VIRGINIA TECH GRADUATES

Eight members of the 2021 Hokies roster hold one or more degrees from Virginia Tech. Tyrell Smith received his degree in criminology in 2018 and a Master's in instructional technology in 2019. He is currently pursuing a second Master's degree in agricultural and life sciences with a concentration in leadership. Braxton Burmeister earned degrees in sociology, as well as sports media and analysis in December. Brock Hoffman graduated in May with a degree in communication science and social inquiry. Silas Dzansi received his criminology degree in May, while John Parker Romo earned a bachelor's degree in economics and is pursuing a Master's degree in instructional technology. Lecitus Smith earned his degree in consumer studies in May 2021. Other current Tech players holding degrees from Virginia Tech include RB Raheem Blackshear (criminology) and TE Cole Blaker, who owns a dual degree in real estate finance and real estate.

ON THE COVER

There's nothing quite like a primetime game at Lane Stadium when Hokie Nation is jumping to the iconic sounds of 'Enter Sandman.' Cover designed by Zach Lantz.

WINNING TRADITION

Virginia Tech owns an illustrious tradition of registering big victories on the biggest stages. Whether it's the domination of an in-state rival, ACC championships, national exposure, a history of sending players to the NFL, fanatical fan support or an unprecedented track record of families sending multiple members to play in Blacksburg, Virginia Tech's winning tradition reaches far beyond the football field.

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

Lane Stadium provides Virginia Tech with a raucous homefield advantage, while the nearly $20 million Student-Athlete Performance Center serves the nutritional needs of Tech's student-athletes. An expanded and renovated weight room, new meeting rooms, an expansive indoor facility and a new residence hall, make Tech's facilities among the nation's finest.

COACHING STAFF

Head coach Justin Fuente enters his sixth campaign in Blacksburg, leading a staff that combines some of the nation's most respected coaches, along with talented new additions with fresh ideas and enthusiasm. They share one common mission – to identify and recruit the best student-athletes to Virginia Tech and then help prepare them for success both on and off of the field.

PLAYER BIOS

The Hokies return an abundance of experienced and talented performers in all three phases of the game. DB Chamarri Conner registered a team-high 81 tackles a year ago, while DE Amare' Barno led all Power Five players with 16.0 TFL, while LB Dax Hollifield and CB Jermaine Waller are seasoned starters for Tech. QB Braxton Burmeister returns in 2021 with a talented offensive line in front of him, anchored by OLs Luke Tenuta, Lecitus Smith and Brock Hoffman. WRs Tre' Turner and Tayvion Robinson are both back, along with TE James Mitchell, as well as RBs Jalen Holston and Raheem Blackshear.

SEASON REVIEW

RB Khalil Herbert emerged as one of the nation's top weapons in 2021, ranking third among FBS players with 1,791 all-purpose yards, while his 1,182 rushing yards were the third-best total in the country. The Hokies began a year filled with unprecedented challenges by registering a 45-24 home victory vs. North Carolina State. Tech saved its best performance for the season finale by producing a 33-15 victory vs. Virginia to bring the Commonwealth Cup back home to Blacksburg.

RECORDS/HISTORY

Virginia Tech's history and football records are inextricably linked. A litany of NFL greats like Kam Chancellor, Carroll Dale, Brandon Flowers, Bruce Smith and Michael Vick firmly etched their names in Tech history during their memorable careers with the Hokies. In addition, a number of former Tech standouts like J.C. Price (above), have returned to coach at their alma mater.

BEAMER LEGACY

Few figures in college football history are as beloved as Frank Beamer who was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame's Class of 2018. His legacy transcended Blacksburg as he made a lasting impact on the way the game was played as the term "BeamerBall" became synonymous with excellence in all three phases of the game.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's a frequently asked question in Virginia Tech athletics, and the answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer, and a contest for that purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Virginia Tech teams and those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors—Chicago maroon and burnt orange—also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

ESPN'S THURSDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

In the 1990s, head coach Frank Beamer embraced the opportunity for his program to own the national spotlight in primetime in the middle of the week on ESPN's Thursday Night Football. Since the inception of the Thursday Night Football package in 1991, the Hokies are 23-10 (.697) in such games. Those 33 Thursday night appearances are the most of any FBS program.

COLLEGE GAMEDAY + VIRGINIA TECH

ESPN's College GameDay has had no greater connection to a university than Virginia Tech. Former Tech head coach Frank Beamer was an early supporter of the production and the Hokie Nation helped elevate the show to new heights as thousands would show up and make noise during the broadcast. Among the top moments between College GameDay and Virginia Tech include the show's two visits to Blacksburg in 1999 and its broadcast ahead of the first game in Lane Stadium following the April 16 tragedy between the Hokies and East Carolina on Sept. 1, 2007. The weekly traveling road show has been on site for 11 Virginia Tech games since 1999 and has visited Blacksburg six times.

TECH TRADITIONS

NOTHING defines Lane Stadium more than the playing of "Enter Sandman" as the team runs out of the tunnel before kickoff.*

For the past 21 years, Tech fans have become part of the stadium's "Enter Sandman" culture. Virginia Tech has played the introduction of the Metallica classic as the team has emerged out of the tunnel and onto Worsham Field since 2000.

HOKIE STONE

Before each home football game, Tech's players and coaching staff enter Lane Stadium through the tunnel to Worsham Field. As they pass beneath a Hokie Stone they touch for good luck, they see these words: "For those who have passed. For those to come ... Reach for Excellence."

KEY PLAY

For many years, whether it's on the road or at Lane Stadium, Hokie Nation has helped the Tech defense by making noise with their keys. A "key play" most frequently occurs on a third down, fourth down or the final play of the game.

HOKIE VILLAGE

Located on the Moseley Practice Field, across Beamer Way from Lane Stadium, Hokie Village opens up 3.5 hours before kickoff, is free for all, and begins Tech's gameday experience.

HOKIE WALK

Established in 2001, when the football team arrives on campus about 2.5 hours before kickoff, the Hokies take the short walk up Beamer Way sandwiched on either side by the Tech faithful.

MARCHING VIRGINIANS

Known as "The Spirit of Tech" and established in 1974, the Marching Virginians draw from the general student body and perform at halftime of every home football game.

THE HIGHTY-TIGHTIES

A Regimental Band, the Highty-Tighties are Tech's longest-serving musical organization and the oldest college band in the Commonwealth and is a company in the third battalion of the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets.

SKIPPER

In 1963, three Virginia Tech students and Corps of Cadets members built a cannon and it made its debut against VMI in the two schools' annual Thanksgiving Day game. The students named the cannon "Skipper" after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963. Ever since, Skipper fires outside of Lane Stadium at the opening of Hokie Village, after the national anthem and whenever the Hokies score.

HOKIE POKEY

The spirit teams and the Marching Virginians' tuba section lead the Lane Stadium crowd in Blacksburg's rendition of the Hokie Pokey.

EDMUNDS BROTHERS MAKE NFL HISTORY

Tremaine (left) and Terrell Edmunds (center) made history in the 2018 NFL Draft by becoming the only pair of brothers to ever be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Tremaine was the 16th overall selection by Buffalo, while Terrell was the 28th overall pick by Pittsburgh. Eldest brother, Trey (right), is a running back for the Pittsburgh Steelers. All three brothers met on the same field at Pittsburgh (12/15/19). It marked the first time three brothers played in the same NFL game since the 1927 Duluth Eskimos had Joe, Cobb & Bill Rooney. Photo courtesy - Karl Roser (Pittsburgh Steelers).

THE FABULOUS FULLERS

Vincent, Kyle, Corey and Kendall Fuller are the only quartet of brothers in NFL history to all attend the same school and all be selected in the NFL Draft. Virginia Tech has earned a reputation for developing some of the NFL's top defensive backs with the likes of Pro Bowlers Kam Chancellor, Brandon Flowers and DeAngelo Hall all honing their craft in Blacksburg. Kyle Fuller earned a second straight Pro Bowl berth for the Chicago Bears in 2019. Meanwhile, younger brother, Kendall, became the first member of the family to earn a Super Bowl ring, as he made the game-clinching interception for the Kansas City Chiefs in Super Bowl LIV. Photos courtesy of Steve Sanders (Kansas City Chiefs) and Perry Knotts (NFL).

VIRGINIA TECH WAS BUILT ON TOUGH, SELF-MADE PLAYERS. I REALLY BOUGHT INTO THAT MINDSET. WHETHER IT WAS IN WINTER AND SUMMER CONDITIONING OR PREPARING EACH WEEK DURING THE SEASON VIRGINIA TECH WAS ABOUT TOUGH PEOPLE WHO WORKED AND PREPARED HARD AND RELENTLESSLY. THAT WAS OUR CALLING CARD AND SOMETHING I PRIDED MYSELF ON, AS WELL.

TE JEFF KING
CHICAGO BEARS ASST. DIRECTOR OF PRO SCOUTING

I CHOSE VIRGINIA TECH TO BE A PART OF SOMETHING SPECIAL. WE HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO BUILD ON THE LEGACY OF THOSE WHO CAME BEFORE US BY TRYING TO TURN VIRGINIA TECH INTO A HOUSEHOLD NAME. ACCOUNTABILITY, HARD WORK AND INTEGRITY WERE THE KEYS THAT LED TO OUR SUCCESS!

WR ANDRÉ DAVIS
EIGHT-YEAR NFL VETERAN

WE DEVELOPED A HARD HAT MENTALITY FROM THE FIRST DAY I STEPPED ON CAMPUS AT VIRGINIA TECH. EVERY DAY WHEN I GO TO PRACTICE, I CARRY THAT MENTALITY WITH ME TO GIVE IT MY VERY BEST AND NOT ACCEPT ANYTHING LESS. THAT'S THE HOKIE WAY.

BEAMER-LAWSON PRACTICE FACILITY

The Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility fits in perfectly with the other buildings on the university's sprawling campus—from its color to its design features to its architectural touches. The facility was built by Hokies, for Hokies and paid for by Hokies.

The facility, built by W.M. Jordan Company—a company whose CEO is John Lawson, a 1975 graduate of Tech—cost $21.3 million and was finished in the summer of 2015. It possesses all the features befitting of a nationally recognized football program, while also being flexible enough to help certain Olympic sports.

In 2018, the facility was named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility in honor of Lawson and former Virginia Tech student-athlete and head coach Frank Beamer.

Tech's facility is 210 feet wide and 400 feet long, with an artificial surface installed by Shaw Sports Turf. The synthetic turf is fast, firm and dense. The height from the playing surface to the bottom of the steel ceiling trusses is more than 86 feet at its apex, thus allowing plenty of room for punting and kicking. Its' eight-foot padded walls, wide sidelines, full scoreboard and 40-second clocks on each end allow the football program to hold a full-contact scrimmage.

In addition, the facility features garage-type doors, which open quickly and allow the players to move rapidly from the outdoor practice field into the indoor facility in the event of inclement weather. Tech's staff, though, uses the facility more than just when the weather turns ugly.

The facility also features a video platform that runs the entire length of the field. Three doors at separate locations lead out to observation decks to allow the video staff to film the portions of practice being held outdoors.

W.M. Jordan handled most of the construction responsibilities for the facility, but HKS Architects designed the facility, and the architectural and design features of the building definitely give it a Virginia Tech feel. It possesses maroon trim and Hokie stone on the bases of each support column. The archway entrance resembles that at Lane Stadium.

Plus, the university's core values—brotherhood, honor, leadership, sacrifice, service, loyalty, duty and Ut Prosim—have been etched along the bases of the columns. Architects borrowed this feature from the pylons above War Memorial Chapel along Tech's Drillfield.

Porticoes feature the same values as the eight pylons of Virginia Tech's War Memorial: Brotherhood, Honor, Leadership, Sacrifice, Service, Loyalty, Duty and Ut Prosim

MERRYMAN CENTER

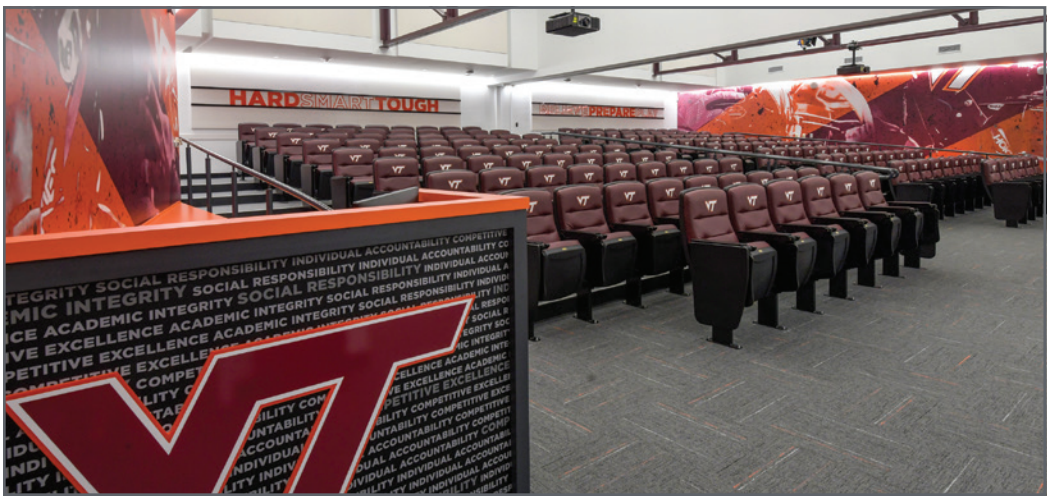

In 2016, work began in earnest on creating a dramatic entrance to the Merryman Center, which is typically one of the first spots that recruits and their families visit at Virginia Tech. From expansive video displays, to an opening of the Legends Hall area that now provides a panoramic view of Lane Stadium, the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility and Practice Fields, a welcoming aura can be felt in this area, right down to the floor's tile which pays homage to Tech's trademark Hokie Stone.

In September 2017, the team unveiled its new team meeting room that was made possible by the generosity of Virginia Tech Football alum Steve Johnson. The renovated version includes new seating, lighting, graphics on the walls and new sound system.

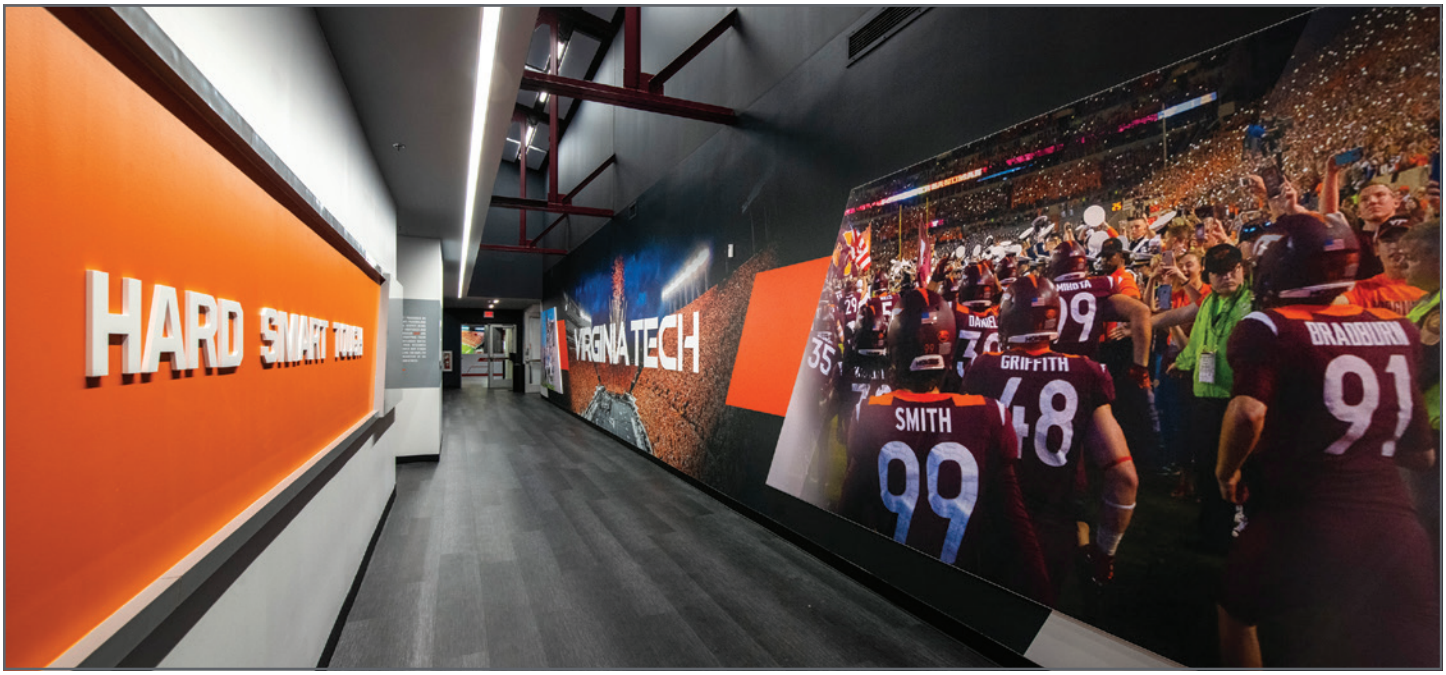

During the 2020 season, the team began utilizing nine new position meeting rooms which were also formally unveiled in March 2021. These individual meeting rooms feature a fully-integrated audio/visual system that allows various groups to watch presentations from the existing team meeting room was a generous gift from Tech Football alum and opened in September 2017. That connectivity proved vital for the Hokies in 2020 as social distancing mandated that 100-plus individuals that would normally fill the team meeting room could be spread into 10 different locations.

The nine position meeting rooms feature the same oversized seating as the team meeting room, with plaques honoring Tech's past all-conference performers for that unit adorning each group's space. In addition, hero-sized graphics of some of the Hokies' greatest all-time performers at that position complete the imagery of each meeting room.

STEVE JOHNSON STRENGTH & CONDITIONING CENTER

PEACH BOWL PLAZA

Tech Football strength and conditioning facility, outdoor plaza honors 1986 Peach Bowl team

In March 2021, Virginia Tech Athletics unveiled a refurbished plaza area outside of Tech's football strength and conditioning facility that honors the 1986 Peach Bowl squad, the team that claimed the first bowl win in school history. In addition to the permanent recognition of the 1986 Peach Bowl team, the renovated football weight room was also made possible thanks to the generosity of Steve Johnson and now bears his name. Signage recognizing the 1986 Peach Bowl champions and Johnson has also been added to the main entrance of the facility. Johnson caught a team-high six passes in that memorable 1986 bowl victory.

The project transformed the strength and conditioning center into a dynamic training area to meet the current and future needs of the program. This $4.5 million renovation and expansion project nearly doubled the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center, increasing the total square footage from approximately 6,900 square feet to over 12,300 square feet.

The reimagined design of the strength and conditioning area takes better advantage of every inch of this expanded space. A custom-designed 24-rack system by Sorinex highlights the strength and conditioning center, which is filled with natural light from floor-to-ceiling glass that offers a panoramic view of the Steve Johnson Practice Fields and the Beamer-Lawson Practice Facility. A unique and expansive folding glass door allows direct access to the outdoor training area and practice fields for large groups of student-athletes. In addition, a built-in artificial turf surface (complete with hashmarks) provides a perfect area for agility training.

The relocation of the strength and conditioning offices presented an opportunity to create a smartly conceived refueling station operated by the Tech sports nutrition staff, marking another much-needed addition to the football training area. With plenty of space for a team of dieticians and sports nutrition staffers to prepare custom recovery shakes and healthy snacks, this area also features multiple refrigeration units for storage, as well as easy-access fridges for student-athletes to grab food to go. Another custom cooler is constantly filled with various recovery beverages and plenty of bottled water.

A former Tech football player who played from 1983-87, Johnson currently serves as president and owner of Bristol-based Johnson Commercial Development, one of the largest commercial developers in the Southeast. Johnson Commercial Development completed one of the largest commercial projects in the country, The Pinnacle, a one million-square-foot upscale retail development in Bristol, Tennessee.

Ben Hilgart and his staff put the Hokies through a grueling strength and conditioning program. A total 62 individuals performed at an elite level during Hilgart's regiment and received a coveted hard hat. Junior LB Dax Hollifield was crowned the overall hard hat champion for his exemplary performance throughout winter and spring workouts.

#BIGSQUATFRIDAY

Under Hilgart, #BigSquatFriday has become a new Virginia Tech offseason tradition where players finish their Friday workouts by piling plenty of weight on the bar as their coaches and teammates enthusiastically cheer them on.

LB Dax Hollifield earned the 2021 overall Hard Hat Award for his performance in Tech's off-season strength and conditioning program.

Six Virginia Tech tight ends received Hard Hats in May 2021: Sam Brooks, Wilfried Pene, James Mitchell, Drake Deiuliis , Cole Blaker and Ty Eller.

The "Vice Squad" was well represented in the Hard Hat competition as eight members of offensive line coach Vance Vice's unit earned the coveted honor.

DB Chamarri Conner and DT Norell Pollard celebrated in the weight room after receiving their Hard Hats.

Tech specialists LS Justin Pollack, K John Parker Romo and LS Oscar Shadley were among the 62 players who earned Hard Hats in 2021.

PETRINE PLAZA

Longtime Virginia Tech Athletics and Hokie Club benefactors Jim and Debbie Petrine have made another substantial gift to Tech to help recognize all of the families who have sent multiple members to play football for the Hokies.

Plaques recognizing that football is family at Virginia Tech have been installed on the Petrine Plaza located outside of the football strength and conditioning complex. The 33 families who have sent multiple siblings to play football for the Hokies have plaques installed, as well as the 26 fathers who have had one or more sons follow their football path to Blacksburg. In addition, several uncle-nephew relationships are commemorated with plaques on the Petrine Plaza.

"We have both enjoyed watching so many of these families proudly represent Virginia Tech over the years," the Petrines said. "While many of these families are household names among Hokie Nation, we wanted to find a way to permanently recognize all of the football family relationships that have been so prevalent within the program. We couldn't be more pleased with the look and feel of the project. We hope that all of these families can come to Petrine Plaza and share many great memories of their time playing at Virginia Tech. And of course, we look forward to many more young men following in the footsteps of their fathers, brothers and uncles in the years to come. Go Hokies!"

Petrine Plaza documents the legacy of family members following their relatives to play football at Tech dating back to the late 1950s when Joe Moss lettered for the Hokies. He would send sons Andrew and Billy to play in Blacksburg in the 1990s. During the 1960s, Tech lettermen Ken Barefoot, Frank Beamer, Ken Edwards, Scott Hawkins and Lenny Smith all played in Lane Stadium and would later watch one or more of their sons do the same.

More recently, a pair of Tech football families have made their alma mater proud by achieving several notable firsts. The Fuller brothers—Vinnie, Kyle, Corey and Kendall—became the first four siblings to all play for the same university and all be selected in the NFL Draft. In 2018, Tremaine and Terrell Edmunds also made history, becoming the first pair of brothers to be picked in the first round of the same NFL Draft. Their path to Blacksburg was paved by eldest brother, Trey, who like his younger siblings, is also on an NFL roster heading into the 2021 season.

The family tradition of brothers following brothers to Blacksburg is also alive and well on Tech's 2021 roster under the direction of head coach Justin Fuente. Current TE Nick Gallo is the younger brother of Eric, who lettered from 2014-17, while DB Jalen Stroman is the younger sibling of current Washington NFL DB Greg Stroman (2014-17 letterman).

In addition, two sets of brothers are presently on Tech's roster. Junior LB Dax Hollifield paved the way for freshman TE Jack Hollifield to join the Hokies. Meanwhile, twin brothers Jayden and Jorden McDonald are on campus preparing for their initial season at Virginia Tech.

FOOTBALL IS FAMILY

The Virginia Tech football program prides itself on the family atmosphere it instills. That atmosphere hasn't gone unnoticed as many sets of sons and brothers of former Hokies have followed in the footsteps of their fathers and older brothers and decided to play in Blacksburg. Since 1987, Tech has seen 33 sets of brothers and 26 fathers and their sons compete for the Hokies. Below is a comprehensive list of those families who have sent multiple relatives to Tech, with current Hokies in bold.

STUDENT-ATHLETE PERFORMANCE CENTER

The nearly $20 million Student-Athlete Performance Center replaced the old Bowman Room on the fourth floor of the Jamerson Athletics Center and serves as the primary space for the sports nutrition staff to meet the nutrition needs of student-athletes from all 22 of Virginia Tech's varsity sports.

With more than 25,000 square feet of space, the SAPC provides constant nutrition for Tech student-athletes and wonderful event space for other activities. The renovation project came about primarily as a result of the generosity of an alumni couple who made an anonymous $15.2 million gift—the largest gift ever to Virginia Tech Athletics.

The SAPC includes a full-service kitchen that allows for the preparation of meals for student-athletes and a large dining space for them that features panoramic views of Lane Stadium and the Beamer-Lawson Practice Facility. A balcony on the outer edge of the center overlooks the Steve Johnson Practice Fields.

"Between school, study hall, training, practice or lifting and meals, to have a facility like this that's located right in the middle of all of those things I think only enhances the efficiency of their day," head coach Justin Fuente said of the impact that the SAPC makes on his student-athletes. "Obviously, for our program, development is a huge part of what we're trying to do, and what you feed your body is a huge part of our players and their development."

The center also allows for donor hospitality events before games, particularly basketball games. A large hallway leads directly from the center to the concourse of Cassell Coliseum. In addition, Tech's coaches expect to use the center for recruiting events, team gatherings, and other student-athlete development events.

With an anticipated completion date in summer 2021, the new residence hall in the Creativity and Innovation District will be home to 176 Virginia Tech student-athletes with an interest in interdisciplinary creation and entrepreneurship. The $105.5 million facility will be located next to the Graduate Life Center at Donaldson Brown between Kent and Otey streets. Boasting approximately 234,000 gross square feet of space, this new development will feature a wide variety of academic, social, research, and collaboration spaces, in addition to living space for a total of 596 Tech students.

VEATCH PLAYER LOUNGE

The Veatch Player Lounge was originally built thanks to the generosity of Virginia Tech alum Jeff Veatch and his family. The facility got a fresh look in 2021 thanks to a substantial contribution of fellow Tech graduate and longtime donor, Mehul Sanghani.

Virginia Tech head coach Justin Fuente envisioned Dave & Buster's when asked about plans for Tech's renovated player's lounge, located one floor above the locker room. Whether it's a place to play video games, watch TV or just hang out, the Hokies now have a perfect spot.

Jack Porter, a South Carolina-based consulting agency, handled the design on this latest renovation in Blacksburg. The entrance to the lounge will replicate the gameday feel of walking through the Avery Tunnel and into Lane Stadium with sensors set to play Metallica's 'Enter Sandman,' as individuals enter the lounge, which will feature pool tables, ping pong, a refreshment station, as well as a theatre room.

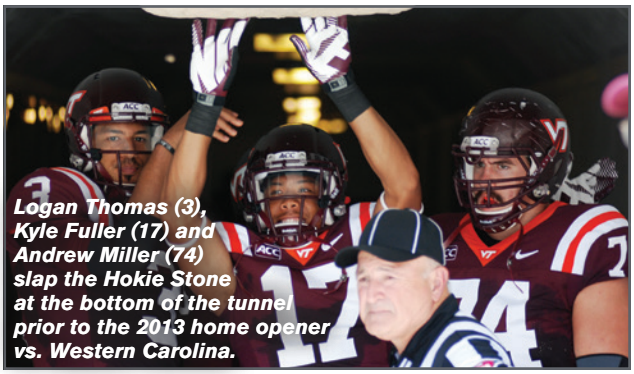

THE AVERY TUNNEL

Virginia Tech boasts one of the most unique pregame entrances in all of college football. Part of that pregame pageantry involves the walk from the Beamer Locker Room to and through the Avery Tunnel before the team emerges onto to Worsham Field and into Lane Stadium to the blaring sounds of 'Enter Sandman.'

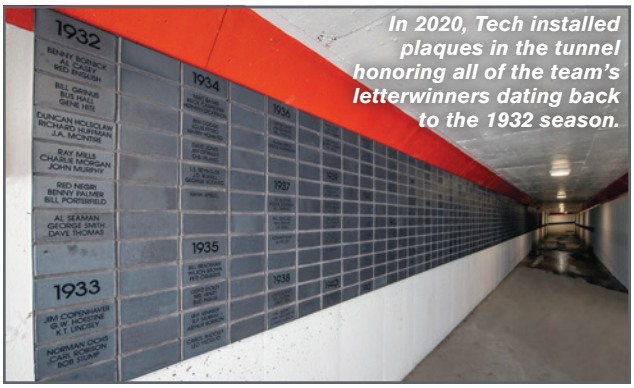

The sloping entrance to the Avery Tunnel is lined with hedges, providing a unique vantage point for fans watching from the West and North stands.

Logan Thomas (3), Kyle Fuller (17) and Andrew Miller (74) slap the Hokie Stone at the bottom of the tunnel prior to the 2013 home opener vs. Western Carolina.

In 2020, Tech installed plaques in the tunnel honoring all of the team's letterwinners dating back to the 1932 season.

Lane Stadium, a place unlike any other on a college football Saturday night … The locker room is a short walk from Lane Stadium. They march in three or four wide into a narrow, sloping tunnel—freshly painted for tonight by the way. They'll make a left turn … At the bottom, they'll be asked to reach higher for all those who have passed before and those to come. Then they will touch the Hokie Stone. It's the same limestone used to build this campus. Even the Tech veterans, who have done this dozens of times, they tell us they still get goosebumps. At the bottom of the tunnel, the song that Metallica recorded long before these players were born, 'Enter Sandman,' has played the Hokies on each home game since 2000. On nights like this, the Earth will shake, literally. They have the seismograph to prove it … It is the rockingest entrance in college football.*

ESPN's Chris Fowler

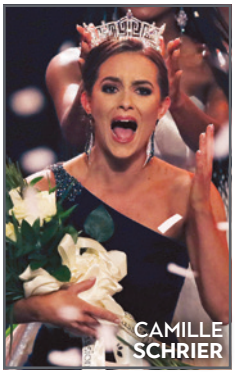

All Hokies are exhorted to Reach For Excellence prior to exiting the tunnel.

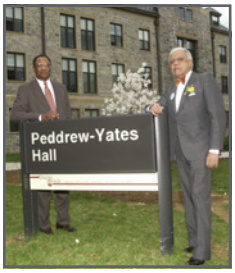

Head coach Justin Fuente prepares to lead the squad onto the field.

During a battle, Thomas threw a grenade, but the jungle vines dropped it back among his men. Thomas jumped on the grenade, giving his life to save the lives of his men.

CHRISTOPHER KRAFT
(Class of 1944)

The late Kraft, a former baseball player, was a retired NASA engineer who established the agency's "Mission Control" operation. He served as the agency's first flight director and oversaw the first human spaceflight, orbital flight and spacewalk. The Mission Control Center at the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston is named after Kraft, who graduated from Tech with a degree in aeronautical engineering.

ROBERT RICHARDSON
(Class of 1958 and 1960)

Richardson brought international notoriety to Virginia Tech when he shared the 1996 Nobel Prize in Physics with two others for their 1972 discovery of the property of superfluidity in helium-3 atoms. He received both his undergraduate and master's degrees in physics from Virginia Tech and spent nearly his entire career as a professor and physics researcher at Cornell.

IRVING PEDDREW
(Class of 2016)

Peddrew was the first African-American student to attend Virginia Tech and the first to attend any historically all-white four-year public institution in the 11 former states of the Confederacy when he enrolled in 1953. Peddrew studied at Tech for three years before moving to California to join the workforce. In 2016, the university presented him with an honorary Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering.

CHARLIE YATES
(Class of 1958)

Yates was the first African-American graduate of Virginia Tech, receiving his degree in mechanical engineering in 1958. He later became a college professor and twice returned to Virginia Tech to work. The final time was in 1987 when he served as an associate professor in the aerospace and engineering department. He remained at Tech until his retirement in 2000. In 2010, he passed away after a long bout with leukemia.

HOMER HICKAM
(Class of 1964)

As a Corps of Cadets member, Hickam designed Skipper, the iconic cannon Virginia Tech fires during football games when it scores and also at other functions. After graduating with a degree in industrial engineering, Hickam served in the military during the Vietnam War, and after he returned, he worked for NASA. But he is best known as an author, with his memoir "Rocket Boys," becoming a New York Times best seller. The 1999 movie entitled "October Sky" was based off Hickam's book.

DAVE CALHOUN
(Class of 1979)

Calhoun is the senior managing director and head of private equity portfolio operations of Blackstone. He also has worked as a vice chairman of The General Electric Company. He graduated with a degree in accounting and serves on the Pamplin College of Business Advisory Council.

CAMILLE SCHRIER
(Class of 2018)

Schrier, a 2018 graduate with a double major in systems biology and biochemistry, was named Miss America 2020. During her year-long reign as Miss Virginia 2019, Schrier worked to promote science, technology, engineering, and math education and careers in schools throughout the state, with a focus on attracting girls to STEM fields. Her Miss American talent demonstration, called elephant toothpaste, was a reaction of hydrogen peroxide and potassium iodide.

LETITIA "TISH" LONG
(Class of 1982)

Long began her career in the U.S. Navy before she even graduated with her degree in electrical engineering, serving as an intern developing capabilities for the submarine force. She eventually moved into intelligence arena, and in 2010, became the director of the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency. She became the first woman to lead a major U.S. intelligence agency. In 2014, she retired after 36 years of federal service.

HODA KOTB
(Class of 1986)

Kotb serves as co-anchor of the TODAY show with Savannah Guthrie on NBC. She also served as a correspondent for Dateline NBC, an investigative show on the network. In addition, she has written three books and once served as Virginia Tech's commencement speaker (2008). She graduated from the university with a degree in broadcast journalism.

STEVE MOLLENKOPF

Mollenkopf began his career with Qualcomm more than 20 years ago as an engineer and eventually led the chipset business, overseeing the launch of the 4G technology. In 2010, he moved into the role of chief operating officer and he now serves as the CEO of the company. He graduated from the university with a degree in electrical engineering.

ERIK NEANDER
(Class of 2005)

The second-youngest general manager in Major League Baseball, Neander has been in that role for the Tampa Bay Rays since 2017. He originally joined the franchise in 2007 as an intern and has quickly risen through the organization's ranks. Neander was the 2019 MLB executive of the Year. The Oneonta, New York native graduated from Tech with a bachelor's of science in food, nutrition and exercise.

UT PROSIM LIVES HERE

Coach Fuente and the Hokies have firmly embraced Virginia Tech's motto of Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). The team frequently takes the opportunity to serve others, whether it means visiting local schools in Southwest Virginia, or spreading goodwill during the holidays or during bowl trips.

Tyrod Taylor rewarded Blacksburg elementary students with shoes & swag in 2019.

The Hokies displayed their vocal talents with a stirring rendition of "Let it Go" at Levine Children's Hospital.

Numerous Tech players participated in 2020 Read Across America events in Blacksburg.

The Hokies packed 1,500 after-school food packages for kids at Second Harvest Food Bank in Charlotte prior to the 2019 Belk Bowl.

Caleb Farley befriended a veteran in Pulaski, Virginia and thanks to Kroger, delivered a holiday turkey to his vehicle.

S Reggie Floyd stops to take a selfie with a fan following the 2019 Spring Game.

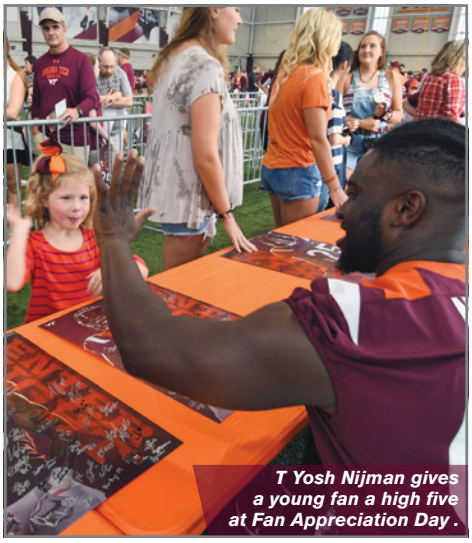

The Hokies visited Pulaski, Virginia in December 2018 to help brighten the holidays for some of our neighbors in need.

The entire squad packed care packages for our troops in conjunction with the USO during Tech's trip to the 2018 Military Bowl.

Tremaine Edmunds was part of Tech's contingent that visited Levine Children's Hospital in Charlotte during the week of the 2016 Belk Bowl.

T Yosh Nijman gives a young fan a high five at Fan Appreciation Day .

Coach Fuente leads by example by helping bring smiles and Tech's spirit of Ut Prosim on the road.

Come for the tailgates, tailbacks and everything you love about ACC Football.
Come for the culture, the camaraderie and unrivaled coverage, year-round.

JUSTIN FUENTE

HEAD COACH

@CoachFuente

The Hokies have produced a 20-2 mark in their last 22 meetings with Virginia, the best mark in the nation over that span in rivalries pitting in-state FBS programs.

- Fuente was named Virginia Tech's head coach on November 29, 2015 after orchestrating a dramatic resurrection of the football fortunes at the University of Memphis.
- The Hokies enter their sixth season under Fuente in 2021, who has compiled a 38-26 record in Blacksburg. With six more victories in 2021, he would move into fifth place on Tech's all-time coaching victory list.
- Since Fuente arrived in Blacksburg in 2016, the only ACC schools with more wins over that span are Clemson (65) and Miami (40).
- The only active Power Five head coach appointed during the 2016 hiring cycle owning more victories than Fuente (38) is Georgia's Kirby Smart (52).
- The only other active ACC head coach who could top Fuente's 33 wins in his first four full seasons at an ACC school is Clemson's Dabo Swinney (36).
- The Hokies have been ranked in the AP Top 25 during each of Fuente's seasons at the helm at Tech with the squad boasting five victories against Top 25 foes.
- The Hokies have finished in the Top 25 twice under Fuente. Tech finished the 2016 season ranked No. 16 in both the AP Poll and the Coaches Poll and concluded the 2017 season at No. 24 in the AP Top 25 and No. 25 in the Coaches Poll.
- Prior to Fuente's arrival, Tech had never had two players selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft. That feat has occurred twice in the past three years with LB Tremaine Edmunds (Buffalo) and S Terrell Edmunds (Pittsburgh) going in the first round of the 2018 NFL Draft, while CB Caleb Farley (Tennessee) and T Christian Darrisaw (Minnesota) matched that feat in the 2021 Draft.
- In total, 15 Tech alums who have played for Fuente have been selected in the NFL Draft over the past five seasons, a list that has included versatile offensive performers such as RB Khalil Herbert and TE Dalton Keene, as well as talented linemen on both sides of the ball in DT Tim Settle and G Wyatt Teller, in addition to Tech's 2021 selections.
- The 2021 NFL Draft illustrated the ability of Fuente and his staff to identify and develop talent. T Christian Darrisaw had no other FBS scholarship offers before developing into a first-round pick in Blacksburg. CB Caleb Farley was a record-setting prep quarterback who began his collegiate career at wide receiver before tapping his true potential at cornerback. S Divine Deablo also played QB in high school and also worked at wide receiver for the Hokies before moving to defense, where he blossomed into a third-round pick of the Las Vegas Raiders in 2021.
- In his initial five seasons in Blacksburg, Fuente has compiled a 12-3 combined record against ACC Coastal Division rivals Virginia (4-1), North Carolina (4-1) and Duke (4-1).
- The Hokies own a 33-4 record under Fuente when leading at halftime, including a streak of five straight wins.
- Two of Fuente's key principles for quarterbacks center around sound decision making and executing plays that result in predicted outcomes. The numbers the past five seasons back up the soundness of that philosophy despite five different QBs playing prominent roles for Tech over that span.
- The Hokies averaged 440.7 ypg of total offense in 2020. Over the past 25 seasons, three of the top four seasons (2016, 2020 and 2018) for total offense at Tech have come under Fuente's watch.
- The Hokies have produced the top three passing seasons in school history since Fuente and offensive coordinator Brad Cornelsen arrived at Tech - 2016 (261.4 ypg), 2018 (253.8 ypg) and 2017 (239.5 ypg).
- Three of the top five seasons in Tech annals for total first downs (2016-18) have come under Fuente's leadership.
- The Hokies own a +77 TD-to-INT differential (118 TDs/41 INTs) since Fuente's arrival, a mark that only Clemson (+120) and North Carolina (+84) can top in the ACC dating back to 2016. In the five seasons prior to Fuente's arrival the Hokies were +27 (98 TDs/71 INTs).
- VT set a school-record with a 62.2 completion percentage in 2020, breaking the previous mark of 62.1 set in Fuente's initial season at Tech in 2016.
- The Hokies led the ACC in rushing, averaging 240.1 ypg in 2020, which represented Tech's best mark since 2000. The squad's 27 rushing TDs were the most since 2010.
- Tech set a school record by averaging 5.58 yards per carry in 2020, the fourth-best mark by any Power Five squad last season.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Was recruited to the University of Oklahoma by Howard Schnellenberger and played two seasons for the Sooners.
- Saw duty in 20 games at OU and led the Sooners to a 30-27 upset win in overtime against No. 25 Texas in the Red River Shootout (10/12/96) in the inaugural Big 12 contest between the two longtime rivals. Also set an OU freshman record with 11 TD passes that season.
- Transferred to Murray State, the same school that Frank Beamer coached prior to accepting the Tech job in 1987.
- Set 11 school records during his two-year career at Murray State, completing 458 of 794 passes (57.7%) for 6,372 yards with 50 touchdowns and 20 interceptions, good for a 140.8 rating. Also scored two rushing TDs and had a 15-yard reception.
- Posted a career-high 553 yards at Southern Illinois (9/11/99) and threw for 470 yards and five TDs in his final game against Kentucky Wesleyan (11/20/99), leading the Racers to a 53-0 victory.
- Named the 1999 Ohio Valley Conference Offensive Player of the Year and was a finalist for the Walter Payton Award.
- Played professionally for the Arena Football League's Oklahoma Wranglers before beginning his coaching career.

- Tech's defense has won 26 straight games when holding foes to 17 points or fewer, including six shutouts during Fuente's tenure.
- Despite no spring practice in 2020 and a revolving door of personnel throughout the season, first-year defensive coordinator Justin Hamilton and Tech's defense held a pair of ACC foes under 17 points a year ago, helping the Hokies post a 40-14 win vs. Boston College (10/17/20) and a 33-15 victory vs. Virginia (12/12/20).
- Virginia Tech has continued its special teams success under Fuente and special teams coordinator, James Shibest. Over the past four seasons, Tech's special teams were ranked fifth overall in the nation by SportSource Analytics.
- SportsSource Analytics has also ranked the Hokies as having the top kickoff coverage unit in the nation from 2018-20.
- Tech has scored 13 defensive and special teams TDs during Fuente's tenure, including five in 2017 (two punt return TDs, two INT return TDs and one fumble return TD).
- P Oscar Bradburn concluded his Tech tenure in 2020 owning the school career record for punting average (43.5), as well as Tech's single-season punting mark (46.5 in 2019).
- In 2018, Tech ranked sixth among FBS squads, permitting only 350 combined punt and kickoff return yards.
- Tech tied for second in the FBS with six blocked kicks in 2017, finished second with 413 punt return yards and led the nation in fewest return yards allowed with 335.
- Virginia Tech led the ACC and ranked sixth among Power Five squads with a 94.5 Red Zone scoring percentage in 2019. Tech also led the ACC in Red Zone defense (73.8 scoring pct.).
- Fuente and the Hokies registered an epic victory in the longest game in ACC history, a 43-41 six-OT win vs. North Carolina (10/19/19).
- Tech's defense finished the 2017 season fourth in the FBS in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and posted an FBS-best three shutouts, while only Michigan (26.1%) held foes to a lower third-down conversion rate than VT (25.2).
- Fuente's ability to identify and develop talent isn't limited to the ranks of players. Multiple Fuente hires have blossomed under his tutelage.
- Tech alum Justin Hamilton was hired by Fuente as director of player development—defense in 2018. He was promoted to safeties coach in February 2019 before moving into his current role as defensive coordinator/safeties coach in 2020.
- An All-ACC linebacker for the Hokies, Jack Tyler joined Fuente's staff in 2016 as a student assistant before serving as a graduate assistant (2017-18). After a two-year stint as defensive quality control coach (2019-20) he was promoted to linebackers coach by Fuente in 2021.
- Hamilton and Tyler are among four former Tech alums on Fuente's defensive staff, joining J.C. Price (co-defensive line/defensive recruiting coordinator) and Pierson Prioleau (director of player development – defense).
- Several former Fuente assistants at Tech are now excelling thanks to their experience on his staff. Holmon Wiggins coached receivers at Tech from 2016-18 and currently serves as assistant head coach of offense at Alabama.
- Former Tech All-America DT Darryl Tapp returned to Blacksburg under Fuente in 2020 as co-defensive line coach and now works as assistant defensive line coach for the San Francisco 49ers.
- VT All-America LB Cody Grimm worked on Fuente's staff from 2016-18 before joining Bruce Arians' Tampa Bay Buccaneers staff in 2019 and earning a Super Bowl LV ring in 2020 as a defensive/special teams assistant.
- Current Tech director of recruiting Beau Davidson began his tenure in Blacksburg as an offensive quality control coach for the Hokies.
- Other notable former Fuente staffers at Tech working in FBS roles include: Mike Bangston (South Alabama-offensive line), Will Burnham (Kansas State-special teams graduate assistant), Johnathan Galante (Alabama-special teams analyst) and Zach Sparber (Duke-defensive graduate assistant).

2016 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR

- The consensus 2016 ACC Coach of the Year, Fuente was also named the top first-year FBS head coach in the nation by the Football Writers Association of America, sharing that honor with USC's Clay Helton.
- Tech finished the 2016 season ranked No. 16 in both the AP Poll and the Coaches Poll, marking the highest final mark for the Hokies since 2010 (No. 16 AP, No. 15 Coaches).
- Virginia Tech, Penn State, Colorado, West Virginia and Western Michigan all finished in the AP Top 25 after getting zero votes in the AP Preseason Poll.
- Tech's 10 wins were the team's most since 2011 and the most ever by a first-year Virginia Tech head coach, surpassing the previous mark of nine wins by C.P. Miles in 1905.
- Fuente led Tech to its sixth ACC Coastal Division title and its first since 2010, sending the Hokies to the ACC Championship Game where Tech lost a narrow 42-35 decision to eventual national champion Clemson.
- The Hokies did not lose consecutive games under Fuente in 2016 as the Hokies extended the nation's longest active bowl streak.
- Virginia Tech's 35-24 victory over Arkansas in the Belk Bowl marked the largest comeback in school history. The Hokies were down 24-0 at halftime before scoring 35 unanswered points en route to victory, making Fuente the initial coach to guide the Hokies to a bowl victory in his debut season.
- The Hokies broke or tied 10 offensive single-season records in 2016, most notably registering school marks for points (490), total first downs (330), TD passes (31), passing yards (3,660) and yards of total offense (6,223).
- Among ACC squads, only Clemson (26.9) averaged more first downs per game than Virginia Tech (23.6) in 2016.
- The Hokies also returned to their dominant defensive ways in Fuente's debut campaign as Tech ranked second in the nation in third-down defense (27.5%), while ranking fourth among Power Five squads in tackles for loss (113.0) and fifth in opponent completion percentage (50.1).
- Virginia Tech also experienced a special teams resurgence as the Hokies returned to its roots, blocking four kicks (three FGs, one punt), while registering TDs on a punt return and a blocked FG return.

1. Zachariah Hoyt and Tyrell Smith douse Fuente with Gatorade following a 33-15 win vs. Virginia (12/12/20).
2. The squad celebrates an ACC Coastal Division title after a 52-10 victory vs. Virginia (11/26/16).
3. Norell Pollard and the squad enjoy a locker room celebration after a 38-31 decision at Duke (10/3/21).
4. Fuente enjoys a moment of postgame levity after Tech won by a 42-35 margin at Miami (10/5/19).

THE MEMPHIS TURNAROUND

- Compiled a 19-6 record in his final two seasons at Memphis, guiding the Tigers to back-to-back bowl berths after inheriting a program that went 5-31 in three years before his arrival.
- Unanimous selection as 2014 American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year when he led Memphis to its first conference title since 1971.
- Guided Memphis to a 15-game winning streak that included a 37-24 win over No. 13 Ole Miss (10/17/15).
- Memphis posted a 9-3 regular season mark in 2015, capped by a 63-0 win vs. SMU in Fuente's finale as the Tigers' head coach.
- The Tigers concluded a 10-3 season in 2014 with a 55-48 double-OT triumph over BYU in the Miami Beach Bowl, the first 10-win season for the Tigers since 1938.
- Fuente's final game as Memphis head coach was a 63-0 win vs. SMU (11/28/15). QB Paxton Lynch tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of that game. Lynch threw for a school-record 28 TD passes on the 2015 season.
- Memphis outscored its opponents by an average margin of 20.7 points per game during a run of 15 consecutive wins from 2014-15, scoring 652 points (43.5 ppg), while allowing only 341 (22.7 ppg).
- Memphis scored 471 points in 2014, shattering the old school record of 430 points set in 2004, while allowing a mere 19.5 points per game, a figure that ranked 11th among FBS squads.
- The Tigers went +11 (31 takeaways/20 giveaways) in the turnover column in 2014, finishing the campaign ranked in both the AP Top 25 and in the USA Today/Amway Coaches Polls, a first in school history.
- Fuente's squad led Conference USA in total defense in league games in 2012, giving up just 331.6 ypg.
- The Tigers also excelled on special teams under Fuente as Tom Hornsey won the 2013 Ray Guy Award as the nation's top collegiate punter.

FCS ROOTS AT ILLINOIS STATE

- The composition of Fuente's current staff traces some key roots to his initial coaching assignment at Illinois State as three of his 10 assistants—Brad Cornelsen, Bill Teerlinck and Vance Vice—worked with him there.
- After beginning his tenure at Illinois State coaching quarterbacks in 2001, he added offensive coordinator duties to his assignment for his final three seasons with the Redbirds (2004-06).
- Under his direction in 2005, Illinois State ranked fifth in both total offense (477.6 ypg) and scoring (39.2 ppg) among FCS squads.

BUILDING THE BLUEPRINT AT TCU

- Earned a well-deserved reputation not only as a top recruiter, but also as one of football's most innovative offensive minds during a record-setting five-year stint on head coach Gary Patterson's staff at TCU (2007-11).
- It was also at TCU where Fuente began a track record of developing quarterbacks and preparing them for NFL futures.
- During his final three seasons as play caller, QBs coach and co-offensive coordinator at TCU from 2008-10, the Horned Frogs produced a 36-3 overall record and went on a 24-game win streak in the Mountain West Conference.
- From 2008-10, TCU was the only program in the country that finished in the Top 10 in both the AP Poll and USA Today Coaches Poll all three of those campaigns. TCU also made back-to-back appearances in BCS bowls with Fuente on the staff, registering a 2011 Rose Bowl victory over No. 5 Wisconsin.
- In 2010, TCU set single-season school marks in touchdowns (73), points scored (541), total offense (6,199 yards) and first downs (327).
- The Horned Frogs also ranked fourth nationally in scoring (41.6 ppg), sixth in passing efficiency (166.9), 10th in rushing (247.4 ypg) and 12th in total offense (476.9 ypg) in 2010.
- His prowess for mentoring quarterbacks garnered national attention as TCU QB Andy Dalton flourished under his tutelage. From 2009-10, Dalton led TCU to a 25-1 record and set the Mountain West career record for total offense (11,925 yards).
- TCU was the only school in the nation to have two different quarterbacks rank in the top 10 in the country in passing efficiency from 2009-11.
- After Dalton completed his career as TCU's career leader in virtually every passing category, QB Casey Pachall picked up where Dalton left off. In 2011, Pachall led TCU to an 11-2 mark, completing 66.5 percent of his throws (228 of 343) with 25 TDs and seven INTs.

1. Bruce Smith, the NFL's all-time sack leader, is a frequent gameday visitor in Blacksburg.

2. Tremaine Edmunds and Greg Stroman were among numerous alums attending the 2019 Spring Game.

3. Terrell Edmunds, Andrew Motuapuaka, Isaiah Ford, Greg Stroman and Tim Settle all signed NFL contracts after playing at Virginia Tech.

4. K Joey Slye is Tech's all-time leading scorer and enters his third season with the Carolina Panthers.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran offensive coordinator and QBs coach enters his sixth season at Virginia Tech in 2021.
- Under his direction, the Hokies have produced three of Tech's top four seasons for total offense over the past 25 years. Only the 1999 campaign (451.8 ypg) tops the 2016 (444.4), 2020 (440.7) and 2018 seasons (428.7).
- Tech's 7.7 yards-per-touch average in 2020 was the team's best mark since that stat began being tracked in 1996.
- VT set a school record, averaging 5.58 yards per carry in 2020, a mark that ranked fourth among Power Five squads.
- Tech led the ACC by averaging 240.1 rushing ypg in 2020, the team's best mark since the 2000 campaign, while VT's 27 rushing TDs were the school's most since 2010.
- Thanks to a tenacious blocking unit and the play of RB Khalil Herbert, who produced 1,182 rushing yards on the season, the Hokies amassed three games with 300+ team rushing yards in 2020. Tech previously owned a total of three 300-yard rushing games in nine seasons from 2011-19.
- The Hokies set a school single-season record for completion percentage (62.2) in 2020, while the three top seasons for passing yardage per game have also come under Cornelsen's guidance: 261.4 ypg in 2016, 253.8 ypg in 2018 and 239.5 ypg in 2017.
- Three of Tech's top seven team seasonal totals for TD passes have also come during Cornelsen's tenure - 31 in 2016, 29 in 2018 and 24 in 2019.
- Three of the top five seasonal marks for team first downs have come in the past five years for the Hokies: 330 in 2016, 290 in 2018 and 288 in 2017.
- QB Braxton Burmeister became the latest Tech quarterback to excel under Cornelsen's watch, producing a 3-1 record in four starts last season.
- Playing to the strengths of his players has also been a staple of Cornelsen's offenses at Tech. Versatile offensive weapons such as RB Raheem Blackshear, TE James Mitchell, as well as WRs Tre' Turner, Tayvion Robinson and Kaleb Smith all return in 2021.
- Three of the five best seasons for the fewest turnovers in Tech history have come since Cornelsen's arrival: 14 (2017 & 2020) and 16 in 2018.
- Three of the top five school marks for TD/INT ratio over the past 25 seasons have come in the past five campaigns: 3.88 (31 TDs/8 INTs in 2016), 3.00 (24 TDs/8 INTs in 2019) and 2.90 (29 TDs/10 INTs in 2018).
- Virginia Tech led the ACC and ranked sixth among Power Five squads with a 94.5 Red Zone scoring percentage in 2019. The Hokies scored on 52 of 55 Red Zone trips and posted a 71.2 Red Zone touchdown percentage.
- Has overseen three of the top four single-season receiving performances in school history - Isaiah Ford (1,094 yards in 2016) and Cam Phillips (983 in 2016 & 964 in 2017).
- Despite not entering the starting lineup until the season's third contest in 2018, QB Ryan Willis threw 24 TDs, a mark that tied as the second-best in school history.
- Under Cornelsen's direction, Virginia Tech tied or broke 10 offensive single-season records in 2016: points (490), total TDs (61), first downs (330), passing first downs (172), TD passes (31), total offense (6,223), completion pct. (62.1%), passing yards (3,660), pass completions (279) and total plays (1,087).
- Helped QB Jerod Evans register one of the most productive seasons of any quarterback in school annals in 2016. Evans set eight single-season school records, including total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546), TD passes (29), total TDs accounted for (41) and rush yards by a QB (846).
- Along with current Tech head coach Justin Fuente, helped take a Memphis program that had gone 3-21 in the two seasons prior to their arrival to a squad that went 19-7 and earned back-to-back bowl berths in 2014-15.
- During his final two campaigns for the Tigers, QB Paxton Lynch completed 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 TDs and 13 INTs (147.9 rating).

- By contrast, in the three seasons (2009-11) prior to Lynch's arrival at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 5-31 record, threw for 7,182 yards with 37 TDs and 36 INTs.
- Under Cornelsen's tutelage in 2015, Lynch threw for 3,776 yards, with 28 touchdowns and only four interceptions. He tied an FBS record with seven touchdown passes in the first half of Memphis' 63-0 victory over SMU.
- In 2015, Memphis finished 11th nationally in scoring offense (40.2 ppg). The Tigers also converted 48.8 percent (101 of 207) on third down to rank eighth in the FBS.
- In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and scored 60 TDs on the ground, producing 11 games with 200 or more net rushing yards.
- The Tigers set a school record for points in consecutive seasons (993 in 2014-15) and boasted a +19 turnover differential (53 takes/34 gives) over that timeframe.
- In 2014, Lynch guided the Tigers to a Miami Beach Bowl win over BYU. Lynch was the MVP after throwing four TDs and running for three more TDs, tying an FBS record for touchdowns responsible for in a bowl game.
- In 2011, Northeastern State receiver Trey McVay became a first-team All-America pick, catching 82 passes for 1,533 yards. His 16-catch, 425-yard performance vs. Harding set an NCAA single-game record at any level.
- In 2005, Cornelsen helped Laurent Robinson become an All-America selection. His 292-yard game against Indiana State in 2005 still stands as a conference record.
- Spent the spring of 2001 at NW Missouri State working as a graduate assistant under College Football Hall of Fame head coach Mel Tjeerdsma before taking a similar role at Oklahoma State in the fall.
- His father, Bruce, two uncles and several cousins comprise a Cornelsen coaching family tree that has been synomyous with successful football at the college and high school levels in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- First NCAA Division II quarterback to pass for at least 4,000 yards and rush for at least 2,000 yards during his career at Missouri Southern State from 1995-98.
- Missouri Southern State Athletics Hall of Fame (2014).
- Was on the same Oklahoma roster as current Tech head coach Justin Fuente in the 1995 Oil Bowl, an annual Oklahoma vs. Texas high school summer all-star game.
- Earned Oklahoma all-state honors in football, basketball and track at Texhoma High School.

JUSTIN HAMILTON

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR & SAFETIES COACH

@Coach_Ham

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia Tech alum enters his second season as defensive coordinator/safeties coach in 2021.
- Began working with Justin Fuente and the Tech program as director of player development – defense upon his return to Blacksburg in 2018 before being promoted to safeties coach in February 2019 and adding defensive coordinator duties to his responsibilities in 2020.
- "His voice carries tremendous weight on the field and in the locker room because he's worn that helmet and experienced many of the same things the young men in our program are going through," said Fuente upon promoting Hamilton to his current post.
- Hamilton owns a varied background as a collegiate coach with expertise as a defensive coordinator, in addition to experience coaching special teams and linebackers, as well as a background as a strength and conditioning coordinator.
- Leads a Virginia Tech defensive staff that includes three other former Hokies' players - J.C. Price (co-defensive line coach/defensive recruiting coordinator), Pierson Prioleau (director of player development – defense) and Jack Tyler (linebackers).
- The Clintwood, Virginia native served as a versatile player for Frank Beamer, Bud Foster and the Hokies from 2002-05. He spent time working at running back, wide receiver and defensive back for Tech, in addition to playing a prominent role on special teams before going on to play in the National Football League.
- Hamilton is also highly respected by high school coaches across the region, having developed valuable relationships during his previous coaching stops in Virginia and during his tenure at Tech.
- If the assignment of following in the footsteps of Foster as defensive coordinator wasn't a big enough assignment, Hamilton's initial season in that role came amidst a global pandemic that scrapped Tech's 2020 spring practices and drastically altered the team's personnel on an almost daily basis during the fall.
- Despite missing the first two contests of the 2020 season himself and being forced to practice and play with a depleted roster, by season's end Tech's defense showed reasons for optimism, closing the year with a convincing 33-15 win vs. Virginia to reclaim the Commonwealth Cup.
- The Hokies forced 12 interceptions in 2020, just two off the ACC's top mark of 14 (Pitt, Clemson).
- Played a role in the development of a pair of former high school QBs – CB Caleb Farley and S Divine Deablo – who both benefitted from Hamilton's tutelage and were selected in the 2021 NFL Draft as defensive backs. Both players began their Tech careers playing wide receiver before blossoming in the secondary for the Hokies.
- Hamilton served as Deablo's position coach the past two seasons as he racked up 139 tackles (74 solo), 6.5 TFL, five INTs, 11 passes defensed, two forced fumbles and a fumble return touchdown before being selected in the third-round of the 2021 Draft by Las Vegas.
- A young Virginia Tech defense continued to grow in 2019, in large part due to the play of the Hokies' safeties and Hamilton's influence.
- During the final five regular season games of 2019 Tech forced 31 three-and-outs and allowed 15.4 points per game.
- The Hokies become the first ACC team to post back-to-back shutouts against Power Five foes since 1978, racking up a 45-0 win at Georgia Tech (11/16/19) and a 28-0 win vs. Pitt (11/23/19).
- Tech led the ACC and ranked sixth among Power Five schools in Red Zone defense in 2019 (94.5 scoring pct.), allowing 37 TDs and forcing 15 FGs on 55 opponent Red Zone possessions.
- Tech safeties Divine Deablo and Reggie Floyd were two of the squad's most productive players under Hamilton's direction in 2019, combining for 153 total tackles.
- LB Allan Crastenberg helped anchor VMI's defense under Hamilton's tutelage. Crastenberg earned Second-Team All-Southern Conference honors in 2017 after leading the Keydets with 118 tackles (57 solo) and registering three INTs with one TD.
- Another one of Hamilton's pupils, LB Ryan Francis, played a key role for VMI in 2017. Francis ranked second on the squad with 103 tackles (50 solo), while adding 2.5 sacks and 10.0 TFL.
- KR Mason Dermott earned Second-Team All-Southern Conference honors under Hamilton's guidance in 2016 after leading the Southern Conference with 978 combined kickoff and punt return yards. Dermott ranked second in the league with a 23.2-yard kickoff return average.
- With Hamilton serving as defensive coordinator in 2012, UVA-Wise held five opponents to 24 points or fewer, including a 24-21 OT win over nationally-ranked Bethel College.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Adam Lechtenberg enters his fifth season in Blacksburg in 2021 and his second as running backs coach. He added offensive recruiting coordinator duties to his responsibilities this season as he continues to work directly with head coach Justin Fuente and the staff on Tech's recruiting and roster management duties.
- Assists Fuente with managing all aspects of Tech's roster from scholarship allocation to directing the team's walk-on program.
- Made an immediate impact for the Hokies in his initial season as Tech's running backs coach in 2020.
- In 2020, Virginia Tech set a single-season school record by averaging 5.58 yards per carry, a mark that ranked fourth in the nation among Power Five teams.
- Transfer RB Khalil Herbert thrived under Lechtenberg's tutelage and produced prolific numbers running behind Tech's offensive line.
- Herbert ranked second in the ACC, averaging 107.5 rushing ypg, while his 1,791 all-purpose yards ranked third in the nation. His school-record 357 all-purpose yards at Duke (10/10/21) were the top single-game total of any Power Five player in the country in 2020.

- Tech racked up 27 rushing TDs as a team in 2020, the squad's best total in over a decade, while the Hokies averaged an ACC-best 240.1 rushing ypg on the season. That rushing mark was Tech's best since racking up 270.5 ypg in 2000.
- The Hokies averaged 440.7 ypg of total offense in 2020, the third-best mark amassed by Tech over the past 25 seasons, while VT's 7.7 yards-per-touch average in 2020 was the club's best mark in a quarter century.
- Lechtenberg originally joined Virginia Tech in 2017 as director of player development and later served as Tech's assistant head coach/executive director of player development in 2018-19.
- Veteran offensive mind has previously worked as a co-offensive coordinator, in addition to coaching wide receivers and quarterbacks at the collegiate level.
- Virginia Tech led the ACC and ranked sixth among Power Five squads with a 94.5 Rec Zone scoring percentage in 2019. The Hokies scored on 52 of 55 Red Zone trips and posted a 71.2 Red Zone touchdown percentage.
- During his tenure working with Fuente at Memphis from 2012-15, Lechtenberg served as director of player personnel and acted as a liaison between the football program and academics, admissions and housing.
- Lechtenberg oversaw the Tigers' walk-on program that made a substantial impact on the on-field turnaround at Memphis under Fuente. In total, 11 of his walk-ons eventually earned scholarships at Memphis, while 23 made major contributions.
- Spent the 2016 season as passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach at the University of Tennessee at Martin as the Skyhawks ranked second in the Ohio Valley Conference in scoring (32.2 ppg).
- During the 2016 campaign five members of his receiving corps hauled in 25 receptions or more and six different WRs registered a TD catch.
- In addition to his on-field coaching duties at Tennessee Martin, his recruiting territory included Alabama, Tennessee and junior colleges.
- During his stint as co-offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Central Connecticut State from 2010-11 the Blue Devils boasted one of the Northeast Conference's most potent offenses.
- In 2011, the Blue Devils led the conference and ranked 10th in the FCS in third-down conversions (45.7%). The team led the NEC and tied for fifth nationally in fewest sacks allowed (8.0), while ranking third in the conference in rushing (192.7 ypg).
- In 2010, Central Connecticut State earned a share of the NEC title with a 7-1 league record. The Blue Devils led the conference in scoring (30.2 ppg), total offense (399.5 ypg) and rushing (212.5 ypg).
- Recruited the all-time leading rusher in Central Connecticut State history, RB Rob Holloman, who ran for 3,672 yards with 30 TDs from 2012-14 and also caught 82 passes for 773 yards with two TDs.
- The Butte, Nebraska native earned his initial Power Five coaching opportunity as an offensive graduate assistant working with Fuente at TCU from 2007-09.
- Spent two seasons coaching wide receivers at NCAA Division II Wayne State University, where he recruited the all-time leading receiver in school history, WR Logan Masters. Masters caught 188 passes for 2,969 yards with 19 TDs.
- Began his coaching career serving as a high school defensive coordinator in Kansas upon his college graduation.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- A team captain and a third-team All-America selection for the Hokies as a senior in 1995, Price returns to Blacksburg as co-defensive line coach/defensive recruiting coordinator in 2021.
- The Dunkirk, Maryland native is back at his alma mater after spending the past nine seasons at Marshall University, most recently serving as co-defensive coordinator/defensive line coach (2019-20).
- Named the Conference USA Recruiter of the Year in 2015, Price was part of seven Marshall squads that earned bowl berths, the 2014 Conference USA championship, as well three C-USA East Division titles.
- Marshall led the nation in scoring defense (13.0 ppg) in 2020, while ranking second in total defense (279.4 ypg), fourth in rushing defense (95.5 ypg) and 11th in pass defense (183.9 ypg) en route to a berth in the Conference USA Championship Game.
- "First and foremost, we're excited to welcome J.C. and his family back to Blacksburg," head coach Justin Fuente said. "J.C. played an integral role in establishing Tech's winning tradition and helping the Hokies earn a place on the national stage. We're not only adding a coach who owns nearly two decades of coaching experience, but J.C. also brings another talented recruiter to our ranks."
- The Herd earned bowl appearances in each of Price's final four seasons at Marshall. The 2018 defense ranked eighth in the nation, racking up 42.0 sacks.
- Price was named The Conference USA Recruiter of the Year by Scout.com for his contribution to the Thundering Herd's 2016 recruiting class.
- Marshall's 2015 squad went 10-3 and finished the season with a St. Petersburg Bowl win as the defense totaled 30.0 sacks and 101 QB hurries. Price helped develop DT Jarquez Samuel into an All-Conference USA second-team selection.
- The Herd won the 2014 Conference USA title, finishing the season with a 13-1 record with their only setback coming in a 67-66 OT loss vs. Western Kentucky (11/28/14). Marshall's defense racked up 38.0 sacks that season to tie for 16th among FBS squads.
- With Price coaching Marshall's defensive tackles, The Herd went 10-4 in 2013 and reached the Conference USA Championship Game.
- Price joined Marshall after an eight-season stint at James Madison University (2004-11). The Dukes won the 2004 FCS National Championship and made the FCS Playoffs on four other occasions during his tenure.
- Among notable star pupils at JMU, Price coached DE Arthur Moats who won the Buck Buchanan Award in 2009 as the nation's top FCS defensive player before enjoying a successful eight-year NFL career.
- Thanks to Price's defensive line, JMU led the nation in sacks twice (2004, 2006) and finished in the top three 10 times. The Dukes' 57.0 sacks in 2004 were a single-season FCS record. JMU produced an FCS-best 47.0 sacks in 2006.
- During his tenure as a graduate assistant at Tech (2002-03), Price worked hands on with future NFL performers such as DE Darryl Tapp and DT Jonathan Lewis.
- Price is married to the former Jenny Root, who was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2007. A standout for the women's basketball program, her 1,582 career points still rank as the fifth-highest total in Hokies' history.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- A third-round pick of the Carolina Panthers in the 1996 NFL Draft.
- Spent time with the Arizona Cardinals in 1996-97 where his defensive line coach was Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee, Joe Greene before a back injury curtailed his playing career.
- A four-year starter who captained Tech's 1995 BIG EAST championship team. After beginning that 1995 season with an 0-2 record, the Hokies rattled off 10 straight wins culminating with a 28-10 win vs. Texas in the Sugar Bowl.
- Earned third-team All-America honors from AP following the 1995 season, as well as first-team All-BIG EAST honors after recording 104 tackles and a team-high 15.0 TFL, as well as 8.0 sacks.
- In Price's final three seasons, Tech went 27-9 with two bowl wins.
- Played in 41 career games for the Hokies, finishing his career with 256 tackles (125 solo), 30.0 TFL and 17.0 sacks (-118.0 yards).
- A second-team All-Metro selection by the Washington Post as a senior at Northern High School. Was named the Calvert County's most outstanding athlete and was the conference player of the year.
- Also played center on his prep basketball squad that was the state runner-up.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Regarded as one of the nation's top special teams coaches, Shibest enters his sixth season serving as special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Virginia Tech.
- Based on proprietary data provided by SportsSource Analytics, Tech's overall special teams units rank fifth among FBS squads since the start of the 2017 season.
- Over the past three seasons, SportsSource Analytics ranks the Hokies as having the top kickoff coverage unit in the nation under Shibest's direction.
- Shibest's reputation for developing some of college football's top specialists has been further solidified during his tenure in Blacksburg.
- P Oscar Bradburn finished his career at Tech owning the school's career record (43.5 avg.). In 2019, Bradburn was a Ray Guy Award semifinalist and set a single-season school record with a 46.5-yard average.
- Current Carolina Panthers K Joey Slye (2016-17) played his final two seasons under Shibest, departing Tech with school career records for scoring (403 points) and made FGs (78).
- Slye led all ACC kickers and set a single-season Tech record for a kicker with 118 points in 2016, as he hit 20 of 27 FGs (74.1%) and converted 58 PATs.
- K Brian Johnson followed Slye and concluded his career with 293 points to rank sixth in Tech annals, while his three made FGs from 50+ yards in 2020 set a school record.
- Tech's return game has also flourished under Shibest. RB Khalil Herbert averaged 26.9 yards per kickoff return in 2020, the fifth-best mark for a VT player over the past 25 seasons.
- TE James Mitchell has continued Tech's standard of exemplary tight end play under Shibest, scoring 11 total TDs over the past two seasons. He is the latest in a lineage of players at that position that includes NFL draftees Dalton Keene and Bucky Hodges.
- K John Parker Romo has registered 84 touchbacks as Tech's kickoff specialist over the past two seasons.
- Tech hasn't surrendered a touchdown on a punt or kickoff return over the past two seasons, while the punt coverage has downed 36 punts inside the 20 over that span.
- Added another chapter to Tech's legacy of special teams excellence in 2018, scoring two TDs on blocked punts.
- Tech ranked sixth among FBS squads in 2018, permitting only 350 combined punt and kickoff return yards.
- Was named the 2017 Special Teams Coach of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Tech's special teams enjoyed a phenomenal season in 2017, tying for the FBS lead with five blocked punts and tying for second in the nation with eight total blocked kicks.
- The Hokies led all Power Five squads in 2017 by permitting 335 combined punt and kickoff return yards. Tech ranked fifth in the nation, registering 59 touchbacks on kickoffs, while only two teams permitted fewer KO returns.
- The Hokies' punt return team ranked second among FBS squads with 413 punt return yards in 2017, including a pair of TDs by CB Greg Stroman.
- In 2016, Tech blocked a punt and three field goals, while returning both a punt and a blocked field goal for touchdowns.
- His 2015 Memphis squad ranked seventh in the country in overall special teams efficiency via Football Outsiders, while his 2014 unit was the best in the FBS according to ESPN.
- Memphis was the only collegiate program to have a semifinalist for both the Ray Guy Award and the Lou Groza Award in 2014.
- A three-time Groza Award semifinalist, K Jake Elliott connected on 76.9 percent (60 of 78) of his FGs under Shibest with eight makes from 50 or more yards, including a school-record 56-yard FG at South Florida (11/16/13).
- Memphis ranked fourth among FBS squads in punt coverage in 2014, allowing 2.77 yards per return.
- Memphis WR Keiwone Malone concluded his collegiate career with a school-record 83 punt returns for 716 yards, a figure that ranked as the fourth-highest tally in school history.
- In 2013, Shibest coached the nation's best punter, Tom Hornsey, who earned the Ray Guy Award and ranked seventh nationally with a 45.2-yard average.
- Memphis led Conference USA in kickoff coverage with a net average of 42.6 yards in 2013.
- TE Alan Cross led Memphis with five TD catches in 2012 and was named to the All-Conference USA Freshman Team.
- Spent four seasons at Ole Miss, where he coached an NCAA statistical champion, four All-SEC honorees and two freshman award winners highlighted Shibest's special teams accomplishments.
- Tutored the top two kick returners in Ole Miss history in Mike Wallace and Jesse Grandy.
- In 2011, the Rebels ranked second nationally and led the SEC in punt returns with a 15.6-yard average.
- K Joshua Shene wrapped up his career at Ole Miss second in career scoring (310), field goals (57), field goal attempts (75), PATs made (139) and PATs attempted (142).
- In his first season with the Rebels in 2008, Shibest was honored as the Special Teams Coordinator of the Year by FootballScoop.com.
- Shibest groomed running back Felix Jones into the SEC Special Teams Player of the Year at Arkansas in 2007.
- Spent eight seasons at Arkansas (2000-07), where he coached special teams and had stints tutoring tight ends (2000-01, 2006-07) and receivers (2002-05).
- Led Butler County (Kansas) Community College to a four-year record of 34-10 and back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) championships in 1998 and 1999.
- Named the NJCAA Coach of the Year both seasons, and he also earned Jayhawk Conference Coach of the Year honors in 1996 and 1998.
- During his tenure at Butler County, Shibest coached 19 NJCAA All-Americans and 34 NCAA Division I signees, including Ricky Hall who registered 12 touchdowns for Tech in 1998-99 as a receiver and return man.
- In two seasons at Garden City (Kansas) Community College he helped the Broncbusters to a 10-1 record in 1994 and a 9-2 mark in 1995 with an offense that ranked sixth in the NJCAA.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Prep All-American receiver at Houston's MacArthur High School earned All-Southwest Conference honors at Arkansas in 1984 and 1986, amassing a then-school-record 1,920 receiving yards on 97 receptions, including 10 touchdowns.

RYAN SMITH

CORNERBACKS/ PASSING GAME COORDINATOR

@Coach_Smitty

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Virginia native enters his second season with the Hokies in 2021. Added passing game coordinator to his responsibilities to his duties in 2021, in addition to serving as Tech's cornerbacks coach.
- In September 2020 he was one of only two ACC staffers to be named to the 30 Under 30 list of rising college football stars compiled by 247Sports.
- Coaches a cornerbacks room at Tech that has historically sent talented performers to the NFL, the latest of whom was CB Caleb Farley, who was selected in the first round of the 2021 NFL Draft by the Tennessee Titans.
- With Tech's secondary quickly depleted of anticipated starters in 2020, CB Dorian Strong quickly rose to the occasion under Smith's tutelage. Strong made rapid strides during the season and earned a spot on the True Freshman All-America Team of 247Sports.
- With defensive coordinator Justin Hamilton unavailable for Tech's 2020 season opener due to COVID-19 protocols, Smith assumed the defensive signal caller duties the morning of the game and helped lead the Hokies to a 45-24 win vs. NC State (9/26/20).
- Smith arrived in Blacksburg after coaching the safeties for a James Madison squad that earned a berth in the 2019 FCS National Championship Game.
- James Madison finished the 2019 season with a 14-2 record and boasted one of the nation's stingiest defenses at the FCS level last season. The Dukes' only losses came by a 20-13 margin at West Virginia (8/31) and in the FCS Championship Game vs. eight-time FCS title winners, North Dakota State.
- JMU ranked first in total defense (264.7 ypg), second in third-down percentage (29.0) and third in scoring defense (14.9 ppg).
- James Madison also tied for seventh in the nation with 17 interceptions, 13 of which came from Smith's safeties in 2019.
- "We're excited to add another talented coach to our staff in Ryan Smith," head coach Justin Fuente said. "As a collegiate player he was groomed for a future in our profession by head coach Jimmye Laycock at William & Mary. He played the cornerback position for Coach Laycock and he was born and raised in Virginia. Ryan has grown at each stop of his coaching career and he's earned the opportunity to join us at Virginia Tech. He'll be a good fit with Coach Hamilton and the rest of our defensive staff."
- Smith is among a long lineage of current coaches who played under Laycock at William & Mary, a distinguished group that includes current NFL head coaches Mike Tomlin (Pittsburgh) and Sean McDermott (Buffalo).
- "I'm honored to accept this opportunity to coach at a place like Virginia Tech," Smith said. "I grew up admiring the Hokies playing hard-hitting defense and being opportunistic on special teams. To have an opportunity to help carry on that tradition under Coach Fuente is truly a blessing. I can't wait to be on the sideline at Lane Stadium and feel the passion of the fans as Hokie Nation starts jumping."
- Smith spent the 2017-18 seasons coaching the secondary at Elon University, where Greg Liggs, Jr. earned second-team All-CAA status. Former Army running back Tyler Campbell switched to defensive back and was a third-team All-CAA selection at Elon in 2018.
- Campbell, Liggs and Connor Christiansen were three of the league's best defensive backs in 2018. Liggs and Christiansen tied for third in the CAA with four interceptions apiece in 2018. Liggs was also third in passes defended (13) and tied for fourth in fumble recoveries (two). Christiansen began his career at Elon as a quarterback in 2015-16.
- DB Chris Blair earned third-team All-CAA accolades under Smith's tutelage in 2017.
- Worked two seasons at Penn State, serving as a defensive graduate assistant where he was part of a 2016 squad that won the Big Ten Championship, earned a berth in the Rose Bowl and finished 11-3 overall.
- Penn State's defense picked off 10 passes and broke up 60 more in 2015.
- Helped develop four Penn State players who earned NFL contracts: S Jordan Lucas, S Marcus Allen, CB Trevor Williams and S Troy Apke.
- Earned his bachelor's degree in process management from the College of William and Mary and a master's degree in educational leadership from Penn State University
- Smith's mother, Penelope, served as a Senior Chief in the U.S. Navy. He traveled the world with his mother as a youth when her duty stations included stops in Virginia, Maryland, California, Florida, Iceland, Panama and Guam.

- Worked at both linebacker and safety during his career, in addition to serving as a key special teams contributor.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Talented eight-year NFL coaching veteran Bill Teerlinck was reunited with Justin Fuente in the collegiate ranks as Virginia Tech's defensive line coach in 2020 and begins his second season with the Hokies in 2021.
- The relationship between Fuente and Teerlinck dates back to 2005-06 when the duo both served as assistant coaches on Denver Johnson's staff at Illinois State.
- Teerlinck's addition to the Tech staff paid immediate dividends in 2020 as DE Amare' Barno made the transition from linebacker during fall camp. Barno finished the season with 16.0 TFL to lead the ACC and rank third among all Power Five players. He also tied for the team lead with 6.5 sacks, while adding 43 tackles (28 solo).
- Veteran performers DT Jarrod Hewitt (8.5 TFL, 5.5 sacks) and DE Justus Reed (9.0 TFL, 6.5 sacks) also excelled under Teerlinck in 2020.
- Teerlinck came to Tech after helping lead a Buffalo defense that was simply stifling in 2019 as the Bills ranked in the NFL's top 10 in seven key defensive categories: scoring defense (2nd - 16.2 ppg), total defense (3rd - 298.3 ypg), pass defense (4th - 195.2 ypg), first downs allowed (6th - 262), third-down pct. (7th - 35.8), rushing defense (10th - 103.1 ypg) and sacks (10th - 44.0).
- Worked under the direction of head coach Sean McDermott and defensive coordinator Leslie Frazier in Buffalo, a duo with a long track record of producing opportunistic defenses.
- Buffalo's defensive front under Teerlinck's tutelage was arguably one of the NFL's toughest units as DE Jerry Hughes produced 15.5 sacks over the past three seasons.
- DT Jordan Phillips enjoyed the best season of his six-year NFL tenure under Teerlinck in 2019, racking up a career-high 9.5 sacks.
- Rookie DT Ed Oliver flourished under Teerlinck's guidance in 2019, racking up 5.0 sacks in his initial pro season.
- Teerlinck worked alongside longtime NFL defensive line coach Mike Waufle in 2017 and assumed sole jurisdiction of Buffalo's defensive line unit following Waufle's retirement after the 2017 season.
- Prior to returning to the NFL ranks, Teerlinck spent four seasons at the University of Nevada (2012-14), serving as co-defensive coordinator/defensive line coach for his final two campaigns.
- During his tenure with the Wolf Pack, Brock Hekking earned All-Mountain West first-team honors after leading the league with 9.0 sacks in 2013.
- He joins Justin Hamilton and J.C. Price as other members of Tech's current defensive staff who own previous collegiate experience as a defensive coordinator.
- The son of longtime NFL defensive line coach the late John Teerlinck, the younger Teerlinck began his NFL career coaching career with the Indianapolis Colts as a defensive assistant (2007-11).
- Working with the Colts' defensive front, DEs Dwight Freeney and Robert Mathis combined for four Pro Bowl berths as Teerlinck also assisted the Colts on special teams during his time in Indianapolis.
- During his tenure in Indianapolis, the Colts won the AFC title and earned a berth in Super Bowl XLIV following the 2009 season under head coach Jim Caldwell.
- He began his career with the Colts working for Hall of Fame head coach Tony Dungy, who earned a reputation as one of the NFL's brightest defensive coordinators before ascending to the head coaching ranks.
- Teerlinck developed his passion for the game watching his father, who was a fifth-round draft choice of the San Diego Chargers as a defensive tackle in 1974.
- The elder Teerlinck enjoyed a 23-year NFL coaching career as his teams registered a 230-137-1 regular season record. In the process, he also earned three Super Bowl rings with Denver (XXXII, XXXIII) and Indianapolis (XLI).
- A collegiate linebacker at NCAA Division II Chadron State in Nebraska, the younger Teerlinck began his coaching career at Illinois State in 2005.

JACK TYLER

LINEBACKERS

@JackInTheBox58

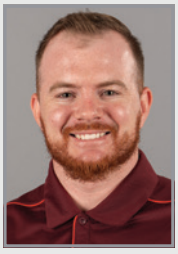

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Former Hokies' All-ACC linebacker was promoted to linebackers coach by head coach Justin Fuente in January 2021.
- Tyler had previously served in a variety of roles on Tech's defensive staff following his playing career, and moved into a role as one of the team's 10 full-time, on-field assistants in the spring of 2021.
- Moves into the linebacker coach role once held by his former defensive coordinator, position coach and longtime mentor, Bud Foster, who he worked closely with upon his return to Blacksburg.
- Is one of four former Tech alums working in full-time roles on the current defensive staff, joining Justin Hamilton (defensive coordinator/safeties), J.C. Price (co-defensive line/defensive recruiting coordinator) and Pierson Prioleau (director of player development – defense).
- With multiple members of the defensive staff unavailable due to COVID-19 protocols leading up to the squad's contest at Duke (10/3/20), Tyler wore multiple hats during the week and served as the defensive signal caller in a 38-31 victory.
- "Jack has earned this opportunity to take on a larger role with our team as our linebackers coach," Fuente said upon promoting Tyler. "Jack is a tireless worker who is passionate about the game and possesses a great love for Virginia Tech. During every step of his career, Jack has soaked up every ounce of knowledge about the game from his coaches and teammates. He's a very mature individual who has gained the trust and respect of our coaching staff and our players. I couldn't be more enthusiastic about the positive impact that I believe Jack will make in his new role with the Hokies."
- "I'm beyond grateful to Coach Fuente for placing his faith in me," Tyler said. "Even while I was still a student-athlete, my dream job was to someday coach the position I played at my alma mater. Virginia Tech has made such an unbelievable impact on my life and I really try to pay that forward every day. I also owe a huge debt of gratitude to Coach Foster, who saw the potential in me to someday become a coach. I can't thank Coach Fuente, Coach Foster, Coach Hamilton and the members of the current defensive staff, as well as Coach Claeys for entrusting me with more responsibilities over the years and serving as great mentors to me."
- Took a hands-on role assisting Tracy Claeys with the linebackers in 2020 and played an integral role for the Hokies as the availability of the coaching and playing roster often changed on a daily basis.
- Tech LBs Rayshard Ashby and Dax Hollifield have been among the numerous players who Tyler has aided in their development, utilizing his knowledge of the game, as well as his own personal experience playing to position to make players better.
- After serving a defensive internship at James Madison in 2015, returned to his alma mater as a student assistant in 2016 before eventually moving into a role as graduate assistant on defense for the 2017-18 campaigns. He then took on the role as defensive quality control coach in 2019 and 2020.
- The Virginia Player of the Year at Oakton High School as a senior in 2008, Tyler set a school record with 147 tackles before enrolling at Tech and redshirting in 2009.

PLAYING HIGHLIGHTS

- Two-year starter at Oklahoma State who saw duty at both defensive tackle and tight end.
- Blocked for a pair of Pro Football Hall of Fame running backs in Thurman Thomas and Barry Sanders.
- Was also a teammate of current Oklahoma State head coach, Mike Gundy (1986-89).

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Veteran offensive line coach enters his sixth season at Tech, where he has skillfully recruited and developed a versatile group of offensive linemen for the Hokies since his arrival.
- Another longtime associate of head coach Justin Fuente, their relationship dates back to 1999 when Vice served as offensive line coach at Murray State and Fuente was the Racers' quarterback.The duo later coached together at Illinois State before reuniting at Memphis.
- His tenacious blocking unit earned the monicker of the "Vice Squad" in 2020 after paving the way for one of the most productive rushing seasons in Tech history.
- VT set a school record, averaging 5.58 yards per carry in 2020, a mark that ranked fourth among Power Five squads.
- Tech led the ACC by averaging 240.1 rushing ypg in 2020, the team's best mark since the 2000 campaign, while VT's 27 rushing TDs were the school's most since 2010.
- RB Khalil Herbert produced 1,182 rushing yards on the season as the Hokies amassed three games with 300+ team rushing yards in 2020. Tech previously owned a total of three 300-yard rushing games in nine seasons from 2011-19.
- T Christian Darrisaw, whose only FBS scholarship offer was from Virginia Tech, blossomed into a first-round pick in the NFL Draft under Vice's watchful guidance in Blacksburg.
- Darrisaw started 12 games at left tackle as a true freshman in 2018 and only continued to improve. An All-ACC honorable mention selection in 2019, he developed into a consensus All-America second-team pick in 2020 and was the fourth offensive lineman off the board in the 2021 NFL Draft.
- Vice's blocking unit in 2020 also featured C Brock Hoffman and G Lecitus Smith, who were both named to the All-ACC honorable mention squad. Hoffman was twice named the ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week, while Smith earned a spot on the PFF College National Team of the Week after Tech put up 495 yards of total offense at UNC (10/10/20).
- After starting nine games at right tackle in 2020, T Luke Tenuta is anticipated to move to the left tackle spot and could also draw the eyes of NFL scouts. He was named to the PFF College National Team of the Week after Tech piled up 314 rushing yards in a 45-24 win vs. NC State (9/26/20).
- With Vice's unit providing protection, the Hokies have produced three of the top four seasons for total offense over the past 25 years at Tech. Only the 1999 campaign (451.8 ypg) tops the 2016 (444.4), 2020 (440.7) and 2018 seasons (428.7).
- Thanks to Vice's unit blocking for Tech passers, the top three seasons for passing yardage per game at Tech have come since his arrival: 261.4 ypg in 2016, 253.8 ypg in 2018 and 239.5 ypg in 2017.
- Vice led an extremely youthful group in 2019 with 90.8 percent (59 of 65) of the starts made by his unit coming from underclassmen. Redshirt juniors made the other six starts.
- Despite assembling a blocking unit with little starting experience, Vice's offensive front provided ample protection for QB Ryan Willis who threw 24 TDs in 2018, a mark that tied as the second-best in school history.
- G Wyatt Teller earned All-ACC First-Team honors under Vice's tutelage in 2017, while C Eric Gallo was an honorable mention pick.
- Under Vice's direction in 2016, G Augie Conte and T Jon McLaughlin both earned third-team All-ACC honors as Tech's offense set or tied 10 single-season school records. QB Jerod Evans also enjoyed a prolific campaign, setting single-season VT records for total offense (4,392), passing yards (3,546) and rushing yards by a QB (846).
- During his final two campaigns at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 19-7 record and allowed a conference-low 32.0 sacks, cutting that sack total in half compared to the 64.0 sacks Memphis allowed in the two years prior to his arrival in 2010-11. The Tigers also set a school record, scoring 993 points over that two-season period.
- The Tigers permitted a mere 17.0 sacks in 2015 as only nine teams in the Power Five permitted fewer. Memphis allowed 16.0 sacks in 2014, a total that ranked 15th among FBS squads.
- The rapid development of a blocking unit to protect QB Paxton Lynch allowed the Memphis passer to complete 64.8 percent (555 of 856) of his passes for 6,807 yards with 50 touchdowns and 13 interceptions, good for a 147.9 rating during the 2014-15 seasons. By contrast, Memphis registered only 24 TD passes during the 2010 and 2011 seasons combined.
- The Memphis ground game also prospered thanks to Vice's blocking unit. In 2014-15, the Tigers averaged 185.0 rushing ypg and recorded 60 rushing TDs after averaging 87.8 rushing ypg and scoring 15 rushing TDs in 2010-11.
- Vice and the offensive staff inherited a squad that averaged 84.0 rushing ypg in 2011. The only FBS program that ran for fewer yards per game was Miami (Ohio) at 73.8 ypg.
- Memphis scored 40.2 ppg to rank 11th among FBS squads in 2015, while coming in 18th in passing offense (307.5 ypg) and 19th in total offense (486.9 ypg).
- Prior to rejoining Fuente at Memphis, Vice spent three seasons at Louisiana-Monroe (2009-11) where his offensive front paved the way for 21 rushing scores in 2009 and 22 rushing TDs in 2011. The Warhawks amassed 392.3 ypg of total offense in 2009, the program's highest offensive output since joining the FBS.
- RB Frank Goodin finished 2009 with 1,126 rushing yards, good for the fourth-highest seasonal total in school history as Louisiana-Monroe averaged 183.9 rushing ypg.
- During Vice's four seasons at Utah State, a quartet of his offensive linemen earned All-Western Athletic Conference (WAC) honors including Ryan Tonnemacher who was a two-time Rimington Trophy Watch List nominee at center.
- Enjoyed a five-year stint at Illinois State as offensive line coach with additional responsibilities as assistant head coach.
- Three of Vice's linemen earned All-America honors and eight garnered All-Gateway Conference accolades at Illinois State. In 2003, the Redbirds established a school record with 248.1 rushing ypg and allowed just 5.0 sacks on 367 pass attempts, tying as the fifth-lowest tally among FCS squads.
- Spent three seasons as tight ends coach at Clemson under head coach Tommy West from 1996-98.
- Began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Ray Goff at Georgia before spending four seasons in the Georgia high school coaching ranks.

JAFAR WILLIAMS

WIDE RECEIVERS

@Jafar_Williams

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Former ACC wide receiver enters his third season as Tech's wide receivers coach in 2021.
- One of several other members of the current Tech coaching staff who once spent time on Denver Johnson's staff at Illinois State, including head coach Justin Fuente, as well as offensive coordinator/QBs coach Brad Cornelsen and offensive line coach Vance Vice.
- WR Tre Turner continued his development under Williams' tutelage in 2019, leading the squad with 34 receptions for 553 yards as a true sophomore.
- Turner registered two of Tech's individual 100-yard receiving games in 2019, racking up 106 yards vs. UNC (10/19/19) and 134 at Virginia (11/29/19). He also ran the ball 24 times for 231 yards with one TD.
- Williams was also instrumental in helping a pair of freshmen make immediate contributions for the Hokies a year ago. WR Tayvion Robinson tied for second on the squad with 31 receptions, registering 404 yards with one TD.
- Robinson earned a spot on the PFF College All-Freshman Team in 2019 as a punt returner after running back 13 punts for 185 yards (14.2 avg.). He also averaged 12.0 yards per carry as a runner.
- Redshirt freshman WR Kaleb Smith also made an immediate impact for Tech in 2019, catching four passes for 62 yards with a TD in his initial game on offense at Boston College (8/31/19).
- Thanks to Williams' receiving unit, Tech led the ACC and ranked sixth among Power Five squads with a 94.5 Red Zone scoring percentage in 2019. The Hokies scored on 52 of 55 Red Zone trips and posted a 71.2 Red Zone touchdown percentage.
- "I knew the qualities we wanted in an assistant coach and recruiter to fill this position," Fuente said upon hiring Williams in 2019. "Jafar possesses familiarity with our offensive philosophy, as well as our coaching style and expectations. Jafar has been through the recruiting process as a player and a student-athlete and has built solid relationships across our region. He has also paid his dues in the coaching ranks, gained experience in a variety of different positions during his career. We're excited about him joining our coaching staff at Virginia Tech."
- Williams arrived in Blacksburg after spending the 2018 campaign coaching running backs at his alma mater, the University of Maryland.
- During his coaching stint with the Terrapins he mentored a prolific rushing duo as Anthony McFarland (7.9) and Ty Johnson (7.7) ranked second and third respectively in the Big Ten in yards-per-carry average in 2018.
- Under Williams' tutelage, McFarland led Maryland in rushing with 131 carries for 1,034 yards, breaking the school's freshman rushing yardage record.
- Owning a diverse coaching background, Williams coached wide receivers at Rutgers in 2016-17. In 2016, WR Jawuan Harris led all Big Ten freshmen with 39 catches for 481 yards.
- As running backs coach at Purdue (2013-15), he helped RB Markell Jones set the school's freshman rushing record with 875 yards in 2015. His 72.9 yards-per-game rushing average ranked eighth in the Big Ten, while his 10 rushing TDs led the Boilermakers.
- In 2014, RB Akeem Hunt led Purdue with 949 rushing yards and ranked eighth in the Big Ten by averaging 79.1 rushing ypg under Williams' tutelage.
- After a one-year stint as special teams quality control coach for Pat Fitzgerald at Northwestern (2010), he spent two seasons as running backs coach at Kent State (2011-12). The Golden Flashes went 11-3 in 2012 and earned the MAC's East Division title with an 8-0 conference record.
- Williams coached one of the nation's most productive rushing duos in RBs Dri Archer and Traylon Durham, who combined to rush for 2,745 yards and 30 touchdowns for Kent State in 2012.
- Archer led Kent State with 1,429 rushing yards and also hauled in a team-high 39 receptions for 561 yards with four touchdowns, while returning 16 kickoffs for 591 yards with three TDs to earn consensus All-America honors.
- Durham finished with 1,316 rushing yards and 14 touchdowns, as the team ranked 18th nationally in rushing offense (225.8 ypg).
- In 2009, he coached wide receivers at Howard University, where WR Willie Carter earned second-team All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference acclaim after leading the Bison with 46 catches for 630 yards with a team-high six total TDs.
- Enjoyed a two-year stint as wide receivers coach at Illinois State (2007-08), where WR Eyad Salem earned first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference honors in 2008 after leading the squad with 63 catches for 843 yards and eight TDs.
- WR Jason Horton received second-team All-MVC accolades under his tutelage at Illinois State in 2017 after he and Salem combined for 71 catches for 1,037 yards and eight TD catches.
- Began his coaching career as passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach at Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania in 2005, helping guide the squad to its first-ever conference title.
- Graduated from Maryland with a degree in health and human performance.

FOOTBALL STAFF

JON TENUTA
SENIOR DEFENSIVE ANALYST

Head coach Justin Fuente added 40-year coaching veteran Jon Tenuta to Tech's staff in Feburary 2021 as senior defensive analyst. Tenuta owns 19 seasons of experience as defensive coordinator and has been associated with programs that have made 19 bowl appearances during his career. He has coached over 40 players who have gone on to play professionally.

Tenuta most recently spent the past four seasons at the University of Cincinnati. He served as a senior defensive analyst in 2020 after a three-year stint as safeties coach for the Bearcats from 2017-19.

Prior to his tenure at Cincinnati, Tenuta's lengthy resume includes coaching stops at Virginia (2013-15), NC State (2010-12), Notre Dame (2008-09), Georgia Tech (2002-07), Ohio State (1996-2000), Oklahoma (1995), SMU (1989-94), Kansas State (1988), Marshall (1987-88), Vanderbilt (1984-85), Maryland (1983) and Virginia (1981-82).

Fuente was a quarterback at Oklahoma when Tenuta coached the Sooners defensive backs in 1995.

In addition to Luke, Tenuta and his wife, Dori, have two other sons—Zach (married to Jennifer) and Matt. Zach serves as the defensive coordinator at Norfolk State University. Matt is a professional baseball player and is currently with the Monterrey Sultans.

PIERSON PRIOLEAU
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT—DEFENSE

Pierson Prioleau returned to Blacksburg in June 2019 as Director of Player Development – Defense. A first-team All-BIG EAST selection and a team captain for Frank Beamer as a senior in 1998, Prioleau played an integral role in helping Tech establish itself as a national football power in the 1990s. A four-year letterwinner for the Hokies, the Alvin, South Carolina native enjoyed a 12-year NFL career and earned a Super Bowl XLIV ring with the New Orleans Saints.

Prioleau served as defensive coordinator at Radford High School since his retirement from the NFL in 2011. He has also worked as a health and physical education instructor at Belle Heth Elementary School in Radford since 2015. He owns a degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Virginia Tech. He also participated in the NFL Business Management and Entrepreneurial Program at Northwestern University in 2006 and served a Bill Walsh Minority Coaching Fellowship with the St. Louis Rams in 1994.

Inducted as part of the ACC Football Legends Class of 2012, Prioleau was a three-year starter for Beamer and Bud Foster, totaling 237 career tackles and had two kick return touchdowns. He was named first-team All-Big East as a junior in 1997 and earned third-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. As a senior, he led a defense that was first in the BIG EAST in scoring defense, allowing just 12.9 points per game.

A fourth-round selection of the San Francisco 49ers in the 1999 NFL Draft, Prioleau played in 160 career regular season games (50 starts) with San Francisco (1999-00), Buffalo (2001-04), Washington (2005-07), Jacksonville (2008) and New Orleans (2009-10), accumulating 446 total tackles (348 solo), one interception, one safety and four fumble recoveries. Prioleau earned a Super Bowl ring as part of the Saints squad that won Super Bowl XLIV following the 2009 season.

He and his wife, Alicia, are parents of sons PJ, Pace and Parker.

JOSH BOST
SENIOR DIRECTOR, FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Josh Bost was promoted to the role of senior director, football operations in 2021 after serving as Virginia Tech's director of football video and technology for the past five seasons under head coach Justin Fuente. In his new role, Bost assists Fuente and the football staff with the myriad of daily logistics and budget items associated with a Power Five football program.

In addition to coordinating team travel, team calendars and schedules, Bost works closely with all support areas that touch football, including sports medicine, sports nutrition, strength and conditioning, as well as academics and other campus entities. He also assists the recruiting and personnel staff in coordinating camps and other events involving prospects and their families.

In his previous role at Tech, he managed all facets of the football video department. Bost came to Blacksburg from Memphis, where he had worked on Justin Fuente's staff as the video coordinator since August 2013.

Prior to working at Memphis, Bost worked at North Texas for nine years as the director of video operations. He graduated from Middle Tennessee State in 2003 and worked in that office as both a student and graduate assistant before moving to North Texas.

Bost and wife, Holly, have two children—a son, Micah, and a daughter, Lizzie.

MARK DIETHORN
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Mark Diethorn (pronounced DEE-thorn) enters his fourth season at his alma mater. Previously, he spent six seasons at Pitt as director of recruiting.

The Belle Vernon, Pennsylvania native began his tenure at Pitt as a recruiting assistant in 2012. He took on additional responsibilities when Pat Narduzzi was named head coach in 2015 when he was promoted to director of recruiting. In that role he was responsible for planning and executing all prospect visits, as well as planning and executing all aspects of Pitt's recruiting and personnel strategy. Following his promotion by Narduzzi, the Panthers signed their best recruiting class in eight years according to Rivals and ESPN.

Diethorn served as a scouting and player personnel intern with the Pittsburgh Steelers during their 2017 training camp. Under the direction of general manager Kevin Colbert, Diethorn evaluated college prospects for the Steelers' player personnel department. While at Pitt he played a role in helping acquire 24 players who would go on to play in the National Football League. That group includes NFL Draft draftees such as WR Tyler Boyd, RB James Conner, G Dorian Johnson, DB Avonte Maddox, QB Nathan Peterman, T Brian O'Neill and DB Jordan Whitehead.

Prior to his stint at Pitt, Diethorn worked as a football recruiting assistant at the University of Florida from 2009-10. He assisted the Gators' coaching staff during recruiting periods and handling campus visits, in addition to managing Florida's recruiting database. He contributed to the signing of two top-12 recruiting classes, including the Gators' 2010 class that was ranked No. 1 nationally by Scout and ESPN.

Diethorn holds a Master's degree in sport management from Florida and an MBA from Pitt. He earned his B.S. in business information technology from Virginia Tech in 2007 and also owns experience working in the private sector, including an appointment as a business analyst for PNC Financial Group.

BEAU DAVIDSON

DIRECTOR OF RECRUITING

Beau Davidson enters his fourth season at Virginia Tech and his first as director of recruiting. The Katy, Texas native has been instrumental in helping the Hokies land numerous players from his home state, as well as other talented performers from across the country. Davidson was promoted to his new post in May 2021 after serving as assistant director of player personnel in 2020. He spent his first two years at Virginia Tech as an offensive quality control coach, working closely with Vance Vice and the offensive line.

Davidson spent the 2017 season at Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Texas. From 2010-16 he served in the Texas high school coaching ranks, working in a variety of coaching roles in addition to teaching chemistry and special education classes. In 2009, he served as defensive line coach at Northeastern State University where current Tech offensive coordinator Brad Cornelsen worked in the same capacity. Davidson's resume also includes a stint at Trinity Valley Community College in 2008 after serving as a graduate assistant at his alma mater of North Texas in 2007.

A three-year letterman for the Mean Green, Davidson played tight end and served as a long snapper at North Texas. He prepped at Katy High School in Katy, Texas where he played defensive end and tight end in addition to his work as a long snapper. Davidson's father, Greg, also played at North Texas before serving as a center for the Houston Oilers (1980-82).

Davidson and his wife, Leandra, are the parents of two daughters—Kate and Emma.

JERON GOUVEIA-WINSLOW

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Jeron Gouveia-Winslow returned to Blacksburg in 2020 as assistant director of player personnel. He joins a notable list of other former Tech players already serving in various capacities on the football staff for the Hokies. The Ashburn, Virginia native played at Tech from 2009-12 and started at whip linebacker his final three seasons under head coach Frank Beamer and defensive coordinator Bud Foster.

In 40 career games for the Hokies, he posted 80 total tackles, three INTs, three forced fumbles and two passes defensed. He returned an interception for a 24-yard TD in Tech's 44-33 win over Florida State in the 2010 ACC Championship Game and captained the defense and special teams as a senior in 2012.

Gouveia-Winslow began his coaching career in 2014 at Stone Bridge HS where he was the defensive backs coach, before heading to the University of Hawaii where he was a defensive line intern the following year, where he coached alongside his father, Kurt Gouveia, who earned a pair of Super Bowl rings as a linebacker with Washington. Prior to returning to Tech, he had been a member of the coaching staff at Brevard College since 2017 where he most recently held the title of assistant head coach/special teams coordinator/safeties coach.

Gouveia-Winslow and his wife, Amanda, are the parents of daughters Finley and Logan.

KYSHOEN JARRETT

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Kyshoen Jarrett returned to Virginia Tech as assistant director of player personnel in 2021. A team captain for the Hokies in 2014, Jarrett was a sixth-round selection of Washington in the 2015 NFL Draft. Jarrett led the Hokies with 88 tackles (52 solo) and three INTs as a senior in 2014. He saw duty in a total of 53 games in a Tech uniform, finishing his collegiate career with 249 tackles (155 solo), five INTs (48 yards) and 8.5 TFL, as well as 26 punt returns for 324 yards, including a 94-yard TD. He played in all 16 games (six starts) for Washington in 2015, racking up 58 tackles (39 solo) before an injury concluded his playing career.

The Tannersville, Pennsylvania native coached defensive backs at Rock Ridge High School in Ashburn, Virginia during the 2016-17 seasons. He then returned to Washington's NFL franchise as a defensive intern in 2018 before serving as a defensive quality control coach/assistant defensive backs coach in 2019.

He graduated from Virginia Tech with a degree in human development and family studies along with minors in sociology and communications. Jarrett and his wife, Chantel, are the parents of a daughter, Aniyah, and sons Kylar and Kayden.

LEAH JOSEPH

DIRECTOR OF ON-CAMPUS RECRUITING

Leah Joseph enters her first season as Virginia Tech's director of on-campus recruiting where she will coordinate the many details associated with official and unofficial visits by prospects and their families to campus. She joins the football program following a four-year stint as director of operations for Tech's volleyball team.

A member of a football family, her father, Bernard, is a Tech football alum and currently serves as the head football coach at St. Stephens and St. Agnes High School in Alexandria, Virginia. He was a roommate of the NFL's all-time sack leader Bruce Smith during their time as teammates at Tech. She is also a first cousin of Chase Young of the NFL's Washington Football Team.

The Prince George's County, Maryland native was hired as director of volleyball operations in March of 2017. Her duties at Tech included assisting with day-to-day operations, scheduling, team travel and business office logistics. Additionally, Joseph was a liaison with equipment and nutrition, and assists with game management. She was named a 2020 AVCA Diversity Award Recipient, as well.

Joseph played volleyball at Georgia Southern, where she earned SoCon and Sun Belt Academic Honor Roll accolades. Joseph played in 27 matches in her career, logging career highs with 108 kills and a team-high 94 blocks in 2014.

FOOTBALL STAFF

LINO LUPINETTI

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PERSONNEL AND RECRUITING

Lino Lupinetti moves into a new role with Tech after spending the past two years as a recruiting assistant for the Hokies. Among his numerous responsibilities in that role, he was part of the team that planned and executed all prospect visits to campus, including official, unofficial, camps and game day visits. He also assisted coaches with the player evaluation process and the management of Tech's recruiting board.

He is also well-versed in graphic design space and helped coordinate individualized recruiting plans for student-athletes that included personalized edits, mail, social media and other components. He joined the Hokies after serving as a student assistant in the Pitt football recruiting office from 2016-19. While at Pitt, Lupinetti worked under the direction of current Tech director of player personnel Mark Diethorn and current VT director of football creative media Zach Lantz.

ADAM BROOKS

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT SERVICES

Adam Brooks enters his fourth season at Virginia Tech as the Director of Football Equipment Services.

Before arriving in Blacksburg, Brooks spent three years at Georgia Southern, working as the head equipment manager for two years before being promoted to director of equipment services his last year in Statesboro. He was responsible for all aspects of operating an NCAA equipment facility, including budgeting, purchasing, ordering and keeping inventory.

Prior to his assignment with Georgia Southern, Brooks served five years at the United States Military Academy beginning his tenure as an assistant equipment manager in 2010. He later served as the head equipment manager for Army men's and women's basketball, while assisting with football at West Point.

During his tenure at Army, he volunteered for three East-West Shrine All-Star games, as well as assisting this past year with the game. The game is a college football all-star matchup held annually in St. Petersburg, Florida, allowing recently graduated players and early entries to showcase their skills to scouts in preparation for the NFL Draft.

Brooks graduated from Marshall University with a business administration degree and served as a student equipment manager for four years before beginning work on a master's degree in sports administration while working as a graduate student equipment manager in Huntington.

Brooks is a certified member of the Athletic Equipment Manager Association (AEMA). Brooks and his wife, Jada, have four children—Hudson, Elin, Luna and Maebry.

TOM BOOTH

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL COACHING VIDEO

Tom Booth originally joined Tech Athletics as an editor for HokieVision in September 2000 after a stint as a news and sports videographer, reporter and anchor at WSLS-TV in Roanoke. He then began working in coaching video for the Hokies in 2003, while also directing Tech's videoboard production in Lane Stadium on football gamedays from 2005-13.

Booth returned exclusively to overseeing football coaching video for the 2014-15 seasons, a role he resumes in 2021 after working with Josh Bost in football video the past five years. Along with a team of eight undergraduate assistants, Booth and his crew record every Tech game and practice from multiple angles. Thanks to a 50-computer network, along with the latest technology and software, Booth and the football video team provide a full array of assets to Tech's coaching and player personnel staffs. He was named ACC Video Coordinator of the year by his peers for the 2015 season.

The Erwin, Tennessee native grew up in a Virginia Tech household and has been an avid fan of Tech Athletics since his childhood, attending his first Hokies football game when he was six years old.

A 1996 Tech graduate with a degree in communication, Tom and his wife, Derley, reside in Christiansburg.

BEN HILGART

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

VIRGINIA TECH SPORTS SCIENCE TEAM
SPORT PSYCHOLOGY • STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
NUTRITION • SPORTS MEDICINE

Ben Hilgart enters his sixth season as associate AD for strength and conditioning at Virginia Tech. He works directly with head coach Justin Fuente and the football program after joining the Hokies in January 2016.

Named a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association—the highest given in the profession—Hilgart owns an impressive resume of developing talent for the National Football League. A total of 17 players on NFL rosters heading into 2021 camps trained with Hilgart and his staff in Blacksburg. That pro contingent includes 12 players who were selected in the NFL Draft, including four first-round selections: LB Tremaine Edmunds (Buffalo), S Terrell Edmunds (Pittsburgh), CB Caleb Farley (Tennessee) and T Christian Darrisaw (Minnesota). In addition to Farley and Darrisaw, Tech also boasted a pair of other 2021 NFL picks in S Divine Deablo (Las Vegas) and RB Khalil Herbert (Chicago).

Hilgart has also trained numerous players who have gone on to play in the NFL during his previous stints at New Mexico, Arizona State, Ohio State and UTEP. In his seven years at Arizona State, 10 players earned first-team all-conference recognition, including tight end Zach Miller, who would go on to earn All-America honors in 2006.

The Park Falls, Wisconsin native oversees the Hokies' entire football strength and conditioning program, which includes all phases of strength, conditioning, rehabilitation, and injury prevention.

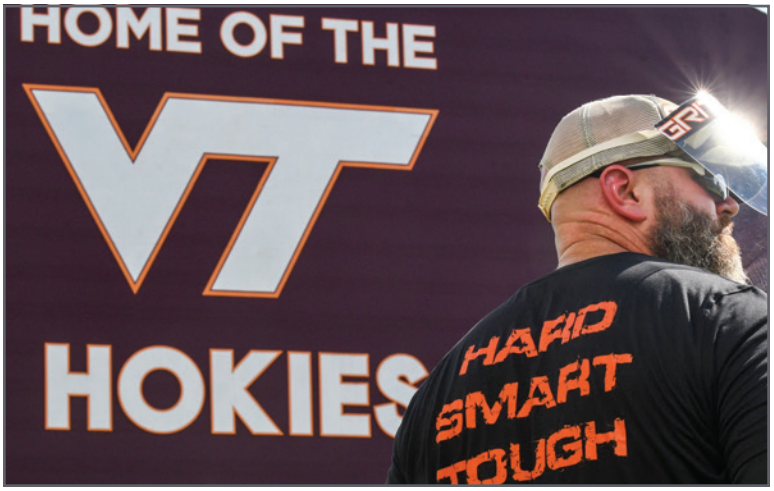

Before coming to Tech, Hilgart spent four seasons at New Mexico, including the past two as the director of athletic performance. He was in charge of the entire athletics performance initiative for the Lobos and he was also responsible for a redesign of the Athletic Performance Center, revamping the area into one of the top performance centers in the West.

Prior to working at New Mexico, Hilgart spent seven years at Arizona State, which included the final four seasons as the head sports performance coach. He worked directly with the Sun Devils' football program in addition to overseeing the sports performance programs for all 20 of Arizona State's sports.

Before arriving at Arizona State, Hilgart spent two seasons at Ohio State. He started as the assistant strength and conditioning coach before being promoted to associate strength and conditioning coach. He also spent two years at UTEP as the graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach. He served as the head strength coach and assistant defensive line coach at his alma mater, Western Illinois, in 2001.

Hilgart was a two-year letterman at Western Illinois, earning his bachelor's degree in physical education in 2001, and he earned his master's degree in kinesiology from UTEP in 2003. Hilgart also once served as the head strength coach at Deer Valley High School in Glendale, Arizona.

Hilgart and wife, Jamie, have two daughters, Riley and Reagan.

ANTHONY CROSBY
SENIOR DIRECTOR

Anthony Crosby enters his sixth season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff working with Ben Hilgart and the Hokies. He came to Blacksburg from Ole Miss, where he spent four seasons as the assistant strength and conditioning coach for football and served in a similar role to his current one.

Prior to serving at Ole Miss, the Lafayette, Louisiana native spent two seasons working with the football program at Boston College, where he assisted with program design, freshman and transfer orientation, and the designing of injured player rehabilitation workouts.

Before achieving a full-time position, Crosby worked internships at Arizona State and LSU, where he assisted with the football programs along with Olympic sports such as baseball, volleyball, softball, track and field and wrestling.

Crosby played football at Louisiana Tech and graduated with a degree in kinesiology in 2008. He and his wife, Colby, have two sons, Brody & A.J.

RYAN SHUMAN DIRECTOR

Ryan Shuman enters his ninth season as a member of the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning staff, his sixth under the direction of Ben Hilgart, associate AD for strength and conditioning.

He graduated from Virginia Tech in 2008 after serving as a three-year starter for the Hokies. Shuman started at left guard as a redshirt freshman before being moved to center for his final two seasons. During that three-year span from 2006-08, the Hokies registered a 31-10 record and won a pair of ACC titles.

A former graduate assistant in the strength and conditioning department, he received his master's degree in curriculum and instruction in 2012 and moved into a full-time role with the strength and conditioning department shortly thereafter. His younger brother, Mark, lettered for the Hokies in 2013.

The Fork Union, Virginia native attended Fork Union High School. His father served as the longtime head football coach of the Fork Union postgraduate team. Shuman and his wife, Meredith, live in Salem with their son, John.

BRAD MINTER
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Brad Minter enters his third season as an assistant director for football strength and conditioning.

Prior to his arrival in Blacksburg in April 2019, Minter worked at Mercer where he was a strength and conditioning graduate assistant. At Mercer, he designed and conducted daily training programs for men's and women's soccer and track and field while assisting football and multiple other sports.

Minter gained valuable knowledge and experience working in a pair of Southeastern Conference weight rooms. The Hueytown, Alabama native began his collegiate career at South Carolina, where he worked directly with the football program, before heading to LSU for the 2017 football season. In Baton Rouge, Minter also assisted the men's and women's basketball programs, tennis, golf, volleyball, softball and baseball.

Minter earned his degree in health science from Furman University in 2017 where he was also a member of the football team.

JAYLAN REID
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Jaylan Reid begins his first campaign as a member of the strength and conditioning staff at Virginia Tech in 2021. He joins the Hokies after spending the past season as a graduate assistant at Georgia State. Prior to his time in Atlanta, Reid served as a strength and conditioning intern at his alma mater, Furman University.

A two-time team captain, Reed was a four-year starter as a nose tackle for the Paladins. A two-time All-Southern Conference performer, he helped lead the 2018 squad to the conference title. He earned the Iron Paladin Award, presented to the school's most dedicated athlete to strength and conditioning in 2018-19.

Reid also earned All-Southern Conference three times in track and field, winning the league's 2017 shot put title. He graduated from Furman with a degree in business administration.

The Sports Medicine Department at Virginia Tech continues to evolve, incorporating new ideas by utilizing state-of-the-art resources for the betterment of all Hokie student-athletes. Under the leadership of Associate Athletics Director for Sports Medicine Mike Goforth, the department is constantly improving and developing new strategies to provide the most current and comprehensive care.

Dr. Mark Rogers serves as Tech's Chief Medical Officer in accordance with NCAA requirements. According to legislation passed at the 2016 NCAA Convention, each member institution must designate a health care administrator to oversee the school's health care administration and delivery.

The team of certified athletic trainers, orthopaedic surgeons, Board Certified primary care sports medicine physicians from The Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine (VCOM)—Virginia Campus, physical therapists, brace consultants, sport psychologists, nutritionists and massage therapists are available on site to manage the health care needs of Virginia Tech's student-athletes.

Following the 12th full year in the 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room, the space was expanded in 2013 to create a facility that unites the training and medical staffs in a centralized area to care for the needs of all Virginia Tech student-athletes.

Tech now has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing it in the top five percent nationally. The addition of the rehabilitation area makes Tech the first school to install the new Pavi Gym Customized flooring and X-Lab Fitness Rack, while also adding numerous pieces of equipment to address strength, flexibility, proprioception, and cardiovascular endurance. This space is directly joined with the new training area that is home to dozens of training tables, two cold tubs, whirlpools, an underwater treadmill, and a Biodex Balance System.

A vital part of student-athlete medical services is access to Carilion Clinic and its vast array of specialty services offered through the nationally recognized hospital system and its affiliates.

"We are privileged to have access to the finest physicians and services that Carilion Clinic and VCOM have at their disposal," Goforth said. "It is comforting knowing that our local hospital has the best care available in this region of the country for our student-athletes."

"As certified athletic trainers, for us to have the resources we have is a tremendous asset," Goforth said. "The knowledge and skills that they bring are invaluable."

Over the years, Tech has developed the reputation for producing top-level certified athletic trainers. Graduates are now employed in positions across the country at various levels of the profession.

MIKE GOFORTH

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR SPORTS MEDICINE

Mike Goforth enters his 24th year at Virginia Tech and currently serves as Tech's associate athletics director for sports medicine. In that role, he oversees the healthcare needs of student-athletes in all of the Hokies' 22 varsity sports. He also works closely with Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Mark Rogers in developing and implementing all policies, procedures and protocols for sports medicine at Tech. Goforth supervises Tech's team of full-time trainers, graduate assistants and student-staff, in addition to all other healthcare-related services for Tech Athletics.

Goforth was hired by legendary Tech trainer Eddie Ferrell in 1998. He joined the Hokies after serving as the director of wellness and sports medicine at the Hamilton Medical Center/Bradley Wellness Center in Dalton, Georgia. Owning an extensive background in sports medicine, he previously worked at East Tennessee State University, William Fleming High School and Tusculum College. The Bluefield, West Virginia native graduated from East Tennessee State with a degree in physical education in 1991. He added a master's in sport management from Virginia Tech in 1995.

Goforth's wife, Tracy, is a teacher at Blacksburg Middle School. The couple has two sons. Ethan played baseball collegiately at Carson-Newman and is a catcher in the Pittsburgh Pirates organization. Luke is currently enrolled at Carson-Newman and is a redshirt freshman on the baseball squad.

BRETT GRIESEMER MADED, LAT, ATC, CSCS

HEAD FOOTBALL ATHLETIC TRAINER

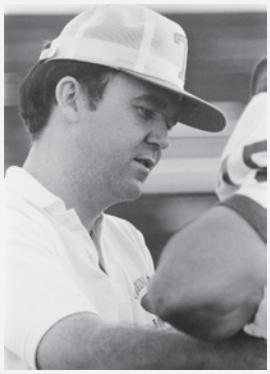

Brett Griesemer enters his 12th season as a member of Tech's sports medicine team. He was named head football athletic trainer in April 2021 after serving as senior director, sports medicine—football since 2018. Griesemer coordinates all sports medicine needs for the Virginia Tech football program, working in conjunction with Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Mark Rogers and Associate Athletics Director for sports medicine, Mike Goforth.

Griesemer owns a master's degree in instructional technology from Virginia Tech (2012) and a bachelor's degree in athletic training from the University of Florida (2010). During his time at Florida he spent four seasons as a student athletic trainer and also interned with the Houston Texans. He is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association as well as the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

The Royal Palm Beach, Florida native serves on both the Virginia Tech Athletics Research and Concussion Committees. Griesemer has previously worked with Tech's track and field, baseball and cross country programs, in addition to football. During his time at Florida and Virginia Tech, Griesemer has worked with football teams that have made 11 bowl appearances, as well as numerous championship events.

Griesemer and his wife, Megan, are parents of sons Maddox and Cohen.

THE EDDIE FERRELL TRAINING ROOM

Virginia Tech's sports medicine facility is named the Eddie Ferrell Training Room in honor of Tech's late athletic trainer, Eddie Ferrell, who was posthumously inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1999. Ferrell served at Tech for 28 years, including 19 years as head athletic trainer. A graduate of the University of Arkansas, he held posts at the University of Arkansas and Oregon State University, and with the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL before coming to Virginia Tech in 1970. Eddie was a consummate professional on and off the field; he was always striving to improve his credentials, as evidenced by his earning a master's degree in Athletic Administration from Virginia Tech in December of 1994.

MARK ROGERS, D.O.

CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER

Mark Rogers, D.O., CAQSM, FAAFP, FAOASM, serves as the chief medical officer at Virginia Tech where he oversees care administration and delivery for Tech Athletics programs. Nutrition is an integral component of sports performance and the lives of Virginia Tech student-athletes. That's why the Department of Athletics implemented the sports nutrition program in July of 2002. Virginia Tech Sports Nutrition aims to help athletes reach their full potential in their athletic careers and beyond with a food first, evidence based approach. The sports nutrition staff, directed by Alyson Onyon, MS, RD, CSSD, consists of five Registered Dietitians. They manage the nutrition needs for all 22 teams at Virginia Tech. The dietitians work closely with sports medicine, strength and conditioning and psychology in a multi-disciplinary approach to best meet the athletes' performance needs, and overall health and well-being. HokieFuel aims to stay at the cutting edge of sport science research to help athletes maximize their energy levels, enhance recovery and improve performance.

The Nutrition Oasis is the main fueling station that the sports nutrition staff manages. The Nutrition Oasis allows athletes to fuel up for workouts and recover well afterwards. Popular items include made to order smoothies, Gatorade products and a variety of high-performance snack options, as well as nutrition education resources.

VIRGINIA TECH HELMET LAB

- When Stefan Duma's research team installed impact sensors in the helmets of Virginia Tech's varsity football players in 2003, it launched the nation's first field-based study of head impacts in collegiate football.
- The data revealed a clearer picture of what players actually experience on the field, and eventually led to the development by Duma and his coworkers of the Virginia Tech Helmet Ratings, an evidence-based five-star system that gives consumers an unbiased assessment of which helmets reduce concussion risk most effectively.
- The Virginia Tech Helmet Lab, founded by Duma and now run by associate professor of biomedical engineering and mechanics Steve Rowson, has since expanded the five-star rating system to cover an even broader pool of athletes: the group now rates protective headgear for hockey, soccer, cycling, and youth football, in addition to varsity football.

- The work has shifted the way consumers purchase helmets and given companies a new tool to inform safety-conscious design; in fact, ratings for football and hockey helmets have improved dramatically since the system's introduction.
- Impact data gathered during games and practices is also transmitted instantaneously to the sidelines, alerting trainers and sports physicians to potentially dangerous blows. That has facilitated quicker evaluation and treatment of injured athletes and new research on biomarkers that could help diagnose concussion.
- Duma's team leads Virginia Tech's participation in a landmark national study of concussions in college athletes and military personnel. The multi-university project, sponsored by the NCAA and the U.S. Department of Defense, is now in its second cycle and represents cumulative funding of $52.5 million.
- The Helmet Lab's work routinely receives nationwide coverage and has been featured in outlets including ESPN, NBC, and the New York Times.

SAMANTHA STEWART

ASSISTANT AD FOR PLAYER ENGAGEMENT FOR FOOTBALL

Samantha Stewart joined Tech's staff as assistant athletics director of player engagement for football in November 2020. In her role with the Hokies, she directs and administers programs and services to enhance the personal growth and development of football student-athletes. Stewart also implements personal development programs, coordinates community service activities and also assists student-athletes in their post-graduate career preparation. In addition, she assists head coach Justin Fuente and the football program's recruiting efforts.

Stewart joined the Hokies from Loyola University Chicago where she was the Assistant Athletics Director of Academic Services & Student-Athlete Development. In that capacity she was responsible for planning, budgeting, organizing and implementing a comprehensive academic and student development plan across all varsity sports.

During her time at Loyola, the average GPA of all student-athletes rose by nearly 10 percent and the athletic department as a whole boasted a 99 percent graduation and retention rate. Stewart initiated or oversaw many programs during her tenure with the Ramblers, including the school's student-athlete advisory committee, student-athlete orientation, Sweats-2-Suits and Loyola's student-athlete award ceremony. Additionally, she also launched Loyola's athlete-to-athlete mentorship program with a particular emphasis on international student-athletes.

Prior to her arrival at Loyola in 2016, Stewart served as the manager of the student-athlete learning enhancement team at Florida International University. In that capacity she provided on-site academic services for over 500 student-athletes including football, in addition to a myriad of other responsibilities.

A former special education teacher for Teach for America and Fulton County Public Schools in Atlanta, Stewart holds a master's degree from Harvard University's Education School—Mind, Brain and Education. She earned her bachelor's degree from Emory University. Her husband, Dr. Broderick Turner, teaches at Virginia Tech's Pamplin College of Business.

PETE MORIS

ASSOCIATE AD FOR STRATEGIC COMMUNICATIONS

Pete Moris joined Virginia Tech's staff in May 2015 and enters his seventh season in Blacksburg in 2021. Moris oversees public relations efforts for Tech Athletics and works closely with the Athletics executive staff and university relations officials. He serves as a spokesperson for Tech Athletics and is the lead public relations and media contact for head coach Justin Fuente and the Virginia Tech football program. During his tenure with the Hokies, he has celebrated the career of Hall of Fame coach Frank Beamer and assisted over 20 Tech players prepare for the media spotlight of the NFL, in addition to helping Tech Athletics launch its $400 million Reach For Excellence campaign in April 2021.

Owning an extensive resume of experience in communications and sports media, he joined Tech after a three-year stint as assistant athletics director for communications at the University of Oklahoma (2012-14). During his tenure with the Sooners he worked directly with the football program and head coach Bob Stoops. He also served as a member of the Big 12 Conference's public relations teams that hosted the 2014 Final Four and the 2015 College Football Playoff National Championship Game at AT&T Stadium.

The Mt. Hope, Wisconsin native spent 17 seasons working in the National Football League with the Kansas City Chiefs. During that span, Moris built relationships with numerous players and coaches who are members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and developed campaigns that helped Will Shields (2003) and Brian Waters (2009) earn the league's most prestigious honor, the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award, for their charitable and philanthropic efforts. In addition, Moris played a key role in the rebranding of Arrowhead Stadium as part of a $375 million transformation that was unveiled in 2010. He also worked as part of the NFL's public relations team at Super Bowls XLV, XXXVII and XXXII.

Moris has also provided his expertise in the communications field as a consultant to a number of clients, including Nike, STATS LLC and the University of Wisconsin. A former collegiate student-athlete, Moris served as a team captain of the Loras College men's basketball team. He graduated from Loras with degrees in English writing and public relations and returned to campus in 2018 as the keynote speaker of the Loras Sport Management Symposium. He began his professional career as an public relations intern with the Indianapolis Colts and has been part of bowl victories working with the football programs at Virginia Tech, Oklahoma and the University of Florida.

He and his wife, Lisa, are the parents of three children.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

We develop today's champions to become tomorrow's leaders! @VTSADevelopment @vtsadevelopment

MISSION STATEMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to the holistic support of the career, leadership, and personal development of Hokie student-athletes in order to bridge the gap between athletics and academics and build a foundation for success at Virginia Tech and beyond.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

With the university motto, Ut Prosim, (That I May Serve) at our core, the Office of Student-Athlete Development develops student-athletes for successful transitions into and out of college. Holistic education on sexual assault and relationship violence, alcohol, diversity and inclusion, time management, and financial literacy enhance the Hokie student-athlete experience. Our office also assists student-athletes in taking advantage of the many opportunities to volunteer with local and national organizations throughout their college career.

Virginia Tech student-athletes embody the university motto Ut Prosim by partnering with community organizations such as the Special Olympics, Roanoke Carilion Children's Clinic and various local schools. Pictured: Tyrell Smith volunteering at a local elementary school.

Virginia Tech student-athletes contribute more than 4,000 hours annually in the community, with football student-athletes completing more than 900 hours of community work.

Career Jumpstart is open exclusively to junior and senior Hokie student-athletes and provides them with opportunities to enhance their career development skills through an Industry Info Session and Networking Reception.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Student-Athlete Development is committed to helping student-athletes discover their strengths and passions while identifying transferable skills in preparation for career success beyond Virginia Tech. The Career Game Plan provides student-athletes with insight into unique aspects of career development through their tenure at Virginia Tech and offers stepping stones on their path to post-graduate success.

COMPANIES EMPLOYING OUR GRADUATES INCLUDE THESE AND MANY MORE:

Microsoft · Nike · Major League Baseball · Broncos · NFL · ESPN · Deloitte. · Northwestern Mutual

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Our intent is to help student-athletes identify ways they can thrive as leaders, students, and competitors. The Virginia Tech Athletics Leadership Institute provides multiple opportunities for connection across our 22 varsity programs as student-athletes navigate their leadership journey. Programs include: guest leadership speakers, small cohort leadership training, travel domestically and internationally to explore leadership in various settings, and more.

Reyna Gilbert-Lowry
Senior Associate Athletics Director/SWA

Natalie Forbes
Senior Director of Student-Athlete Development

Sarah Lage
Associate Director of Student-Athlete Development

Through the Leadership Institute, Hokie student-athletes have the opportunity to hear from successful leaders through a speaker series event. Guest speakers include former student-athletes, athletic director Whit Babcock, former Hokie football great Andre Davis, and athletics staff members such as football strength coach Ben Hilgart.

SAASS

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) is committed to providing a comprehensive academic and personal development program with counseling and advising for student-athletes, offering academic counseling to ensure students receive a complete system of support consistent with university and NCAA policies.

Student-athletes have access to the department's spacious facilities, located in the West Side of Lane Stadium. Opened during the 2006-07 academic year, the SAASS suite, located in the Quillen Family Academic Center, features 16 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 36-station computer lab with printer access, a conference room, four quiet areas for reading and studying and a reference library. To accommodate the busy schedules of all of Tech's student-athletes, the SAASS office is open and available for students to access from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. weekdays and Sundays from 6 p.m until 10 p.m. The SAASS office offers a tutor program available to Tech's student-athletes in both individual and group settings. Tutor services are available six days a week and the staff assures options for nearly every subject a student-athlete could request assistance in. The collection of SAASS programs housed in Lane Stadium guarantees that all student-athletes achieve success during their time at Virginia Tech.

Tech's football student-athletes have always seen great success in the classroom much in part to the help of the SAASS office. Since 2010, 98 percent of Hokie seniors have earned their degree, and the football team has earned some of its highest scores ever in the Academic Progress Rate (APR) in recent reports. Academic All-America honorees in past years have included the likes of Danny Coale and Chris Drager. Among FBS schools, Tech is annually among the best in the number of players on the current roster who have already earned their undergraduate degrees.

2020 GAME-BY-GAME

GAME ONE

NC STATE 24
#20 VIRGINIA TECH 45

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ SEPT. 26, 2020 ▪ ATT: 1,000

BLACKSBURG — Virginia Tech scored on five of its eight first-half possessions, and Quincy Patterson II accounted for three touchdowns off the bench to carry the No. 20 Hokies to a 45-24 victory over NC State in an ACC game at Lane Stadium on Saturday night.

Despite playing without 23 players and four coaches because of coronavirus issues and injuries – including starting quarterback Hendon Hooker – the Hokies got off to a quick start in a season opener delayed by two weeks because of two COVID-related postponements. Tech took advantage of an NC State defense missing three starters out with injuries, jumping out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter and never looking back.

The Hokies scored on their first three possessions, getting a 46-yard field goal from Brian Johnson and touchdown runs of 37 yards from Khalil Herbert and 8 yards from Raheem Blackshear.

In the second quarter, Patterson came on in relief of starter Braxton Burmeister, who injured his right (throwing) hand while being sacked with 11 minutes left in the first half. Patterson threw touchdown passes on the Hokies' final two drives of the half – a 15-yard strike to Tayvion Robinson and a 16-yard score to James Mitchell – and the Hokies took a 31-10 lead at halftime. He also scored on a 1-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Burmeister returned to the game in the second half, and both he and Patterson combined to played well at the position. Patterson completed 4 of 6 for 75 yards and the two scores, while Burmeister completed 7 of 11 for 106 yards.

Herbert paced the Hokies' efficient ground game, rushing for 104 yards on just six carries. Tech finished with 495 total yards – 314 on the ground.

Tech's defense played a tremendous game as well, holding NC State to just 386 yards and registering six sacks. Devin Leary threw for 165 yards and a score to lead the Wolfpack (1-1, 1-1).

VIRGINIA TECH 38
DUKE 31

WALLACE WADE STADIUM ▪ DURHAM, NC ▪ OCT. 3, 2020 ▪ ATT: 0

DURHAM, N.C. – Khalil Herbert ran for 208 yards and two touchdowns, Braxton Burmeister accounted for three scores, and undermanned Virginia Tech outlasted Duke 38-31 in an ACC game played Saturday evening at Wallace Wade Stadium.

With the victory, the Hokies – who played without 21 players and two coaches – moved to 2-0 on the season, 2-0 in the ACC. Duke fell to 0-4, 0-4 in league play, and lost to Tech for the ninth consecutive time in Durham.

For the second consecutive week, the Hokies played with a limited roster. A week ago, Tech was missing 23 players in its victory over NC State.

"A majority of what we dealt with last week was offensively," Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "We had a large number of guys out, but a large number of those guys that played had not practiced very much – but you have a little more control over it on offense. What really scares you is on the defensive side of the ball when your numbers start to get low at a particular position.

"There's no punting on defense. You can't escape it. You can't get off the field. In my opinion, that's where it can become dangerous if you're in a situation where you so thin some place that you can envision a scenario where you're in serious jeopardy out there because you can't get off the field. We weren't to that point, quite. In my opinion, we were close, and that scares you."

Tech's offense certainly aided the defense, holding the ball for more than 34 minutes behind Herbert, whose 208 yards rushing were the seventh-most ever by a Tech running back in a single game and the most since Darren Evans set the school record with a 253-yard performance against Maryland in 2008.

"Just helping the team out and coming out with a win is really the big thing," Herbert said. "We had to fight for this one, so just helping the team win and winning the game is the best part about it."

The Hokies finished with 324 yards rushing – their second-best performance in an ACC game. A week ago, Tech rushed for 314 yards in its 45-24 victory over NC State.

Duke grabbed a 14-10 lead on Deon Jackson's 10-yard run early in the third quarter, but Burmeister guided Tech on long scoring drives. He scored on a 2-yard run with 9:17 left that gave the Hokies the lead for good, and on Tech's next possession, he led the Hokies on a 94-yard march that ended with his 14-yard touchdown run that gave the 24-14 lead.

The Blue Devils twice cut the Tech lead to three points in the fourth quarter, but each time, Herbert answered. The graduate transfer from Kansas scored on a 23-yard run with 9:58 to give Tech a 31-21 lead and then iced the game with a 60-yard run that gave the Hokies a 38-28 lead with 2:20 remaining.

Burmeister didn't play his best– he turned the ball over twice and completing just 9 of 25 attempts – but he accounted for three scores. He rushed for the two touchdowns and threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to James Mitchell in the first quarter.

Playing without several starters in the secondary, Tech's defense held Duke to 410 yards. That group also had an interception and sacked Duke quarterback Chase Brice seven times.

GAME THREE

#19 VIRGINIA TECH 45
#8 NORTH CAROLINA 56

KENAN STADIUM ▪ CHAPEL HILL, N.C. ▪ OCT. 10, 2020 ▪ ATT: 3,535

CHAPEL HILL, NC — Michael Carter rushed for a career-high 214 yards, Javonte Williams added another 169 on the ground, and No. 8 North Carolina rolled to a 56-45 ACC victory over No. 19 Virginia Tech on Saturday afternoon at Kenan Stadium.

The loss marked the first of the season for the Hokies, who fell to 2-1 overall, 2-1 in the ACC. North Carolina moved to 3-0 overall, 3-0 in league play.

North Carolina sprinted out to a 21-0 first-quarter lead thanks in part to two Williams touchdown runs and never looked back. Carter had two touchdown runs in the second half, including a 62-yarder that all but iced the game with 8:49 remaining.

The Tar Heels finished with 399 yards rushing on a day in which the Hokies played without both of their starting safeties (undisclosed reasons).

The Hokies were down 42-17 after Carter scored on a 16-yard run with 7:14 remaining in the third quarter, but Tech made a game of it, scoring touchdowns on three consecutive possessions. The Hokies cut the lead to 42-37 on a 33-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Hendon Hooker to receiver Tayvion Robinson with 15 seconds left in the third quarter. Tech went for two points to create a one-possession game, but Hooker's pass to James Mitchell was broken up, leaving the Hokies down by just five.

But North Carolina answered on its ensuing possession. The Tar Heels marched 75 yards in just six plays and scored on quarterback Sam Howell's 12-yard touchdown pass to Dazz Newsome. The extra point gave the Tar Heels a 49-37 lead with 12:37 remaining.

The Hokies punted on their next possession, and Carter then delivered the dagger. On the fourth play of the drive, he burst up the right sideline and scored to give the Tar Heels a 56-37 lead.

Tech finished with 495 yards of offense. Khalil Herbert again led the way, rushing for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Hooker completed 7 of 13 for 136 yards and two touchdowns.

GAME FOUR

BOSTON COLLEGE 14
#23 VIRGINIA TECH 40

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ OCT. 17, 2020 ▪ ATT: 1,000

BLACKSBURG, VA — Hendon Hooker ran for a career-high 164 yards and three touchdowns and threw for a score in No. 23 Virginia Tech's 40-14 victory over Boston College.

Khalil Herbert added 143 yards rushing for the Hokies (3-1, 3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). They ran for 350 yards in bouncing back from a road loss to North Carolina.

Tech played without more than 20 players in wins over NC State and Duke and without 15 in the loss to the Tar Heels – and missed coaches in all of those games. But only two starters were out against the Eagles (one because of an injury), all the coaches were available, and Hooker looked comfortable in his first start of the season.

It all added up to the Hokies' best performance of the season.

"Just awfully proud of our coaches and players bouncing back," Virginia Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "It was kind of cool to have all our coaches on the sideline and in the booth today for the first time. Hopefully, we'll continue to get some of our guys back as we go through the season.

"I think it's pretty obvious what the story tonight was – creating turnovers on defense and rushing the ball on offense … Happy to get the win."

Virginia Tech scored off of four of BC's five turnovers to pull away. The Eagles (3-2, 2-2) turned it over three times in the first half alone, with the most damaging coming when quarterback Phil Jurkovec overthrew an open Jaelen Gill deep in Virginia Tech territory. Devin Taylor intercepted the pass for the Hokies, and Hooker's 29-yard touchdown pass to Herbert made it 17-7.

Boston College cut it to 17-14 on a touchdown pass from Jurkovec to Hunter Long with 7:11 left in the third quarter, but the Hokies scored the final 24 points – 17 of those off BC turnovers.

Jurkovec threw for 345 yards and two touchdowns, but he also turned the ball over three times.

GAME FIVE

#19 VIRGINIA TECH 16
WAKE FOREST 23

TRUIST FIELD ▪ WINSTON SALEM, NC ▪ OCT. 24, 2020 ▪ ATT: 2,135

WINSTON SALEM, NC — An inability to convert in the red zone, three turnovers, and 10 penalties hurt No. 19 Virginia Tech on Saturday, and the Hokies fell 23-16 to Wake Forest in an ACC game at Truist Field.

With the loss, the Hokies fell to 3-2 overall on the season, 3-2 in ACC play. Wake Forest won its third consecutive game, moving to 3-2 overall, 2-2 in league play.

"It's obviously my responsibility to get our team out there playing well," Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "We made uncharacteristic mistakes. I don't remember the last time we had that many penalties. We turned the football over. We were poor in the red zone. We weren't very good on third down. Just disappointed. We should have done a better job."

Tech fell behind 10-0 in the first quarter and never led in this one. The Hokies did tie the game at 10 in the second quarter on a Brian Johnson field goal and a 39-yard touchdown pass from Hendon Hooker to James Mitchell with 8:40 left in the first half.

But the Demon Deacons responded with a 17-play, 75-yard drive that ended with Kenneth Walker III's 6-yard touchdown run with 1:31 left in the half and gave them the lead for good. Wake Forest then made arguably the biggest play of the game on the ensuing possession, when – with the Hokies driving – Nick Anderson intercepted a Hooker pass with 4 seconds left to end the half.

The Anderson interception was emblematic of the Hokies' struggles in the red zone. Tech made four trips inside the Wake Forest 20, but only converted those into two Johnson field goals.

"We turned the ball over," Fuente said when asked about the cause of the red zone problems. "They play a little bit of a bend-but-don't break defense, but they came out and challenged us a little more on the outside. We didn't really make any big plays, I thought, in the passing game. We ran the ball still OK [223 yards rushing] against a pretty loaded box, but we really didn't make very many plays, I feel like, throwing the ball. You can look at the passing yards.

"I don't know. We just weren't very effective down there. We had very few chunk plays, and we turned the ball over. That's what you get."

In the fourth quarter, Wake Forest pushed its lead to 23-13 on a field goal by Nick Sciba with 11:05 remaining, but the Hokies cut the lead to 23-16 on a 54-yard field goal by Johnson with 2:38 to go.

Tech got a stop on the ensuing possession, but Wake Forest downed its punt at the Tech 2, and the Hokies' drive ended with Hooker's third interception of the game – all by Anderson.

Tech finished with 433 yards and outgained Wake Forest (346), but just couldn't capitalized because of all the mistakes. Hooker completed 17 of 33 for 223 yards, with the touchdown and three interceptions. Khalil Herbert rushed for 64 yards on 14 carries.

Christian Beal-Smith led Wake Forest with 129 yards rushing. The Demon Deacons finished with 236 yards on the ground.

GAME SIX

VIRGINIA TECH 42
LOUISVILLE 35

CARDINAL STADIUM ▪ LOUISVILLE, KY. ▪ OCT. 31, 2020 ▪ ATT: 11,901

LOUISVILLE — After suffering through arguably the worst game of his career in the Virginia Tech football team's loss at Wake Forest, Hendon Hooker responded with arguably his best.

Hooker rushed for three touchdowns, and he completed 10 of 10 for 183 yards to lift the Hokies to a 42-35 victory over Louisville on Saturday in an ACC game played at Cardinals Stadium.

With the win, the Hokies moved to 4-2 overall, 4-2 in the ACC. Louisville fell to 2-5, 1-5 in league play.

Behind Hooker, the Hokies jumped all over the Cardinals right from the start, opening a 21-0 lead and then they scored on four consecutive possessions in the second half to pull away.

"Awfully proud of our guys – congratulations to our players and our staff," Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "Great response today. It wasn't always pretty, but we found a way to get the job done."

Louisville – missing six defensive linemen for undisclosed reasons – cut Tech's lead to 42-35 on a 16-yard touchdown pass from Malik Cunningham to Javian Hawkins with a minute left in the game. But the Hokies recovered the onside kick and ran out the clock for the victory.

Tech's offense put together an impressive performance, amassing 466 yards in the game. Tech rushed for more than 200 yards for the sixth consecutive game, did not turn the ball over, and scored on all five of its red-zone opportunities.

Tech, which scored on seven of 11 possessions the game, started quickly, needing only five plays on its first possession – all runs – to get in the end zone. Hooker's 6-yard touchdown run, and Brian Johnson's extra point gave the Hokies a 7-0 lead less than five minutes into the game.

Hooker added two more touchdown runs on back-to-back possessions spanning the first and second quarters. A Devin Taylor interception led to Hooker's 3-yard scoring run, and early in the second quarter – with the Hokies facing a fourth-and-goal from the 1 – Hooker scored to give the Hokies a 21-point lead.

Louisville scored the final 14 points of the first half to cut the lead to 21-14 at halftime, with the big play coming on a 90-yard run by Javian Hawkins on the final play of the half.

But Tech answered on the first possession of the second half, sparking a dominant second-half performance by the offense. A 63-yard drive ended with Tré Turner scoring on a 1-yard run, and Johnson's extra point gave Tech a 28-14 lead with 11:15 left in the third quarter.

Herbert rushed for 147 yards on 21 carries for the Hokies, who rushed for 283 yards. Turner caught four passes for 71 yards.

Cunningham paced the Cardinals by throwing for a career-high 350 yards and three touchdowns, but was intercepted the three times.

GAME SEVEN

#25 LIBERTY 38

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ NOV. 7, 2020 ▪ ATT: 1,000

BLACKSBURG — Alex Barbir's 51-yard field goal with 1 second remaining overshadowed a great game by Virginia Tech quarterback Hendon Hooker and propelled No. 25 Liberty to a 38-35 upset of the Hokies in a nonconference game Saturday at Lane Stadium.

With the loss, Tech fell to 4-3 overall. Liberty moved to 7-0 and extended its winning streak to eight consecutive games going back to last season.

Barbir's kick punctuated a wild ending for the Flames, who rallied from a 20-14 halftime deficit and moved to 7-0 for the first time in program history.

Barbir had a 59-yard attempt blocked with 8 seconds left, and Tech's Jermaine Waller returned it to the end zone for what appeared to be the game-winning score for the Hokies. But officials ruled that Virginia Tech had called a timeout before the attempt.

"I've always done this," Virginia Tech coach Justin Fuente said. "I don't believe in waiting till the last second to call a timeout in those situations because I don't like ever letting the kicker a free swing at it. I hollered timeout, and I guess I waited too long. That's what I told the team – it's on me."

Liberty then elected to go for it on fourth-and-6 from the Virginia Tech 41. Malik Willis found CJ Yarbrough for an 8-yard gain at the Virginia Tech 33 with 5 seconds left, allowing Barbir to come out for a shorter 51-yard attempt, which he drilled.

Hooker paced Virginia Tech, throwing for 217 yards and three touchdowns and rushing for 156 yards and a touchdown. His 12-yard touchdown pass to Tré Turner with 52 seconds remaining tied the game at 35, setting up the wild ending. He also threw touchdown passes of 3 yards to Nick Gallo and 9 yards to Kaleb Smith.

Tech finished with 418 yards of offense.

- Hooker's second-quarter touchdown run marked his eighth rushing touchdown of the season and the 14th of his career.
- Hooker's three touchdown passes give him eight for the season and 20 for his career.
- Hooker's 100-yard rushing performance represented his second of the season. He rushed for a career-best 164 yards in the Hokies' 40-14 win over Boston College on Oct. 17.
- Gallo's second-quarter touchdown reception marked the first touchdown reception of his career.
- Smith's fourth-quarter touchdown reception marked the second touchdown reception of his career.
- Johnson has made 14 field goals through seven games. He needs 10 field goals in the Hokies' final four games to break the single-season record.
- Amaré Barno played maybe the best game of his career, finishing with eight tackles, including two for a loss, and a sack. He also broke up two passes and forced a fumble.
- Jaylen Griffin had two tackles for a loss, a sack, and he recovered two fumbles.

GAME EIGHT

#9 MIAMI 25
VIRGINIA TECH 24

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ NOV. 14, 2020 ▪ ATT: 1,000

BLACKSBURG — Hendon Hooker accounted for 260 yards and a touchdown, but it wasn't enough as No. 9 Miami rallied from a double-digit, third-quarter deficit to beat the Hokies 25-24 in an ACC game played Saturday afternoon at Lane Stadium.

With the loss, the Hokies fell to 4-4 on the season, 4-3 in ACC play. Miami, which won its fourth straight game, moved to 7-1 overall, 6-1 in league play.

Tech was in great shape in the third quarter, taking a 24-13 lead on a 38-year field goal by Brian Johnson with 6:14 left in the quarter. But the 'Canes scored the game's final 12 points and held the Hokies scoreless on their final five possessions.

Miami quarterback D'Eriq King guided the 'Canes on two long second-half scoring marches. A 13-play, 75-yard drive ended with Cam'Ron Harris' 6-yard touchdown run. The 'Canes failed on a two-point conversion attempt, but they cut the lead to 24-19 with 1:27 left in the third quarter.

Roughly 10 minutes later, Miami put together a 10-play, 82-yard drive that ended with King throwing a dart to Mark Pope on a quick slant for a 36-yard touchdown. Miami again went for two points and failed, but the 'Canes grabbed a 25-24 lead with 5:59 left in the game – their first lead.

But Tech just couldn't get into scoring position after that. The Hokies' next two drives ended with an interception and a punt, and on their final drive of the game, they only got to their 43 before being forced to rely on multiple laterals on the game's final play. Jaelan Phillips and Gurvan Hall Jr. tackled Hooker near the Miami sideline to end the game.

King, who rushed for a 10-yard touchdown in the second quarter, completed 24 of 38 for Miami, which amassed 386 yards.

Hooker paced Virginia Tech, throwing for 201 yards and rushing for 59 yards and a touchdown.

GAME NOTES

- The Hokies finished with season lows in rushing yards (160) and total yards (362).
- The Hokies allowed a season-high six sacks.
- Hooker's 53-yard touchdown run in the first quarter was his longest rush this season.
- Hooker now has nine rushing touchdowns on the season and 15 for his career.
- Jalen Holston's two rushing touchdowns were first of the season and his first since 2018. He now has seven career rushing touchdowns.
- Jarrod Hewitt tied his career high with 2.5 sacks. He now has 4.5 sacks for the season and 8.5 sacks for his career.

GAME NINE

VIRGINIA TECH 14
PITT 47

HEINZ FIELD ▪ PITTSBURGH, PA. ▪ NOV. 21, 2020 ▪ ATT: 4,612

PITTSBURGH — Pittsburgh outscored Virginia Tech 24-0 in the second half and the Panthers rolled, knocking off the Hokies 47-14 in an ACC game played Saturday evening at Heinz Field.

The Hokies lost their third consecutive game and fell to 4-5 overall, 4-4 in the ACC. Pittsburgh moved to 5-4 overall, 4-4 in league play and beat the Hokies for the sixth time in the past seven meetings between the two programs at Heinz Field.

Tech trailed 23-14 at halftime, but on its first drive of the second half, quarterback Hendon Hooker threw an interception. The Panthers capitalized, scoring on a 53-yard field goal by Alex Kessman that made the score 26-14 with 12:25 left in the third quarter.

Unfortunately, the turning point in the game occurred on the Hokies' next possession. Tech drove all the way to the Pittsburgh 1, but couldn't get in the end zone on three straight plays, turning the ball over on downs. Four plays later, Pittsburgh quarterback Kenny Pickett threw a 64-yard touchdown pass to DJ Turner that pushed the lead to 33-14 with 8:43 left in the third quarter The Hokies never recovered.

Hooker led the Hokies, completing 13 of 22 for a season-high 260 yards, with two touchdowns and an interception. Khalil Herbert led Tech on the ground, rushing for 72 yards.

Pickett completed 35 of 52 for 404 yards, with two touchdowns and an interception. Turner caught 15 passes for 184 yards and a touchdown.

GAME 10

VIRGINIA TECH 10
#4 CLEMSON 45

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ DEC. 5, 2020 ▪ ATT: 250

BLACKSBURG — Facing fourth-ranked Clemson Saturday night, Virginia Tech football battled all the way up until midway through the third quarter, then the Tigers scored 28 unanswered to go on to win 45-10 in Lane Stadium.

Tech (4-6, 4-5 ACC) was in it at the five-minute mark in the third quarter, driving at its own 20, following a clutch interception by safety Divine Deablo in the end zone off of preseason ACC Player of the Year Trevor Lawrence, but shot itself in the foot with a fumble, which led to a Tiger score two plays later.

The Hokies never recovered, going three and out on their next drive and then fumbling on their ensuing possession, which resulted in a scoop and score by Clemson's Derion Kenrick (66 yards) to put the game away.

Playing three quarterbacks due to injuries during the game, Tech never found its rhythm in the second half, resulting in 119 yards of offense in the third and fourth frames. Clemson (9-1, 8-1), which has league five years in a row, kicked it in gear the last 20 minutes and scored 28 points alone during that time frame.

There were some bright spots for the Hokies, though, as running back Khalil "Juice" Herbert rushed for 96 yards and had a touchdown, Tech's lone of the day. Kicker Brian Johnson banged in a 54-yard field goal, becoming the first Virginia Tech kicker to make three or more 50-yard field goals in a single season, and the defense held Lawrence to 12-of-22 passing for a season-low 195 yards (min. 10 attempts).

Tech will be back in action next Saturday, Dec. 12 in Lane Stadium to take on in-state rival Virginia (5-4, 4-4). The game time and network have not been selected yet.

VIRGINIA 15
VIRGINIA TECH 33

LANE STADIUM ▪ BLACKSBURG, VA ▪ DEC. 12, 2020 ▪ ATT: 250

BLACKSBURG — Getting the cup back in convincing fashion, the Virginia Tech football team defeated in-state rival Virginia 33-15 Saturday night at Lane Stadium.

Tech (5-6, 5-5 ACC) got out to a 20-point lead at halftime over the Cavaliers (5-5, 4-5), 27-7, thanks to its second-most yards of offense at halftime this season (NC State, 336 yds). And a big reason why was behind tailback Khalil "Juice" Herbert had 138 rushing yards the first 20 minutes, including getting a 76-yard that went for six.

The first half saw many third-down conversions, with UVA getting three on its first drive to go up 7-3 and then the Hokies following suit with seven of their own the rest of the way in the first. Tech put together its longest drive of the season, culminating in a 17-play, 75-yard drive that took 7 minutes, 40 seconds with Tre Turner finishing it off on a jet sweep for a six-yard touchdown.

Getting steady play from its quarterback, Tech's Braxton Burmeister racked up 212 passing yards on 15-of-22 passing with a passing touchdown, while earning 36 yards on the ground.

Tech's defense turned in a stout outing, holding the Cavaliers to under 60 rushing yards and their second-fewest points this season (Miami, 14 pts.). Safety Divine Deablo showed out with six tackles, two pass breakups and an interception.

The Hokies have now won 20 of the last 22 games against UVA.

25 JERSEY HONOREES

Virginia Tech retired Frank Beamer's No. 25 in 2002. But with Beamer's blessing in 2016, head coach Justin Fuente and his staff paid homage to Tech's legacy of excellence on special teams by selecting a different special teamer each week to wear the honorary Beamer 25 jersey. The response by the team and some of the subsequent performances by players wearing that symbolic number quickly ensured that another Virginia Tech tradition had taken root.

HOKIES ALL-AMERICANS

VIRGINIA TECH'S UNANIMOUS ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

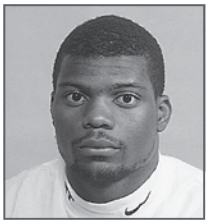

JIM PYNE
C · 1993

In 1993, Jim Pyne achieved something even Bruce Smith failed to do—earn unanimous All-America honors. Pyne helped pave the way for an offensive unit that set school season marks for total offense and scoring in 1993.

The Hokies averaged 444.1 yards and 36.4 points per game and finished 14th nationally in total offense, 11th in scoring offense and 10th in rushing.

Pyne was named first-team All-America by the AP, UPI, Walter Camp, the Football Writers Association and the Football Coaches Association (Kodak). He was one of the 12 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award, which goes to the nation's top lineman.

In four seasons at Tech, Pyne played more than 2,700 snaps and allowed just one quarterback sack. He started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 games in which he played.

COREY MOORE
DE · 1998, 1999 (UNANIMOUS)

Following an outstanding senior season in 1999, Corey Moore was voted first-team on all six major All-America teams to become the Hokies' second unanimous All-American. He was selected first-team by the AP, the Football Writers Association, the Football Coaches Association, Walter Camp, The Sporting News and Football News.

Moore posted a BIG EAST record 17 sacks during the '99 season to go with 11 other TFLs and 60 total tackles. He also earned All-America honors in 1998 when he led the BIG EAST with 13.5 sacks. He gained first-team All-America recognition from the Football Coaches Association. Moore was a second-team pick by the AP and The Sporting News and a third-team choice of Football News.

JAKE GROVE
C · 2002, 2003 (UNANIMOUS)

Jake Grove became the third unanimous All-American in Tech football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the FWAA, the AFCA, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP. He was a fourth-team All-American in 2002 (Sporting News).

As a senior, he was named first-team All-BIG EAST and was presented the Rimington Trophy in Lincoln, Neb., honoring the nation's top collegiate center.

In 13 regular season games, Grove graded out at 91.8 percent on over 700 offensive plays and led the offensive line in knockdowns with 48.

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Oakland Raiders in the 2004 NFL Draft as the first center taken.

JIMMY WILLIAMS
DB · 2005

Jimmy Williams became Tech's fourth unanimous All-American in football history when he was named to the first team of all five recognized All-America squads: the Football Writers Association of America, the American Football Coaches Association, The Sporting News, the Walter Camp Football Foundation and the AP.

As a senior, he was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference and was one of three finalists for the Jim Thorpe award, honoring the nation's top collegiate defensive back.

In 13 games, he recorded 44 tackles, including two for loss and a sack, along with 14 quarterback hurries, five pass break ups and an interception.

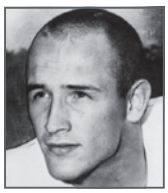

He went on to be drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2006 NFL Draft.

THE HOKIES' OTHER FIRST-TEAM SELECTIONS

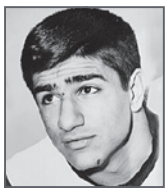

CARROLL DALE
E · 1959

After earning second-team Associated Press All-America honors as a junior in 1958, Carroll Dale went on to become the first Virginia Tech football player to earn first-team All-America honors following the 1959 season. Dale was named to the Football Writers Association (LOOK Magazine) and Newspaper Enterprise Association first teams as a senior and was once again a second-team choice by the AP. He led Tech in receiving four straight years and finished the '59 season with 17 receptions for 408 yards and six touchdowns.

BOB SCHWEICKERT
QB · 1963, 1964

One of the finest triple-threat quarterbacks in the history of the Southern Conference, Bob Schweickert was named to the LOOK All-America team picked by the Football Writers Association following the 1964 season. Schweickert fought off injuries during the '64 season to rush for 576 yards and nine touchdowns and pass for 833 yards and nine more TDs. He also handled the punting duties with a 37.7-yard average. As a junior in 1963, Schweickert earned third-team All-America honors from The Associated Press.

FRANK LORIA
S · 1966, 1967 (CONSENSUS)

Safety Frank Loria was the first Tech football player to gain first-team All-America honors in back-to-back seasons and became the Hokies' first consensus All-America pick in 1967. As a junior in 1966, Loria helped Tech to the Liberty Bowl, contributing three interceptions and returning three punts for touchdowns. He was named to first-team A-A squads picked by The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association and was a second-team selection by the Helms Athletic Foundation. Loria was named to six major All-America squads following the 1967 season. He finished the year with three interceptions and 420 yards on punt returns, including a 95-yard return for a TD against Miami. His first-team honors came from the AP, United Press International, NEA, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association and the Walter Camp Foundation.

MIKE WIDGER
LB · 1968

Mike Widger capped an incredible junior season by earning first-team All-America honors from The Associated Press and the Football Writers Association. Widger compiled a record 825 tackling points and was among the national leaders in pass interceptions (7) and return yardage (203 yards). He returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns and scored another TD after pulling the football loose from a Kansas State running back and racing 46 yards to the end zone.

BRUCE SMITH
DT · 1983, 1984 (CONSENSUS)

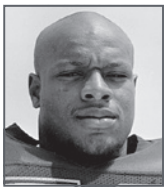

Bruce Smith was named to first-team All-America squads picked by the Football Coaches Association and the Newspaper Enterprise Association after registering an incredible 22 quarterback sacks as a junior in 1983. Smith, who also was named to The Associated Press second team that year, finished with a total of 55 tackles, 31 of which were behind the line of scrimmage. As a senior in 1984, Smith accumulated 16 sacks and nine other tackles behind the line. He finished the year with 69 total tackles and was a consensus All-America pick, making first teams selected by the AP, the Football Writers of America, Kodak and Walter Camp.

HOKIES FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS

EUGENE CHUNG
OT · 1991

When Eugene Chung was named to the Football Writers Association All-America team following his senior season, he became the first Tech offensive lineman to win first-team All-America honors. Chung started every game at tackle for the Hokies in 1991, allowing just one quarterback sack in 730 plays. The Washington Gridiron Club honored Chung as the National Lineman of the Year.

CORNELL BROWN
DE · 1995 (CONSENSUS), 1996

Cornell Brown became the first Virginia Tech football player to gain consensus All-America honors as a junior when he was named to five first teams in 1995. Brown was a first-team A-A pick by AP, UPI, the Football Writers Association, The Sporting News and Football News. He finished the year with 103 total tackles, including a BIG EAST-leading 14 sacks. He was selected National Defensive Player of the Year by Football News and was one of five finalists for the Defensive Player of the Year. In 1996, Brown missed three games, but still earned first-team honors from Walter Camp and second-team recognition from AP. He posted eight sacks, five other tackles behind the line, 19 quarterback hurries and 58 total tackles during the '96 season.

BILLY CONATY
C · 1996

Considered one of the top offensive linemen in school history, Billy Conaty saw action on 98 percent of Virginia Tech's offensive plays in 1996 and went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. Conaty helped the Hokies to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Orange Bowl that season, grading a winning percentage in 10 of the 12 games and leading the squad with 65 knockdown blocks. He finished his career by setting an all-time school record for starts and consecutive starts with 48.

MICHAEL VICK
QB · 1999

In a spectacular freshman season that saw him lead Virginia Tech to its first ever 11-0 regular season and its first appearance in the national championship game, Michael Vick became the first Tech freshman football player to earn first-team All-America honors. Vick was named first-team by The Sporting News. He also was a second-team pick by The Associated Press. The redshirt freshman quarterback was third in the voting for the 1999 Heisman Trophy and second in the voting for the AP Player of the Year. Vick led Division I-A in passing efficiency (180.37), setting an NCAA record for a freshman in the process. He completed 59.2 percent of his passes for 1,840 yards and 12 touchdowns. He also contributed 585 yards and eight TDs rushing.

ANDRÉ DAVIS
PR · 2000

André Davis finished the 2000 season second in the Division I-A ranks in punt returns and earned first-team All-America honors on the American Football Coaches Association team as a return specialist. Davis returned 18 punts for 396 yards for a school-record average of 22 yards per return. He tied another school season mark when he returned three punts for touchdowns. His 87-yard TD return against East Carolina was the second-longest in school history.

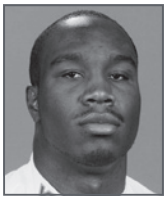

KEVIN JONES
RB · 2003 (CONSENSUS)

One of the highest-rated recruits ever to sign with Virginia Tech, Kevin Jones rushed for a school-record 1,647 yards, including 241 yards against Pittsburgh, on 281 attempts with 21 touchdowns as a junior in '03. He went on to earn first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation, FWAA and AFCA. He was named to the second team by AP.

DARRYL TAPP
DE · 2005

Considered one of the best defensive ends in school history, Darryl Tapp capped an incredible career, earning first-team All-America honors by AFCA and second-team honors by The Associated Press. During his senior season, Tapp, who started all 13 games, recorded team-bests for sacks, tackles for loss and forced fumbles. He recorded 10 sacks, 14.5 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Tapp was also fifth on the team in tackles. He won the Dudley Award, given to the state's top player, and was a Lott Trophy finalist.

XAVIER ADIBI
LB · 2007

Xavier Adibi teamed with fellow linebacker Vince Hall throughout his career to form what was arguably the best linebacking duo in school history. Though he enjoyed a breakout season as a junior, Adibi put up eye-popping numbers as a senior on his way to first-team All-America honors from the American Football Coaches Association. He led the team with 115 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss, while chipping in three sacks and two interceptions — one of which he returned for a touchdown. In addition to being named first-team All-ACC, Adibi was also awarded a spot on The Associated Press All-America third team.

BRANDON FLOWERS
CB · 2007

Despite leaving a year early for the NFL, cornerback Brandon Flowers became only the seventh Hokie to be named a two-time All-American when he was placed on the American Football Coaches Association first team after his junior season. He was also named second team by both The Associated Press and the Walter Camp Football Foundation. Flowers was a third-team AP honoree as a sophomore. In 2007, he placed third on the team with 86 tackles from his secondary spot, adding eight tackles for loss in the process. After leading the ACC in 2006 in passes broken up and passes defended, opponents shied away from him as a junior, but he still managed nine breakups, 14 passes defended and a career-high five interceptions.

VICTOR "MACHO" HARRIS
CB · 2008

One of the nation's top cornerbacks, Victor Harris earned first-team All-America honors from Sporting News and was a second-team pick by The Associated Press after a stellar senior season. Harris considered entering the NFL Draft following his junior year, but decided to return, earning his degree along with A-A honors. He tied for 11th nationally in interceptions with six, two of which he returned for touchdowns. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, he finished fourth in the league in interceptions and passes defended, and third in punt returns. His 15 career interceptions rank third all-time at Tech, while his four career TDs on picks are an all-time record for a Hokie.

JAYRON HOSLEY
CB · 2010

Jayron Hosley tied a 43-year old Virginia Tech season record for interceptons on the way to being selected first-team on the Walter Camp All-America squad. Hosley led the nation in interceptions with nine and tied for third in most passes defended with 17. The sophomore cornerback was also a second-team A-A pick by The Associated Press and earned the National Defensive Back Trophy from the College Football Performance Awards. Hosley was named first team All-ACC after topping the league in both interceptions and passes defended. He also ranked second among ACC players in punt returns.

Ten banners fly above Lane Stadium, honoring the program's national award winners. The latest addition to the group was Bud Foster in 2019, who earned the Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach in 2006. Foster retired from the coaching ranks at the conclusion of the 2019 campaign.

NATIONAL HONORS

JAKE GROVE WON THE RIMINGTON TROPHY IN 2003

Jake Grove arrived on the Virginia Tech campus as a lightly recruited guard from Forest, Va. He left as a unanimous All-American, winner of the Rimington Trophy as the nation's top center and a second-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Heading into his junior season, Grove made the switch over to the center position and became a natural fit. By the time he headed into his final season, he was gaining headlines and recognition for his play. He was rewarded by being named to all five major All-America first teams. He was awarded the Dave Rimington Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate center.

MICHAEL VICK WON AN ESPY AS THE NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR IN 1999

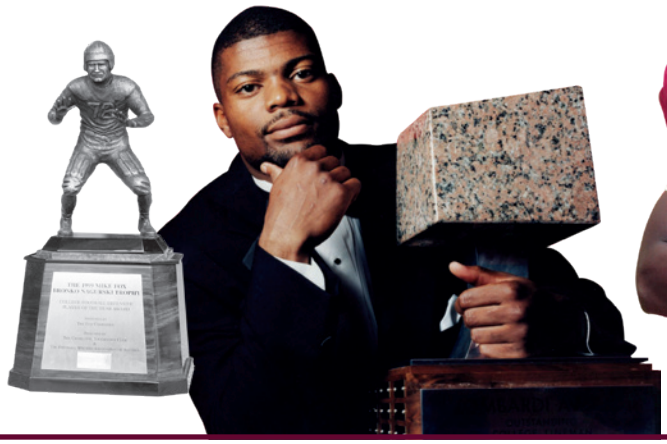

When Michael Vick took to the field against James Madison on Sept. 4, 1999, little did people in attendance or watching on television realize they would be witnessing the beginning of the most exciting two years in Virginia Tech football history.

In 1999, Vick led the Hokies to a perfect 11-0 regular season and a berth in the national championship game, both firsts in school history. The Hokies lost that game to Florida State, but all the talk was about the performance the redshirt freshman put on in that game.

For his accomplishments that year, he was awarded an ESPY by ESPN, given to the nation's top college football player. Vick was awarded the trophy at the ESPY ceremonies on Feb. 14, 2000, in Las Vegas as he mingled with some of sports' all-time greats.

COREY MOORE EARNED THE LOMBARDI AND NAGURSKI AWARDS IN 1999

In three years on campus, Corey Moore amassed 35 sacks for losses, totaling 292 yards. He left Tech as the most decorated player ever to put on the Hokie uniform. He won the 1999 Bronko Nagurski Award as college football's Defensive Player of the Year. Moore also won the 1999 Lombardi Award as college football's lineman of the year. He became Tech's second-ever unanimous All-American, joining Jim Pyne. Moore won the Dudley Award as the top college player in Virginia, the BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year award and was selected as Football News' Defensive Player of the Year.

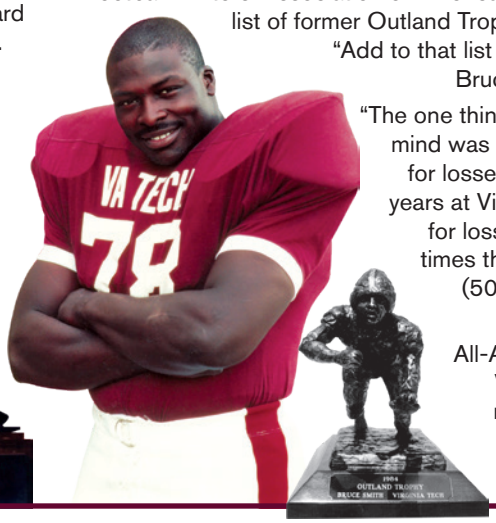

BRUCE SMITH WON THE OUTLAND TROPHY AS THE TOP LINEMAN IN 1984

Bruce Smith, "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, capped his sensational college career in 1984 by winning the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman.

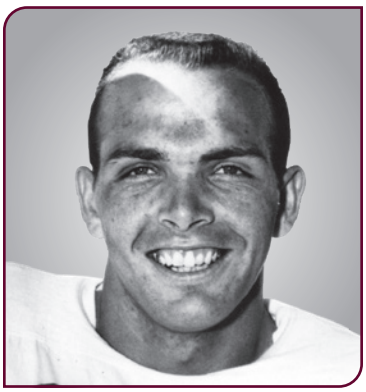

The big announcement was made by Wilt Browning at a press luncheon in Tech's Bowman Room. Browning, a sports columnist of The Greensboro Daily News and a committee member of the Football Writers' Association of America, began by reading a long list of former Outland Trophy winners. He then said, "Add to that list today, the 1984 winner—Bruce Smith of Virginia Tech."

"The one thing though, that stuck in my mind was the statistic on his tackles for losses," Browning said. "In four years at Virginia Tech, he accounted for losses totaling more than five times the length of a football field (504 yards). That's amazing."

Smith was a consensus All-American and was the first Virginian to win one of the national awards (including the Heisman and the Lombardi).

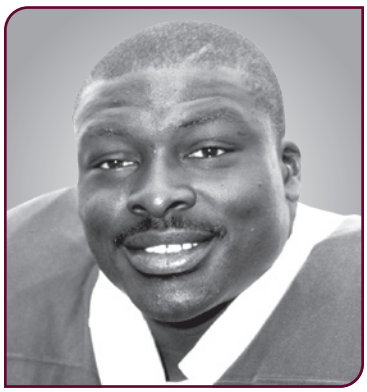

RETIRED NUMBERS & JERSEYS

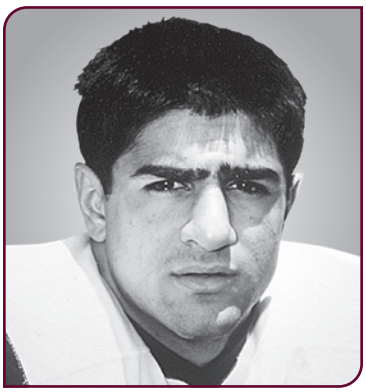

84 CARROLL DALE

A native of Wise, Va., Carroll Dale entered Virginia Tech in 1956 as an offensive and defensive end. After seeing varsity action as a reserve in the first game of the '56 season, Dale went on to start the remaining 39 games of his college career and became Tech's first bona fide All-American. As a junior in 1958, he was named the Southern Conference Player of the Year. In 1959, Dale was captain of the Tech team and earned first-team A-A honors. Dale led the Hokies in pass receiving each of his four seasons and finished his Tech career with 67 catches for 1,195 yards and 15 touchdowns. He went on to a pro football career that lasted more than a decade and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987. His Tech jersey was the first to be retired.

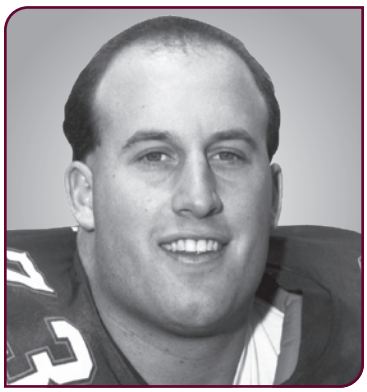

78 BRUCE SMITH

Known as "The Sack Man" of Virginia Tech football, Bruce Smith capped his sensational college career in 1984. As a Tech player, Smith had a career total of 71 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 504 yards. Smith had 46 career quarterback sacks, including 22 during his junior season in 1983 when he was named first-team All-America. In 1984, the Norfolk, Va., native won the Outland Trophy as America's top lineman and was a consensus All-American. Smith was the No. 1 player picked in the 1985 National Football League draft. During his pro career, he established himself as one of the greatest defensive players ever to play the game. He ended his career in 2003 as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 200.

10 FRANK LORIA

Despite his 5-9, 175-pound frame, Frank Loria was one of the most tenacious football players ever to play for Virginia Tech. Loria, who started every game at safety from 1965-67, rapidly established himself as one of Tech's all-time greats. During his junior year, he earned first-team All-American honors. As a senior in 1967, Loria became Tech's first consensus All-American, making seven first-team All-American squads. He finished his Tech career with seven interceptions and a number of punt return records. He went on to coach at Marshall. In 1970, at age 23, he died in an airplane tragedy that claimed the lives of the Marshall football team and staff. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1999. His number was retired prior to the 1971 season.

73 JIM PYNE

Center Jim Pyne became Virginia Tech's first unanimous All-American when he made all five major teams that were selected in 1993. In addition to All-America honors, Pyne was named winner of the Dudley Award as Virginia's Player of the Year. During his four seasons at Tech, he established himself as one of the Hokies' top linemen of all time, leading the charge for the 1993 team that rewrote the school record books for scoring and total offense. Pyne started 35 consecutive games and 41 of the 42 Tech games in which he played. He allowed just one quarterback sack by the man he was assigned to block during more than 2,700 career snaps. Pyne spent nine seasons as an NFL lineman before becoming an assistant coach in the pro ranks.

BEAMER AMONG FIVE WHO HAVE HAD JERSEYS RETIRED

In 2002, the Virginia Tech Athletics Department developed a new policy on retiring football jerseys. This special honor is bestowed to acknowledge an individual who has won an established national award in their sport, while allowing the number to continue to be worn by others. Tech no longer retires numbers. That year, three jerseys were retired in ceremonies. The jerseys of Frank Beamer, Cornell Brown and Michael Vick were the first to be honored. In 2006, Jake Grove had the same honor bestowed upon him. Corey Moore's jersey has been retired since 2010.

Michael Vick · Sept. 1, 2002
Won 2000 ESPY as College Football's Performer of the Year.

Virginia Tech All-America performer and Pro Bowl CB Brandon Flowers returned to campus in June to address the team and share some of the experiences and wisdom he accumulated during his career. Current Tech corners Jermaine Waller (left) and Dorian Strong (right) are two players on the current roster who aspire to eventually follow in the footsteps of Flowers, who was a second-round pick of the Kansas City Chiefs in the 2008 NFL Draft.

GAME SUMMARY

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats scored three second-half touchdowns to defeat Virginia Tech 18-6 at Kidd Field. The game, played in freezing conditions, marked Tech's first bowl appearance and the first bowl game in which a football team from the commonwealth of Virginia had participated. The Hokies trailed 12-0 before scoring their lone touchdown on a 3-yard run by Ralph Beard on fourth-and-goal. A Cincinnati interception, though, set up a 3-yard touchdown run by Don McMillan to put the game away for the Bearcats.

Quarterback Bart Weiss got Air Force's wishbone attack going in the second half and led the Falcons to a 23-7 victory over Virginia Tech at Independence Stadium. Tech took a 7-3 lead in the first quarter on a 10-play, 72-yard drive that ended with a 3-yard touchdown run by Maurice Williams, but the game changed midway through the second quarter when the Falcons forced and recovered a fumble at the Tech 3. Halfback Jody Simmons took a pitchout to the left and put Air Force ahead for good. The turnover was one of four for the Hokies, as Air Force used its ground attack to control the clock. The Falcons rushed for 221 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech earned its first bowl victory in dramatic fashion when Chris Kinzer hit a 40-yard field goal as time expired to give the Hokies a 25-24 comeback win over North Carolina State at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The Hokies rallied from a 21-10 deficit, converting two NC State second-half turnovers into touchdowns to take a 22-21 lead. The Wolfpack regained the lead on a field goal by Mike Cofer with 7:12 remaining, but the Hokies drove to the NC State 23 in the final two minutes to set up Kinzer's game winner.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored two touchdowns in the final 35 seconds of the first half to spark an unforgettable 45-20 victory over Indiana at Independence Stadium. The Hokies' Lawrence Lewis returned a fumble 20 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-13 lead with less than 35 seconds to go in the first half. Indiana got to the Tech 42 on the ensuing possession and lined up to try a field goal, but the Hokies blocked it and Antonio Banks returned it 80 yards for a touchdown. That gave the Hokies a 28-13 halftime lead and they never looked back. Tech quarterback Maurice DeShazo threw two touchdown passes in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Quick-striking Tennessee got off to a big early lead and went on to defeat Virginia Tech 45-23 at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium on the University of Florida campus. Tech backed itself into a corner early, throwing an interception on the game's second play. The Volunteers kept the Hokies there with a variety of big plays that resulted in a 35-10 halftime advantage. Overall, Tennessee had seven plays of 20 or more yards and a total of 495 yards of offense. James Stewart had three rushing touchdowns for the Volunteers, while Peyton Manning threw a touchdown pass. Tech's Dwayne Thomas paced the Hokies with 102 yards rushing and a score.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech scored one of the most stirring victories in the university's athletics history when it came from behind to defeat Texas 28-10 at the Superdome. Tech spotted the favored Longhorns a 10-0 lead and then race back behind the play of flanker Bryan Still, who returned a punt 60 yards for a Tech touchdown with 2:34 left in the first half, caught a 27-yard pass from quarterback Jim Druckenmiller at the Texas 2-yard line to set up a touchdown run by Marcus Parker that put the Hokies ahead 14-10, and got behind the Texas defenders to haul in a 54-yard touchdown pass from Druckenmiller. That play spelled doom for the Longhorns and helped earn Still the game's MVP award.

A sellout crowd of 41,600 who braved a freezing rain and a wind chill that dipped to 14 degrees watched as Virginia Tech beat Alabama 38-7 in the inaugural Music City Bowl at Vanderbilt Stadium. Quarterback Al Clark got Tech off to a quick start with a 43-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game. In the second half, Corey Moore forced an interception that led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Lamont Pegues and then he blocked a punt that set up a 4-yard touchdown by Shyrone Stith. Anthony Midget's interception return for a touchdown sealed the Hokies' first win over the Tide.

GAME SUMMARY

In a breathtaking game, Tech rallied from a 21-point first-half deficit to take the lead from Florida State going into the fourth quarter. But the Hokies simply couldn't overcome their mistakes nor the big plays of the Seminoles, and as a result, FSU walked off the field with a 46-29 Sugar Bowl victory and the national title at the Superdome. The Hokies trailed 28-7, but took a 29-28 lead on Michael Vick's 3-yard touchdown run with 37 seconds left in the third. The Seminoles scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, though, to pull away. Vick finished with 323 of the Hokies' 503 yards of total offense.

GAME SUMMARY

Thanks to big plays from a Michael Vick-led offense and a strong defensive performance, Virginia Tech rolled past Clemson 41-20 at Alltel Stadium. Vick threw a touchdown pass and ran for a score and Lee Suggs scored three touchdowns to lead the way. Defensively, the Hokies held Clemson to just 88 yards rushing and recorded six sacks and two interceptions in a dominating performance.

GAME SUMMARY

Despite 158 yards receiving from André Davis in the final game of his career, Virginia Tech couldn't hold off the big-play capabilities of Florida State, falling to the Seminoles 30-17 at Alltel Stadium. A 55-yard touchdown pass from Tech quarterback Grant Noel to Davis with 40 seconds left in the third quarter gave the Hokies a 17-13 lead. The Seminoles, though, scored on passing plays of 77 and 23 yards in the fourth quarter to pull away. Noel threw for 269 yards in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies took the Auburn Tigers to the final two minutes of the game, but could not pull off the upset, falling to the Tigers 16-13 at the Superdome. Trailing 16-6 with 2:13 showing on the clock, Tech cut into the lead when quarterback Bryan Randall hit Josh Morgan for an 80-yard touchdown strike to bring Tech within three points with 2:01 remaining. Auburn, though, recovered Tech's onsides kick and ran out the clock to register the win. Randall accounted for 344 yards of offense in the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

The Virginia Tech Hokies twice rallied from 11-point deficits and scored 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to knock off Louisville 35-24 at Alltel Stadium. Tech trailed 24-13 in the fourth quarter, but a Cedric Humes touchdown run and a two-point conversion cut the deficit to 24-21. Then following a Louisville turnover, Tech's Marcus Vick threw a touchdown pass to Jeff King that enabled the Hokies to take the lead. James Anderson's interception return for a score sealed the win for Tech. Humes rushed for 113 yards and the touchdown in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, but the Hokies' second-half turnovers proved costly, as Georgia scored 28 unanswered points in the final 30 minutes to knock off Tech 31-24 at the Georgia Dome. The Hokies jumped out to the 18-point halftime lead thanks to two 1-yard touchdown runs by tailback Branden Ore and a 53-yard pass from receiver Eddie Royal to tight end Sam Wheeler on a trick play. But Tech turned the ball over four times in the second half and three of those turnovers led to 18 Georgia points. The Hokies finished with just 189 yards of offense.

Tech's defense did not allow a point in the second half for the fifth straight game and allowed just 112 yards of offense in the final 30 minutes – 43 of that coming in Vols' final drive with the outcome well in hand. The defense also recorded six sacks. Williams rushed for 117 yards and two touchdowns, breaking Tech's single-season rushing record of 1,647 yards set by former tailback Kevin Jones in 2003. Williams finished the season with 1,655 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

Michigan kicker Brendan Gibbons booted a game-winning 37-yard field goal in overtime, as the Wolverines knocked off Virginia Tech 23-20 in a wild Sugar Bowl at the Superdome. Tech lost the coin flip in overtime and Michigan decided to play defense first. On third-and-5 from the Michigan 20, Tech quarterback Logan Thomas appeared to have thrown a touchdown pass to receiver Danny Coale in the corner of the end zone. Officials originally ruled the play a touchdown, but reviewed it, and then reversed the call, saying Coale didn't maintain control of the ball. Tech's defense only gave up 184 yards in the game, but turnovers and penalties kept the Wolverines in the game.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech kicker Cody Journell drilled a 22-yard field goal in overtime, and Rutgers kicker Nick Borgese misfired from 42-yards out on the Scarlets Knights' possession, enabling the Hokies to rally for a 13-10 overtime victory at the Florida Citrus Bowl. Tech entered the fourth quarter down 10-0, but a 25-yard field goal from Journell cut the Rutgers lead to 10-3 with 12:14 left in the game. Then, moments later, cornerback Antone Exum intercepted a pass and returned it 32 yards to the Rutgers 21. That put the Hokies in perfect field position with 11:11 remaining and they tied the game on a 21-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Logan Thomas to Corey Fuller. Tech's defense held Rutgers' offense without a touchdown and allowed just 196 yards.

GAME SUMMARY

J.C. Coleman set a Virginia Tech bowl record for rushing yards and Joey Slye booted four field goals as the Hokies wrapped up the 2014 season with a 33-17 win over the University of Cincinnati at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. Coleman was named MVP after running for 157 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries. The 157 yards set a new Tech bowl record for yards, surpassing Kevin Jones and Darren Evans, who each ran for 153 yards in a game. Slye's four field goals tied the school record for made field goals in a bowl game. Justin Myer hit four field goals in the 2012 Sugar Bowl against Michigan. Tech's defense allowed 489 yards of UC offense, but had two interceptions and clamped down in big situations to thwart drives.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech made the final game for its head coach a memorable one, beating Tulsa 55-52 at Independence Stadium. The win marked the final one for Frank Beamer, who decided in November to retire at the conclusion of the season after 29 seasons as the Hokies' head coach. Tech's players doused Beamer as he walked across the field to shake the hands of Tulsa coach Philip Montgomery. The Hokies led 55-37 with 11 minutes remaining and held on, getting a sack from Dadi Nicolas on Tulsa's final drive to seal the game. Tech receiver Isaiah Ford caught 12 passes for 227 yards, both bowl records for the Hokies, and Travon McMillian rushed for two of the Hokies' five touchdowns in the win.

GAME SUMMARY

Virginia Tech quarterback Jerod Evans accounted for four second-half touchdowns and Tech's defense forced four turnovers in the second half, as the No. 22 Hokies rallied from a 24-0 halftime deficit to knock off Arkansas 35-24 in the Belk Bowl. The Hokies' 24-point rally was the biggest since 1987 and believed to be the biggest in school history. Tech turned the ball over twice in the first half, and the Razorbacks scored 10 points off of those – part of their 24-point barrage. But Tech's Chuck Clark arguably turned the game, forcing a fumble on Arkansas' first possession of the second half. Woody Baron recovered for the Hokies, and Evans scored on a 4-yard run for Tech's first score of the game. Arkansas turned it over four times in the second half – and the Hokies scored touchdowns after every one of them. A Tremaine Edmunds interception led to a 5-yard touchdown pass from Evans to tight end Chris Cunningham with 4 minutes left in the third quarter that cut the lead to 24-21. Tech took its first lead of the game on a 6-yard touchdown run by Travon McMillian with 12:03 left in the game. The Hokies then iced it when Terrell Edmunds' interception led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Evans with 6:41 remaining that accounted for the final margin.

GAME SUMMARY

Two touchdown passes thrown by Mason Rudolph in the second half pushed Oklahoma State to the, 30-21, victory over Virginia Tech. Tech went into the fourth quarter trailing, 14-27. Josh Jackson found the endzone on a 5 yd run to cut the lead to just six points with 5:40 to go in the game. OSU kicker, Matt Ammendola, hit a 38 yd FG with 2:34 left in action, on a 10 play drive that took valuable minutes off the clock, giving OSU a, 30-21, advantage. The Hokies would go from its own 18 yd line down the field to Oklahoma State's 27 for one last opportunity. Tech would come up short, turning the ball over on downs with 11 seconds to go in the game. Virginia Tech accumulated more total yards of offense with 518 yards to Oklahoma State's 488 despite the OSU victory.

GAME SUMMARY

A late rushing touchdown from Cincinnati's Michael Warren gave the Bearcats a, 35-31, lead and propelled them to victory. There were six lead changes in the second half making it back and forth play throughout. In the fourth quarter, Cincinnati scored two touchdowns to Tech's one touchdown giving the Bearcats a strong advantage. Ryan Willis took the Hokies down the field with just 1:29 to go but was intercepted by Cincinnati's James Wiggins thus putting the contest out of reach. Tech passes for more yards and accumulated more first downs despite the loss.

GAME SUMMARY

Kentucky quarterback Lynn Bowden Jr. threw a touchdown pass to Josh Ali with 15 seconds left to push the Wildcats past Virginia Tech 37-30 in the 2019 Belk Bowl.

Virginia Tech took a 30-24 lead on a 27-yard field goal by Brian Johnson with 12:47 remaining, but the Wildcats answered with their game-winning drive after taking possession following a Tech punt with 8:25 remaining. Kentucky marched 85 yards in 18 plays, converting twice on fourth down and scoring on Bowden's 13-yard touchdown pass to Ali. The Wildcats made the extra point to take a 31-30 lead.

Tech tailback Deshawn McClease paced the Hokies, rushing for a career-high 126 yards and scored on a 43-yard run in the third quarter, while Hendon Hooker completed 12 of 22 for 110 yards and two scores.

FRANK BEAMER
INTRODUCTORY NEWS CONFERENCE

Virginia Tech fans are still beaming about their new Peach Bowl victory over N.C. State. But if such postseason success is to continue, it will be up to Frank Beamer.

Two days before Christmas, Beamer, 40, was named Tech's successor to head football coach Bill Dooley. And from the look of his credentials, it could be a prized gift for the Hokies.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler, Jan. 6, 1987 issue

FRANK BEAMER'S FIRST PRACTICE

"The players have treated me fairly. I'm a big person on trust, and I think you build relationships over time and not just on a few practices. I hope our relationship will grow tighter and tighter as time goes on."

—Frank Beamer, Hokie Huddler, April 21, 1987 issue

ACCEPTANCE OF THE 1993 INDEPENDENCE BOWL INVITATION

The Hokies thrashed the Orangemen 45-24 before a season-high crowd of 44,722 at Lane Stadium. The win also gave Frank Beamer his most wins—seven—as head coach at his alma mater.

More importantly, Independence Bowl Chairman Mike McCarthy extended the Hokies an invitation to play in Shreveport on Dec. 31. The team accepted in a meeting held at 4:30 p.m.

—Chris Colston, Hokie Huddler, Nov. 15, 1993 issue

1995 SUGAR BOWL
VICTORY OVER TEXAS

The Hokies closed their finest season in their 103-year football history with an improbable 10-game winning streak that came on the heels of an ugly 0-2 start. Despite that streak and a co-BIG EAST championship, many questioned whether Tech, 2-8-1 just four years ago, belonged in a major bowl. There should be no questions after Sunday's dominant defensive performance.

—David Teel, The Daily Press, Jan. 1, 1996

"Frank Beamer has been one of the icons, in my mind, in this era of coaching. He has a fantastic record at Virginia Tech and been there a long, long time. He's one of the great guys in our profession. I've always admired him as a coach, but also the professional character that he always carries himself with and the way he treats other people."

Alabama head coach Nick Saban

"Frank Beamer is, has been and will remain a beacon of light for college football. Not only a great career at Virginia Tech, but most importantly, a tremendous leader and model for the young men in his program and his personal family. He has guided so many to become successful in life through a value system much needed to today's society. A sincere and caring family man, Frank has brought that feeling to the entirety of his university."

Kansas State head coach Bill Snyder

COLLEGE GAMEDAY
VISITS FOR THE FIRST TIME

Tech fans certainly got excited over the arrival of Chris Fowler, Kirk Herbstreit and the infamous Lee Corso—the trio who made up College Gameday. Between 12,000-13,000 fans packed the press box side of Lane Stadium just to yell and scream and be on television.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Oct. 22, 1999 issue

1999 COACH OF THE YEAR AWARDS

This season was a season of firsts for Tech's 53-year-old head coach. He was named Region I Coach of the Year as voted on by the American Football Coaches Association. He's speaking at the prestigious Heisman Trophy Award dinner next week. He became one of just a handful of coaches nationwide ever to lead a team to an unbeaten regular season. And then there's this little matter of playing for the national title.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Dec. 10, 1999 issue

CONGRATULATORY CALL FROM PRESIDENT BILL CLINTON

Tech coach Frank Beamer received a postgame phone call from President Bill Clinton following the Hokies' 46-29 loss to Florida State in the national championship game. He congratulated Tech on a stellar effort and a great season.

—Jimmy Robertson, Hokie Huddler, Jan. 12, 2000 issue

FRANK BEAMER TURNS DOWN NORTH CAROLINA TO STAY IN BLACKSBURG

"It was certainly nothing against North Carolina. Everything and everyone was very gracious, and I appreciate it. But when you get away a little bit, you realize how special this place is and the relationships that we have at this place. And the excitement and the fans that we have at this place … there's just so many things. I know the grass looks greener sometimes. But when you sit back and look, you can see how green the grass is here."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com the newspaper, Dec. 8, 2000 issue

TECH RETIRES FRANK BEAMER'S NO. 25 JERSEY

"I'm certainly not the athlete the rest of those guys hanging up there are. But this place has been special … for me. It's been a dream to be in this position. It's a real honor for me."
—Frank Beamer, hokiesports the newspaper, Sept. 20, 2002 issue

> "I remember him sitting on my couch, the smile he had on his face, the enthusiasm and him really impressing my mom with his delivery. That was special because he made her smile and made me believe that he wanted me in that moment, and for him to take his time to come down there was really a special moment."
> Former Virginia Tech QB Michael Vick

2004 ACC COACH OF THE YEAR HONOR

It came as little surprise that, the week after the Miami game, Tech coach Frank Beamer earned the ACC's Coach of the Year honor. It also came as little surprise that he received SI.com's national Coach of the Year honor. He deserved it. But while the awards reflect on him, they also reflect on his staff. Truthfully, they did their best coaching job this season.
—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Dec. 17, 2004 issue.

> "When people think of Hokie football, they think of Frank Beamer. It was an honor to have competed against you and I want to wish you and your wife, Cheryl, and your children and grandchildren all the best during your next adventure. Congratulations."
> Former Boston College AND N.Y. Giants head coach Tom Coughlin

FRANK BEAMER NOTCHES FIRST WIN OVER BOBBY BOWDEN

Shortly before the final seconds ticked off, a few of Tech's players dumped a cooler filled with water over Beamer, and while Tech's longtime head coach downplayed the victory over the Seminoles from a personal standpoint, his smiles on the sideline at the end of the game spoke to the contrary.

—Jimmy Robertson, hokiesports the newspaper, Nov. 12, 2007 issue

2009 ORANGE BOWL VICTORY OVER CINCINNATI

The Orange Bowl championship trophy is likely the biggest—and heaviest—that Virginia Tech has ever won. It took two managers and a pushcart to get the massive trophy and glass bowl into the lobby of head coach Frank Beamer's office—and that's after the real oranges were replaced with hollow plastic replicas.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2009 issue

2009 CHICK-FIL-A BOWL VICTORY OVER TENNESSEE

New Year's Eve in Atlanta features the annual ritual of dropping an oversized replica of a peach to commemorate the New Year. This year, the ritual also featured the Virginia Tech football team dropping the hammer on Tennessee.

Behind a punishing defense and the typical running of Ryan Williams, the Hokies closed 2009 by caging ol' Smokey and knocking the Volunteers off Rocky Top in a 37-14 rout in the Chick-fil-A Bowl at the Georgia Dome.

—Jimmy Robertson, Inside Hokie Sports, January, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2010 ACC TITLE WIN OVER FLORIDA STATE

Beamer's 24th team pulled off one of the great turnarounds we've ever seen. The 2010 Virginia Tech Hokies were the first team in NCAA history to lose their first two ball games and then win 11 straight. It had never happened before.

—Bill Roth, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2010 issue

HOKIES' 2014 WIN AT OHIO STATE

"I still remember going to Nebraska and winning and going to Texas A&M and winning. That's been a few years back. But this is good. I think those things go in cycles a little bit. When you play good teams like we play, you've got about a 50-50 shot of winning, and when you go on the road, it probably goes down a little bit. I think this is a big, big win for the status of our program."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Sept. 7, 2014

FRANK BEAMER ANNOUNCES PLANS TO RETIRE

Beamer is fond of saying that he is fortunate and grateful. And he undoubtedly is. We all are, in fact. We all got to be a part of it. We all got to actually experience it—me, for just a short time, which will fortunately allow me to be a bridge when I talk of the Beamer way. For many of you, for much longer, which will only strengthen your conviction when you speak, as well.

—Jon Laaser, Inside Hokie Sports, December, 2015 issue

HOKIES BEAT VIRGINIA 23-20
IN FRANK BEAMER'S FINAL REGULAR-SEASON GAME

"That game showed everything we've tried to do at Virginia Tech. Relentless—I love that word—we got down and found a way to come back. We got it at the end. We did some good things in the kicking game, getting field position. The defense played great, and the offense made plays. Everything that we talk about—hanging in there, don't give in, play your best when it counts—that kind of came through today."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Nov. 28, 2015

HOKIES WIN INDEPENDENCE BOWL OVER TULSA IN FINAL GAME OF FRANK BEAMER'S CAREER

"I've got a lot to look forward to. My grandkids, I've got a wonderful wife—I'm not sure she's all for it, but we're going to spend a lot of time together now—and then I've got some things that I'm interested in doing in the future. The next challenge, I look forward to it. I realize how fortunate I've been to have lasted this long at Virginia Tech. All I am is grateful and looking forward to taking the next step."

—Frank Beamer, hokiesports.com, Dec. 27, 2015

SPRING ROAD BECOMES BEAMER WAY BEFORE FRANK'S FINAL SEASON

"When I was informed of this, I had two immediate thoughts. First, the appreciation I have for all of the players, coaches, support staff and fans that laid the foundation for this program. And secondly, I hope the 'Beamer Way' is the right way! When people see that sign, I hope they can be proud of what it represents."

—Frank Beamer

TEAM UNITED LOCKER ROOM IN HONOR OF FRANK BEAMER

In March of 2016, the Board of Visitors decided more recognition of Beamer was warranted. The group approved the renaming of the football program's Team United Locker Room to The Frank Beamer Locker Room to honor Beamer for his years of service and contributions to the university and the game of football.

BEAMER MONUMENT UNVEILED IN 2018

Prior to Virginia Tech's contest against Notre Dame on Oct. 6, 2018, a monument of Frank Beamer was unveiled in Moody Plaza, located on the Southwest corner outside of Lane Stadium. Unlike other monuments honoring iconic figures, the tribute to Beamer is devoid of any pedestal and is very approachable, just like the man himself. At halftime of the game, the Hokies' indoor practice facility was officially named the Beamer-Lawson Indoor Practice Facility. John Lawson, a Virginia Tech alum, delivered a significant leadership gift for the project and is the executive chairman of the W.M. Jordan Company who designed and constructed the facility.

FROM FANCY GAP TO THE HALL OF FAME

When Beamer stands on that stage Tuesday night, he will thank a bunch of people. Time will not permit the recitation of each individual name, but rest assured, he views his induction into the College Football Hall of Fame as something much bigger than him. In other words, the crowning achievement is for everyone, not just him.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide the Hokies' football program since the 1940s, won more games at Tech than any other head football coach. Prior to Beamer, no other grid coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach. Beamer was also the most-tenured active FBS head coach, having been at his current school consecutively longer than any other coach in the nation at the time of his retirement.

With a victory in the Independence Bowl, Beamer led the Hokies to 23 straight bowl games, making him one of four coaches all-time in college football history to accomplish that feat.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH BEAMER AND HIS STAFF, THE HOKIES . . .

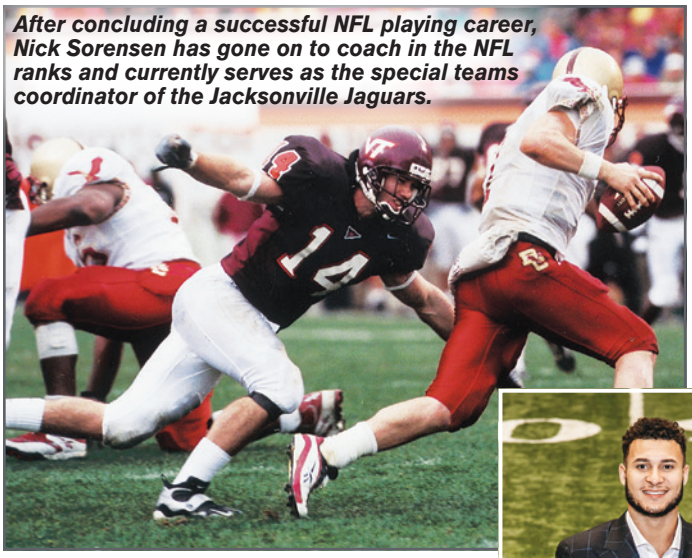

- played for the national championship for the first time in school history.
- become the only school to go to bowl games each of the last 23 seasons (longest active streak per NCAA).
- become one of only six programs in college football history to go to a bowl in at least 20 straight years, Nebraska (35), Michigan (33), Florida State (24), Alabama (25), Tech (23; active) and Florida (22).
- earned seven conference titles and eight "major" bowl bids in a 23-year span.
- become one of only four teams in the history of the Division I level to produce 10 or more wins eight seasons or more in a row.
- compiled a school-record streak in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll at 84 consecutive weeks.
- posted 11 wins in a season for the first time.
- registered the program's first back-to-back 11-win seasons.
- produced the school's first 11-0 regular-season record in football.
- won Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl titles.
- won four Atlantic Coast Conference titles.
- won an ACC Championship in their first season of competition.
- played in five ACC Championship games.
- produced the ACC Coach of the Year and Player of the Year during their inaugural ACC season.
- become the first team in BIG EAST history to win all the league's major awards in the same season.
- earned the highest national rankings in school football history, including five top-10 finishes and back-to-back top-six finishes.
- won more games (238) than under any other coaching staff in school history.
- been to five times as many bowl games (23) than under any other staff.
- won more bowl games (11) than under any other coaching staff.
- posted 23 straight seasons of seven or more wins for the first time in school history.
- had 244 of their last 271 games televised (90 percent).
- compiled a 174-70 record in televised games since the start of the 1995 season.
- blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team.
- become one of only eight FBS schools ever to lead the nation in both scoring offense and defense in the same season.
- had at least one player from every defensive position score a touchdown.
- produced a No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft.
- had 95 players taken in the NFL Draft and more than 200 players sign with NFL teams.
- had two players who entered the program as walk-ons drafted in the top four rounds of the NFL draft.
- had 19 different players earn AP All-America honors over the past 18 seasons.
- had players win 16 major conference individual awards in the past 18 years, including three in 2011.

FRANK BEAMER'S

COACHING 'FOREST'

BLACKSBURG AND BEYOND

Some coaches have developed trees with multiple branches. A virtual forest of current high school, collegiate and professional coaches have either played for, or coached with Frank Beamer, including many who have done both. That coaching list also includes a number of Tech players who played for Beamer's longtime defensive coordinator, Bud Foster, in Blacksburg. Here are just a few members of this coaching fraternity.

After concluding a successful NFL playing career, Nick Sorensen has gone on to coach in the NFL ranks and currently serves as the special teams coordinator of the Jacksonville Jaguars.

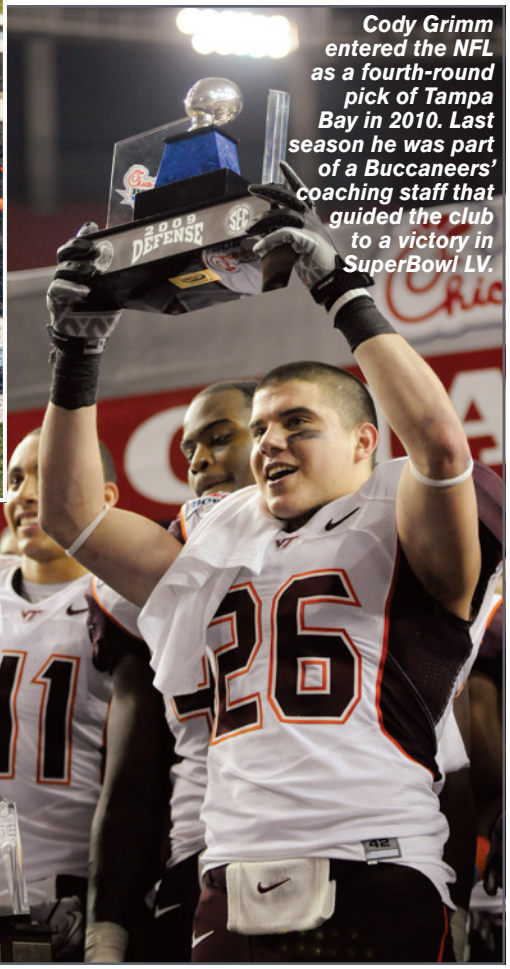

Jack Tyler joined Tech as a walk-on linebacker under Bud Foster and is entering his first season as the Hokies' linebackers coach.

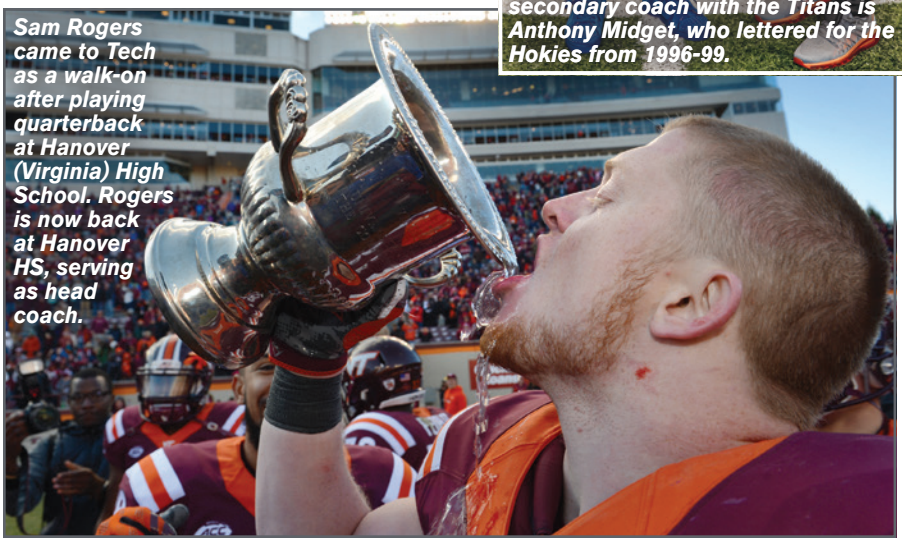

J.C. Price returns to Blacksburg in 2021 as Virginia Tech's co-defensive line coach/ defensive recruiting coordinator. His final game in a Tech uniform was a 28-10 win vs. Texas in the 1995 Sugar Bowl.

Caleb Farley was a first-round pick of Tennessee in the 2021 NFL Draft. His secondary coach with the Titans is Anthony Midget, who lettered for the Hokies from 1996-99.

Cody Grimm entered the NFL as a fourth-round pick of Tampa Bay in 2010. Last season he was part of a Buccaneers' coaching staff that guided the club to a victory in SuperBowl LV.

Sam Rogers came to Tech as a walk-on after playing quarterback at Hanover (Virginia) High School. Rogers is now back at Hanover HS, serving as head coach.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Respected as one of the nation's top coaching minds and one of college football's most decorated defensive coordinators, Foster concluded his storied coaching career at Virginia Tech in 2019.
- The architect of Tech's famed Lunch Pail Defense, Foster was the longest continually tenured FBS assistant coach at the same school at the time of his retirement.
- Was elevated to the post of associate head coach by current Tech head coach Justin Fuente in 2016 after enjoying a historic 29-season run under Frank Beamer that began in 1987. Interestingly, both Fuente and Foster played at Murray State more than a decade apart.
- Held the distinction of serving as Tech's defensive signal caller since 1995 (as co-coordinator) before taking over sole possession of defensive coordinator duties in 1996.
- Served as a key component in helping the Hokies register the nation's longest active bowl streak recognized by the NCAA, a 27-year stretch that began in 1993.
- Beginning in 1995, the Hokies began a stretch where the program produced 13 seasons with 10 or more victories during a 17-season span.
- Won the 2006 Broyles Award, given annually to the top assistant coach in the country, and was a finalist on three other occasions (1999, 2001, 2005).
- Named the Division I-A Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Coach magazine after helping the Hokies to the 1999 national championship game on the strength of a defense that led the nation in scoring defense at 10.5 ppg.
- His defenses led the nation in a major defensive statistical category nine times and have placed in the top five 44 different times.
- Dating back to the start of the 2000 season, only Alabama (27) has pitched more shutouts than Tech (22).
- Foster's 2017 defense led the nation in opponent completion percentage (48.60%), was second on third downs (26.2), fourth in scoring defense (14.8 ppg) and were fifth in first downs allowed (290).
- Virginia Tech finished in the top five in scoring defense on seven different occasions under Foster. In addition to ranking fourth in 2017, Tech led the nation in both 1999 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001, 2004 and 2005. The Hokies registered six straight top 10 finishes in scoring defense from 2004-09.
- The Hokies led the nation in total defense in both 2005 and 2006, while ranking second in 2001.
- His 2006 defense was arguably one of Virginia Tech's finest as the Hokies led the nation in scoring defense (11.0 ppg), total defense (219.5 ypg) and pass defense (128.2 ypg).
- Since Foster took over sole reins as Tech's defensive coordinator in 1996 and ranging through the 2019 campaign, the Hokies led all FBS programs in sacks (894.0), sack yardage (-6,110) and third-down percentage (31.6), while ranking second in interceptions (394).
- Over that same span, only Alabama (16.4 ppg) and Ohio State (16.9 ppg) were better in scoring than Virginia Tech (18.4).
- The Hokies registered 48 INT return TDs from 1996-2019. Only Florida (50) owned more over that period.
- Thanks to his opportunistic defenses, Virginia Tech owned an unbelievable +119 turnover differential (634 takes/515 gives) from 1996-2019, while 55 different defensive players scoring a total of 83 touchdowns.
- Blacksburg has truly become a no-passing zone under his direction. Since the start of the 1996 campaign through 2019, Tech permitted the lowest completion percentage (51.0) of any FBS team.
- Only Florida (107.0), Ohio State (107.3) and LSU (108.3) opponents to a lower composite passer rating than VT (108.5) from 1996-2019.
- Going back to 1996 NFL Draft, 45 of his defensive pupils have been drafted including 11 players picked in the first or second rounds. Seven of those 11 first or second-round selections have been defensive backs, including a trio of first rounders in CBs Kyle Fuller (D1-14, Chicago), DeAngelo Hall (D1-04, Atlanta) and S Terrell Edmunds (D1-18, Pittsburgh).
- Coached three of the four Fuller brothers – Vinnie, Kyle and Kendall – part of the only quartet of brothers in NFL history to all be drafted and all attend the same college.
- Kyle Fuller authored an exceptional campaign in 2018, earning All-Pro honors and a trip to the Pro Bowl after tying for the NFL lead with seven INTs and helping guide Chicago to an NFC North title. He followed that up with another Pro Bowl campaign in 2019.
- Meanwhile, younger brother Kendall was an instrumental part of a Chiefs squad that reached the 2018 AFC Championship Game. Then, Fuller made the game-sealing interception in Super Bowl LIV as the Chiefs won their first World Championship in 50 years in 2019.
- Coached two of the three Edmunds brothers – Tremaine and Terrell – the only pair of brothers to both be selected in the first round of the same NFL Draft.
- Both Edmunds brothers earned starting roles as NFL rookies in 2018. Tremaine became the youngest player in league history to register an interception, while Terrell had one INT and 78 tackles for Pittsburgh. In 2019, Tremaine earned his first Pro Bowl berth for the Bills.
- Hall earned three Pro Bowl berths during his pro career, while fifth-round pick Kam Chancellor has earned a Super Bowl ring, appeared in two Super Bowls and been named to four Pro Bowl squads with Seattle.
- Three of Foster's players - DT Tim Settle, CB Greg Stroman and CB Adonis Alexander - were drafted by Washington in 2018.
- Postseason honors have become synomyous with the Hokies' defense with at least one defensive player earning All-America honors of some form in 18 different seasons.
- Under Foster, Virginia Tech produced its first Lombardi Award winner and its first Nagurski Trophy winner in Corey Moore.
- The Hokies have also two BIG EAST defensive players of the year during Foster's tenure – Moore, who earned the honor in both 1998 and 1999, and Cornell Brown, who won it in 1995. Brown would later earn a Super Bowl ring with the Baltimore Ravens.
- Began his career as a GA at Murray State (1981-82) before eventually making the move with Beamer to Blacksburg in 1987.

VT UNIVERSITY & MEDIA INFORMATION

ABOUT VIRGINIA TECH

Dedicated to its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), Virginia Tech pushes the boundaries of knowledge by taking a hands-on, transdisciplinary approach to preparing scholars to be leaders and problem-solvers.

A comprehensive land-grant institution that enhances the quality of life in Virginia and throughout the world, Virginia Tech is an inclusive community dedicated to knowledge, discovery, and creativity. Virginia Tech offers the widest range of degree choices in Virginia to more than 37,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students on all its campuses.

Virginia Tech has a significant presence across Virginia, including numerous Extension offices and research centers. In Northern Virginia, the university is developing a 1 million-square-foot Innovation Campus that will become a global center of talent production and technology excellence. In Roanoke, the Fralin Biomedical Research Institute at VTC and the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine are a part of the emerging Health Sciences and Technology Campus. The main campus is in Blacksburg, Virginia, while the university's international presence is anchored by the Steger Center for International Scholarship in Riva San Vitale, Switzerland. Other sites are in Newport News, Richmond, and Abingdon.

Offering approximately 280 undergraduate and graduate majors, Virginia Tech has eight undergraduate colleges, a school of medicine, a veterinary medicine college, Graduate School, and Honors College. Inside and outside of the classroom, in living-learning communities and in its Corps of Cadets, and in collaboration across academic disciplines, Virginia Tech students engage in experiential learning.

In Virginia Tech's transdisciplinary communities called Destination Areas, scholars seek to address complex global challenges that cross traditional academic boundaries. Taking students to the next level by helping them solve real-world problems, Tech professors have a reputation for imagining the next great thing – from blind-driver cars to energy-conscious homes – and then making it happen.

A leading global research institution, Virginia Tech conducts more than $500 million in research each year (the FY19 total was $542 million). The university boasts world-class research institutes and facilities — such as the Smart Road transportation research testbed, and the Cube, a four-story theater and laboratory in the Moss Arts Center. The LINK LICENSE LAUNCH team, a one-stop shop for industry partners from discovery to market, is dedicated to streamlining all aspects of corporate partnerships, from research collaborations to corporate giving to technology commercialization and startups.

Guided by its Principles of Community, the university is dedicated to increasing access, inclusion, and diversity in order to create a community that nurtures learning and growth for all of its members.

The desire to serve is deeply ingrained in Virginia Tech's learning, discovery, and engagement. More than a motto, Ut Prosim is a value system that guides students' decisions and helps mold them into responsible citizens of the world.

AT A GLANCE

- Main campus located in Blacksburg, Virginia
- Innovation Campus and numerous additional sites in the greater D.C. area
- Health Sciences and Technology Campus and other sites in Roanoke, Virginia
- Eight undergraduate colleges, two professional colleges, graduate school, Honors College
- 110 bachelor's degree majors
- 170 master's and doctoral degree majors
- 37,000-plus total students at all campuses, including undergraduate, graduate, and professional
- 14:1 student-faculty ratio
- Main campus includes more than 235 buildings, 2,600 acres, and an airport
- Ranked 48th in university research in the United States
- Adjacent corporate research center

INTERESTING FACTS & FIGURES

- Virginia Tech is one of two institutions in the nation to have a Corps of Cadets embedded in a large civilian student body, and the corps boasts the highest commissioning rate — 79 percent — of all the senior military and service academies in nation. Enrollment exceeds 1,100 cadets, with plans to grow to 1,400.
- Virginia Tech was ranked among the world's elite institutions in the 2019 QS World University Ratings by Subject.
- Virginia Tech ranked in the 201-250 range in the 2020 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Among U.S. public land-grant universities, it is tied for 15th in 2020.
- In fall 2020, U.S. News & World Report ranked Virginia Tech's College of Engineering at No. 9 among public institutions and No. 13 overall.
- U.S. News also ranked three Virginia Tech graduate programs among the nation's top 10, including the industrial/manufacturing/systems program (No. 6); environmental and environmental health engineering program (No. 7); and the civil engineering program (No. 9). The evening MBA program was No. 19.
- U.S. News' rankings of undergraduate programs placed Virginia Tech at 29th overall among public universities and 74th among all national universities. Forbes ranked the university 26th among the top 30 public institutions in the nation.
- U.S. News & World Report's ranking of the Best Online Programs in 2020 rated Virginia Tech's online master's degree in information technology the nation's fourth best, as well as third best for veterans. The online graduate engineering program moved up six places to No. 10.
- Money rated Virginia Tech as one of the best colleges for your money (No. 34).
- In 2019, Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine again ranked Virginia Tech among the best values in public education (20th).
- The National Science Foundation ranked Virginia Tech 48th in research expenditures for FY18.
- In 2020, Princeton Review ranked Virginia Tech No. 1 for Best Counseling Services, No. 7 for Their Students Love These Colleges, No. 8 for Best Campus Food, and No. 15 for Town-Gown Relations are Great.
- In Princeton Review rankings for 2021, the university was No. 25 for undergraduate entrepreneurship programs.
- Virginia Tech's undergraduate architecture school was ranked No. 6 and its graduate architecture program No. 13 by DesignIntelligence in 2019-20.
- USA Today has ranked Virginia Tech as the best place in the nation to study natural resources and conservation for four consecutive years. The College of Natural Resources and Environment's forestry program also ranked first.

Joseph G. Tront, PhD., professor of electrical and computer engineering in the College of Engineering at Virginia Tech, is the university's faculty chairman of athletics.

TIM SANDS UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

@VTSandsman

Timothy D. Sands is the 16th president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, joining the university in June of 2014. A scientist, educator, and inventor, he has dedicated much of his career to advancing the impact of research and innovation in public education. As president, he has engaged the university community in a visionary plan to advance Virginia Tech's role as a global land-grant institution, confronting the commonwealth's, the country's, and the world's most challenging problems. The initiative, called "Beyond Boundaries," seeks to define Virginia Tech's role a generation into the future and align the educational experience with the needs and opportunities that will be created by changing world economies and the evolving landscape of higher education.

In collaboration with the provost and academic leadership, President Sands has initiated foundational projects across the university to align Virginia Tech's trajectory with the Beyond Boundaries vision. For example,Destination Areas are thematic focus areas that leverage the university's signature strengths, attract talent and generate creative energy that extends across the disciplines. The university's residential campus in Blacksburg is being reimagined to support a modern land-grant mission and provide robust and adaptable infrastructure for continued growth in transformational research and community engagement. Virginia Tech Carilion's rapidly developing Health Science and Technology campus in Roanoke is catalyzing economic opportunity in the Blacksburg-Roanoke region and enhancing NIH-funded research. In 2018, President Sands announced the creation of a 1-million-square-foot Innovation Campus in Northern Virginia to support the commonwealth's economy with leading programs in computer science, software engineering, machine learning and artificial intelligence. The Innovation Campus was the centerpiece of the education proposal that was a critical factor in Amazon's decision to locate a new east coast headquarters in Arlington, VA. In 2019, Virginia Tech announced a partnership with Children's National Hospital to develop a biomedical research facility at the Children's National Research & Innovation Campus in Washington, D.C.

The Beyond Boundaries vision has evolved into a new strategic plan for the university, The Virginia Tech Difference, Advancing Beyond Boundaries. Developed in partnership with the campus community, the plan establishes four strategic priorities: Advancing Regional, National, and Global Impact, Elevating the Ut Prosim (That I May Serve) Difference, Being a Destination for Talent, and Ensuring Institutional Excellence. The plan supports Virginia Tech's ability to anticipate and adaptively respond to changing landscapes in education, industry, and outreach.

Throughout his tenure at Virginia Tech, President Sands has championed InclusiveVT, a program he launched to provide leadership, collaboration, guidance, and resources to support and accelerate the implementation of inclusion and diversity goals throughout the university community. InclusiveVT supports the imperative of inclusion and diversity as key components of a university ecosystem rich in opportunities for experiential learning, cross-disciplinary engagement, and the development of cultural awareness and empathy.

President Sands' vision for Virginia Tech embraces the university's heritage of service and community and its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve). Virginia Tech students will graduate with disciplinary mastery, technology literacy, cultural competency, resilience, empathy for others, and the passions and strengths needed for a life and career of impactful service to humanity.

Before coming to Virginia Tech, President Sands served as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost of Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana. He was acting president during the summer and fall of 2012, before Mitchell E. Daniels became the 12th president of Purdue.

He earned a bachelor's degree with highest honors in engineering physics and a master's degree and doctorate in materials science from the University of California, Berkeley. He joined the Purdue faculty in 2002 as the Basil S. Turner Professor of Engineering in the schools of Materials Engineering and Electrical and Computer Engineering. Prior to becoming provost, he served as the Mary Jo and Robert L. Kirk Director of the Birck Nanotechnology Center in Purdue's Discovery Park.

From 1993 to 2002, President Sands was a professor of materials science and engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, and before that, he performed research and directed research groups at Bell Communications Research (Bellcore) in Red Bank, New Jersey. Throughout his career, he has participated in and led research teams and academic programs that have been characterized by open collaboration across a wide array of disciplines.

He has published more than 250 refereed papers and conference proceedings and has been granted 21patents in electronic and optoelectronic materials and devices. His recent research efforts have been directed toward the design and development of novel nanocomposite materials for environmentally friendly and cost-effective solid-state lighting, direct conversion of heat to electrical power and thermoelectric refrigeration. He holds faculty appointments in the Bradley Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering and the Department of Materials Science and Engineering in the College of Engineering, with research interests in microelectronics, optoelectronics, and nanotechnology. He is a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, the Materials Research Society, and the National Academy of Inventors, and a member of the National Council for Expanding American Innovation and the Economic Club of Washington, D.C. President Sands serves on the Board of Directors for the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Investment Authority, the Center for Innovative Technology, the Northern Virginia Technology Council, the Business Higher Education Forum, and is Chair of the Board for the Virginia Space Grant Consortium. He also serves on the Board of Visitors for the National Intelligence University. Recent awards and honors include The Edward Bouchet Legacy Award, the National GEM Consortium's Academic Leadership Award, the Virginia Latino Higher Education Network's Leadership Impact Award, and the Roanoke-Blacksburg Technology Council's Regional Leadership Award.

President Sands is joined at Virginia Tech by his wife, Dr. Laura Sands, a professor of gerontology in the Department of Human Development at Virginia Tech. All four of their children graduated from Purdue and are proud members of the Virginia Tech community. Follow President Sands on Twitter and Instagram at @VTSandsman.

WHIT BABCOCK DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

@WhitBabcock

Virginia Tech Athletics started a new era when Whit Babcock was formally named Virginia Tech's director of athletics on Jan. 24, 2014. The Harrisonburg, Virginia native came back to the state following stints at Cincinnati, Missouri, West Virginia, Auburn and James Madison.

Babcock continues to make his mark on all facets of the athletics department, from academic and athletic accomplishment to fan engagement and facilities improvements, as well as fundraising and successful coaching hires.

During the 2020-21 academic year Babcock helped guide Tech Athletics through one of the most turbulent times in the modern history of college athletics as the COVID-19 pandemic impacted lives, families and economies across the globe. Despite the unprecedented challenges, through the collective perseverance of Tech's coaches, student-athletes and staff, the Hokies produced some of the most impressive collective results in school history.

In the classroom, 16 of Tech's teams registered a collective 3.0 or better team GPA during both the fall and spring semesters in 2020-21. On the court, Virginia Tech's men's and women's basketball teams both made the NCAA Tournament in the same season for the first time in school history. Men's basketball coach Mike Young was named the ACC Coach of the Year in his second season guiding the Hokies, while women's coach Kenny Brooks owns a 101-59 record during his five seasons in Blacksburg.

Under the leadership of Dave Cianelli, Tech's men's indoor track squad won the ACC indoor title by the largest margin in modern conference history. It marked the 12th overall team ACC championship claimed by the Hokies under Cianelli. In 2021, Tech's softball program coached by Pete D'Amour reached the NCAA Super Regional for the first time since 2008. Tech's women's golf coach Carol Robertson continued leading her team to new heights as the Hokies qualified for the third round of the NCAA Tournament in 2021 for the first time in program history. Tech's wrestling team under the direction of Tony Robie also continued its streak of NCAA Tournament appearances. The men's soccer program led by Mike Brizendine qualified for NCAA postseason competition for the fifth straight year as standout performer Daniel Pereira made history as the school's first No. 1 overall pick in the Major League Soccer Draft.

On the football field, head coach Justin Fuente and the Hokies reclaimed the Commonwealth Cup and finished the season on a positive note with a convincing 33-15 victory to end the season vs. Virginia. The Hokies boasted a pair of first-round NFL Draft picks for the second time in four years in CB Caleb Farley and T Christian Darrisaw, while a total of four Tech players were selected in the 2021 NFL Draft. Tech's baseball squad under the direction of John Szefc returned to the field after having their 2020 season truncated. The Hokies enjoyed enthusiastic crowds as Tech returned to the national rankings and finished the year with 27 victories.

The future is also bright on several other fronts in Blacksburg under Babcock's guidance. In conjunction with Virginia Tech President Dr. Tim Sands and other campus officials, Tech Athletics launched the Reach For Excellence Campaign in April 2021. This $400 million fundraising campaign seeks to help propel Tech Athletics sports to the forefront of the Atlantic Coast Conference, prepare generations of student-athletes for success in life, and raise the university's profile nationwide.

Several major construction projects were also finalized during the 2020-21 academic year. Thanks to a $15.2 million gift, Tech's Student-Athlete Performance Center was completed and went online serving meals on a daily basis to student-athletes. This multiple-purpose space permits Tech's sports nutrition staff to provide a variety of menu options to athletes in all 22 sports. The venue will also be used for donor hospitality before football and basketball games, recruiting and a myriad of other functions.

In addition, a $4.5 million renovation and expansion of the football strength and conditioning center was completed. The project nearly doubled the functional workout space of the facility located in the Merryman Center to over 12,300 square feet. A custom-designed, 24-rack system by Sorinex serves as the centerpiece of the strength and performance area that features all-new equipment, weights and other high-performance training gear.

The student-athlete experience is always at the forefront of Babcock's mind and he played an integral role in securing 176 residence spaces for student-athletes with an interest in interdisciplinary creation and entrepreneurship in the Creativity and Innovation District Residence Hall, which is slated to open this fall. This $105.5 million project on the Virginia Tech campus will encompass 200,000 square feet and feature a total of 596 beds, as well as academic, research and collaboration space.

Tech's external operations unit was recognized for its creativity during a year filled with unprecedented challenges in 2020-21. Tech won Paciolan's Star of the Year for Innovative Revenue Generation Programs, while the Athletics marketing squad was one of six finalists for NACMA's Marketing Team of the Year. Meanwhile, Tech's Learfield/IMG Ticketing Solutions team won NACMA's Play of the Year for orchestrating a virtual sellout of Lane Stadium last fall.

Virginia Tech launched its Reach for Excellence campaign in April 2021, a $400 million fundraising initiative that seeks to help propel Tech Athletics sports to the forefront of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Babcock was joined at the introductory event by Tech women's golf coach Carol Robertson (left), president Tim Sands (middle) and football coach Justin Fuente (right).

Among the many notable athletic accomplishments during the 2019-20 academic year, Tech's women's indoor track squad won its third ACC indoor title and its first since winning back-to-back titles in 2007-08. The Tech's men's cross country squad qualified for the NCAA Championships, led by Peter Seufer, who claimed the ACC Men's Cross Country title for the second consecutive season. He finished fourth at the NCAA Championships, the best-ever finish in the men's distance program's history. Chugger Adair's women's soccer squad made the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season, while Tech's wrestling program ascended to No. 3 in the national rankings.

There were also an abundance of accolades for the Hokies in 2018-19. Robie earned 2019 ACC Coach of the Year honors following a third straight top-10 NCAA Wrestling finish after posting back-to-back ACC titles. The men's track and field program won both indoor and outdoor ACC championships, while the softball squad earned the ACC Coastal title, a No. 1 seed in the ACC tournament and the program's first NCAA tournament berth since 2015 as D'Amour earned ACC Coach of the Year honors. The men's and women's soccer programs each advanced to the NCAA tournament, while the women's golf program and cross country also qualified for NCAA postseason competition. Mekhi Lewis won Tech's first individual NCAA title in wrestling at 165 pounds, while Amanda Hollandsworth became the first Tech women's golfer to advance to the championship round of the NCAA tournament and qualified for the U.S. Women's Open.

Babcock has received national recognition for his work at Virginia Tech. In June 2020, Stadium named him the No. 9 athletic director in the country. During the 2017-18 academic year, Babcock was named one of four FBS recipients of the Under Armour AD of the Year. The previous year, Babcock was one of five finalists for the AD of the Year honor handed out by SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily.

Babcock and his team spent several years laying the groundwork for the launch of the ACC Network in August 2019. Those preparations included the completion of control rooms, engineering and office space in the south end zone of Lane Stadium with plans for studio space on the west side of the stadium facing Beamer Way. In addition to approximately $10 million in infrastructure, the Hokies are also making significant investments in equipment and human resources to showcase Tech's athletic programs, the campus and its people in the best possible light.

In the spring of 2018, the athletics department concluded an $18 million renovation of English Field at Atlantic Union Bank Park—in large part because of a $3.5 million donation from Atlantic Union Bank secured by Babcock—and the conclusion of an $18 million project that resulted in the construction of a softball batting facility and the conversion of Rector Field House into a home for the Hokies' track and field programs. Major upgrades at the Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center have also been completed.

In December of 2016, Babcock implemented a "Drive for 25" campaign designed to increase membership in the Hokie Club to 25,000 members. He tabbed Hall of Fame football coach Frank Beamer to serve as the spokesperson for the campaign, which helps raise the financial resources to provide Virginia Tech student-athletes with the opportunities to continue their success in the classroom, in competition and in the community. The initiative has increased membership from 9,000 members to a figure approaching 20,000 members as of July 2021.

Babcock arrived in Blacksburg following two-and-a-half years as the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati and five years at the University of Missouri, where he served as the executive associate director of athletics. His background in fundraising, marketing, promotions, ticket sales, licensing and multimedia partnerships were key attributes in support of his hiring. In his introductory press conference at Virginia Tech, Babcock cited three guiding principles for his vision for the athletics department's future: commitment to comprehensive excellence, centering the department's focus on the student-athlete experience and engaging the community.

Babcock served as a member of the NACDA Executive Committee for 2020-21 academic year and continues to serve as a member of the NCAA Football Oversight Committee through 2021. He is also an active mentor as part of a project established by National Coalition for Minority Football Coaches. This program pairs influential athletic directors with minority football coaches. Babcock is a past president of the National Association of Athletic Development Directors (NAADD). He served as the President/Chairman of the ACC Athletic Directors in 2019-20 and continues to serve as AD representative on ACCN Advisory Committee to ESPN.

A former student-athlete himself, Babcock lettered four seasons in baseball at James Madison University and served as team captain his senior year. He earned his bachelor's degree from JMU in 1992. In 1996, he received his master's in sports management from West Virginia University. He and his wife, Kelly, have three sons: Andrew, Brett and Eli.

VT SPORTS PROPERTIES

Virginia Tech Sports Properties is a division of the national leader in the collegiate sports marketing industry, Learfield IMG College. Virginia Tech Sports Properties is in its 24th year as the exclusive worldwide multi-media and advertising rights holder for Virginia Tech athletics.

In this partnership with the athletics program, Virginia Tech Sports Properties develops, produces and sells an extensive range of sports marketing opportunities for Virginia Tech. Radio play-by-play and coach's shows, a variety of video and digital content as well as Lane Stadium and Cassell Coliseum venue signage and video board marketing. Print and digital advertising are also available and ever-expanding.

During its very successful partnership with Virginia Tech, Virginia Tech Sports Properties has developed the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College into the largest collegiate sports radio network in Virginia. Broadcast coverage includes the commonwealth of Virginia, as well as portions of Maryland, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Washington, D.C., and West Virginia. The Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College includes affiliates in five of the top 120 markets in the country; Washington, D.C. (7), Charlotte, NC (24), Norfolk/Virginia Beach (45), Richmond (53) and Roanoke (119). Those affiliates join the Flagship home of the Hokies in Blacksburg, VA, Monticello Media's 105.3 FM "The Bear."

The network's video and digital efforts include a variety of content pertaining to Virginia Tech football including Hokies Walk Through, which allows fans to interact directly with "The Voice of the Hokies" Jon Laaser prior to Hokies' home games on Facebook Live. Additionally, the network's digital efforts include exclusive access to head coach Justin Fuente and behind-the-scenes access as the Hokies prepare for game day.

Virginia Tech Sports Properties also works diligently to stay on the forefront of an ever-evolving multi-media climate. That includes conceptualizing content that provides Hokie Nation a variety of audio and video streaming options to keep up with Tech football throughout the season. In 2021 those initiatives will include worldwide streaming of game action and coach's shows on TuneIn and the HokieSports app and website. Fans can also get weekly insight from the broadcast crew and exclusive player interviews through HokiePod, which returns for a fourth season and is available for download on Thursday of game weeks. Daily content for social mediums is also available throughout the year.

Other advertising and marketing opportunities managed by Virginia Tech Sports Properties include the state-of-the-art video screens inside Lane Stadium, Cassell Coliseum and English Field at Atlantic Union Bank Park. Virginia Tech Sports Properties also features venue signage, ribbon board LED advertising and promotion, pre-game hospitality events and a wide array of print and digital opportunities across all Virginia Tech sports.

Whether your interest is in radio, video, digital media, social media, print, promotions, signage, video board or event impact, Virginia Tech Sports Properties is your corporate connection to Virginia Tech.

VT SPORTS NETWORK FROM LEARFIELD IMG COLLEGE

@LazeVT

JON LAASER (pronounced "laser") enters his seventh season as "The Voice of the Hokies" in 2021. In that role, Laaser serves as the lead announcer for Virginia Tech football and men's basketball across the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College. Additionally, he is the host of the weekly Tech Talk Live! radio program, Hokies Walk Through on Facebook Live and provides analysis weekly on HokiePod. Laaser also serves as one of the primary announcers for Tech's ACC Network broadcasts, pens the "Behind the Mic" column for Inside Hokie Sports magazine and frequently serves as an emcee, public speaker and ambassador for the University. The Chanhassen, Minnesota native boasts a wide range of football, basketball and baseball announcing experience throughout his 19-year broadcasting career. Named to his current position on June 23, 2015, he joined Virginia Tech after spending four years working as a television and radio announcer for VCU men's and women's basketball. His broadcasting journey originally brought him to Virginia in 2009 as one of the founding staff members of the Richmond Flying Squirrels, the Double-A affiliate of the San Francisco Giants. He spent six seasons (2010-2015) as "The Voice of the Squirrels" and during that time garnered regional college basketball television assignments which included partnering with analyst John Feinstein on NBC Sports Washington.

Working for Hampton Roads Sports Network in 2014-15, Laaser served as the lead play-by-play broadcaster for college and high school football and basketball telecasts featuring schools throughout Virginia. He was also "The Voice of the Buccaneers" for the football and basketball programs of Charleston Southern from 2008-09, in addition to baseball broadcasting duties with the Myrtle Beach Pelicans, which at the time was the Class A Advanced affiliate of the Atlanta Braves.

His extensive baseball background also includes stints with the Altoona (PA) Curve (Pirates AA affiliate), Montgomery (AL) Biscuits (Rays AA affiliate), Yakima (WA) Bears (Diamondbacks short-season A affiliate), St. Paul (MN) Saints (independent) and St. Cloud River Bats (Northwoods League). Laaser's professional career began in Minnesota with stints working for KFAN Radio in Minneapolis and KXSS Radio in St. Cloud as well as with the NFL's Minnesota Vikings. Laaser is a graduate of Brown College in the Twin Cities and currently resides in Blacksburg with his wife, Renée, whom he wed in May of 2018.

@MikeBurnopVT

MIKE BURNOP, Virginia Tech's Hall of Fame analyst, enters his 39th season in the Hokies' football booth. He was honored as the 2019 Virginia Sportscaster of the Year. In addition to his role as analyst, Burnop handles all post-game interviews from Tech's locker room. His versatility at the mic is nearly unparalleled in collegiate athletics as he also serves as the analyst for Tech men's basketball broadcasts. He is one of just a few announcers nationwide that provide analysis for both sports.

With Laaser, Tech's radio duo teams up to bring fans Tech Talk Live!, a weekly in-season radio program that features in-depth analysis from both Head Football Coach Justin Fuente and Head Basketball Coach Mike Young. Burnop is one of the most in-demand emcees in the commonwealth, hosting numerous Hokie Club and University events (and barbeques) throughout the year. He also serves as an analyst on the weekly HokiePod podcast.

Burnop, a star tight end for the Hokies in his playing days, held the Virginia Tech record for receptions in a season by a tight end with 46 from the end of his playing career until it was broken by Bucky Hodges in 2016 (48). Burnop also ranks second all-time (Hodges) for career yards receiving by a tight end. He was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2000. In addition to his broadcasting duties, Burnop owns New River Office Supply, a business operating in Blacksburg, Pearisburg and Salem, VA. Burnop is a prominent member of the Blacksburg community, frequently lending his time, voice and talents to philanthropic causes throughout the area.

@YoWes910TheFan

WES MCELROY is the afternoon host at Sports Radio (910 AM/105.1 FM) the Fan in Richmond, VA, a longtime affiliate of the Virginia Tech Sports Network from Learfield IMG College.

The two-time Virginia Sportscaster of the Year has been the leading sports talk voice in Central Virginia for over 13 years and has served the past three years as the co-host of the Hokies official pregame show, "Tech Kickoff Show." He has also co-hosted The Hokies Walk Through with Laaser on Facebook Live and served as a fill-in sideline reporter. Since 2019, McElroy has served as the Hokies' sideline reporter. He will continue his hosting duties on The Hokies Walk Through. McElroy lives in Richmond's West End with his wife of eight years, Katie, and their daughter, London.

LUTHER MADDY joined the Hokies' radio broadcast crew in 2019, and is in his third season. As a DT for head coach Frank Beamer and defensive coordinator Bud Foster, Maddy played in 56 games from 2011 to his graduation in 2015 posting 175 total tackles and 14.0 sacks. The Delray Beach, Florida native had 29.5 tackles for loss in his career that included one ACC Coastal Division title in 2011 and a 4-1 record in bowl games. Maddy went undrafted in the NFL Draft, however he was invited to minicamp with the New Orleans Saints, before finding a home with the BC Lions in the CFL where he played for two seasons.

HOKIEVISION & ACC NETWORK

In March 2018, the Virginia Tech Board of Visitors approved plans for a $10 million investment in facilities, equipment and infrastructure on the Tech Athletics footprint of campus, as the Hokies readied for the anticipated launch of the ACC Network in 2019.

The development of two identical linear network control rooms, including audio and replay suites, as well as state-of-the-art engineering, shading and editing suites came to fruition in the spring of 2019 in the former Shott Media Center in the south end zone of Lane Stadium. These two control rooms have the ability to allow HokieVision—the athletics department's video staff—to produce simultaneously live Virginia Tech sporting events for the ESPN networks, including the new linear ACC Network set to launch in August 2019. In addition, the rooms can be used to produce ACC Network Extra digital broadcasts. The first linear television broadcast produced out of the south end zone was a Virginia Tech baseball game against Boston College on May 6, 2019.

A second location on the first floor of Lane Stadium's West Side that currently houses a memorabilia area will be transformed into studios, as well as another control room and audio suite. In addition to programming for the ACC Network, this location will be used for HokieVision, as well as potential future collaborative efforts with Virginia Tech academic departments.

HOKIE CLUB

Founded in 1949 as the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund with the expressed purpose of funding scholarships for student-athletes at Tech, today the Hokie Club serves as the official conduit between fans and Virginia Tech Athletics.

"I know firsthand from both my experience as a player and from coaching just how important scholarships are to young people here at Virginia Tech," Frank Beamer said, who earned a football scholarship to Tech long before embarking on his legendary coaching career. "Scholarships change lives, and that's why Cheryl and I have always been willing to give to help these student-athletes not just to play sports, but to be a part of such a special place and get a degree. Many of my former players wouldn't have received that opportunity otherwise."

REACH FOR EXCELLENCE

In the ever-changing landscape of college athletics, the departments which recognize, welcome, and adapt to moments of change often enjoy the most success—Virginia Tech Athletics stands on the precipice of an extraordinary future and, with your support, can face the challenges head-on.

As the Hokies look to the future, there are incredible opportunities on the horizon for those to come, and now is the time to continue building on the momentum created by those who have passed.

The $400 million initiative called Reach for Excellence that impacts every sport and every future student-athlete at Virginia Tech and stands as part of the university's wider $1.5 billion Boundless Impact campaign.

Any gift can help make an impact. For more information visit reach.hokiesports.com or contact a gift officer today.

Achieving and sustaining success as a football team begins with attracting the right type of student-athletes, coaches, and support staff to Virginia Tech. Then it's our job to provide all the resources necessary to develop these young men athletically, academically and spiritually to reach their full potential. When those individuals and your entire team trust that you have their best interests at heart, you can push them to achieve goals that can exceed even their own expectations.
