GEORGIA TECH (9-5, 1-0 ACC) vs. #9/7 VIRGINIA TECH (13-1, 2-0 ACC)
GAME 15 • January 9, 2019 • 7 p.m. ET • McCamish Pavilion • Atlanta, Ga.

About Wednesday's Game

Georgia Tech continues its 40th season of Atlantic Coast Conference basketball Wednesday night with a 7 p.m. contest against No. 9/7 Virginia Tech at McCamish Pavilion. It is the Yellow Jackets' second game against a top-10 team this season (at No. 5 Tennessee on Nov. 13).

Tech (9-5, 1-0 ACC), in its third season under head coach Josh Pastner, is 8-2 at home this season, having won its last three games, including a 92-79 victory over Wake Forest to open the ACC schedule on Saturday. The Yellow Jackets won their first five games at home this season before dropping a pair of contests to Gardner-Webb and Georgia the week before Christmas.

Virginia Tech (13-1, 2-0 ACC), in its fifth season under head coach Buzz Williams, has lost only to Penn State this season, a 63-62 defeat on the road in the ACC-Big Ten Challenge on Nov. 27. The Hokies are on an eight-game winning streak, including an 81-66 win over Notre Dame and an 88-77 win over Boston College, both at home, to begin ACC play.

Wednesday's game will be broadcast live on the ACC's Regional Sports Network, airing in Georgia on Fox Sports South, and will be streamed live on ACC Network Extra, which is available through the ESPN app. Radio coverage is provided on the Georgia Tech IMG Sports Network, airing in Atlanta on 680 AM and 93.7 FM the Fan. The Tech broadcast is available on satellite radio (XM ch. 383, internet ch. 974).

Starting Lineup

• For starters - Georgia Tech opens its Atlantic Coast Conference schedule with two games at home for the first time since the 2005-06 season and will have five of its first eight ACC games at home in the 2018-19 season.

• Home is where the heart is - Tech is ending a stretch of seven home games in an eight-game span. It began Dec. 9 with a 73-40 victory over Florida A&M and carries the Yellow Jackets and ends with ACC games against Wake Forest (Jan. 5) and Virginia Tech (Jan. 9). Tech's only road game in that span was at Arkansas.

• On the right foot - Georgia Tech has won its ACC home opener each of the last four years (Wake Forest Saturday, No. 15 Miami last season, No. 9 North Carolina in 2016-17, No. 4 Virginia in 2015-16).

• Tough at home - Tech is 13-6 against ACC teams at home under Pastner, 5-3 against top-25 ACC teams.

• Hokie high - Georgia Tech has never faced a Virginia Tech ranked as high as the Hokies are this week (No. 9/7). The previous high was the 2004-05 season, when the Hokies are No. 12/15.

• Tough slate - January shapes up as a rugged month as Virginia Tech, Syracuse, Clemson, Duke and North Carolina all made the NCAA Tournament field last season. Duke is currently No. 1 in the nation in both polls, while Virginia Tech and North Carolina are both in the top 10. Clemson and Syracuse were ranked in the top 25 to begin the season.

• That's offensive - Georgia Tech has posted three of the best 10 offensive efficiency ratings (according to KenPom. com) of Josh Pastner's tenure in its last three games. Wake Forest (121.1) and Kennesaw State (119.7) rank as the No. 4 and 5 best figures. Tech's effective field goal efficiency ratings in the last three games, all above 60 percent, rank behind only the 63.1 percent the Jackets posted against Wofford in December of 2017.

• Defending well - Georgia Tech ranks fourth in the ACC in scoring defense (No. 25 nationally), fifth in field goal percentage defense (No. 17 nationally) and third in three-point percentage defense (No. 17 nationally). The Jackets are also third in blocked shots and in fourth in steals.

• Below average - Wake Forest was the first team to exceed its season scoring average against Tech this season – breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.9 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63).

• Creating offense with defense - Georgia Tech has forced an average of 15.3 turnovers per game, about two per game more than last season (ranks 7th in ACC, 57th in NCAA). Tech has turned those into 17.2 points per game (24.1 percent of total points).

• Freshmen emerge - Guard Michael Devoe and forward Khalid Moore have started Tech's last five games (Arkansas, Georgia, Kennesaw State). Tech has deployed five different starting lineups this season.

• Longer bench - Tech has deployed at least eight players for significant minutes in each of its games so far, sometimes nine or 10. Tech's bench has played 33.8 percent of available minutes, 103rd in the nation according to KenPom. com (national average is 31 pct.). Tech reserves are outscoring there opponents 27.8 to 17.5 per game).

• 668 - Career points for Brandon Alston, the most of any current Tech player. Georgia Tech finished last season with a trio of 1,000-point career scorers on its roster for the first time since 1989.

Series vs. Virginia Tech

• Virginia Tech has won 18 of 24 all-time meetings with Georgia Tech, including 14 of 19 as a member of the ACC.

• The Hokies have won the last four games of the series, the first three of which were decided in the final minute. Virginia Tech won the teams' only regular-season meeting of 2017-18, 76-56, at McCamish Pavilion.

• Tech's 64-54 win on Feb. 9, 2013 in Blacksburg is its only triumph at Cassell Coliseum in 10 tries.

• Tech has defeated Virginia Tech only three times in 10 meetings at home since the Hokies joined the ACC, and the Yellow Jackets received extraordinary performances by a individuals to win two of those games. On Jan. 19, 2008, reserve guard Matt Causey came off the bench to hit seven threes and pour in 30 points in the Jackets' 81-70 victory. On Jan. 25, 2011, Iman Shumpert recorded the fourth triple-double in Tech history with 22 points, 12 rebounds and 11 assists in the Jackets' 72-57 win.

• The Hokies, led by future NBA star Dell Curry, held off the Jackets and their future All-Americans Mark Price and John Salley, 77-74, in the teams' first meeting, a first-round post-season NIT game, at Cassell Coliseum in 1984.

• The teams have split two ACC Tournament encounters, the Jackets capturing a 73-54 victory in the first round of the 2005 tournament in Washington, D.C., and the Hokies winning a 59-43 decision in the first round in 2011 in Greensboro.

• Georgia Tech's first victory over Virginia Tech occurred on Dec. 27, 1962, a 73-72 overtime triumph at the Gator Bowl Tournament that was part of an 11-0 start for the Yellow Jackets. Tech went on to finish the season 21-5. Both teams were ranked in the UPI poll at the time, Georgia Tech at No. 18, Virginia Tech at No. 14.

• Both teams were members of the old Metro Conference, but not at the same time. Georgia Tech was a member for three seasons from 1975-76 through 1977-78 before leaving to join the ACC. Virginia Tech joined the league for the 1978-79 season.

Last Time Out - Tech Topples Wake

James Banks torched Wake Forest for 20 points on 9-of-11 shooting to lead Georgia Tech to a 92-79 win over the Demon Deacons in the Atlantic Coast Conference opener for teams on Saturday afternoon at McCamish Pavilion.

Georgia Tech's 92 points were the most that it has scored in a non-overtime ACC game since it beat Virginia, 94-76, in the opening round of the 2008 ACC Tournament and the Yellow Jackets' most in a non-overtime ACC regular-season game since it topped UVA, 92-69, in 2005.

For the third-straight game, Georgia Tech (9-5, 1-0 ACC) shot better than 55 percent from the field, as the Yellow Jackets made 55.8 percent of their shots (29-of-52) in the win. The Jackets are shooting 56.7 percent as a team over the past three games (93-of-164).

Defensively, the Yellow Jackets limited Wake Forest (7-6, 0-1 ACC) to 39.7-percent shooting (27-of-68), which marks the third-straight game that Georgia Tech's opponent has made less than 42 percent of its field-goal attempts.

Banks led four Tech scorers in double-figures with his 20 points. The junior's 20-point output was just two shy of his career high of 22, set last month against Gardner-Webb.

Freshman Michael Devoe, senior Brandon Alston and sophomore Jose Alvarado rounded out the four Yellow Jackets in double-figures with 16, 14 and 13 points, respectively. Devoe's 16 points were a career high, surpassing the 14 he scored on Wednesday night against USC Upstate.

Last Season vs. Virginia Tech

Virginia Tech 76, Georgia Tech 56
Feb. 17, 2018 • McCamish Pavilion

Virginia Tech shot 52.8 percent from the field in a 76-56 win over Georgia Tech at sold-out McCamish Pavilion.

Both teams were red-hot coming out of the gates, as Georgia Tech made five of its first six shots and Virginia Tech started 5-of-8. Georgia Tech's Tadric Jackson keyed the Yellow Jackets' early spurt with four buckets in the first four minutes of the game (including three three-pointers), which helped stake the Jackets to a 14-8 lead.

However, it was all Virginia Tech from that point on. The Hokies closed the first half on an 18-6 run to take a 43-29 halftime lead and opened the second period with a 30-9 spurt that saw their lead balloon to as large as 35 points. VT, which was shooting 66.7 percent from the field with less than 10 minutes to go in the game, made 28-of-53 shots for the contest and scored 24 points on fast breaks.

Playing in front of three busloads of fans from his hometown of Tifton, Ga., Jackson led Georgia Tech (11-16, 4-10 ACC) with 13 points.

Justin Robinson led Virginia Tech (19-8, 8-6 ACC) with 18 points.

The game was essentially decided in the first 20 minutes. Virginia Tech, ranked fifth nationally in field-goal percentage, assisted on 14 of 16 baskets before halftime and buried Georgia Tech's offense after it jumped out to a six-point lead in the first four minutes.

GAME NOTES

Following the Trends

• Tech picked up its 80th home win in its sixth season at McCamish Pavilion with its win over Wake Forest. The Jackets have averaged 13.3 home wins over that time (with eight home games left to play in 2018-19).

• Tech's 92 points against Wake Forest were its most in an ACC game under Josh Pastner (surpassing an 86-76 win at NC State on Jan. 15, 2016). It was the most points the Yellow Jackets have scored against an ACC team since a 94-76 win over Virginia in the first round of the 2008 ACC Tournament (March 13), and the most in a regulation game in the regular season since Jan. 13, 2005 (92-69 over Virginia.

• Tech posted its best shooting performance from the floor (55.8 percent vs. Wake Forest) against an ACC team in four years. The last time the Yellow Jackets posted a higher percentage against an ACC team was 56.8 percent at Miami on Jan. 28, 2015. It surpassed the 51.6 percent Tech converted at NC State on Jan. 15, 2017 as the best under Josh Pastner.

• Tech had surpassed 50 percent from the floor in three straight games – 55.8 percent vs. Wake Forest, 58.0 percent vs. USC Upstate, 56.5 percent vs. Kennesaw State. Collectively, that's 56.4 percent over the three games since the Jackets posted a 32.3-percent clip against Georgia on Dec. 22.

• Tech's 28 free throws were its most since hitting 29 at N.C. State on Jan. 27, 2016, and matched the most under Josh Pastner (28 vs. North Carolina on Dec. 31, 2016.

• Tech continues to show balance in its scoring, with four or more players in double figures in three straight games, including four players in double digits and another with nine against Wake Forest. Five Tech players scored in double figures against Kennesaw State.

• Reflecting an emphasis in practice on offensive tempo, particularly early in the shot clock, Tech has piled up 71 assists on 93 made field goals in its last three games (76.3 percent), including 20 on 29 field goals against Wake Forest.. Tech had just nine assists on 21 field goals against the Bulldogs on Dec. 22.

• Tech has deployed at least eight players for significant minutes in each of its 13 games so far, nine vs. Northwestern, St. John's and Georgia despite Evan Cole missing those games with an ankle injury. Tech used nine players against Wake Forest, and all of them scored.

• Freshmen Michael Devoe and Khalid Moore started Tech's last five games, having made their first collegiate starts at Arkansas. Georgia Tech has used five different starting lineups this season. Transfer James Banks III has started eight straight games in the post, and Moses Wright the last 12 at the big forward spot. Jose Alvarado has started 12 of the 13 Tech games. No Tech player has started every game this season.

• After having been outscored in three straight games, Tech has received 121 points (40.3 per game) from its bench in its last three games, including seven double-figure scorers combined. For the season, Tech reserves have averaged 28.1 points per game to 17.0 for the opponents.

• Wake Forest was the first team to exceed its season scoring average (74.4 ppg) against the Yellow Jackets this season, scoring 79 points. Tech had held every prior opponent this season under its season scoring average – breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.5 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63).

• Tech has connected on 48.7 percent of its field goals at home, 33.0 percent of its three-point attempts and 70.9 percent of its free throws.

• Tech has held nine of its 14 opponents under 40 percent from the field this season (Wake Forest finished the game at 40.3 percent). The Yellow Jackets' opponents have shot 38.4 percent overall this season, which puts Tech fourth in the ACC.

Personnel Notes

• James Banks reached double digits for the first time since Dec. 22 against Georgia, leading the Yellow Jackets with 20 points against Wake Forest. The 6-9 junior hit 9-of-11 shots from the floor and has converted 61.3 percent of his tries this season. Banks had scored 12 total points in 42 total minutes in Tech's last two games against Kennesaw State and USC Upstate. It was the second 20-point game for Banks this season (22 vs. Gardner-Webb).

• Brandon Alston hit double digits for the third straight game (14 vs. Wake Forest) and for the eighth time this season. The 6-5 graduate senior has hit 48.5 percent of his shots from the floor this season, 41.5 percent of his threes and 81.4 percent of his free throw attempts. He went 4-for-7 from the floor and 6-for-6 from the line against Wake Forest.

• Freshman Michael Devoe has started five straight games and logged six double-figure scoring games this season, including a personal best of 16 points in his first ACC game against Wake Forest. Devoe went 4-for-6 from the floor, 3-for-4 from behind the arc and 5-of-8 from the foul line against the Demon Deacons. The 6-4 guard also had four assists, four rebounds and just two turnovers in 33:34. Devoe has 12 assists and four turnovers in Tech's last three games.

• Continuing his comeback from an ankle injury, Evan Cole has scored 36 points in 47 minutes in Tech's last three games. After scoring a double-double in Tech's last meeting against Wake at the end of last season, Cole posted nine points (4-5 FG) and four rebounds Saturday against the Demon Deacons. Cole has hit 15-of-20 shots from the floor in the last three gaes. The 6-9 sophomore had missed seven games this season with an ankle injury suffered in game 2 at Tennessee. Cole played 13 minutes against Kennesaw State and scored 11 points, which was his previous career best.

• Sophomore Jose Alvarado scored 13 points against Wake Forest for his 10th double-figure scoring game this season, and dished a career-high seven assists against no turnovers in 37:32. Since a 3-for-20 afternoon against Georgia, the gritty 6-foot guard has hit 10-of-22 in Tech's last three games, and he has 13 assists against just three turnovers, as well as 12 rebounds.

Pastner's Key Metrics

• Assists to made field goals: The Jackets have 71 assists on 93 field goals (76.3 percent) in its last three games. The Jackets are at 59.8 percent for the season, well above the nation's average of 52 percent. Tech assisted on 20 of 29 made field goals (69 percent) against Wake Forest, meeting its nightly goal of 60 percent for the third straight game and fourth time this season.

• Free throws made to opponents' attempts: Tech is 36-12 under Josh Pastner when attempting more free throws than the opponent. The Yellow Jackets connected on 28-of-34 free throw attempts to Wake Forest's 16-of-22 (nightly goal of making more than opponent tries accomplished).

• Turnovers: Tech has averaged 14.4 turnovers per game this season, but has committed 13 or fewer in four of its last six games (exception: 20 in victory at Arkansas, 16 in victory over USC Upstate). Target each night is 11 or fewer, which Tech has met twice this season (both wins). More telling for Tech under Josh Pastner is that when Tech has committed fewer turnovers than its opponent, it is 22-13. When it has committed more, it is 17-21.

• Guard rebounding: The group of Alvarado, Alston, Devoe, Haywood, Moore and Phillips has combined to take 171 of Tech's 362 defensive rebounds this season (47.2 percent). Tech's guards combined for 10 of Tech's 25 defensive rebounds against Wake Forest.

Build the Wall

Due to its ability to play both zone and man-to-man and keep opponents off balance, Georgia Tech has been able to rely on its defense to win games over Josh Pastner's first two-plus seasons at Georgia Tech.

This Yellow Jacket team has shown signs of returning to the lockdown group from the 2016-17 NIT finals team that ranked No. 6 in adjusted offensive efficiency (91.0 points allowed per 100 possessions) according to KenPom.com. That group ranked fourth in the ACC in scoring defense (66.8 ppg) and No. 1 in FG percentage defense (39.8 pct.).

As of Monday, Tech ranked No. 24 in adjusted defensive efficiency (93.4 ppg/100 possessions), and is No. 4 in the ACC and 25th in the NCAA in scoring defense at 63.1 points per game.

• Tech's effective field goal percentage defense (43.0 pct.) ranks No. 10 nationally, according to KenPom.com, and the Jackets are No. 17 in the NCAA rankings in field goal percentage defense. Tech ranks 16th in KenPom in effective two-point percentage (43.6) defense.

• The Jackets have also defended the three-point shot better, allowing just 27.3-percent accuracy to rank No. 3 in the ACC and No. 17 nationally. Tech is No. 14 in effective 3-point defense according to KenPom.com.

• Tech has improved markedly in another area - takeaways. The Jackets are No. 4 in the ACC and rank 59th nationally in steals (7.9 per game) and are No. 3 and 18, respectively, in blocked shots (5.4 per game).

Assisted Living

Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner preached and prodded his Yellow Jackets on ball and player movement and hard cutting from the first time he got his team on the practice court. His primary measuring stick on how well the Jackets perform offensively is their ratio of assists to made field goals.

In Pastner's first season, the Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made field goals at 62.6 percent, the team's highest rate since the 2000-01 season. Tech's number was 63.2 percent in ACC games. Pastner's nightly goal is 60 percent.

Tech is 26th so far in 2018-19 at 59.8 percent this season, and remains above the national average (52.2 pct.) in that category. The Jackets did not perform as well in that department in 2017-18, assisting on 54.6 of its made field goals overall, 53.9 against ACC teams, and missing Pastner's 60-percent bar 14 times.

Tech's top assists-to-made field goals ratios: 1987-88 – 68.3; 1988-89 – 65.9; 1986-87 – 65.8; 1992-93 – 65.0; 1985-86 – 64.8; 2000-01 – 62.9; 1999-00 – 62.9; 2016-17 - 62.6

Storylines for 2018-19

• 104th season - Georgia Tech is playing its 104th season of basketball and has an all-time record of 1,370-1,231.

• Unlucky 13 - Tech was picked to finish 13th in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season in a vote of the ACC media, ahead of Pittsburgh and Wake Forest. The Yellow Jackets finished 13th last season.

• Seven - Number of freshmen and sophomores expected to play significant roles for the Yellow Jackets this season.

• The upward progress of the program is evident in the development of its 2017-18 freshman class, each of whom received significant playing time last season and made significant contributions on the ACC level. Though not highly-rated in terms of rankings, the four-man class has a wide range of skills and is ripe for development into consistent conference-level performers over the next couple of years.

a. Point guard Jose Alvarado started every game last season and showed durability and toughness by averaging more than 38 minutes in ACC games until suffering a dislocated elbow Feb. 11.

b. Off-guard Curtis Haywood II was developing into a significant shooting threat and excellent defender before suffering stress reaction in his shin and missing the final month of the 2017-18 season.

c. Forwards Evan Cole and Moses Wright, both under-the-radar signees, exceeded expectations for their first year when forced into action due to injuries over the final month of the season. With added strength and development this off-season, can be counted on to be in the frontcourt rotation and make significant contributions at both ends of the floor.

• Coach Pastner, his staff and the student-athletes in the program have carried over a solid, sustainable culture of accountability and dependability from the previous coaching staff which enabled the team to overcome a number of key injuries last season and continue to work hard and remain focused on the court and in the weight room.

• Pastner replaced two assistant coaches - Tavaras Hardy and Darryl LaBarrie - over the last year. Hardy was named head coach at Loyola of Maryland in late March, while LaBarrie resigned during the season. Anthony Wilkins, an Atlanta native, joined the staff after five seasons at Tulane, and Julian Swartz was elevtaed from his position as director of recruiting and compliance.

• Tech has added a three-man recruiting class ranked No. 46 in the country according to 247Sports, including consensus four-star guard Michael Devoe and three-star forwards Khalid Moore and Kristian Sjolund, and true to staff's objectives, the class has varied skill sets and are expected to develop into significant contributors next season and beyond (building through multiple quality recruiting classes)

• Another addition to the roster this season – 6-3 guard Shembari Phillips, a high-major conference player who sat out the 2017-18 season as a transfer from Tennessee. Has the size and varied skill set necessary to compete in the ACC (6.2 ppg, 3.1 rpg, 37.5 pct. 3s in 2016-17). He has two years of eligibility.

• Tech also accepted transfer James Banks, a 6-9, 243-pound frontcourt player from Decatur, Ga., ranked as high as No. 49 among high school seniors in the class of 2016. After two years at Texas, he enrolled at Tech for the summer term and was granted immediate eligibility by the NCAA on Nov. 13. He has two seasons of eligibility at Tech.

• Tech returned six players who received significant playing time in 2017-18 – 15 or more minutes per ACC game – and combined to start 91 games overall. They accounted for more than 53 percent of total minutes played and 43 percent of Tech's scoring. Five of those players have two or more years of eligibility remaining.

• Tech has a young roster this season – three freshmen, four sophomores, three juniors and two seniors among scholarship players returning or incoming – but the process of getting old and staying old and building a sustainable winning program is ongoing.

• Player development successes over the past two seasons include Josh Okogie, Ben Lammers and Tadric Jackson, who maximized their skill sets under the current coaching staff, doubling their scoring and rebounding averages over their first two seasons. Okogie went from being ranked the 11th in the state as a HS senior to a first-round NBA draft pick. Last season, 6-9 forward Abdoulaye Gueye developed into an ACC-level contributor, making a similar leap from the non-conference season to conference play. Graduate transfer Brandon Alston, who has a year of eligibility remaining, had similar statistical numbers on the ACC level this season as he compiled in two seasons at Lehigh and was fundamentally sound in his ballhandling and defense.

• With the addition of Phillips and the arrival of Devoe and Moore, as well as the return of Alston and sophomores Alvarado and Haywood, Tech is deep and talented across the perimeter and wings. Tech has Gueye, rising junior Sylvester Ogbonda and Banks to rotate through the post, with Cole and Wright rotating in the big forward position. This gives Pastner the option of playing a bigger lineup when necessary.

• Tech has won 34 games overall and 14 ACC games in Josh Paatner's first two seasons, on par or better than the first two years of each of Josh Pastner's predecessors in the ACC era. For comparison, Buzz Williams won 12 ACC games in his first two years at Virginia Tech, same with Tony Bennett at Virginia. Leonard Hamilton and Mike Krzyzewski each won 10. Pastner has won 14.

• Head coach Josh Pastner's Georgia Tech teams are 5-12 against top-25 teams (5-4 at home). The Jackets knocked off No. 15 Miami and No. 25 Notre Dame last January as part of a 3-1 ACC start.

• Tech has sold out eight games at McCamish Pavilion over the past two seasons, including a facility-record five games in 2017-18. Tech's 29 homecourt wins over the past two seasons are more than any two-year period in the Jackets' ACC era except the 2015-16 and 2016-17 seasons combined (31). That's 43 home wins over the past three seasons, more than 14 per season.

Out of Africa

Georgia Tech got a big lift from an unlikely source once ACC play began last season, junior forward Abdoulaye Gueye (pronounced "AB-doo-lie GAY). During the month of January and into February, the Yellow Jackets saw the 6-9 native of Senegal (by way of Birmingham, Ala.) become a legimate offensive force, and not just a disruptor on defense and on the boards.

Known as "A.D." to his teammates and coaches, the likeable Gueye took advantage of a much-improved jump hook shot to average 6.5 points (50 percent from the floor) and 4.5 rebounds in in ACC games.

Tech's BFFs (Big Freshman Forwards)

Georgia Tech's four-man freshman class in 2017-18 was not highly rated in terms of stars, but head coach Josh Pastner viewed the group of Jose Alvarado, Curtis Haywood II, Evan Cole and Moses Wright as a solid foundation on which to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

With Alvarado and Haywood, the more highly-rated of the group, out with injuries for the last month of the season, the other two members of the class received an opportunity to grow. After Tech's Jan. 24 loss at Florida State, Pastner put Cole and Wright in a "red-shirt" program than entailed extra strength and conditioning sessions and extra skill work on the court in addition to the team's regular practices. It paid off for them and for the Jackets.

On Feb. 11 against Duke, Cole and Wright played their first extended minutes of the ACC season, and they didn't disappoint.

In the second half of that game, the duo combined for 19 points, 12 rebounds, four assists and three blocks in 41 minutes as Tech pared a 26-point second-half deficit down to 11 in an 80-69 loss. As a result, they combined for eight starts over the remeinder of the season, and have split starts at the big forward spot this season.

position, sink or swim, before his freshman season came to an abrupt end Feb. 11 against Duke. He dislocated his left elbow in a fall, and missed the rest of the season.

The Brooklyn native, the first Tech player from the New York area in nearly 20 years, was up to the task prior to his injury, averaging 12.6 points per game to rank second on the team, 3.9 rebounds and 3.3 assists with an assist/turnover ratio of 77/56. He also shot the ball well, making 45 percent of his shots from the floor, 37.4 percent from three-point distance, and 80.2 percent from the foul line on 80 attempts, second most on the team behind Josh Okogie, who led the ACC in that category.

Among ACC freshmen, he ranked fifth in scoring, fourth in assists, and was No. 4 overall in steals at the time of his injury.

Alvarado posted 16 double-figure scoring games, four times scoring 20 or more. And the 6-foot playmaker averaged more than 39 minutes per ACC game to rank among the league's top five, playing every minute eight times, including four consecutive games before Duke.

He was not the first Tech point guard to earn the starting job as a freshman and handle it well. He follows such Tech greats at Mark Price, Kenny Anderson, Travis Best, Stephon Marbury, Tony Akins and Jarrett Jack, as well as others who started at the position as freshmen without reaching their lofty accomplishments.

Jackets' Signing Class Ranked No. 46

Georgia Tech's 2018 signing class was ranked No. 46 in the nation in a composite ranking published by 247Sports.

Tech signed a trio of high school prospects – 6-3 guard Michael Devoe of Orlando, Fla., 6-7 forward Khalid Moore of New York, N.Y., and 6-9 forward Kristian Sjolund of Kongsberg, Norway by way of Katy, Texas - to national letters-of-intent during the November signing period.

All three prospects are highly regarded for their talent level, versatility and upside as head coach Josh Pastner continued to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

Devoe, a four-star prospect, was ranked No. 62 in the Rivals 150, and No. 56 in the ESPN 100 (No. 15 point guard in the nation. He led Oak Ridge High School in Orlando, Fla., to a berth in the state quarterfinals as a junior before enrolling at Montverde Academy for his senior year, helping them to a national championship.

Moore was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 51 small forward, No. 5 in New York), as well as a 4-star prospect by ESPN (No. 42 small forward, No. 3 in New York. He attended the same high school that sent All-American Kenny Anderson to Georgia Tech in 1989, and he was a teammate of current Tech sophomore Jose Alvarado on the New York Rens AAU team.

Sjolund was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 56 small forward, No. 18 in Texas), as well as a 4-star by ESPN (No. 36 small forward, No. 17 in Texas). He was born in the state of Washington but grew up in Norway, and has lived in the United States since 2014. He played for the Shooting Stars Red AAU team. Sjolund played with Norway in the 2015 FIBA u16 European Championships, averaging 18.7 points and 5.9 rebounds a game. Then in 2017 he played in the U18 Nordic Championship and scored 7.2 points a game.

Tech's class rank doesn't account for transfers Shembari Phillips, a 6-3 guard, and James Banks, a 6-9 center.

Thin Gold Line

Some of Georgia Tech's most successful teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference era have had thin benches and a trio of players who averaged more than 35 minutes per game in ACC play, beginning with the Yellow Jackets' first ACC Championship team in 1985, dubbed the "Thin Gold Line."

Didenko Signs with Tech

David Didenko, a 6-8, 230-pound forward from Boca Raton, Fla., who attends Palm Beach State College, signed a national letter-of-intent with Georgia Tech during the early signing period in November.

Didenko attended Boca Raton Community High School before enrolling this year at Palm Beach State, a junior college in Boca Raton. A full academic qualifier in high school, Didenko will enroll at Tech next summer and have three years of eligibility with the Yellow Jackets.

"David is an elite shooter," said Pastner. "This is his first year of playing organized basketball in the United States, because he didn't play any high school or AAU basketball, believe it or not. So, it's a process for him this year. That's why he's in junior college. But he's highly skilled, and he can shoot the ball. He's needs to gain competitive game experience, which he'll get this year at a good school that plays good competition. But he's physical, and he can shoot the ball."

Born in Russia, Didenko moved to New York in August, 2010, at the age of 10, and is a United States citizen. Prior to his enroll-ment at Boca Raton Community High School, Didenko attended Northeast High School as a junior, and Montverde Academy for his ninth- and 10th-grade years.

Wire-to-Wire

Though he has expanded his playing rotation this year to reflect the growing level of talent within the program, head coach Josh Pastner remains committed to a tight playing rotation, reminiscent of the way Bobby Cremins coached the Yellow Jackets over his 19 seasons.

Tech has utilized its bench for an average of 44.6 minutes in its last two games after averaging 84 minutes over the Jackets' first nine games.

Jose Alvarado, who had played 96.7 percent of possible ACC minutes prior to his Feb. 11 injury last season, has been

Media Guidelines

Georgia Tech's practices are closed to the public and the media, but coaches and tudent-athletes are made available prior to each game before one of the team's practices. Notices will be distributed weekly to confirm the schedule.

TV stations are allowed to shoot B-roll during the first 10 minutes of those practices.

Media are asked to notify Mike Stamus the day before of their need to attend and to make specific student-athlete requests.

Interview requests with student-athletes that need to be conducted at other times must be arranged through the Georgia Tech communications office at least 24 hours in advance. These interviews will be conducted at a time and place convenient to the student-athletes' availability and class schedule.

Media are asked not to contact student-athletes directly either by phone, e-mail, text or social media. They are instructed not to respond. Every effort will be made to make them available.

Interviewing Coach Pastner

Media wishing to speak with Coach Pastner at times other than scheduled media availabilities must notify Mike Stamus in the communications office in advance to make or confirm arrangements. He also is available each Monday on the ACC Teleconference (10:50 a.m.) beginning January 7.

Post-Game Protocol

Each head coach will hold a post-game press conference in the designated interview room (Shah Media Room at McCamish Pavilion).

Student-athletes requested by the media will be brought to the interview room following the coaches press conferences, when the team is at home, outside the team's locker room when the team is on the road.

Josh Pastner Radio Show

Head coach Josh Pastner's weekly radio show airs each Monday from 7-8 p.m. on "680 the Fan" and 93.7 FM, beginning Dec. 3.

ACC Coaches Weekly Teleconference

The 15 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2018-19 season, beginning on Monday, January 7, and continuing through March 4. Each coach will have 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Georgia Tech head coach Josh Pastner will be on the teleconference at 10:50 a.m. each week.

Coaches that play on Monday in January and February are not required to participate in that day's call. Coach Pastner will be on every Monday at the same time. The teleconference schedule for each Monday will differ for the other 14 head coaches, depending on what teams play that Monday night.

Contact the ACC media relations office at 336-851-6062 for the call-in number and for questions on the schedule.

on the floor for all but 84 seconds in Tech's last three games, including all 40 at Arkansas.

Last season, Josh Okogie played 92.3 percent of possible minutes in ACC games last season, while Ben Lammers played 90.2 percent. Lammers ranked No. 1 among centers nationally in minutes per game. Alvarado had ranked fifth among freshmen nationally in percentage of minutes played and minutes per game before he was injured.

The threesome had 20 complete games combined in 2017-18 (eight for for Alvarado, six for Lammers, five for Okogie), and Tadric Jackson joined the group by playing 40 minutes at Clemson. Tech had at least one player play the full 40 in 12 of 19 ACC games (regular season plus tournament).

NOTE: Between the Cremins era and the arrival of Pastner, only one Georgia Tech player played every minute of a game, regulation or overtime, and that was Marcus Georges-Hunt on Feb. 20, 2016, in a win over Notre Dame at home. In the final 15 seasons of Cremins' tenure (1985-86 through 1999-2000), a total of 196 players logged a 40-minute game.

Winning Starts at Home

Georgia Tech and head coach Josh Pastner have made a priority of making McCamish Pavilion a real homecourt advantage for the program, and the Yellow Jackets made a good start on that by setting a program record for wins at home (17) in 2017-18, which included a 7-2 ACC record and two NIT victories.

Tech is 12-6 against ACC teams at home under Pastner, and that includes a 5-3 mark against ranked opponents.

The Jackets' 60-53 win over No. 25 Notre Dame on Jan. 10 was just the latest triumph in a list that includes eventual NCAA champion North Carolina (No. 9 at the time), No. 6 Florida State and No. 15 Notre Dame last season, as well as a 64-54 win over No. 15 Miami on Jan. 3 this season. Tech's only losses came to No. 9 Louisville last January and to No. 2 Virginia and No. 18 Clemson this season.

Tech is 36-13 at McCamish Pavilion under Pastner.

Tech-UGA Game Moves to November Next Two Seasons

The Georgia Tech and Georgia basketball teams have signed an agreement to play the next two games of the series the week before Thanksgiving, giving both teams an opportunity to play the game at home in front of their student bodies before the fall semester ends.

The teams will face off next season on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at Stegeman Coliseum in Athens, and the following season on Thursday, Nov. 19, at McCamish Pavilion in Atlanta.

In the 194-game history of the series, Tech and Georgia have played their game before Thanksgiving only twice, on Nov. 15, 2013 in Athens and Nov. 14. 2014 in Atlanta. The Yellow Jackets won both games and lead the all-time series, 105-89.

As Southeastern Conference foes from 1932-64, the games were played in January, February and March. After Tech left the ACC, most of the games remained in January and February until the rivalry became a late December fixture at the Omni arena in downtown Atlanta from 1981-94. The series has been played on the two campuses every year since then, mostly in December.

Tech to Play in 2019 Diamond Head Classic

Georgia Tech will make the fifth trip to the state of Hawai'i in program history next December when it will compete in the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic in Honolulu, Hawai'i.

The field for the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic features Ball State (Mid-American), Boise State (Mountain West), Georgia Tech (ACC), tournament host school Hawai'i (Big West), Houston (AAC), Portland (WCC), UTEP (Conference USA), and Washington (Pac-12). The 11th annual event will be played at the Stan Sheriff Center on the campus of the University of Hawai'i. Dates and times will be announced at a later date.

Three teams in the 2019 field were a part of the postseason last season – Boise State (NIT), Houston (NCAA) and Washington (NIT). Meanwhile, five teams will make their first-ever appearance in the Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic.

Tech has a 10-5 record all time in four previous tournament events in Hawai'i, including a 6-3 mark in three appearances in the Rainbow Classic – 1984 champions, 1988, 1994 – which also were held at the University of Hawai'i. The Yellow Jackets also played in the 1998 Big Island Classic in Hilo, and the 2006 Maui Invitational.

Four Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

Since 1982, Georgia Tech has produced 19 first-round NBA draft picks and 44 draft picks overall. A total of 38 Georgia Tech alumni have played in the NBA.

Four former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA rosters at the start of the 2018-19 season, including guard Josh Okogie, who was drafted 20th overall by for the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Iman Shumpert, a seven-year NBA veteran, played his third full season in Cleveland after helping the Cavaliers win the NBA championship in 2016, and was traded before the deadline to Sacramento.

Thaddeus Young, an 11-year NBA veteran, is now in his third season with the Indiana Pacers after playing seven seasons in Philadelphia, one in Minnesota and two in Brooklyn.

Derrick Favors has emerged as a key figure in his eighth season in Utah and re-signed with the team after becoming a free agent.

Arts and Letters

Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer of 2011, every four-year senior in the Georgia Tech program has graduated with the exception of the Yellow Jackets' 2018 two seniors. Tadric Jackson and Ben Lammers, were both on track to compete their degree requirements in the spring (Jackson) and fall (Lammers) semesters, but both received offers to play overseas.

Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administation degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 - Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris - graduated that spring. Robert Sampson, the Jackets' only undergraduate scholarship senior in 2014-15, graduated in the spring.

From the 2015-16 squad, Marcus Georges-Hunt walked the stage at commencement in May, accomplishing the rare feat of graduating in four years. Point guard Travis Jorgenson, who elected not to use his final year of eligiblity, received his degree in December of 2017.

From the 2016-17 team, Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury redshirt in 2012-13) and Quinton Stephens all graduated in May of 2017, while Rand Rowland finished his requirements and received his degree in December of 2016. Both graduate transfers, Kellen McCormick (summer of 2017) and Jodan Price (fall of 2017), received their Masters degrees.

Georges-Hunt and current senior Tadric Jackson have made the Academic All-ACC team twice, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball team has recorded the highest Academic Progress Report scores the last five years since the NCAA began tracking academic performance in 2004-05. The

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech is playing its seventh season in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which was re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most impressive features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Tech's NCAA Tournament History

Georgia Tech played in the NCAA Tournament five times in 11 seasons under head coach Paul Hewitt and has played in the event 16 times in its history. Fifteen of those appearances have occurred from 1985 to the present.

Tech has a record of 23-16 in NCAA Tournament play, highlighted by its 2004 trip to the NCAA title game as well as a Final Four berth in 1990. The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Sweet 16 seven times (1960, 1985, 1986, 1990, 1992, 1996, 2004).

The 2004 and 2005 appearances were the Yellow Jackets' first back-to-back appearances since Bobby Cremins led the Institute to the Big Dance nine straight years from 1985-93.

Georgia Tech has won at least one game in 11 of its 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Tech's ACC Tournament History

Georgia Tech has played in 39 ACC Tournaments, and has a 26-36 all-time record in the event. The Yellow Jackets have won three championships, in 1985 (Atlanta), 1990 (Charlotte) and 1993 (Charlotte).

Tech has been a runner-up four times (1986, 1996, 2005, 2010). The 1986, 1996 and 2010 runs to the finals occurred in Greensboro. Tech also made the finals in 2005 at the Verizon Center in Washington, D.C.

Tech was 0-2 in the ACC Tournament under coach Dwane Morrison, 15-16 under Bobby Cremins (including all three titles), 9-11 under Paul Hewitt (runner-up in 2005 and 2010), 2-5 under Brian Gregory. and 0-2 under Josh Pastner.

BIO UPDATES

Head Coach Josh Pastner • 3rd season

Josh Pastner, who guided Memphis to five post-season berths in seven seasons as the Tigers' head coach, was introduced as Georgia Tech's 14th head basketball coach on April 8, 2016, and wasted no time in getting the Yellow Jackets back to the post-season.

While coaching Tech to 34 wins and building the Jackets' talent base for the future, Pastner has tirelessly promoted the program on campus and throughout the city of Atlanta in an effort to re-create the major homecourt atmosphere that surrounded the Yellow Jackets throughout the 1980s, 1990s and into the middle of the 2000s. The result has been 29 wins and eight sellouts in two seasons at McCamish Pavilion, including a program-record 17 home wins in his first year.

In his first season at the helm, his Yellow Jacket team defied all pre-season expectations by winning 21 games, including four in the National Invitation Tournament. Tech posted an 8-10 ACC record, which included victories over No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Florida State and No. 14 Notre Dame, who all finished among the top four in the ACC regular season. He was named Coach of the Year in the ACC and in NABC District 2.

Implementing a high-energy style of play and creative offensive and defensive schemes, Pastner and his staff guided the Yellow Jackets all the way to the finals of the NIT for the first time in 46 years. Two of his players earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference honors; junior center Ben Lammers was named second-team All-ACC and ACC Defensive Player of the Year, while freshman guard Josh Okogie was named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Though hampered by several significant injuries and other issues in 2017-18, Tech still was able to knock off a pair of top-25 teams while Lammers and Okogie again earned conference honors, and Okogie developed into an NBA first-round draft choice.

Pastner, who turned 41 in the fall, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He tied for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 21 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 524 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 19 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

As an NCAA head or assistant coach and an AAU head coach, he has coached nearly 25 NBA draft selections.

Pastner's Memphis teams averaged 23.9 wins per season and compiled a conference regular-season record of 82-36, including a conference winning streak of 28 games. The Tigers went 11-4 in Conference USA and American Athletic Conference tournaments, including three championships.

He guided Memphis to five post-season berths, the NIT in 2010 and the NCAA Tournament in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. Pastner twice won Conference USA Coach of the Year honors (2010, 2013) by various organizations and news media.

Pastner was born in Glen Dale, W.Va., and grew up in Kingwood, Texas. He earned his bachelor's degree in family studies in December of 1998, in just two and a half years, from Arizona and his master's degree in teaching and teacher education from Arizona in December of 1999, all while lettering four years in basketball under head coach Lute Olson.

He married the former Kerri Lamas of Sierra Vista, Ariz., in 2009. He has a stepson (Ethan) and three daughters, Payten, Kamryn and Harper.
