NO. 16 HOKIES HEAD TO WILMINGTON, N.C. FOR BATTLE BY THE BEACH

The Hokies jump seven spots in latest rankings

- Tech was one of seven ACC programs to be ranked in the United Soccer Coaches' Preseason Top 25 poll, the organization announced Aug. 6, checking in at No. 25 after ending the 2018 season ranked 21st.
- It was the first time since the end of the 2015 campaign Tech was ranked at the end of the year and it was the first time the Hokies opened a season ranked since 2016, when they started out at No. 17.
- With two more wins last weekend, the Hokies, along with the TCU Horned Frogs, made the biggest jumps in the latest rankings, as each team moved up seven spots. Tech rises to the No. 16 position this week, while TCU, who is 5-1-0, is right behind the Hokies at No. 17.
- The spot in the polls is the highest ranking for the Hokies since Sept. 1, 2016.
- Tech also earned a spot, for the first time, in the TopDrawerSoccer national poll. For three straight weeks, the Hokies, who TDS named the No. 23 program in the nation at the end of the 2018 season, was listed as one of five programs in the "Others considered" category outside the Top 25.
- This week, the Hokies are settled in at No. 20.

Starting the season unbeaten after six matches and beyond

- For the ninth straight year and 13th overall, Tech was unbeaten after its first four matches, while a 4-0-0 start to the season had been accomplished for the eighth time, but the first since 2016.
- After pulling out two wins last weekend, the 2019 Hokies became just the fifth team to start the year at 6-0-0, while eight times overall a team has been unbeaten after six matches.
- Only the 2012 and 2014 seasons did Tech start with seven straight wins, with the 2012 squad opening up 9-0-0 and 2014 started a school-best 10-0-0.
- In 2017, Tech started 6-0-1 after seven, but lost match eight, while in 2015, the team opened 8-0-1.

- All-time, Tech is 7-0-0 against this weekend's opponents, outscoring them 17-1.
- The Hokies last faced the Cougars in 2017, while the Seahawks where in Blacksburg last year.
- This weekend will be the first time the Hokies will play a match in Wilmington, N.C.

Kozlova earns ACC Offensive Player of the Week award

- Announced by the ACC Tuesday, Tech's Nicole Kozlova was chosen as the ACC Women's Soccer Offensive Player of the Week after helping the Hokies remain perfect on the season.
- She is the first Tech field player to earn an ACC Player of the Week honor since Murielle Tiernan, who earned the last of her three on Sept. 6, 2016.
- Kozlova is the third Tech freshman to garner the award since the Hokies joined the ACC. Ashley Stinson was the first, being named on Sept. 4, 2004, while Marika Gray was chosen on Sept. 10, 2007.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

Probably the most frequently asked question regarding Virginia Tech athletics and the answer dates back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With it came a contest held by the student body for writing a new cheer and senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Old Hokie" yell. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull said the words had no hidden or symbolic meaning, but had been thought up in an effort to get attention. "Hokie" soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics. Below is the "Old Hokie" yell:

Hoki, Hoki, Hoki Hy!
Tech! Tech! V.P.I.!
Sola-Rex Sola-Rah
Polytech-Vir-gin-i-a!!
Rae, Ri, V.P.I.

JUST "VIRGINIA TECH", PLEASE!

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech." Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896. Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech. The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today. Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as "Virginia Tech." VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT, VA Tech or Virginia Tech University are not recognized names and should not be used.

Tech success under Adair - non-conference

Tech has lost just 13 non-conference matches under head coach Chugger Adair, nine of those have been in the postseason. The four losses in the regular season include at Tennessee, Sept. 10, 2017 (3-1) and at Alabama Aug. 30, 2018 (1-0) and two matches in Blacksburg - Ohio State on Sept. 1, 2016 (2-1) and Nebraska on Sept. 9, 2011 (4-3, 2OT). In nine seasons under Adair, Tech is 63-4-6 in non-conference regular-season matches.

Tech success under Adair - ranked

Overall, as a ranked team under Adair, the Hokies have an overall mark of 70-26-7 in 103 matches for a 71.4 winning percentage. As a ranked team against an unranked foe, the Hokies are 59-4-4 (91.9%) with those losses coming to Ohio State (2016 and Nov. 20, 2015, 1-0), Wake Forest (Oct. 18, 2014, 1-0) and Nebraska (2011). In matches against unranked opponents overall, Tech holds a mark of 95-10-11 in 116 matches for an 86.6 winning percentage.

Starting Streaks for the Hokies

During the 2018 season, five players started all 22 matches - seniors Jordan Hemmen, Kelsey Irwin, Mandy McGlynn and Jaylyn Thompson, and sophomore Emily Gray. All but Irwin have made all six starts this year. Thompson currently holds the longest consecutive starts streak on the team at 56 straight matches, as she started the final 10 during the 2016 season and all 18 in 2017. McGlynn's streak is the second longest, now at 47 - having started the last match of 2016 and all 18 matches in 2017 as well. Hemmen started all 17 matches she appeared in during the 2017 campaign, but only started the last 16 consecutively, and is now at 44 straight starts. Gray became the first freshman at the school to start every match since 2013 (Murielle Tiernan) and is now at 28 straight starts. From 2013-15, Tiernan went on to start the first 55 matches of her Tech career, while Kelsey Mitchell (2009-12) and Carmen Chestnut (1998-01) are the only Hokies (min. 75 games) to start every match of their Tech careers - 88 and 77. The last Tech player to start at least 60 straight is Candace Cephers (2013-15). Four others have started the first six matches this year, sophomores Emmalee McCarter (26 straight), Molly Feighan (9 total) and Grace Sklopan (9 total) and redshirt-freshman Nicole Kozlova.

Tech's Ironwomen

Irwin had started 35 straight matches and had played every single minute of them until this season's home opener. Dating back to Sept. 4, 2017 versus Longwood, the last match she did not start, she played the final 66:05 minutes of that contest and 3,302:05 straight minutes entering the season. In the waning minutes of the 3-0 Liberty win (Aug. 22), Irwin was taken out for the first time in 35 contests, ending her streak at 3,386:27. McGlynn's consecutive minutes streak is even longer, as she has not been subbed out since Aug. 25, 2017 - versus the College of Charleston - a string of 43 straight matches. McGlynn did not play the final 14 minutes against the Cougars that day, but has played every one since - a streak of 4,046:43 straight minutes.

In 2018 Tech games, scoring first was critical

In Tech matches last season, only once did the team that scored the day's first goal not go on to win the match, and that was then-No. 22 Georgetown, which resulted in a 1-1 draw on Aug. 19. Since then, the team that scored the match's first goal was 19-0, with the Hokies holding an 11-0 record while the opponents were 8-0, with one double overtime 0-0 tie in the mix (Sept. 2 at Georgia). In fact, once the first goal of a match had been netted, the team who scored never relinquished the lead and had gone on to register a shutout in 15 of those contests, with Tech earning eight of them. In all, Tech and its opponents combined for 19 shutouts in 22 matches last year (Tech 10, Opp 9), which surpassed the most prior of 17 in 2011 (Tech 11, Opp 6) in 23 matches played that season. The good news last year was that when the Hokies scored a goal, they are 11-1-1.

That trend ends

Through five matches this year, the 2018 trends continued, as Tech scored first in each, never gave up the lead, won all five while posting four shutouts. So, the team scoring first, in a Tech game, had won the last 25 matches with 19 shutouts. That ended Sept. 8, when Yale took a 1-0 lead into halftime. Nicole Kozlova would score twice in the second half as the Hokies pulled out the 2-1 victory. It was the first comeback win since Oct. 15, 2017 at Notre Dame, when the Hokies also scored twice in the second half after trailing 1-0 at the break. Between the two Tech comebacks, a span of 30 matches, the team that netted the first goal was 26-0-1 (with three double overtime ties). Of note, the last time Tech lost a game it was leading was Oct. 23, 2016, when Miami scored twice, the second in double overtime, to win 2-1 in Coral Gables.

Give McGlynn a lead, Tech is unbeaten

In Mandy McGlynn's 62 career starts as Tech's goalkeeper, the team has never lost a game after giving her a lead (35-0-2). She did not play in the 2016 Miami game (see prior note). Only four times with McGlynn as the starting goalkeeper has Tech taken a lead and relinquished it. The Hokies went on to win two of them, while earning a tie in the other two.

Date	Opponent	Result
Sept. 21, 2017	at Pittsburgh	T, 1-1 2OT
Oct. 9, 2016	at Boston College	W, 3-2 2OT
Oct. 6, 2016	at Syracuse	W, 2-1
Sept. 30, 2016	Clemson	T, 2-2 2OT

Opening the season with a pair of shutouts

For only the third time in school history, the Hokies recorded back-to-back shutouts to start the season. Tech first accomplished the feat in 2012, while the 2014 squad posted three straight to start the year. The 2019 squad equaled the three straight shutouts and then set the school record for longest consecutive scoreless streak (by minutes) to start a season at 326:12 before allowing the first goal of the year in the 56th minute against Auburn (Sept. 1). The longest scoreless streak (by minutes) to start a season prior was 322:38 in 2014. Tech lost that streak on Aug. 31 in a 3-1 win at Ohio State (goal was scored in fourth match at 52:38). The third longest scoreless streak is 245:49 and ended on Aug. 24, 2012 in a 3-2 win at Nebraska (goal scored at 54:20). This streak included a double overtime win to start the year.

THOMPSON FIELD HOME OF THE HOKIES

Thompson Field serves as the home of the Tech men's and women's soccer teams as well as the lacrosse team. Located in the center of the Tech athletics complex, the facility ranks as one of the finest for both soccer and lacrosse in the ACC.

Located across from Lane Stadium, the Hokies' football home, Thompson Field was completed in the fall of 2003 and dedicated in 2008 in the name of Sandra D. Thompson, a longtime supporter of women's athletics at Tech.

The field is a bluegrass playing surface and measures approximately 75 by 120 yards. It is equipped with an underground irrigation and drainage system that allows for it to be ready for play quickly following rainstorms.

The athletics department has gradually made improvements since the venue opened in 2003. The most recent updates to the complex includes new light fixtures and a videoboard for the start of the 2019 soccer season and access to upgraded team rooms for use during pregame and halftime of matches played at Thompson Field.

In 2005, workers completed a new restroom facility for the complex, and during the summer of 2008, a new game operations center was erected atop the stadium above the grandstand.

The approximately 900-square foot facility now includes one dedicated broadcast booth for ACC Network TV broadcasts. The area also has two covered areas on each end devoted to camera operations for these broadcasts. There is a similar booth on the opposite side of the center, where working media members who are covering the Hokies have access along with the opportunity for teams to record their video as well.

In the main area of the center is a large working area for game operations, which includes the scoreboard and videoboard, PA, official statistics and visiting school officials.

The climate-controlled facility contains a state-of-the-art sound system and Ethernet capability. The Internet-ready facility allows Tech's official athletics website, hokiesports.com, to originate live stats of the Hokies' matches from the press box. Above the grandstand is a wired camera deck.

Between each team's bench area is the Sandy D. Thompson Press Box. Formerly the press operations center for the field, the facility is now used as a halftime room for game officials and as an auxiliary area for press and game operations. This is also where the replay monitor is housed for ACC Broadcasts.

Thompson Field, which has been expanded since it was opened, now features approximately 2,028 bench-back seats, where each fan has an unobstructed view of the playing surface. Spacious area around the field allows for nearly 1,500 more fans to watch games.

Goalkeeper scoreless streaks to start the year

- In the 2012 and 2014 seasons, Tech's starting goalkeeper was Caroline Kelly, meaning she had held the two longest scoreless streaks to start a year.

- Her longest consecutive stretch of minutes played is the 245:49 to open the 2012 season, since she was replaced in the second half of that third match in 2014.

- That season's streak did reach 277:38 (non-consecutive) before she allowed the first tally of the year, but she played the first 225:00 consecutively.

- Mandy McGlynn bested both of those marks, playing every minute of the season so far, including setting the new school record at 326:12 straight scoreless minutes to start a season.

- Interestingly, she has posted a shutout in the season opener all four years at the school and went at least 129 minutes in each season before allowing goal No. 1 for the year.

- Her longest streak before this year was 171:52 to open the 2016 season, her freshman year.

Shutouts, goals allowed through 6, 7, 8 matches

- Below are the eight seasons in which Tech has posted at least four shutouts through eight matches and where each of those programs stood after their sixth, seventh and eighth games of that year.

- The numbers are Shutouts-Goals Allowed.

Season	After 6	After 7	After 8
2019	4-2
2018	2-4	3-4	4-4
2017	5-1	5-2	5-5
2016	2-5	3-5	4-5
2014	4-2	4-3	5-3
2012	5-2	6-2	7-2
2011	4-3	4-7	5-7
1994	5-1	5-3	5-6

Mance scores three times in four matches

- Mikayla Mance scored a goal in each of Tech's first two wins in the first weekend, then tallied the game winner versus Auburn (Sept. 1).

- Her first goal came in the 30th minute against Liberty (Aug. 22), the first insurance tally, in a 3-0 victory. It was her first goal since Sept. 7, 2017.

- Against Cincinnati (Aug. 25), just 83 seconds before halftime, Mance gave Tech a 1-0 lead with her second of the weekend, and the third of her career.

- It held for the game winner, the second of her career, as the Hokies beat the Bearcats 2-0.

- In the 33rd minute against the Tigers, Mance put Tech up 2-0 with her third of the year.

- Mance became the first Tech player to score a goal in the first two games of the season since Murielle Tiernan started the 2015 campaign, who actually scored in the first three matches of the season.

- Tiernan is also the last player to score goals in three straight matches at any point, scoring in five straight from Sept. 19 through Oct. 8, 2015.

- The assists are more in favor of the starters, as they've accumulated 12 of the 16 so far.

Two goals in one match

- Against Yale on Sept. 8, Tech faced its first deficit of the season, trailing 1-0. However, Nicole Kozlova found the back of the net twice in the second half to lift the Hokies to the 2-1 victory.

- Kozlova became the first player since Kelsey Irwin to score a brace for Tech. Irwin scored her two at Villanova on Sept. 7 of last year in a 3-0 victory.

Back-to-back game-winning goals

- In scoring the game winner versus Yale (Sept. 8), Nicole Kozlova, who also had the GW against Alabama (Sept. 5), became the first Hokie to score back-to-back game winners since 2016, but the 11th times since 2010 (by eight players).

- Tech's Alani Johnson was the last one to net back-to-back game winners, scoring hers on Aug. 26-28.

- The last Hokie to score three straight game-winning goals was Murielle Tiernan, who had four straight from Sept. 24-Oct. 8, 2015.

Two assists in one match

One assist in three straight matches

- Molly Feighan became the sixth Hokie this decade to register at least one assist in three straight matches, and the first since Katie Yensen, who accomplished the feat from Sept. 12-19, 2014.

- It has been eight seasons since a Tech player last had an assist in four straight matches and that was Jasmine Reeves from Aug. 28-Sept. 9, 2011. She actually had six in those four contests.

- Tech's all-time leader in assists, Julian Johnson (2006-09, 31) holds the record, as she went six straight matches with an assist (Aug. 25-Sept. 10, 2006), notching eight in that span.

Charles "Chugger" Adair

Virginia Tech Head Coach - Ninth Season

On December 7, 2010, Virginia Tech Director of Athletics Jim Weaver announced the hiring of Tech's fourth head women's soccer coach Charles "Chugger" Adair, the associate head coach for the team the previous five seasons. The 2018 season marked Adair's 13th season in Blacksburg and his eighth year as the Hokies' head coach. In that time, he's become the all-time wins leader in program history, ended the 2018 campaign with a 106-48-18 overall record, and became just the second soccer coach at the school to reach the 100-win milestone with the team's victory at Miami on Sept. 23 (Jerry Cheynet, 238 wins, 28 seasons for Tech men's soccer). He's also just the 10th women's soccer head coach to reach that mark in the ACC.

Prior to Adair's arrival on campus, the women's program just once (2004) made the postseason - playing a game in both the ACC and NCAA tournaments. Since, the team has qualified for six ACC tournaments, playing for the conference title twice (2008 & 2013), and earned eight straight bids to the NCAA championship (2008-15) - nine overall, as the Hokies made it back to the tournament in 2018. Tech has reached the Sweet 16 four times under Adair (2009, 2011, 2014, 2018), but enjoyed its greatest success in 2013. That record-setting season included the Hokies posting a school-record 19 wins (most by any soccer team at the school), playing for the ACC title and advancing to the NCAA College Cup, where their season ended with a 3-2 loss to Florida State in a national semifinal game.

Along with the great strides the Hokies have made on the pitch, the Tech women's soccer program is also known for producing outstanding students who are major contributors off of it. Each year, the Hokies boast a high team grade point average and have student-athletes who compete for state, regional and national academic recognition. In fact, during the 2017-18 academic season, the team posted a program-tying best ever team GPA of 3.53 in the spring semester. Also, in the past three years, both Ashley Meier (2015) and Alani Johnson (2017) have received an ACC Postgraduate Scholarship, with Meier also earning an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship as well. Lastly, in 2018, Heather Timothy became Tech's sixth women's soccer player to earn the Skelton Award for Academic Excellence in Athletics - the highest designation handed out by the Tech athletics department

In his eight seasons at Tech, Adair has led his program to a winning record each year, but saw a streak of double-digit win totals come to an end in 2017 as the team posted a 7-6-5 mark, with the five ties setting a program record. Despite an 11-win season in 2016 - the team's ninth straight year with at least 10 wins - the Hokies saw their eight-year run of making the NCAA championship come to an end.

In 2018, Tech returned to the 11-win mark and the NCAA tournament and reached the Round of 16. Along the way, the Hokies were one of two teams to knock off a nationally-seeded team in the opening round - defeating No. 17 Texas (a four seed) 1-0 in Austin, Texas - the Longhorns lone home loss of the year. Another 1-0 victory, this one in double overtime, in round two over Arkansas advanced Tech to its fourth ever Sweet 16. The Hokies ended the year ranked in two major polls - 21st by the United Soccer Coaches and 23rd by Top Drawer Soccer. He was also on the sidelines as the Hokies played the program's 500th career match (August 19 versus Georgetown) and recorded its 250th career victory (Sept. 23 at Villanova).

In 2015, the Hokies went 15-4-2 and won their opening round game in the NCAA championship, while in the 2014 season, Adair led the Hokies to a 16-6 record and advanced to the Sweet 16 for the third time in school history. During that season, the Hokies set a school record for most goals in a season, with 62, and fewest goals allowed in a season, surrendering just 18, and reached a program-best No. 2 ranking in the country after starting the season at 10-0-0.

In their record-setting 2013 campaign, the Hokies beat three ranked teams during the regular season and then blew out then-No. 1 Virginia 4-2 in the ACC Tournament semifinals. They added two more ranked foes to their list of conquests when they downed West Virginia 1-0 and knocked off Santa Clara by advancing on penalty kicks in the NCAA Championships. The Hokies were a No. 1 seed in the tournament and hosted four games in Blacksburg. The Hokies scored a then school-record 56 goals, breaking the mark of 45 set by the 2012 team, and shut out 12 opponents, tying the mark also set by the 2012 squad. They finished the season with a school-best No. 4 ranking in the country.

In 2012, Adair, in his second season as the head coach, led the Hokies to a 13-6-1 record, which marked the program's fifth straight 10-win season. Tech's six losses were the fewest in program history, at the time, and 12 of the 13 wins were shutouts. The team started 9-0-0, climbing into the Top 10 in the national rankings for the first time in school history, reaching the No. 8 spot in late September. The Hokies played host to their first NCAA Championship game in Blacksburg, as they welcomed No. 14 Georgetown to Thompson Field, though it resulted in a 3-2 loss in overtime.

In Adair's first season as the head coach (2011), Tech matched its best finish in program history (at the time), making it all the way to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Championship. Adair led the Hokies to a 14-8-1 overall record, which included 11 shutouts.

Adair came to Tech in 2006 and served as the associate head coach under previous head coach Kelly Cagle for five seasons before being promoted. In Adair's first season as an assistant to Cagle, the Hokies suffered a losing season, but have not suffered a losing season since. In 2008, the Hokies advanced to the finals of the ACC Championship for the first time, falling to North Carolina 3-0, and in 2009, the Hokies won 16 games, then a school record, and earned a final ranking of No. 12.

Adair came to Tech after holding the associate head coaching position at UC Santa Barbara for two seasons. While at UCSB, his role involved all aspects of the soccer program, including recruiting, coaching, scouting, player management, community relations and camps. Prior to his arrival at UCSB, he worked a six-year stint as Youth Soccer Coach/ Assistant Director of Competitive Older Ages for the Del Mar Sharks.

He served as an assistant for the University of San Diego's men's soccer team from 1998-2000. From there, he spent a season as an assistant coach for both the men's and women's soccer teams at Pacific University in Portland, Ore.

Adair also possesses a great deal of playing experience, having played professionally for 10 years, including stints with the Los Angeles Galaxy of Major League Soccer and the U.S. National Futsal Team. He also spent time playing for the San Diego Sockers, Wichita Wings, Portland Timbers, San Diego Flash, Minnesota Thunder, Seattle Sounders, Milwaukee Wave, Carolina Dynamo and A.A. Ghent (Belgium) from 1993-2003.

Adair played soccer at the University of San Diego after transferring from San Diego State in the early 1990s. He earned All-America honors, was a two-year captain and helped USD to the NCAA finals, where the Toreros lost to Virginia. He scored 27 goals and had 23 assists in his three years at USD. He got his bachelor's degree in business administration from USD in 1993 and he received his MBA from USD in 1996.

Adair is married to the former Shelbylynn McBride, and they have a daughter, Callie Lynn and a son, Austin Tate. He also has two other daughters Alexandra and Madeline, and a son Jack
