A RESEARCH UNIVERSITY IN ACTION

The top research institution in the commonwealth, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University is a comprehensive university of national and international prominence. Virginia's premiere land-grant university, Virginia Tech has grown from a small college of 132 students into the largest institution of higher education in the state during its 131-year history.

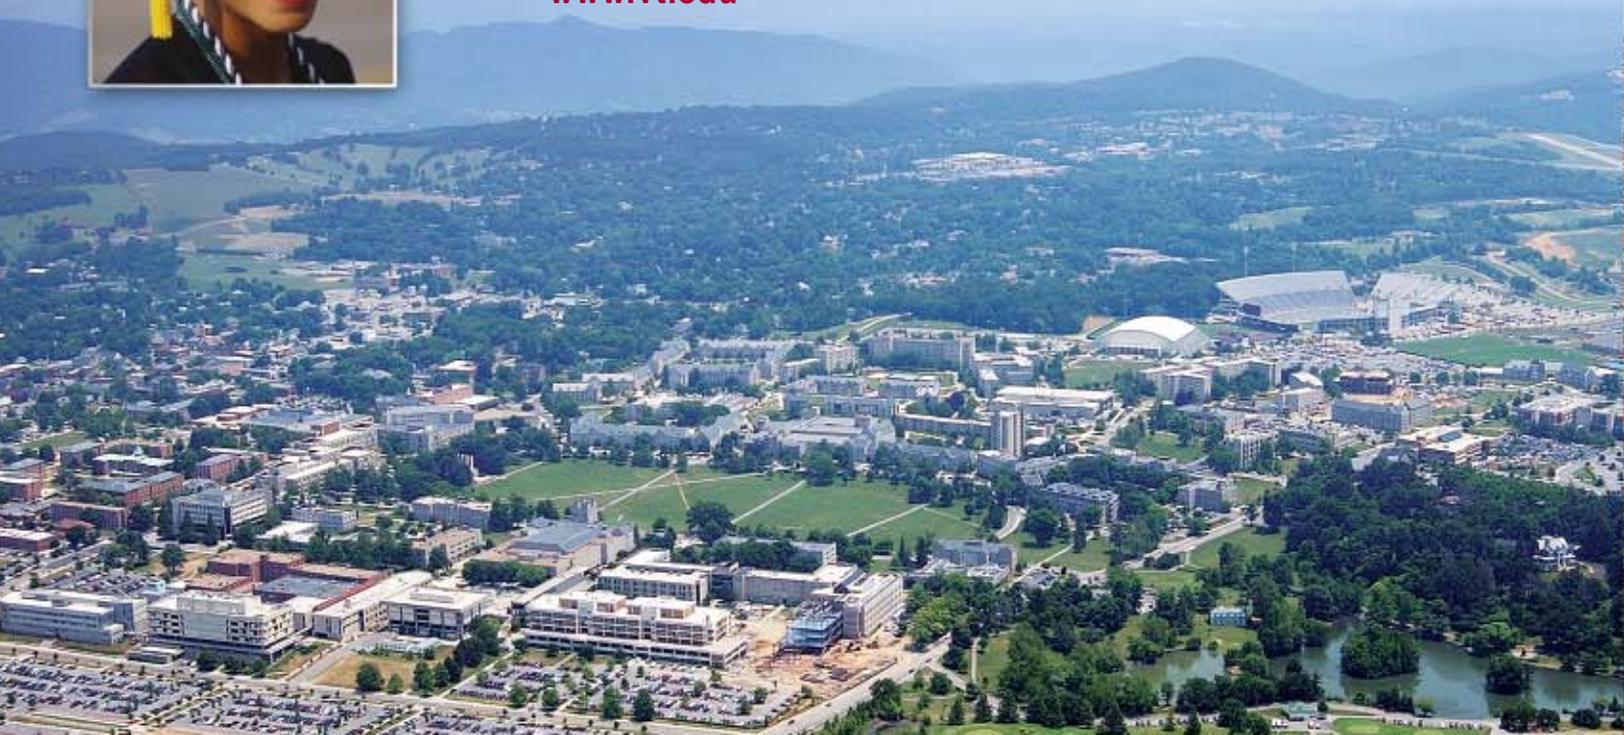

Recognizing that higher education is a key force behind the quality of American life, economic competitiveness, and our democratic form of government, President Charles W. Steger has challenged the university to become one of the country's top 30 research institutions by the end of the decade.

Virginia Tech was established in 1872 as an all-male military school dedicated to the original land-grant mission of teaching agriculture and engineering. Today, the co-educational institution, which operates a European studies center based in Switzerland and educational, research and outreach/Extension facilities throughout Virginia, has recognized programs in music, business, architecture and the humanities, as well as its traditional strengths in the sciences, engineering and technology.

Virginia Tech is organized into eight colleges – Agriculture and Life Sciences, Architecture and Urban Studies, Science, Pamplin College of Business, Engineering, Liberal Arts and Human Sciences, Natural Resources, and Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine. Together, the colleges offer about 175 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs to approximately 28,000 students, who hail from countries throughout the world.

Virginia Tech follows the dictates of its motto, Ut Prosim ("That I May Serve"), focusing on its land-grant missions of instruction, research, and solving the problems of society through outreach and Extension activities. Through the generation of new knowledge and the outreach mandate, the university disseminates practical knowledge through the classroom and to society as a whole. It is a university that puts knowledge to work.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's the most often-asked question at Virginia Tech.

The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body.

Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which still is used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any meaning to it, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was only used as an attention-getter for his yell.

It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those loyal to Tech athletics.

The HokieBird — Tech's lovable mascot.

2004 Outlook

Solid Offensive Attack Will Be Backed Up by Pitching Staff and Defense Ready to Prove Themselves

Coming off a rebuilding campaign of a year ago, the Virginia Tech softball team has dedicated itself to getting back to the level attained in the previous six years.

A successful fall season and an off-season that saw numerous strength & conditioning records broken have shown that this year's team is all business and ready to return to the upper echelon of not only the BIG EAST Conference, but the Northeast Region.

Offense shouldn't be a problem this year as most of Tech's big sluggers return.

That includes seniors Mindi Wylie and Shanel Garofalo, who will be four-year starters in the infield, catcher Megan Evans, who shouldn't take long to break the Tech career home run record, and Kelly Brown, who poses problems for defenses with her speed.

Eager to prove themselves worthy this year will be the defense and the pitching staff.

In the infield, all-everything shortstop Carmen Farmer is gone and will be replaced by a talented, yet untested freshman.

The Hokies committed 68 errors a year ago with a fielding percentage of just .853. Those numbers will have to improve for Tech to have a winning season.

In the circle, three pitchers return and now have a year of experience under their belts.

A new pitching coach and a new attitude have been contributing factors to success in the fall and off-season, but consistency in the circle will be key in the Hokies' run for the postseason this year.

In all, eight letterwinners return and head coach Scot Thomas welcomes six newcomers to the roster.

With a good mixture of youth and experience, the Hokies are out to show that last year's record was an anomaly and that they're back to challenge for a conference championship in their last year in the BIG EAST.

Infield

The Hokies return three of four starters in the infield, and another who has experience there.

The only loss comes at shortstop, where Tech must replace Farmer, a four-year starter, who was a force at the plate and in the field. Otherwise, the Hokies should once again be one of the better fielding teams around.

Megan Evans' play — both at and behind the plate — will go a long way in determining the Hokies' success this year.

FIRST BASE

Mindi Wylie returns for her fourth year as a starter at first base. The senior from Surrey, British Columbia, has always been outstanding in the field, but turned it up a notch at the plate the past two years.

After batting just .240 as a freshman, she raised her average nearly 100 points, up to .333 as a sophomore. Last year, she batted .282 and is now a career .288 hitter.

She has committed just 16 errors in 1,196 chances for a fielding percentage of .987 and has started 168 of a possible 169 games in her career.

If needed, any of the pitchers could play here.

SECOND BASE

Second base will once again be occupied by Shanel Garofalo, who returns after a one-year hiatus. She made the move over to third base to help the team out last season and ended up making all-region at the position. She will be one of the leaders of the infield and of the team. Her bat came alive last year and Tech will need it again to be strong for the Hokies to have a good year. A constant in the lineup, Garofalo has started 167 of a possible 169 games in three years.

Sophomore Caitlin Murphy will back up Garofalo and will be the starter at second base when Garofalo moves to third base in certain pitching situations.

Murphy was a consistent player at the plate, hitting .300 and striking out just nine times in 80 at bats.

Freshman Allyson Campbell, a walk-on from nearby Salem, will provide depth at this position, but will mainly be used as a pinch runner, utilizing her speed.

Second Base (in numerical order)

- 2 Allyson Campbell • Fr.
- 4 Caitlin Murphy • So.
- 11 Shanel Garofalo • Sr.

THIRD BASE

Ciara Chaffee, a JUCO transfer from FCCJ, will head into the season as the starter at third base. She provides good defense and a strong bat. Chaffee did not participate in fall games, but will be a factor in the Hokies' defense this season.

She will also see time in the circle. When this happens, Garofalo will move over to third and Murphy will play second.

Sophomore Crystal Beach will also look for playing time here. She ended up being the top choice off the bench as a pinch runner last year and earned the trust of the coaches on the base paths. She will once again be used in that role this year.

Third Base (in numerical order)

runner last year and earned the trust of the coaches on the base paths. She will once again be used in that role this year.

SHORTSTOP

True freshman Ashley Yeager has some big shoes to fill at this spot, taking over for the defensive wizard Farmer.

Yeager, from Gilbert, Ariz., has the potential to be a very good player, but needs to gain confidence and experience at the college level. She provides a good left-handed bat in the lineup and can bunt or swing away for power.

Garofalo or Chaffee can also play here if needed.

Shortstop

- 6 Ashley Yeager • Fr.

Outfield

Two full-time starters, as well as two part-time starters, return from last year's outfield, but Tech will have to play the season with only four true outfielders, a daunting task.

The left field position is the only outfield spot up for grabs. A four-player rotation was used last year, but only two players remain in the mix this season. Heather Todd graduated after a fine senior season, but Tech was expected to have three players battling for the spot.

That changed when Kathleen Jones re-injured her left shoulder and had season-ending surgery in the off-season. It's the second surgery on that shoulder and she will spend the spring rehabilitating the shoulder in hopes of returning for her senior year next season.

That leaves a pair of sophomore walk-ons battling for the job.

Callie Rhodes is the fastest player on the team and is a menace to opposing defenses. Last year, she started 14 games and hit .355. She recorded 11 hits in 31 at bats and scored 15 runs.

She started the season as a pinch runner, but ended the season seeing a lot of time in the field. She finished the season 13-of-15 in the stolen base department. If her defense continues to improve, she will be tough to beat out.

The other player battling for playing time is Theresa Walsh. Though just 4-9, she is a solid defender who runs well. She had an outstanding fall season, playing excellent defense. Last year, she was used mostly as a pinch runner, but her role will increase this year. Both she and Rhodes provide Tech with a left-handed bat in the lineup and it may end up being a platoon situation in left field.

Sarah Prosisie returns to the outfield for her third year as a starter. She played her freshman season in right field, but moved to center most of last year. That's where she'll be again this year as the leader of the outfield.

The junior from Blackstone, Va., possesses the speed to be dangerous on the base paths if she can learn the art of base stealing. She has struggled with her confidence at times, but had an outstanding fall season, hitting the ball all over the place. She also possesses a very strong arm and has the speed to track down any fly ball.

Leading the way in right field will be sophomore Kelly Brown. Brown is a speedy player who puts pressure on the defense with her bat. She is expected to again be a spark plug for the offense at the top of the order. Last season, she led the regular players with a .337 batting average. She had 59 hits, 11 doubles, three triples and 10 stolen bases. Her defense has improved and she's expected to be a big-time player this year.

The Battery

PITCHERS

The 2003 pitching staff would show signs of brilliance on one day, but would struggle mightily the next. The goal for this year's staff is to continue to improve on consistency, as well as location and movement of pitches.

The Hokies will only go as far as the five arms of this year's group will take them. With a new attitude and a new pitching coach, this year's staff is confident they can improve on last year's 3.25 team ERA.

Leading the way will be sophomore Katie Maynard. The hard-throwing Ohio product showed signs of dominance last year, but struggled to get an out at other times. She went 11-12 a year ago, but had an excellent fall and offseason and looks to be the No. 1 pitcher heading into spring.

Pitcher (in numerical order)

- 3 Rachel Pacheco • Sr.-Tr.
- 7 Katie Maynard • So.
- 10 Karie Morrison • Fr.
- 15 Ciara Chaffee • Jr.-Tr.
- 20 Megan Stone • So.

Senior Rachel Pacheco will be another strong arm in the circle. Last year, she did most of her damage at the plate, earning all-state, all-BIG EAST and all-region honors as a designated player. She has worked hard on her pitching and will be counted on for quality innings this year.

Freshman Karie Morrison needs to have a big year if Tech is to be successful. A young pitcher, she needs to gain confidence early in the season and roll with it. She's a hard thrower who's just looking for experience on this level. She will battle for the No. 2 spot in the rotation and will have a big say in the Hokies' success this year.

The other two pitchers this year will be Megan Stone and Chaffee. Stone is still looking for confidence to succeed on the college level. She is an imposing presence in the circle at 6-foot-2 and is a location pitcher. She will again be used this year and needs to keep improving for Tech to meet its goals.

The coaches aren't sure what they have in Chaffee. She had to sit out fall practice, so they haven't seen her in game situations. They know they have a fierce competitor who will do what it takes to win. Her role in the circle will be determined by her early season showings.

Last year at FCCJ, she went 16-9 with an ERA of 0.42. She gave up 37 runs — nine earned — in 148.2 innings pitched and struck out 99 batters as her team went 37-18.

CATCHERS

One position where there is no question mark is the catcher spot. Tech has one of the top power hitters around in Megan Evans, who enters her junior season just two home runs away from breaking the school career mark. She spent the off-season working hard in the weight room and on her defense. This past November, she recorded a team-record 305-pound squat and 190-pound bench press. She has the ability to hit for power and average and will be the key cog in the offensive lineup.

Backing Evans up will be a pair of walk-ons, Stephanie Derry and Jackie Fernandez. Both will be used primarily as bullpen catchers and they will get a chance at playing time as their experience on the college level increases.

Catcher (in numerical order)

- 7 Jackie Fernandez • So.

Outlook

THE SCHEDULE

The schedule is set up so the Hokies have a chance for success, yet still are challenged and play top-tier teams.

Among other tournaments, the Hokies will participate in the prestigious NFCA Leadoff Classic, where they will face powers Georgia Tech, Nebraska and Michigan. Tech will also scrimmage the USA Olympic Softball Team, a rare opportunity to play the world's best team.

This will be Tech's last season in the BIG EAST Conference before moving to the Atlantic Coast Conference for the 2005 season and the Hokies would love nothing more than to leave with a championship ring.

Defending champion Notre Dame will once again be the preseason favorite, but after that, it's wide open and the Hokies feel they have as good a chance as anyone to move in and make some noise.

Kelly Brown will once again be the spark plug at the top of the lineup for Tech.

The Coaches

Scot Thomas

Head Coach • Ninth Year • 266-203
East Tennessee State University • 1991

★ 1999 Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year ★

★ 1999, 2000 & 2002 VaSID State Coach of the Year ★

Now entering his ninth season, Coach Scot Thomas has positioned Hokie softball as one of the most respected programs, not only in the conference and region, but on the national map as well. With five winning seasons under his belt, Thomas has the Hokies consistently challenging for conference titles and honors.

Last season, three Hokies — Megan Evans, Shanel Garofalo and Rachel Pacheco — each were named to the NFCA All-Northeast Region first team while Pacheco was named second-team All-BIG EAST. Freshman Kelly Brown was named to the league's all-rookie team.

In 2002, Thomas led the Hokies to their third 40-win season and a runner-up finish at the BIG EAST Softball Championship. The Hokies had separate winning streaks of 13 and 12 games and set numerous individual and team records, including home runs, doubles and runs driven in. Carmen Farmer set a new school mark for runs in a season and Evans broke several freshman marks, including home runs and doubles.

A school-record four players were named to the NFCA All-Northeast Region team and three players made the Verizon Academic All-District III team. Four players earned all-state honors and both Amy Voorhees and Clarisa Crowell earned All-BIG EAST honors.

After a magical run in the BIG EAST Softball Championship, the Hokies claimed the No. 2 spot in the final NCAA East Region poll.

Thomas' Career Milestones

Wins	Date	Opponent
1	March 15, 1996	Maryland-Eastern Shore
25	March 12, 1997	Liberty
50	March 11, 1998	Yale
75	Feb. 26, 1999	George Mason
100	April 2, 1999	Saint Peter's
150	April 8, 2000	Massachusetts
200	April 29, 2001	St. John's
250	March 14, 2003	St. Bonaventure

Though a regional bid was denied, the season will still go down as one of the most productive in the short history of the program.

Thomas became Tech's first head softball coach when he was hired on July 7, 1995. In that time, he has recorded 266 wins, averaged 33 wins per season and made the postseason conference tournament four times. In each of those four appearances, the Hokies have reached the championship game.

In 1996, his first season, he led a team of non-scholarship athletes to a respectable 16-32 record, a total not indicative of the progress made in just one season. An all-conference player, a two-hit shutout and an eight-game winning streak were just some of the highlights of the inaugural Virginia Tech softball season. Thomas picked up his first career win on March 15, beating Maryland-Eastern Shore 9-1 at the Tidewater Classic in Hampton, Va.

In 1997, Thomas' squad batted nearly .300 for the season, placed two players on the Atlantic 10 All-Conference first-team and won eight more games than during the inaugural season. In its second season, Thomas led the softball team to a 24-32 record and a fifth-place finish in the conference, just two games shy of the four-team league tournament.

The 1998 season proved to be the foundation in Tech's budding history. With an extremely young squad, the Hokies posted their first winning season ever, with a 32-31 record, a second-place finish in the Atlantic 10, two players on the A-10 All-Conference team and two GTE Academic All-Americans. On March 11, Tech downed Yale 8-0 to claim win No. 50.

The 1999 season is one that will stand out in Tech history forever. The Hokies finished a spectacular regular season ranked 25th in the nation with a 54-16 record. In just its fourth year as a varsity sport, the team placed second at the A-10 tournament, falling to Massachusetts for the second year in a row. For his team's play, Thomas was named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year.

Coach Scot Thomas with his wife, Carolyn, their son, Andrew Scot, and the newest addition, daughter Eliza Leigh.

The Hokies' hopes for a regional at-large bid were denied, but they did receive the national attention they had been working for. An upset of No. 4 Michigan highlighted the season. Tech finished the year undefeated at home and 14-2 in Atlantic 10 play, losing only to UMass. The Hokies had the third-longest winning streak in the nation at 26, and at one point won 35 of 36 games.

The 100th win for both Thomas and the Tech program came on April 2 of that year, when the Hokies beat St. Peter's 7-1.

In 2000, his first recruiting class left its mark on the program as the Hokies went 41-22 and finished second in the Atlantic 10 Tournament. All-Conference, Atlantic 10 Player of the Year, A-10 All-Tournament, GTE District III Academic All-American, Virginia State Co-Player of the Year and two-time GTE National First-Team Academic All-American Michelle Meadows led the team both on the field and off.

In 2001, he took the Hokies into a tough new conference and directed the team to a finish in the top five. The team finished with a 36-23 overall record and a mark of 12-8 in the BIG EAST Conference. Bronwyn Blair, a senior on that team, was taken 17th overall by the Tampa Bay FireStix in the 2001 WPSL Senior Draft. Voorhees earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors as a catcher and two players were named to the all-rookie team.

Thomas also picked up his 200th career victory that season, and it came in a BIG EAST Conference game. The Hokies beat St. John's 2-1 on April 29 on the road to mark another historic milestone.

While success on the field is important, Thomas also places a strong emphasis on success in the classroom. In seven seasons, he has had three players earn Academic All-America honors. Michelle Johnson made the 1998 second-team squad while Meadows was a three-time selection, the last two being on the first team. Following the 2002 season, Ashlee Dobbe earned first-team honors with her 3.8 GPA.

In addition, six players have earned academic all-district honors and five earned Atlantic 10 academic honors. In the 1999-2000 season, the Hokies finished tied for ninth in the nation for team grade point average. That team posted an average GPA of 3.28, tying the Hokies with Southeast Missouri State.

Following the 2001 season, 10 players were named to the BIG EAST Conference's Academic All-Star Team. This past season, five Hokies were honored with that distinction.

Prior to the 2002 season, Dobbe was awarded a postgraduate scholarship, being named a BIG EAST/Aeropostale Scholar-Athlete award winner.

Respected by many, Thomas has been named the Virginia State Coach of the Year by the Virginia Sports Information Directors three times (1999, 2000 & 2002). In that time, he has had over 15 different players named to the all-state team, including three in every year since 1998.

Thomas graduated from East Tennessee State University in 1991 with a bachelor's in physical education. He is on the Louisville Slugger advisory staff for the ninth straight year.

In the past, he has served as the BIG EAST Conference's representative for the NFCA weekly top 25 poll.

THOMAS' PHILOSOPHIES

Priorities: In order to fit into the picture at Virginia Tech, you must have your priorities in line. Academics take precedence over athletics. Our motto is: "In order to take care of business on the field, you must first take care of business off the field." On the other hand, we stress that softball should not suffer for academics either. Being able to manage time wisely and efficiently is the key to the success of balancing academics with athletics at Virginia Tech.

Recruiting: It is our goal to fill the recruiting needs of our program with mature, self-driven/motivated student-athletes along with the necessary talent to help our team be successful in the BIG EAST Conference and on a national level. Recruiting is not a perfect science, however, being a state university, we try our best to sign quality players from the state of Virginia first, then broaden our opportunities in other areas of the country and Canada. Players should possess the selflessness to fit into the team concept and the inner drive that guides them to be CHAMPIONS.

Playing the game: Teams that are fundamentally sound are always successful. We try to emulate that style on a game-by-game basis, especially on the defensive side of the ball.

Offensively, we have tended to be a program that is fundamentally sound as well. We have shown a knack for hitting the ball for power, both home run and gap power. This year, we have added some speed and hope to provide a more balanced attack. Smart, yet aggressive is our style of play.

Blacksburg and Virginia Tech: As a native of Blacksburg, I have grown to appreciate this special place as I have gotten older and I always look forward to showing it off to new recruits. The small town atmosphere with the major university flair provides a unique academic and social environment. The history and traditions of this great institution make it one of a kind and one that I am very proud to be a part of. I still get chills during the Homecoming parade when the Alumni High-Tights march through downtown playing TECH TRIUMPH!

Not many people can say they have reached their final destination, but I feel very lucky to be at Virginia Tech and plan on being here for the duration of my coaching career. I am fortunate to be able to raise my children in the same great environment that my wife and I grew up in, here in Blacksburg.

A native of Blacksburg, Va., Thomas graduated from Blacksburg High where he was a member of the football and baseball teams.

Thomas is married to the former Carolyn Croy, a Tech graduate from Blacksburg. She is employed as a third-grade teacher at Gilbert Linkous Elementary School.

The couple has a son, Andrew Scot, who is 6, and a daughter, Eliza Leigh, who turned 2 in November.

Her responsibilities include working with the pitchers, hitters and outfielders, as well as recruiting, conditioning and arranging all travel plans.

This past December, Smith was drafted by the N.Y./N.J. squad of the new National Professional Fastpitch league, but will play for the San Antonio Armadillos this summer.

For the past six summers, Smith has been a member of the Raybestos Brakettes Women's Major Fastpitch Team in Stratford, Conn. While playing for coaching legend Bill Edwards at Hofstra University, Smith earned a bachelor of science degree in physical education kinesiology. She was a four-year letterwinner and started all 232 games in her collegiate career.

She was named second-team All-America her senior campaign, and first-team Mid-Atlantic Regional All-America and first-team America East in each of her four seasons. Additionally, she was named a first-team Academic All-American in 2000.

Al Brauns

Assistant Coach • Sixth Year
Penn State University • 1973

Al Brauns enters his sixth year as an assistant for the Hokies. His responsibilities include working with the infielders, hitters, field maintenance, equipment and recruiting. Brauns is a familiar face in Hokie sports, holding a position with the Virginia Tech athletic department for three years prior to joining the softball staff.

Under his direction, numerous players have earned all-state, all-conference and all-region honors. Bronwyn Blair, a four-year starter in centerfield, was drafted by the Tampa Bay FireStix of the WPSL in 2001.

Last year, he was in charge of a young outfield that saw just one starter returning. He molded that group into a reliable and solid unit, one that eventually saw freshman Kelly Brown named to the BIG EAST All-Rookie team.

Brauns started playing fastpitch in the 1960s and finished his career playing with a men's major team from 1970-74. This past summer, he coached a men's fastpitch team to a 17th-place national tournament finish where his catcher was Tech head coach Scot Thomas.

Brauns is originally from Uniontown, Pa., and graduated from Penn State in 1973 with a degree in criminology.

Coach Brauns and his wife, Michelle, have one child, Adam, who is 11 years old.

Brauns also has two other sons, Eric, 35, and Jason, 29. He has two grandchildren, Alaina and Allison.

2003 Review

Despite Sub-Par Record, Several Hokies Honored For Accomplishments

After posting a 42-18 record in 2002, the Virginia Tech softball team couldn't find the magic again in 2003, struggling to a 21-29 overall mark and failing to make the BIG EAST Conference Tournament.

Although several individuals shined, the overall team mark was a disappointment to all involved with the program.

The season started in good fashion as the Hokies rolled to a 9-3 win over Boston and a 2-0 win over UNC Wilmington at the Triangle Classic in Raleigh. After the rest of the tournament was rained out, Tech headed to Chattanooga, Tenn., for the Sonic Challenge. Weather forced the shortening of that tournament as well, but Tech did pick up a 6-5 win over Ball State before dropping a 6-4 decision to the host Tennessee-Chattanooga squad.

Freshman Kelly Brown, senior Carmen Farmer and junior Shanel Garofalo were all named to the Sonic Challenge all-tournament team.

The loss to UT-C started a chain of bad luck and disappointing losses as the Hokies started their spring break trip in Plant City, Fla., for the Strawberry Festival. The Hokies played tough and hard in the Sunshine State, but lost all four games. Tech then headed out west to participate in the National Invitational Softball Tournament in Sunnyvale, Calif.

The Hokies had several chances to win games in California, playing Sacramento State and San Jose State tough, but the luck was no better there as the Hokies went 0-5, ending the road trip 0-9.

Sarah Prosize was named to the N.I.S.T.'s all-tournament team for her play in the event. The sophomore was one of the leading hitters for the Hokies as they faced a tough five-game stretch. She hit .357, going 5-for-14 with a run scored and an RBI. She also had four putouts from right field, and even played center field in the Hokies' final game against Georgia Tech.

The trip back to the commonwealth did Tech good, as it ended a 10-game losing streak with a thorough 10-2 win over James Madison on the road. Both Megan Evans and Garofalo hit two home runs in the opener as Tech split a pair of games with the Dukes.

The Hokie Fastpitch Club Classic in Salem, Va., was the next stop for the Hokies, where St. Bonaventure, Coastal Carolina, Georgia State, North Carolina and Texas Tech all came into town. The Hokies opened the tournament with a 9-7 win over the Bonnies before dropping one-run decisions to Georgia State and UNC.

After a loss to open the Hokie Round Robin at home, Tech reeled off a season-high six-game winning streak. It opened with a 9-0, five-inning win over Youngstown State in which Katie Maynard notched 11 strikeouts. Easy wins over Lehigh, Hartford and Marist wrapped up the Round Robin, sending Tech into the meat of its schedule on a roll.

Big hitting led the Hokies to a sweep of Radford, but the bats fell silent in the first game of a conference doubleheader against Syracuse. In the second game, the Hokies erupted for nine runs, ending the game in six innings.

To start the month of April, Maynard and Rachel Pacheco combined to no-hit Liberty on the road, but the Hokies still lost 1-0. In the second game, Megan Evans hit two home runs as the Hokies rolled to a 10-3 win.

At Seton Hall, The Hokies dropped the first game of a doubleheader, but Evans broke the single-season home run record with two bombs. Garofalo hit a game-sealing homer in the second game to lift the Hokies to a 6-3 win.

The Hokies couldn't get it going consistently, splitting three of the next five doubleheaders before heading to Bristol, Tenn., for their annual battle with the Tennessee Lady Vols at the State Line Classic. The Lady Vols came in with one of the top offenses around, but Maynard dominated from the first pitch, holding UT to just two hits in recording a 1-0 shutout. Maynard earned MVP honors for her effort.

The only run of the game came in the first inning when Mindi Wylie executed a perfect squeeze play, scoring Callie Rhodes from third on the bunt.

After being swept at Villanova and splitting with Rutgers, Tech returned home to face the University of Virginia in a single game at Salem, Va. Brown led off the game with a solo home run to right field and the Hokies pounded out 11 hits en route to a 7-4 win over the Cavaliers to win the season series, 2-1.

Tech then split with Providence on Senior Day to end the season at 21-29 overall.

Despite the record, several Hokies were honored off the field for exceptional season.

Pacheco was named second-team All-BIG EAST Conference as a designated player and Brown made the All-Rookie team. Pacheco, along with Garofalo and Evans all earned first-team NFCA All-Northeast Region honors.

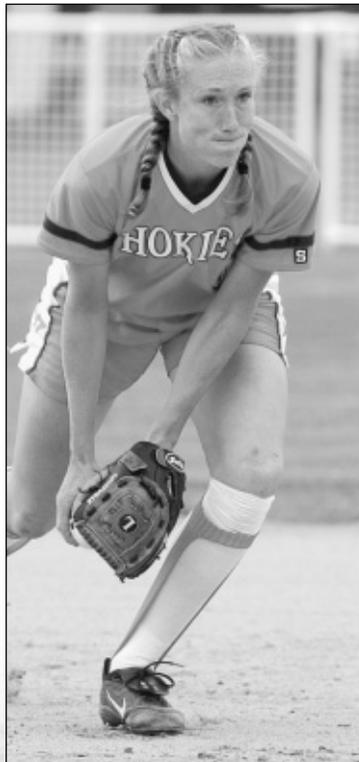

Brown, Pacheco and Evans went on to be named to the Virginia Sports Information Director's All-State Team.

Eleven Hokies were honored for their academic work, being named to the BIG EAST Conference's Academic All-Star team. They were: Crystal Beach, Evans, Farmer, Shannon Holberton, Kathleen Jones, Caitlin Murphy, Pacheco, Rhodes, Megan Stone, Heather Todd and Wylie.

The end of the season meant the end of three great careers as Farmer, Todd and April Ellenberger all exhausted their eligibility. Farmer will go down as one of the great players in Tech softball history. The plays she could make in the field, combined with her outstanding batting, made her a terror for opponents.

Todd had her best year as a senior, hitting .263 with a career-high five home runs. Ellenberger provided a bat with power in the lineup who also played excellent defense.

Combined, the three had a four-year record of 140-92 and advanced to two conference tournament championship games.

Carmen Farmer wrapped up her outstanding Virginia Tech career by hitting .271 as a senior with 25 RBI and earning BIG EAST Academic All-Star honors.

The BIG EAST Conference

As The BIG EAST Conference celebrates its 25th anniversary in 2003-04, it takes pride in its long list of accomplishments. Providing opportunities to excel amongst the nation's best, both athletically and academically, has always been its mission.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has won 22 national championships in six different sports and 118 student-athletes have won individual national titles.

The BIG EAST has always been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. More than 300 student-athletes have earned Academic All-America honors, including former Hokie Ashlee Dobbe, who earned first-team recognition in 2002.

A BIG EAST student-athlete has won the Honda-Broderick Cup as Collegiate Woman of the Year four times, the last by Notre Dame soccer player Cindy Daws in 1997-98.

The BIG EAST continued to thrive amongst the nation's elite in 2002-03. It became the first conference to win the men's and women's NCAA titles and the men's NIT Championship in the same year. The Syracuse men won their first national title, the UConn women took home their fourth national title and St. John's won the NIT for the sixth time. The BIG EAST has won each of the last four women's basketball titles.

In the classroom, 21 student-athletes earned 2002-03 Academic All-America honors, including 10 who garnered first team accolades. UConn's Diana Taurasi was the consensus national player of the year in women's basketball. Additionally, she was the women's basketball Honda Award winner.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance.

After one season, Villanova was added and began play in 1980-81. Two seasons later, Pittsburgh joined the group and started competition in '82-83.

Miami was admitted in 1990 and began BIG EAST competition in '91-92. Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame joined in '94 and started to compete in '95-96. Virginia Tech became the league's 14th full member in 2000-01.

The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflect a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

More than 500 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships.

Several BIG EAST athletes have earned gold medals in the summer Olympiads in Sydney in 2000, Atlanta in '96, Barcelona in '92, Seoul in '88 and Los Angeles in '84.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence, R.I., where the conference administers to more than 5,500 athletes in 23 sports.

The BIG EAST Softball Championship

After successful 2002 and 2003 tournaments in Salem, Va., the BIG EAST Softball Championship moves north to Syracuse, N.Y.

This year, the top four teams in the conference will meet at Skytop Stadium for a three-day, double-elimination tournament to determine the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA Championships.

Last year, Notre Dame, the top seed, won the tournament, while, Villanova, the No. 3 seed, made it to the championship game.

In the opener, No. 3 Villanova downed No. 2 Boston College, 7-1 before No. 1 Notre Dame beat Seton Hall, 9-0, in five innings.

On the second day, the Irish held on to beat 'Nova, 9-7. Boston College rallied to eliminate Seton Hall, 4-3, in the second game of the day. The Wildcats then advanced to the championship game with a 3-0 win over the Eagles.

On the final day, Notre Dame captured a 3-2 win over Villanova in nine innings. Notre Dame's Andrea Loman was named the most outstanding player of the tournament for the second year in a row.

Both Notre Dame and Boston College received bids to the NCAA Regionals.

The Softball Stadium at Skytop at Syracuse University is home to the BIG EAST Softball Championship this year.

Tech Softball Facilities

The Virginia Tech softball team has the luxury of playing and practicing in some of the finest facilities on the east coast. Using the Tech Softball Field, Rector Field House and the Jim "Bulldog" Haren weight room, the Hokies train with the best in preparing to win championships.

The Tech Softball Field is a great complex that just keeps getting better. A new backstop and padding was installed in 2001 to give fans more protection when enjoying a game.

The field has a playing surface that is properly maintained and upgraded as needed. Tech also has one of the best field crews around.

The dugouts, faced with Hokie stone, are complete with bathrooms, water fountains and equipment rooms. They are ADA accessible and have access to separate bullpens.

The field, which was completed in the fall of 1997, has dimensions of 200 feet down the lines and 220 feet to center field. Over the past five seasons at home, the Hokies have compiled a record of 81-17 (.827), including a 17-0 campaign in 1999, a 20-3 record in

With permanent seat-back bleachers, handicap accessibility and a modern press box, Tech Softball Park has become one of the best facilities around and always draws great crowds to Hokie softball games (left).

2000, 18-4 in 2001 and a 16-3 season in 2002.

In 1999, permanent bench-back seats were added. With the new bleachers, the complex can easily hold up to 500 fans.

At the top of the new seats is a prefabricated, 8-by-18 foot press box. Complete with power and phone lines, it accommodates all the needs of the media. The press box also has Ethernet cable, which allows for live stats of every home game on hokiesports.com.

A state-of-the-art scoreboard was installed during the 1998 season, making it easier for coaches, players and fans to keep up with the game.

When weather doesn't allow for outdoor practice, the team moves into Rector Field House.

Located adjacent to the playing field, the field house has an artificial surface, batting cages and ample room for drills. It is also equipped with a training room.

This year, the Hokies will have use of new batting cages, located behind their dugout.

Thanks to a generous donation, Tech will have another great tool in helping them achieve their goals.

On-site dressing rooms, permanent bathrooms and concession stands, as well as lights are still possible future projects.

Athletic Training

The Virginia Tech Sports Medicine Department is an ever-changing and developing unit that strives to provide the most current and comprehensive care to all student-athletes.

The department, under the leadership of Gunnar Brolinson, D.O., Delmas Bolin, M.D., and Mike Goforth, director of athletic training, is constantly evolving to incorporate new ideas and state-of-the-art resources for the betterment of student-athletes.

A professional staff — including primary care physicians who are Board certified in family medicine and sports medicine, orthopaedic surgeons, certified athletic trainers, physical therapists, chiropractors, massage therapists, sports psychologists, nutritionists and orthotists — is available to manage the health care of Tech's student-athletes.

As part of the evolution, Tech recently completed its first full year in the new 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room. This area consolidated the training rooms that existed in the Merryman Center and Cassell Coliseum. The new facility gives the training staff a centralized area to care for Tech's student-athletes.

The new room, which nearly doubles the size of the former Merryman Center facility, also allows the staff to utilize that room for physical therapy, chiropractic care and massage therapy.

With its completion, Virginia Tech now has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing Tech in the top five percent nationally.

In addition, the $10 million Merryman Center, a state-of-the-art facility which includes 2,400 square feet of medical space, supplements the training room.

This treatment room has numerous treatment modalities, including portable X-ray, electric stimulation, ultrasound, hot and cold packs and a lumbar/cervical traction unit. It also has offices for the staff, dozens of training tables, two cold tubs, whirlpools, an underwater treadmill, a Biodex System 3 and various other pieces of rehabilitation equipment.

The training, medical and strength and conditioning staffs each have a role in bringing the athlete back quickly and ready to play. After an injury, an athlete will go through rehabilitation and physical therapy. Athletes are then moved to weight training, as they become able. The strength and conditioning staff uses specific programs for each injury in an effort to get the athlete back quickly.

The range of benefits athletes have access to include custom orthotics, custom mouth guards, specialized DonJoy prophylactic bracing and many other options to help prevent or protect them from injuries.

A vital part of student-athletes services is the access to the Schiffert Student Health Center in McComas Hall.

A health center and counseling services are available on one side of McComas Hall, while recreation sports and fitness programs are available on the other. The center also has a fully operational diagnostic laboratory, X-ray facilities and eight full-time physicians.

If physical therapy is needed, student-athletes can be seen by therapist Mark Piechoski in the Ferrell Training Room. In addition, staff sport psychologist Gary Bennett is available to all student-athletes for personal and performance issues.

Virginia Tech also enjoys the services of Dr. Greg Tilley, team chiropractor.

Team orthopaedic surgeons Dr. Marc Siegel, Dr. Scott Urch and Dr. Joe Prudhomme bring a wealth of experience and skills to assist when athletes need orthopaedic surgery.

Tech also maintains a special relationship with Montgomery Regional Hospital, the choice for state-of-the-art equipment to perform surgeries, diagnostic imaging and processing of laboratory requests.

Nick Richey begins his first year as an athletic trainer with the Virginia Tech softball team.

Student-Athlete Academic Support Services

The success of Virginia Tech's softball program rests largely on the academic progress of each student-athlete. The academic performance of Tech student-athletes has improved each year due in part to the Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS).

The Virginia Tech softball team consistently has one of the highest team GPAs in the athletic department. In 2000, the team had the ninth-highest GPA in Division I-A softball, with a team average of 3.28. That year, Michelle Meadows was voted a first-team All-Academic All-American for the second year in a row.

In 2002, Ashlee Dobbe, Carmen Farmer and Amy Voorhees all earned first-team all-district academic honors with Dobbe going on to earn first-team All-America honors for her 3.86 GPA.

The Virginia Tech graduation rate for student-athletes has risen significantly in recent years and reached 70 percent in 2003 as compared to the national average of 60 percent.

The 70 percent student-athlete graduation rate marks the second straight year and five in the last 10 years that Tech has reached that level.

In addition to posting impressive graduation figures, Virginia Tech's student-athletes continue to excel in the classroom. Last spring, the Athletic Director's Honors Breakfast paid tribute to a record 371 student-athletes, student trainers, student managers, cheerleaders and HighTechs who posted 3.0 or greater GPA's in the 2002 calendar year.

Student-athletes are the most visible student component of a university. They entertain thousands of fans, students and alumni. Their athletic ability and achievement is the primary focus for national media attention. Athletic events bring back not only faithful alumni, but are a welcome mat for potential new students.

Student-athletes devote many hours to practice, conditioning and training that are not required of all students. Due to their time commitment and their high visibility, it is an obligation and in the best interest of the university to supply these students with services which will allow them to maximize their academic potential.

SAASS commits to providing fundamental and supplemental programming, consistent with University and NCAA policy, aimed at enhancing each student athlete's educational experience leading to graduation.

The expectations of the Virginia Tech community are that each student-athlete achieves their maximum academic and athletic potential. With the proper assistance, facilities and encouragement, these potentials can become a reality.

SAASS provides programming for student-athletes from their freshman year through graduation. This includes a comprehensive orientation to Tech, study hall, mentoring, tutoring, academic monitoring, academic recognition and eligibility education.

Additionally, student-athletes are referred to and encouraged to take advantage of other campus agencies charged with helping students in their academic pursuits.

Academic facilities for student-athletes include the Monogram Room, a large room used as a study hall area, adjacent to the SAASS office in Cassell Coliseum.

The HEAT (Hokies Engaging in Advanced Technology) Lab and its satellite sites house over 40 computers in Cassell Coliseum. Laptop computers are also available for Tech athletes to use when travelling to away contests. The athletic department also provides areas for private, quiet study for the athletes' convenience.

Chris Helms, in his fifth year at Tech, is the director and is responsible for the development and leadership of the office.

Assisting him are associate directors Lois Berg and Colin Howlett, Katie Ammons, Renia Edwards, Drew Scales and Terrie Repass.

Berg, who is in her 14th year at Tech, is in charge of the Hokie softball team.

Office of Student Life

The Office of Student Life at Virginia Tech helps in providing assistance to student-athletes in a number of areas. Megan Armbruster, director of student life, is dedicated to enhancing the quality of the student-athlete experience through the programs that this office administers.

The office implements the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program, which provides a well-rounded model for student-athletes to develop the individual skills necessary to lead successful and productive lives.

The goal of this program is to enhance five areas of commitment that are vital to personal growth of student-athletes. Those areas are service, academic excellence, career development, athletic excellence and personal development.

The program attempts to build individual confidence, promote respect for diversity, enhance interpersonal relationships, develop leadership skills, and enable each one to make a valuable contribution to the community.

Armbruster is in her first year at Virginia Tech as the director of student life.

As director, she will oversee the day-to-day operation of the office of student life, as well as direct the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.

Armbruster comes to Tech from the University of Nebraska, where she has spent the last several years. She last served as assistant academic counselor at the Hewitt Academic Center for Student-Athletes.

She earned her bachelor's degree in community health education in 1998 and received her master's in educational administration in 2001, both from Nebraska.

Graduate assistants Amy Turley and Jessica Hood are assisting Armbruster this year in coordinating the programs and activities of the Office of Student Life.

Hokies With Heart

Hokies With Heart is a program developed by the Office of Student Life, which promotes the involvement of Virginia Tech's student-athletes in community service activities.

The Virginia Tech softball program takes great pride in the many projects to which it contributes, including the Hokie Readers program, the Special Olympics, hospital visits and a canned food drive.

VT-SAAC

The Virginia Tech Student Athlete Advisory Committee (VT-SAAC) promotes effective communication between athletics administration and student-athletes to better serve their needs.

The program is completely run by student-athletes and each varsity team has two representatives.

VT-SAAC participates in a community service activity called Winning Choices.

This program sends athletes to local elementary, middle and high schools to talk about the importance of citizenship, work ethic, and working with others.

Athletic Performance

Thanks to the direction of Assistant Athletics Director for Athletic Performance Mike Gentry, the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning program is among the best in the nation.

The softball team trains in the Jim "Bulldog" Haren Weight Room. Located in Jamerson Athletic Center, the 5,000-square foot weight room was officially dedicated in September 1985 to Haren, a former Hokie football player and long-time supporter of the Virginia Tech Athletic Department.

With the two facilities, the Hokies have over 22,000-square feet of strength and conditioning training space.

Gentry is in his 16th season as the Hokies' director of strength and conditioning.

As assistant athletics director for athletic performance, his duties include overseeing the strength and conditioning training of athletes in all 21 varsity sports at Virginia Tech.

A native of Durham, N.C., he received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Western Carolina University in 1979 and received his master's from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1981.

He received his doctorate in curriculum and instruction, with an emphasis in motor behavior, from Tech in 1999.

Gentry worked as an assistant strength coach at UNC and as the head strength coach at East Carolina University prior to coming to Virginia Tech in 1987.

In 1995 and 1996, Gentry was recognized by the National Strength and Conditioning Association as a finalist for the National Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year.

Gentry has a son, Roy Christopher, who is 12.

Assisting Gentry in the weight room this year are three full-time assistant strength and conditioning coaches: Jay Johnson, assistant director of strength and conditioning, Terry Mitchell, strength and conditioning coordinator of men's Olympic sports and Emily Chones, strength and conditioning coordinator for women's Olympic sports. Gentry will also have the services of four graduate assistants — Erin O'Neil, Lisa Guarnieri, Gabe Teeple and Jarrett Ferguson.

Mitchell, who handles strength and conditioning for Virginia Tech's softball team, has experience in the Texas Rangers farm system.

He graduated from Lee (Tenn.) College in 1994 and is currently pursuing a master's at Tech.

He is married to the former Terri Thompson and this is his third year with the softball program.

Chones, who is in her third year at Tech, handles many of the women's Olympic sport teams. She graduated from Maryland, where she played lacrosse.

Johnson helps out with the Hokie football team. He received his B.A., in physical education from Emory & Henry in 1995, his master's in physical education from Radford University in 1998 and his doctorate from Virginia Tech in 2001.

Sports Nutrition

In July 2000, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department added another program to better serve the needs of student-athletes — sports nutrition. Amy Freel serves as the Director of Sports Nutrition at Virginia Tech.

Freel graduated from Ball State University with her bachelor's degree in dietetics in 1996 and received her master's in dietetics from Ball State in 1998.

Freel works one-on-one with student-athletes to provide them with information that they need on their diet. She also provides individual players with diet counseling on issues such as gaining lean muscle mass, losing body fat, and how to eat to improve performance.

The sports nutritionist works with the "Training Edge," a dining option for health-conscious students and athletes, to design menus for training tables and daily menu selections.

Also in July 2002, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department purchased the BOD POD body composition system. Tech is one of a handful of college athletic departments using this type of cutting edge technology.

Sport Psychology

A service offered to Virginia Tech student-athletes since August, 2000, is sport psychology.

The sport psychology staff includes Dr. Gary Bennett, who coordinates psychological services for student-athletes, and Dr. Robert Miller, director of the Cook Counseling Center.

The psychologists meet with student-athletes on an individual basis for personal counseling and to discuss the mental aspects of the game.

As a team, the sport psychologists work on team building, communication and performance enhancement.

The psychologists also offer an injury group to afford injured athletes the opportunity to meet with other injured athletes and talk about their recovery process.

Injured athletes may also meet individually with the sport psychologists if they do not feel comfortable in the group or cannot make the sessions.

The response to the sport psychology program has been very positive. The student-athletes are very receptive to the services offered by the doctors.

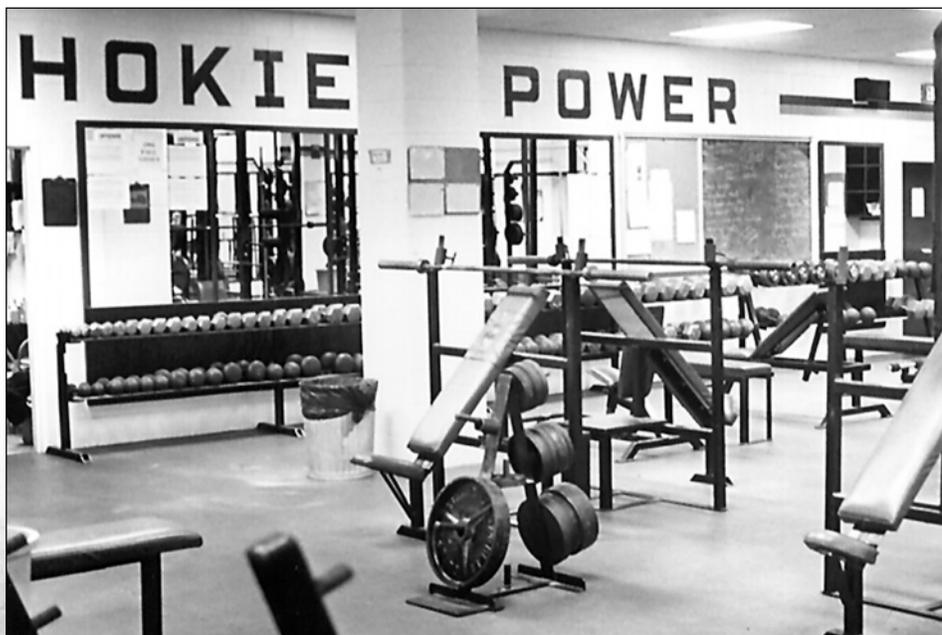

The sport psychology office reaches out to athletes who may not have considered going to the counseling service that is offered to all students at Virginia Tech.

The Backbone of Virginia Tech Softball

Hopes are high for Virginia Tech softball, and for good reason ...

With five winning seasons in the book and yet another successful campaign looming in 2004, in addition to its move to the Atlantic Coast Conference next season, the Virginia Tech softball program is poised to take the step to the next level.

With a solid nucleus of upperclassmen returning, a good group of newcomers joining the squad, and several new upgrades in facilities, the program is headed in the right direction.

But there's more to the Virginia Tech softball program than the present. Now in his ninth season as the head coach of the Hokies, Scot Thomas, along with assistants Alicia Smith and Al Brauns, is working hard to build Virginia Tech softball into a national power. The staff's hard work is only equalled by the dedicated student-athletes who proudly represent Virginia Tech athletics.

However, building the program into a national power cannot be accomplished without the support of the Fastpitch Club. Through valuable donations to the Virginia Tech softball program, you can share the experience of helping Virginia Tech reach its ultimate goal of reaching the top.

COLLEGE TOWN, U.S.A.

One of America's classic college towns, Blacksburg is a perfect setting for Virginia Tech.

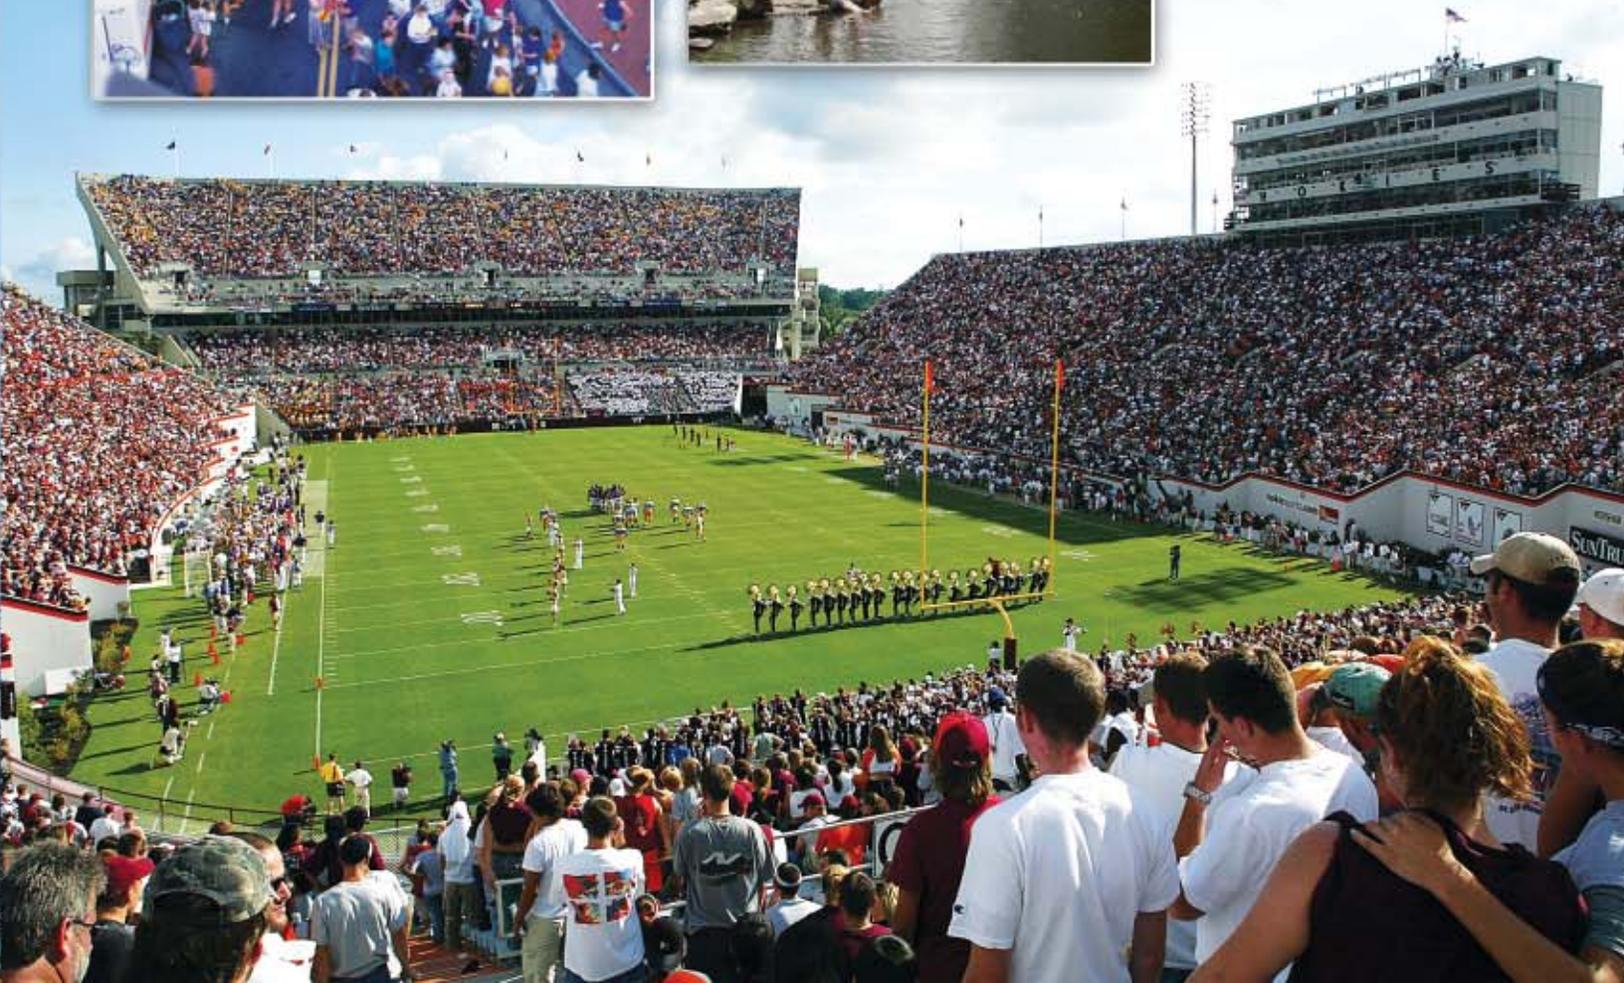

Located in Southwest Virginia on a plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, Blacksburg combines the laid-back lifestyle of a small town with the amenities one would expect to find around a major center of higher education. Together, the town and university have worked hard to create a progressive community that ranks among the nation's elite living environments. Blacksburg was recently named one of the Top 10 places to live by Outside magazine.

Virginia Tech and the Town of Blacksburg gained national and international attention by creating the world's first "electronic village." Businesses and industries have been drawn by the quaint town's potential.

Established in 1798 by John and William Black, the town is surrounded by scenic mountain views that accentuate the area. The nearly 40,000 residents (including students) enjoy a close proximity to a variety of recreation areas such as the Blue Ridge Parkway, Appalachian Trail, Claytor Lake and the New River.
