straight year with at least 10 wins - the Hokies saw their eight-year run of making the NCAA championship come to an end.

In 2018, Tech returned to the 11-win mark and the NCAA tournament and reached the Round of 16. Along the way, the Hokies were one of two teams to knock off a nationally-seeded team in the opening round - defeating No. 17 Texas (a four seed) 1-0 in Austin, Texas - the Longhorns lone home loss of the year. Another 1-0 victory, this one in double overtime, in round two over Arkansas advanced Tech to its fourth ever Sweet 16. The Hokies ended the year ranked in two major polls - 21st by the United Soccer Coaches and 23rd by Top Drawer Soccer. He was also on the sidelines as the Hokies played the program's 500th career match (August 19 versus Georgetown) and recorded its 250th career victory (Sept. 23 at Villanova).

In 2015, the Hokies went 15-4-2 and won their opening round game in the NCAA championship, while in the 2014 season, Adair led the Hokies to a 16-6 record and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the third time in school history. During that season, the Hokies set a school record for most goals in a season, with 62, and fewest goals allowed in a season, surrendering just 18, and reached a program-best No. 2 ranking in the country after starting the season at 10-0-0.

In their record-setting 2013 campaign, the Hokies beat three ranked teams during the regular season and then blew out then-No. 1 Virginia 4-2 in the ACC Tournament semifinals. They added two more ranked foes to their list of conquests when they downed West Virginia 1-0 and knocked off Santa Clara by advancing on penalty kicks in the NCAA Championships. The Hokies were a No. 1 seed in the tournament and hosted four games in Blacksburg. The Hokies scored a then school-record 56 goals, breaking the mark of 45 set by the 2012 team, and shut out 12 opponents, tying the mark also set by the 2012 squad. They finished the season with a school-best No. 4 ranking in the country.

In 2012, Adair, in his second season as the head coach, led the Hokies to a 13-6-1 record, which marked the program's fifth straight 10-win season. Tech's six losses were the fewest in program history, at the time, and 12 of the 13 wins were shutouts. The team started 9-0-0, climbing into the Top 10 in the national rankings for the first time in school history, reaching the No. 8 spot in late September. The Hokies played host to their first NCAA Championship game in Blacksburg, as they welcomed No. 14 Georgetown to Thompson Field, though it resulted in a 3-2 loss in overtime.

In Adair's first season as the head coach (2011), Tech matched its best finish in program history (at the time), making it all the way to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Championship. Adair led the Hokies to a 14-8-1 overall record, which included 11 shutouts.

Adair came to Tech in 2006 and served as the associate head coach under previous head coach Kelly Cagle for five seasons before being promoted. In Adair's first season as an assistant to Cagle, the Hokies suffered a losing season, but have not suffered a losing season since. In 2008, the Hokies advanced to the finals of the ACC Championship for the first time, falling to North Carolina 3-0, and in 2009, the Hokies won 16 games, then a school record, and earned a final ranking of No. 12.

Adair came to Tech after holding the associate head coaching position at UC Santa Barbara for two seasons. While at UCSB, his role involved all aspects of the soccer program, including recruiting, coaching, scouting, player management, community relations and camps. Prior to his arrival at UCSB, he worked a six-year stint as Youth Soccer Coach/ Assistant Director of Competitive Older Ages for the Del Mar Sharks.

He served as an assistant for the University of San Diego's men's soccer team from 1998-2000. From there, he spent a season as an assistant coach for both the men's and women's soccer teams at Pacific University in Portland, Ore.

Adair also possesses a great deal of playing experience, having played professionally for 10 years, including stints with the Los Angeles Galaxy of Major League Soccer and the U.S. National Futsal Team. He also spent time playing for the San Diego Sockers, Wichita Wings, Portland Timbers, San Diego Flash, Minnesota Thunder, Seattle Sounders, Milwaukee Wave, Carolina Dynamo and A.A. Ghent (Belgium) from 1993-2003.

Adair played soccer at the University of San Diego after transferring from San Diego State in the early 1990s. He earned All-America honors, was a two-year captain and helped USD to the NCAA finals, where the Toreros lost to Virginia. He scored 27 goals and had 23 assists in his three years at USD. He got his bachelor's degree in business administration from USD in 1993 and he received his MBA from USD in 1996.

Adair is married to the former Shelbylynn McBride, and they have a daughter, Callie Lynn and a son, Austin Tate. He also has two other daughters Alexandra and Madeline, and a son Jack
