About this game...

• Georgia plays its only meeting with Vanderbilt on Wednesday night in Nashville. For the first time in 50 seasons, these two programs are playing each other just once in a regular season, thanks to the SEC's new scheduling arrangement.

The Bulldogs arrive at this game with a 13-14 overall record, 7-7 in SEC play. Most recently, they rallied to tie South Carolina in the final seconds of regulation last Saturday, then defeated the Gamecocks in overtime, 62-54. The win gave Georgia a pair of regular-season sweeps thus far, over Carolina and Texas A&M.

• Wednesday's matchup is the 136th all-time meeting between these two schools in basketball. Vanderbilt leads the series, which began in 1914 and has been renewed annually since 1951, by an 86-49 count. Vandy, in fact, has won six straight games in this series, including a second-round SEC Tournament game in 2010.

• Leading the way throughout this season has been sophomore Kentavious Caldwell-Pope. The Greenville, Ga., native enters this game averaging 17.6 points per game, which ranks second in the SEC. In fact, he ranks among the SEC leaders in nine of the 13 categories for which individual stats are compiled. During Georgia's 5-game win streak, Caldwell-Pope shot 63 percent from the field, 50 percent from 3-point range and 91 percent from the FT line, averaging 19 points and 6.8 boards per game. All these numbers included a season-low 10-point game in the 2nd win over Texas A&M, a game in which he did not score a field goal for the first time of his young career.

• Several Bulldogs have taken their turns in a supporting role to Caldwell-Pope. In Georgia's recent run of success, that status was shared between reserves Kenny Gaines (three double-figure games in past six) and Nemi Djurisc (dbl figs in three of past 5 games).

• Georgia will complete this week with a Saturday afternoon game at home against Tennessee, which the Bulldogs defeated in Knoxville 68-62 three weeks ago tonight.

Georgia vs. Vanderbilt

• Wednesday's game is the 136th all-time meeting between these two schools in basketball. Vanderbilt leads the series, which began in 1914 and has been renewed annually since 1951, by an 86-49 count.

• In the 54 years that Georgia and Vanderbilt played a home-and-home series. Georgia swept the series just seven times and not since 2001. The two schools have split their series nine of the past 12 years.

• Vanderbilt took both regular-season matchups last season: 73-66 in Nashville in early January and 64-56 five weeks later in Athens.

• Oddly, these two programs have met twice in post-season play on their respective home courts. Georgia defeated Vandy at Memorial Gym in the 1991 SEC Tournament second round. Seven years later, Georgia defeated Vandy at Stegeman Coliseum in the NIT third round, earning a trip to New York for the NIT Final Four in the process.

• A geographical breakdown of the series follows:

Games in Athens: UGA leads 33-28

Games in Nashville: Vandy leads 53-13

Neutral-Court Games: Vandy leads 5-3

Noteworthy

• A month ago, Georgia began its SEC schedule with an RPI rating of 205. The Bulldogs enter tonight's game with an RPI of 122. Why the significant jump? Mostly because three of Georgia's past five wins were against Top 100 teams, two on the road, to boot.

• Right now, Georgia has just one player (KCP at 17.6 ppg) averaging in double-digit scoring. Not only is it the sole SEC school with such a distinction, but that also makes it the only Bulldog team of the past 50 years with just a single double-figure scorer.

• Georgia has used 12 different starting lineups this season. The one constant through all 12 lineups is, of course, has been Kentavious Caldwell-Pope. Five other teammates (both Williamses, Morris, Florveus and Djuricic) now have double-digit starts.

• KCP is on pace to reach 1,000 career points by season's end. If he gets there, he'll be the 42nd player in UGA history to reach that milestone, but he'll be the first since Jarvis Hayes (2002-03) to reach it in just two seasons. By comparison, Hall-of-Famer Dominique Wilkins reached 1,000 points in his 46th game at UGA, which came near the end of his sophomore season. Wilkins played in just 16 games as a freshman because of a foot injury. Jacky Dorsey, 2-time All-SEC forward in 1975-76, is the fastest Georgia player ever to 1,000 points, reaching the mark in the 43rd game of his career.

• One more interesting tidbit about Caldwell-Pope. He remains one of just 11 players in all of NCAA Division I that have scored in double figures in each of their team's games. He's the only SEC player to accomplish this feat and one of just five from the "BCS" leagues to do so.

• OK...a couple more items about KCP. This week he ranks 56th nationally in scoring at 17.6 ppg, 77th nationally in 3-pointers per game at 2.44, and 30th nationally in steals at 2.15/game.

• Nemi Djuricic was the fifth-leading scorer on last season's Georgia team at 7.0 points per game. This year he's raised his average to 7.8 per game but is now the No. 2 scorer on the current squad.

• A key for Georgia's success this season: Defense. Georgia is 10-1 when allowing less than 59 points. Georgia ranks fourth in the league in defensive rebounding (24.8/699), and ranks second in the league field goal percentage defense (.390)

• Some revealing observations from Georgia's recent 5- game win streak:

> Its starters were outscored 204-170 (avg. 41-34). The Georgia bench, however, outscored the opposing reserves 133-61 (avg. 27-12).

> In those five wins, Georgia shot 46 percent from the field, 42 percent from 3-point range. Caldwell-Pope led this surge, with shooting percentages of 63 and 50 percent, respectively.

> In the last 5 minutes of these five games, Georgia shot 70 percent from the field, 75 percent from the line, 75 percent from 3-point and outrebounded the opposition 23-16.

• Georgia's recent 5-game win streak was the longest in SEC play under coach Mark Fox. The longest win streak, period, of the Fox era is a 9-game run in the 2010-11 season. The school record for consecutive SEC wins is six, established three times: in 2001, 1992-93 teams (spanning both seasons) and also the SEC championship team of 1990. The last time for a 7-game league win streak occurred in the 1930-31 season, when the Bulldogs belonged to the Southern Conference.

KCP One of UGA's Best Ever

Sophomore guard Kentavious Caldwell-Pope returns as one of the SEC's top players. Among his freshman-year highlights included:

- He earned Freshman All-SEC honors in his first season of 2012.
- KCP ranked second among all Bulldogs in scoring and led them in rebounding, minutes and steals.
- His 422 points were the fifth-highest total by a UGA freshman in school history. Just as important, his 166 rebounds (5.2/game) were the tenth-best total by a UGA rookie and the most ever by a guard.
- Caldwell-Pope last year was also Georgia's leader in 3-point shots made (65) and taken (214).

In addition:

- KCP is the fourth-leading returning scorer in the SEC, behind Boynton (Fla.), Young (Ark.) and Golden (Tenn.).
- He is also the league's fifth-leading returning rebounder and its only guard among the group.
- He ranks second among all returning SEC players in minutes per game (32.1), behind only LSU guard Andre Stringer (32.2 mpg).
- True to form, Caldwell-Pope is the Bulldogs' only player thus far to average over 30 minutes per contest this season. He currently ranks 2nd in the SEC in minutes at 33.7 per game. Georgia's next most active player is Nemanja Djurisc at 23.5 minutes per game.

Fox Best at Molding Talent

Blogger and hoops junkie Dan Hanner of RealGM.com penned an article in February of 2012 that anointed Georgia head coach Mark Fox as the top coach in college basketball at player development. In a blog entry, Hanner used a complex formula to rate college coaches. Among Hanner's many observations he writes, "Mark Fox has truly been fantastic at getting the most out of his players."

The top five in the Player Development category include Fox; Bo Ryan (Wisconsin); Craig Robinson (Oregon State); Lorenzo Romar (Washington); and Mike Montgomery (Cal).

Fox Also Tops at Producing Grads

Head Coach Mark Fox must also receive some degree of credit for developing high-performing students in the classroom. Since his arrival in April of 2009, no fewer than 12 Georgia basketball players have earned their undergraduate degrees, including all four seniors from 2012. Every player that has exhausted his eligibility at UGA under Fox has completed his degree.

Prominent among this group of 12 includes Damien Wilkins – nephew of UGA great Dominique Wilkins – whose last year of eligibility came in 2004 and who has played professionally in the NBA ever since.

Thornton Out Indefinitely

Junior forward Marcus Thornton will be out indefinitely after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery on Dec. 26. The native Atlantan has been plagued by injuries to both knees throughout his career in Athens. He missed five games last season because of knee surgery in December, and he underwent another surgery on his right knee immediately after the 2012 season ended, a process that kept him out of most off-season workouts.

"SEC Storied" Series Spotlights 2008 SEC Tourney In Next Episode

Premiering this Sunday, the latest episode of ESPN's "SEC Storied" series will focus on the 2008 SEC Basketball Tournament. Georgia captured the '08 championship by winning four consecutive games, including two overtime contests and two on Saturday. A category F2 tornado struck the Georgia Dome during 2nd-round play, causing the postponement of the Bulldogs' game vs. Kentucky and the moving of the tournament's remainder to the on-campus arena at Georgia Tech.

Several former Bulldogs, including seniors Sundiata Gaines and Dave Bliss are featured in the 60-minute shot.

Georgia and the SEC

Following are a few tidbits about Georgia's history in the SEC:

- Georgia's all-time record in SEC games, covering 80 years, is 495-728 (.405). That ranks 10th of 12 SEC members (excluding Missouri and Texas A&M).

- Georgia can claim one SEC regular-season championship (1990), one regular-season divisional title (2002) and two SEC Tournament crowns (1983, 2008).

- Georgia has had just one AP SEC Player of the Year: Dominique Wilkins in 1981 and no POY, as voted by the league's coaches since 1987. Other superlative post-season awards include Coaches' SEC Defensive Player of the Year (Rashad Wright in 2004), AP SEC Newcomer of the Year (Jarvis Hayes in 2002), and Scholar-Athlete of the Year (Dave Bliss in 2008).

- Wilkins was the first of four Georgia players to lead the SEC in scoring at season's end. He averaged a league-best 23.6 points per game in 1981. Others to follow him have been Vern Fleming (19.8 ppg in 1984), Jumaine Jones (18.8 ppg in 1999) and Jarvis Hayes (18.6 ppg in 2002).

- Georgia has an all-time SEC Tournament record of 40-50. The 2008 tourney marked the first time since 1997 that Georgia has reached the finals.

Hayes Joins Bulldog Staff

A face familiar to Georgia basketball fans joined coach Mark Fox's staff during the offseason. Jonas Hayes, a 3-year letterman from 2002-04 and an '04 UGA graduate, was named as the Bulldogs' Operations Coordinator in May of 2012. Hayes, a native of Atlanta, had spent the previous five seasons as an assistant coach at Belmont Abbey in Belmont, N.C. He had also served brief stints as an assistant coach at South Carolina State, Morehouse and his alma mater, Douglass High School in Atlanta.

Hayes, whose twin brother Jarvis continues to play professionally overseas, became the first Georgia basketball alumnus to hold a full-time position on the staff at his alma mater since Shaun Golden was an administrative assistant on the staff in 1997.

Italy Trip a Valuable Tool

For the first time since 2004, Georgia ventured beyond U.S. borders for a tour of exhibition games. The Bulldogs spent the first half of August playing three games and checking out the major cities and tourist spots in Italy. They also visited UGA's art school campus in Cortona, Italy.

Georgia went 2-1 on its tour of games, winding up with a 17-point victory on the same day they visited the Colosseum in Rome. Given the anticipated roles of Georgia's freshmen this coming season, perhaps more important than the trip were the 10 practices that preceded the Bulldogs' departure overseas.

2012-13 Marks 50th Season in Stegeman History

Though it scarcely resembles the building it started out to be, Stegeman Coliseum celebrates its 50th season in 2012-13. The building has undergone widespread renovations and updates over the years. Its current incarnation is as modern today as the original was back in the 1963-64 school year.

UGA will be commemorating this anniversary throughout the basketball season in a variety of ways. One will recognize many of the greatest moments in the history of the building, which has served many and varied functions.

Among its basketball highlights include (and will be featured in commemoration):

- The inaugural varsity game on Feb. 22, 1964, an 81-68 victory over Georgia Tech.
- Ronnie Hogue established UGA's single-game scoring record with 46 points vs. LSU on Dec. 20, 1971.
- In March of 1971, UGA hosted the NCAA Mideast Regional, which featured Western Kentucky advancing to the Final Four with wins over Kentucky and Ohio State.
- On Feb. 25, 1990, UGA overcame a 19-point, 2nd-half deficit to defeat 12th-ranked LSU 86-85 and take a 1-game lead in the SEC race with two to play.

Among the non-basketball highlights in Coliseum history include:

- Performances by Louis Armstrong, Bill Cosby (twice), Bob Hope (twice), Diana Ross & The Supremes, Ray Charles, Loretta Lynn, Elton John, James Taylor, Jimmy Buffett, The Allman Brothers, Billy Joel, The Village People, The B-52s and Lynyrd Skynyrd.
- An address by former Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev on Dec. 3, 1999.
- Rhythmic gymnastics and early-round volleyball competitions during the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.
- A slew of notable moments in the history of Georgia's women's basketball program.
- Competition involving five other UGA athletic teams: women's & men's gymnastics, wrestling, volleyball and men's tennis.
- Annual State Science Fair, which brought together hundreds of middle and high schoolers in a competition of exhibits.
- Hugely popular "Great Southland Stampede" rodeo from 1972 until 2003.

2012-13 Game Summaries

Georgia 68, Jacksonville 62
Nov. 9, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope led all scorers with 17 points as Georgia built a big lead before struggling to hold off Jacksonville in each team's season opener.

The Bulldogs shot an even 50 percent in jumping to a 34-21 lead at halftime. Command of the game safely secured, they shifted into cruise control over the final period and allowed the Dolphins perilously back into contention as a result.

Georgia needed a goodly portion of the first half to get a firm grasp on the game. Once the Bulldogs did, however, they staked a solid claim.

A dunk by reserve Tim Dixon got them their first double-digit lead at 14-4 with 13:02 left. The margin remained with six or seven points until Georgia finished the final three minutes of the half on an 8-2 run. Caldwell-Pope was the key figure in this run, scoring five straight on a steal and dunk, as well as a 3-pointer with 26 seconds left that boosted the margin to 34-19.

Jacksonville deployed full-court defensive pressure to scrap its way back within reach during second-half play. The Dolphins tallied nine unanswered points -- capped by a 3-point play from Javon Dawson with 15:16 left -- to cut their deficit to 40-36.

Though Georgia regained its footing and built the margin back into double figures, Jacksonville wasn't finished. Jarvis Haywood's layup with 45 seconds left got the Dolphins their last 4-point deficit at 66-62. Nemi Djurisc answered by making one of two foul shots nine seconds later and JU was unable to get any closer.

Team / Individual Notes

A total of 43 turnovers and 45 personal fouls were committed in this game...Tim Dixon had a career-high seven rebounds...Vincent Williams had a career-best six assists...Djurisc had the second double-double of his career...David Richt, the son of UGA football coach Mark Richt, sang the National Anthem before the season opener.

Youngstown State 68, Georgia 56
Nov. 12, 2012 -- Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

A 14-point first half set the tone for an altogether frustrating night in Georgia's first-round loss to Youngstown State in the Progressive Legends Classic.

Aside from Kentavious Caldwell-Pope's 27 points, the Georgia offense floundered throughout much of the night. No teammate reached double figures, the Bulldogs shot just 32 percent and they were outrebounded 42-31.

The Bulldogs needed over four minutes after tipoff to scratch. By then -- a 3-pointer by KCP -- the Penguins had reeled off the game's first eight points, and it was an uphill battle for Georgia thereafter.

Almost three more minutes elapsed before Georgia's next score, a KCP layup that cut the Youngstown State lead to 12-5. That margin reached double figures at 16-6 on a layup by Kamren Belin with 6:11 left in the half.

Not until the 2:37 mark did the Bulldogs reach double figures on a pair of foul shots by Marcus Thornton. They cut the UGA deficit to 21-10, the same margin by which the first half ended.

The Bulldogs mounted one serious rally in the second half and it came early. John Florveus converted a 3-point play with 16:23 left that pulled Georgia within six at 32-26. After an empty possession by Youngstown State, Caldwell-Pope connected on a 3-pointer at the 15:30 mark, bringing his team to its closest margin since the game's opening moments.

Neither team scored over the next 2 1/2 minutes. During that span, Georgia failed to close the gap on three straight empty trips, a string that ended when Damian Eargle scored for the Penguins with 13:16 left.

Georgia was unable to get closer for the game's remainder and, in fact, Youngstown grew its lead as large as 18 points before a brief rally by the Bulldogs in the waning moments.

Team / Individual Notes

Caldwell-Pope set a new career high in scoring nearly half his team's points...

Southern Miss 62, Georgia 60 (OT)
Nov. 15, 2012 -- Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia lost its second straight home game in the Progressive Legends Classic, dropping an overtime decision to Southern Miss that hinged upon a pair of key possessions for the Bulldogs.

Behind the scoring of Nemi Djurisc, Georgia staged a comeback that culminated when his 3-pointer with 1:26 left in regulation tied the score at 55. After Southern Miss failed to score on its next possession, the Bulldogs could only produce a hurried 3-point shot by Kentavious Caldwell-Pope as the shot clock dwindled.

Then, after the teams twice traded leads in overtime, Vincent Williams committed a pair of turnovers that proved costly to the Bulldogs. The latter miscue, with 35 seconds left and the score knotted at 60, allowed USM's Dwayne Davis to streak downcourt unimpeded for the winning layup.

Much like the previous game, Georgia found itself trailing almost from the outset. After a Williams 3-pointer opened scoring, the Golden Eagles proceeded to reel off the game's next 12 points over a 6-minute span.

USM kept its lead at or near double digits until the final minute of the first half. John Cannon's inside basket brought Georgia within 31-24. After Southern Miss failed to score, Sherrard Brantley connected on a buzzer-beater from an estimated 40 feet to narrow the gap.

Throughout the second half, USM repeatedly turned back challenges from Georgia. Six times the Bulldogs got within a single possession. Each time the Golden Eagles halted any further advances until Djurisc finally brought the teams even at 55 on a jumper at the 1:26 mark.

#1 Indiana 66, Georgia 53
Nov. 19, 2012 - Brooklyn, N.Y.

Game Summary

Georgia's bid for a monumental upset over top-ranked Indiana was undone in a brief second-half span during which the Hoosiers exerted their one glaring advantage in this game: experience.

The Bulldogs held the lead throughout the first half, and they stayed within a single possession of the lead 11 minutes into the final period. Once IU seized control, however, the older and more experienced team built upon its lead, capitalizing on Georgia's wasted chances to stay in contention.

A pair of foul shots by Kentavious Caldwell-Pope with 8:53 left got the Bulldogs within three at 45-42. Jordan Hulls countered with consecutive 3-pointers that broke the game open in a 26-second span. The Hoosiers followed a Charles Mann turnover with a jumper by Victor Oladipo, giving Indiana its first double-digit lead of the game at 53-42.

The IU lead eventually reached 17 points in the final minutes before back-to-back 3-point shots by Vincent Williams made the final margin closer.

Georgia started this game looking scarcely like the squad that had dropped two home games in its previous outings. The Bulldogs took the lead less than three minutes in and kept it through half-time.

Three times Georgia took its largest lead of five points, the final time at 16-11 on a pair of foul shots by Nemi Djurisc with 11:42 left. In all, eight Bulldogs scored in the first half, overcoming their 35 percent field-goal shooting and lopsided rebounding deficit (14-22).

Team / Individual Notes

2012-13 Game Summaries

#11 UCLA 60, Georgia 56
Nov. 20, 2012 - Brooklyn, N.Y.

Game Summary

Freshman Shabazz Muhammad scored 14 of his game-high 21 points in the second half as 11th-ranked UCLA overcame a double-digit deficit to outlast Georgia in the Progressive Legends Classic.

Georgia, for the second consecutive night, led a nationally-ranked team throughout the first half, and also for much of the second period. The Bulldogs were led in scoring by Kentavious Caldwell-Pope, who had 16 points. Seven other Georgia players scored, including three with eight points: Donte' Williams, Nemanja Djurisc and reserve John Cannon.

Georgia took quick command of this game, bolting to an early lead on buckets by Djurisc and Williams. A pair of foul shots by Williams with 7:40 left got the Bulldogs their first double-figure lead at 22-12. Their largest margin of the half came on a turnaround jumper by Cannon that boosted them in front 30-19 at the 3:31 mark.

UCLA, however, wasted little time gaining an even foothold in the second period. Muhammed scored on the Bruins' first two possessions, and a 3-pointer by Normal Powell with 16:43 left put UCLA ahead for the first time at 35-33.

The Bruins built their lead to five before Georgia mounted a rally to reclaim command. A jumper by reserve guard Charles Mann put the Bulldogs back in front at 44-42 with 10:04 left.

UCLA broke a 49-all tie and took the lead for good on a jumper by Travis Wear with 4:38 left. A key moment for Georgia came with the Bulldogs trailing 55-52, when Caldwell-Pope lost balance and possession, a turnover that UCLA converted into foul shots by Powell with 57 seconds left.

Team / Individual Notes

Marcus Thornton pulled down a career-high 10 rebounds...UCLA attempted 20 more free throws than Georgia, 22-6 in the second half... Georgia had its best A/T.O ratio of the young season to date (1.5/1)

Georgia 54, East Tenn. State 38
Nov. 23, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia stopped a 4-game losing streak by defeating East Tennessee State, which dared the Bulldogs to score by deploying a zone defense throughout, but which also had serious trouble scoring itself.

Behind Kentavious Caldwell-Pope and Vincent Williams, Georgia responded to the challenge with a season-best 63 percent shooting night. The Bulldogs took control early in this game, relented briefly in each half, and cruised to their first convincing win of the season.

After allowing ETSU its only lead of the game at 11-10, Georgia responded by scoring the next 15 points in an 8-minute span. Reserves Tim Dixon and John Cannon, as well as Caldwell-Pope and Williams, all scored in the run. Donte' Williams capped the streak with a jumper at the 4:26 mark, pushing the Bulldogs ahead 25-11.

Georgia closed first-half scoring with six unanswered points over the final 2:22, thanks to 3-pointers by Nemi Djurisc and Caldwell-Pope.

The Bulldog lead reached 19 points at 37-18 before East Tennessee State began to gain its footing offensively. The Bucs scored on consecutive trips, the latter a jumper by Kris Gadsden-Gilliard with 7:38 left, to bring them within 11 at 43-32.

Eight straight points by Georgia shortly afterward, treys by Caldwell-Pope and Williams, and a dunk by Donte' Williams, essentially decided the outcome.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia's 63.2 percent field-goal shooting was its best since the 2011 Bulldogs won at Ole Miss by shooting 63.5 percent...All but three of Georgia's 24 field goals were assisted, an outstanding percentage by any team's standards...Georgia did not score from the foul line for the first time since a game vs. Vanderbilt in 2009...John Cannon had his second straight solid effort, with six points and four boards in 14 minutes.

2012-13 Game Summaries

South Florida 64, Georgia 53
Nov. 30, 2012 - Tampa, Fla.

Game Summary

Homestanding South Florida converted on several key possessions late and Georgia was unable to match the Bulls' pace in this installment of the SEC/Big East Challenge

Diminutive point guard Anthony Collins had a double-double, leading his team with 17 points and 10 assists. None of his points was more important than his 3-point play with 3:33 left in the game. The basket followed Georgia's last meaningful score of the game, a fourth-chance putback by Donte' Williams that knotted the two teams at 50-all.

Collins' basket gave South Florida the lead for keeps. Two possessions later, with the margin at 54-50, USF's Victor Rudd scored perhaps the biggest field goal of the game. As the shot clock dwindled, Rudd found himself with the ball, in front of his own bench, nearly 25 feet from the basket. He launched a desperate shot, which rattled and fell, pushing the Bulls' lead to 57-50 with just 1:59 left.

The lead reached nine when Georgia failed to score on its next trip and then fouled Collins, who converted a 1-and-1 free-throw opportunity. The Bulldogs got no closer than six after Kentavious Caldwell-Pope scored his team's final bucket on a 3-pointer with 59 seconds left.

The two teams fought evenly through a closely contested first half. Though Georgia needed over three minutes to score its first basket, the Bulldogs battled back to take their first lead at 13-11 on a layup by Caldwell-Pope. Only a 3-pointer by Shaun Noriega at the buzzer gave USF a 27-22 point lead at halftime.

Twice Georgia took brief leads midway through the second period, the final time at 42-41 on a pair of John Cannon foul shots.

Georgia Tech 62, Georgia 54
Dec. 4, 2012 - Atlanta, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia Tech found prosperity beyond the 3-point stripe, built a big first-half lead and held off Georgia's late rally to post its second straight win in this rivalry.

The Jackets entered this game shooting 24 percent from 3-point territory. Four players, however, combined to make six of 10 long shots in the first half, enabling the host team to take command in the early stages.

Consecutive treys by Jason Morris and Chris Bolden put Tech in front 13-5 less than six minutes into the game. After the Bulldogs managed seven straight points of their own -- the latter a Kenny Gaines 3-pointer with 10:55 left -- the Jackets got another three from Bolden and began to rebuild their advantage.

Twice the Tech lead reached its largest at 13 points, the final time at 35-22 on a 3-pointer by Marcus Georges-Hunt to close out first-half scoring.

The margin stayed in double digits until the game's final stretch, when Georgia produced its only serious challenge. Trailing 55-42, the Bulldogs tallied eight straight points, the final two on foul shots by Vincent Williams with 2:07 left. Tech senior Mfon Udofia countered with the game's biggest bucket, a driving layup on which he was fouled by Donte' Williams. The subsequent free throw boosted his team's lead to a margin Georgia was unable to overcome.

Team / Individual Notes

For the first time since 1994-95, Georgia Tech has now won two straight in this series...Kentavious Caldwell-Pope's 13 rebounds were a career best...Brandon Morris had his first significant contributions of the season with 9 pts and 4 rebs in 19 minutes...Tech scored more threes (9) than twos (7) in this game...Georgia outrebounded its opponent for just the third time this season.

Dec. 15, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia overcame a 12-point first-half deficit and led by as many as seven points, but couldn't overcome poor free throw shooting as Iona won 81-78 in overtime.

Four Bulldogs scored in double-figures, including double-doubles from guard Kentavious Caldwell-Pope and forward Donte' Williams.

Georgia grabbed a 76-75 lead with 34 seconds left in overtime off a jumper from freshman guard Kenny Gaines. Iona responded with a Curtis Dennis three-pointer seconds later and shortly after hit three critical free throws to secure the win.

Georgia took a 36-35 lead into halftime, and led by as many seven in the second half, but Iona went on a 10-0 run midway through the half to take a 51-48 lead.

The Bulldogs took a 62-60 lead with four minutes remaining in the half off a Caldwell-Pope steal and slam, but the Gaels' Sean Armand hit a three-pointer to tie the game at 66-66 with just 54 seconds remaining. Both teams had possessions in the final minutes of regulation, but neither team could convert its final possession into points.

In overtime, Iona took advantage of Georgia's poor free throw shooting to pick up its fourth victory of the year.

2012-13 Game Summaries

Georgia 58, Mercer 49
Dec. 18, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia stopped a 3-game losing streak by defeating Mercer with a balanced attack, a shuffled lineup and a new level of energy, thanks to the nearly 5,000 elementary school children in attendance.

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope played one of his most efficient games of the season, needing just 10 field-goal attempts in scoring a game-high 17 points. It was the addition of rookie point guard Charles Mann, however, that propelled the Bulldog offense to a solid performance.

With Mann doing much of the direction, Georgia got contributions from many. Somewhat unexpectedly was the Bulldogs' perimeter shooting that hit for 58 percent of their 3-point attempts.

Neither team was able to gain firm control in the early going. The lead never swung either way by more than a single possession until a 5-point burst by Caldwell-Pope, a 3-pointer followed by a steal and dunk, that put Georgia ahead 20-15 with 3:59 left before intermission.

Two foul shots by Mann with 30 seconds left got the Bulldogs their largest lead of the half at 26-20.

Mercer opened the second half with a 7-0 rally that put the Bears in front briefly. Meanwhile, it took Georgia over four minutes into the final period to score. Once the Bulldogs did, however, they regained the lead for keeps at 28-27 on a pair of foul shots by Nemi Djurisc.

The Bulldog lead reached double digits just once, at 53-43, on a putback dunk by Mann with 3:24 remaining.

Team / Individual Notes

This game tipped off at the odd weekday hour of 11:30 a.m. as a special promotion for Athens-Clarke County School students in grades 1-5... Mercer became the first UGA opponent in 22 years to not have a double-figure scorer.

Georgia 64, Southern Cal 56
Dec. 22, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

On the shoulders of Kentavious Caldwell-Pope, Georgia turned in one of its best halves to date, wresting control of this game and dispatching Southern Cal in the two teams' last game before Christmas.

The Trojans, despite a game and cross-country flight in the 36 hours beforehand, played crisply from the outset. They led Georgia by as many as six points in the first half before settling for a 28-27 advantage at intermission.

Caldwell-Pope wasted no time putting the Bulldogs in control during the final period. He sank a heavily-guarded jumper on their first possession, giving Georgia the lead for keeps at 29-28. After a Trojan turnover, he followed his own miss for another bucket at the 19:08 mark.

Less than four minutes later, Caldwell-Pope had scored his sixth basket of the half, another long and heavily contested jumper, that put the Bulldogs in front 41-32.

Despite KCP's hot hand, Georgia was unable to sustain its prosperity. USC fought back with a deuce at 47-45 on Aaron Fuller's tip-in with 10:50 remaining. Caldwell-Pope quickly countered with his only 3-pointer of the game.

Just once thereafter did USC remain within a single possession of the Bulldogs. Its last major push came in the game's final segment, when Omar Oraby's 3-point play got the Trojans within 60-55 at the 3:02 mark. Oraby then fouled Brandon Morris on the next trip and the Bulldog freshman sank both foul shots.

USC missed 3-point attempts on both of its last two possessions.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia shot 62 percent in the second half... John Cannon recorded career highs in scoring and rebounding...Georgia, which won both ends of this home-and-home series, is now 3-0 vs. USC... All 10 of Morris' points came in the second half.

Georgia 82, Florida A&M 73
Dec. 29, 2012 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

For once this season, Kentavious Caldwell-Pope struggled to score for Georgia. Nemi Djurisc responded as the Bulldogs' offensive leader with a career-high 21 points to lead them past a pesky Florida A&M team.

Georgia got scoring contributions from everyone that played. As it turned out, the Bulldogs needed pretty much every point.

Djurisc led a first-half surge that proved to be the Dogs' best output thus far this season. In all, Georgia sank seven of 11 3-point shots in the opening period, shooting 53 percent overall, in taking command late in the first half.

The Bulldogs shook free of Florida A&M by scoring 15 unanswered points in a run that started on a John Cannon jumper with 7:38 left, putting Georgia ahead 29-24. Four more Bulldogs scored in the ensuing three minutes, capped by a trey from Djurisc at the 4:07 mark.

Safely in command, Georgia was unable to improve its foothold on the game. To the contrary, the Bulldogs headed in the opposite direction, committed 12 second-half turnovers and invited the Rattlers back into contention.

It took just over five minutes into the second half for Florida A&M to trim its deficit into single digits. A pair of foul shots by Onye Odi got the Rattlers to their closest margin at 53-47 with 12:52 left. Six consecutive points by Georgia, the latter four by Donte' Williams, virtually settled matters thereafter.

Georgia managed to keep the margin in double figures for the remainder, at least until a late push by A&M trimmed it as little as seven points in the final minute.

Team / Individual Notes

The win was Georgia's third straight and marked the longest win streak since a 5-game streak in December of last season...Djurisc had hit for double figures just two other times this season... Sherrard Brantley matched his career scoring high of nine points.

Georgia 52, George Washington 41
Jan. 4, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia closed out its pre-conference slate victoriously, but in spite of itself. The Bulldogs committed a season-high 25 turnovers yet managed to defeat a scrappy George Washington squad, thanks to 17-point games from two sophomores and a crusty defense.

Neither team was able to get a firm grasp on this game, Georgia because of its turnovers and GW because of its sputtering offense. The largest lead by either team -- through the first 38 minutes -- was five points, a margin enjoyed by both at various junctures.

Georgia was the first combatant to enjoy the 5-point advantage, coming at 11-6 on a 3-pointer by Nemi Djuriscic with 12:15 left in the first half. It took five more minutes, but the Colonials fought back to all square at 15 on a layup by Kevin Larsen.

GW took a 21-18 lead at intermission. Indicative of this game, however, was that Larsen's bucket at the 2:42 mark was the last field goal scored in the half. The two teams then combined for seven empty trips before halftime.

This tug-of-war continued until the final minutes of the game. John Florveus, who played perhaps the most meaningful minutes of his career, scored to give Georgia the lead for keeps at 39-37 with 6:24 left.

Still, victory was not secured until the final minute, when the Colonials failed to convert two straight possessions and then fouled Kentavious Caldwell-Pope and Djuriscic, who sank all four foul shots. The latter's pair boosted the Bulldog lead to 50-41 with 34 seconds left.

Team / Individual Notes

Florveus had career-best numbers in rebounds (10) and minutes (30)...GW failed to make a 3-point shot, becoming the first UGA opponent to do so in 261 games, going back to Mark Fox's Nevada squad in November of 2004...Georgia shot 65 percent in the second half, making 11 of its 17 shots.

2012-13 Game Summaries

#11 Florida 77, Georgia 44
Jan. 9, 2013 - Gainesville, Fla.

Game Summary

Florida got double-figure scoring from four players and used its pressing defense to great effect, cruising to a one-sided victory in each team's SEC opener.

The Gators needed little time to exert their control over this game. Three baskets by Casey Prather opened the scoring, and a 3-pointer from Erik Murphy with 15:50 left got them their first double-figure lead at 11-0. Georgia, meanwhile, struggled on offense from the outset, committing four turnovers on its first five possessions. Matters were not helped when starting point guard Charles Mann drew two fouls within the game's first 90 seconds.

Even after Georgia settled its nerves and regained some footing in this game, the journey simply became too steep. A short jumper by John Cannon at the 12:15 mark got the Bulldogs within seven at 11-4.

That was the last time for the game that Georgia got the margin down into single digits.

Three times the first-half lead for Florida reached its largest at 15, the final time on a Mike Rosario jumper that made the score 24-9 with 5:00 left.

It mattered little that Georgia's offense enjoyed stretches of solid performance in the second half. The Bulldogs scored on three straight possessions, yet Florida was busy stretching its lead on a series of four 3-pointers. The last trey, by Rosario with 13:33 left, put the Gators ahead 47-26.

The margin reached its biggest at 72-38 on a layup by Scottie Wilbekin with 3:48 left.

Team / Individual Notes

Florida scored 27 points off Bulldog turnovers...Donte' Williams and Kenny Gaines did not make the trip after violating team policy... The 33-point margin of defeat was the program's largest since a 76-42 loss to Illinois in December of 2009...Georgia is now winless in three tries against nationally-ranked competition.

Jan. 12, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Jalen Steele scored 21 points, including eight straight in a decisive, second-half run and Mississippi State defeated host Georgia in each team's second SEC game.

Both teams fought evenly through the first 32 minutes. The visiting Bulldogs, however, took the lead for keeps at 52-50 on a layup by reserve Tyson Cunningham with 8:44 left. After Kentavious Caldwell-Pope made one of two free throws, State started its major push to decide the game.

Roquez Johnson connected on a short jumper at the 7:11 mark. The maroon Bulldogs then stole possession from Nemi Djuriscic and Steele sank the first of three consecutive jumpers, pushing his team's lead to 56-51. The next two were from 3-point range, the last of which culminated State's run and gave it a 62-51 lead with 5:02 left.

Once Georgia was forced into a catch-up attack, the Bulldogs managed a single field goal and six foul shots before a final basket by Vincent Williams at the buzzer.

Each team had opportunities to build large first-half leads. State took its turn first, opening a 13-6 lead on a Steele jumper with 15:43 left. Georgia, however, drew even five minutes later and took its first lead of the day 24-23 on a Caldwell-Pope trey at the 6:33 mark.

The Bulldog lead reached its largest at 30-23 on a putback layup by Tim Dixon with 5:05 left before halftime. However, they went over four minutes before their next basket, allowing State to climb back into contention. A last-second putback by Craig Sword, in fact, put the visiting Bulldogs in front 36-35 at intermission.

Team / Individual Notes

Dixon made his first collegiate start in this game...Charles Mann had season highs in FTs made and attempted...Caldwell-Pope scored 14 first-half points but made only two free throws in the final period...State went 9x20 from 3-point range (45%) after going 0x10 in its previous contest.

#17 Missouri 79, Georgia 62
Jan. 16, 2013 - Columbia, Mo.

Game Summary

No. 17 Missouri got double-figure scoring from five different players, took an early lead and held Georgia at bay to post a victory in these two teams' first-ever SEC matchup against each other.

The outcome overshadowed a career-best outing for Bulldog senior guard Vincent Williams, whose 23 points bettered his previous high by nine and buoyed the Georgia offense throughout.

The Tigers took the first lead in this game and eventually built their margin to 18 points late in the second half. Until then, however, Georgia fought gamely, deploying a zone defense and using a revitalized offense that was powered by Williams.

Mizzou scored seven straight points in the early going, stretching a 2-point lead into a nine-point bulge. Keion Bell's jumper at the 13:41 mark ended the run and made the score 13-4.

The margin reached double figures for the first time at 20-9 on an Earnest Ross 3-pointer with 9:21 left in the first half. It rose to 14 points on a trey by Tony Criswell with 3:27 left before a brief rally by Georgia made things interesting before halftime. Kentavious Caldwell-Pope's three-pointer with 18 seconds left cut the deficit to 38-30 at intermission.

Though the second-half margin remained mostly in double digits, there was a brief stretch when the Bulldogs challenged. After a John Florveus putback pulled the Dogs within 46-37, they failed to convert on two subsequent possessions to get closer. A three-point play by Ross restored the lead to 49-37 with 13:19 left.

Team / Individual Notes

Williams also set a career high with four rebounds...He exceeded his total scoring output in the preceding eight games...Georgia shot a season-best 59 percent from 3-point range.

2012-13 Game Summaries

Georgia 67, LSU 58
Jan. 19, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope scored 22 points and got a solid supporting role from Donte' Williams as the Bulldogs got their first SEC win in a hard-fought struggle against LSU.

Indeed, this tug-of-war took its physical toll on both teams. With 90 seconds left and the margin still at a single possession, Georgia forward Nemi Djurisic exited with a bloody nose after taking an elbow from LSU's Johnny O'Bryant III. A minute later, Caldwell-Pope and LSU guard Corban Collins collided in a loose-ball scramble. Collins had to be carried to the bench while KCP, though he finished the game, needed medical attention afterward.

Momentum swung at several junctures during this contest. The Bulldogs took their largest lead at the time of eight points on a 3-point play by Williams with 16:50 left, pushing the margin to 41-33. That's when LSU ratcheted up its full-court pressure and got itself back into contention.

Shavon Coleman followed the Williams score with a layup at the 16:36 mark. He then intercepted a Djurisic pass in rear court, leading to two O'Bryant free throws that pulled the Tigers within 41-37. They forced Georgia into a 5-second inbound violation, after which Coleman converted one of two foul shots.

LSU completed its comeback on the second of two straight 3-pointers by Anthony Hickey, giving the Tigers a 44-43 lead with 11:52 left.

Williams broke a 54-all tie and gave Georgia the lead for good on another 3-point play at the 3:24 mark. On the ensuing possession, he stole the ball from Hickey and Caldwell-Pope connected on a long jumper, pushing the Bulldog lead to 59-54.

Georgia secured the victory by sinking all eight of its free-throw attempts over the final 1:28.

Team / Individual Notes

KCP's 22 points were his third-highest output of the season...D. Williams played a season-high 34 minutes...LSU, which ranked 339th in the NCAA in free-throw accuracy, made 10 of its first 11 tries, but only six of its last 13.

Game Summary

No. 8 Florida trailed Georgia at halftime but flexed its considerable muscle in the final period to post its second victory over the Bulldogs in two weeks.

Georgia played one of its best halves of the season in taking a 27-24 lead at intermission. The Bulldogs shot 50 percent, making six of 11 tries from 3-point range, including a long, arcing buzzer-beater from Kentavious Caldwell-Pope that gave them the first-half lead.

A trey from Nemi Djurisic had capped a red-hot start for Georgia, which took its largest lead of the game at 11-2 just four minutes in. Scottie Wilbekin kept Florida afloat with 13 first-half points. His 17 points for the game equaled his career high.

Florida quickly exerted itself in the opening minutes of the second half. The Gators forced Georgia into three straight turnovers, converting all three into scores. The last of the three, a putback dunk by Patric Young, put Florida ahead 32-27, its largest lead to that juncture.

The visitors continued their defensive dominance as the second period transpired. Georgia managed but a single field goal and three foul shots over the first 11 minutes. By the time Caldwell-Pope scored his team's second field goal of the half, with 8:35 left, they trailed 48-34.

A 3-pointer by Kenny Boynton with 11:49 left got the Gators their first double-digit lead at 41-31. Boynton connected on three foul shots at the 2:34 mark to give Florida its largest lead of the game at 61-42.

Georgia 59, Texas A&M 52
Jan. 26, 2013 - College Station, Texas

Game Summary

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope scored 22 points, including a key 3-pointer late, as Georgia fended off a desperate rally by Texas A&M to defeat the Aggies on their home court.

Caldwell-Pope led all scorers and was the only Georgia player in double figures. Yet nine Bulldogs in all scored.

The Bulldogs spent much of the first half shooting free throws to grab a 27-23 advantage at intermission. They made just nine of 22 field-goal attempts in the first period, yet took control by making 13 of 16 free throws, more than in seven entire games this season.

The Aggies scored first in the second period before Georgia erupted with a 16-2 run. Twelve of the 16 points came from 3-point range, including two from Sherrard Brantley and one each from Caldwell-Pope and Vincent Williams.

Freshman Kenny Gaines gave Georgia its largest lead of the night at 48-31 on a press-breaking layup with 10:20 left.

The margin remained comfortably wide for the Bulldogs until the final seven minutes. Texas A&M cut its deficit back into single digits at 50-41 on a 3-pointer by Fabyon Harris at the 7:04 mark.

Things got really interesting when A&M turned up its full-court pressure in the waning minutes. Harris intercepted a Brantley pass in rear court and sank a 3-pointer that pulled the Aggies within 52-48 with 3:59 left.

After the teams traded empty trips, Georgia turned to its offensive leader to right its struggling offense. Caldwell-Pope connected from 21 feet with 2:10 left, giving the Bulldogs a 55-48 lead.

Still, victory was not secured until a tip-in by Donte' Williams, his only bucket of the game, with 26 seconds left, putting Georgia ahead 57-52.

Game Summary

Key plays by Kentavious Caldwell-Pope and Charles Mann in the final minutes enabled Georgia to break open this tight struggle just enough to post its third SEC win in four tries.

The score was knotted at 43 as the game reached its final media break with 3:53 left. Both teams had taken turns leading by as many as six points, Auburn in the first half, Georgia in the second. Neither team, however, could build upon prosperity, at least until the Bulldogs capitalized on their final chances.

Mann gave Georgia the lead for good at 45-43 on a driving, scoop layup with 3:44 left. He then rebounded an Auburn miss and, on the ensuing possession, assisted Donte' Williams on a basket, which he converted into a 3-point play.

Still, Auburn climbed back with 48-46 on a free throw by Frankie Sullivan with 2:21 left. After a Sherrard Brantley miss, Sullivan misfired on a potential tying jumper. Caldwell-Pope rebounded and fired a long pass to a streaking Brantley. Though Brantley missed a layup, Caldwell-Pope rebounded and scored to put the Bulldogs ahead 50-46.

Though the Georgia lead shrank no further than four points thereafter, the outcome wasn't safe until a final big play. Up 53-49 with 23 seconds left, Nemi Djurisic hoisted a court-length baseball pass to Mann, who caught it in full stride and scored.

Auburn had taken its largest lead of the game at 12-6 on a Jordan Price 3-pointer with 13:57 left in the first half. Brantley's 3-pointer at the 1:37 mark of the half put the Bulldogs ahead by a 26-20 margin.

Team / Individual Notes

Caldwell-Pope recorded his third double-double of the season...Brantley matched his career high of four rebounds...All 11 Bulldogs who played had at least one rebound...Mann matched his season high of six assists.

Game Summary

Georgia rode the hot hand of its ace, Kentavious Caldwell-Pope, in the first half and that of rookie reserve Kenny Gaines in the second to defeat South Carolina for its third straight SEC victory.

Caldwell-Pope enabled the Bulldogs to keep pace with Carolina in the opening period, largely because the Gamecocks' Michael Carrera matched him virtually point for point. While the former reached halftime with 16 points and the latter with 14. Meanwhile, neither team led by more than four points and the lead changed hands 13 times.

Georgia took a 29-25 lead on a Caldwell-Pope layup with 1:45 left. The Gamecocks, however, finished the half by scoring five straight, lastly on a 3-point play by Mindaugas Kacinas with 29 seconds left.

Gaines, inserted as a second-half starter, wasted little time asserting himself. He scored baskets on Georgia's first two possessions, the latter putting the Bulldogs ahead for good at 33-31. His 3-pointer 6 1/2 minutes later gave them their biggest lead to that point at 46-38.

Perhaps the game's most critical juncture came just minutes later, after Bruce Ellington had drawn Carolina close with six consecutive points. Georgia answered with five straight of its own, a putback from Donte' Williams and a steal and trey from Vincent Williams that restored the Bulldog lead back to 51-44 with 9:46 left.

The margin reached double figures for the first time at 59-49 on Caldwell-Pope's only second-half points, a long 3-pointer from the left wing with 4:35 left.

Team / Individual Notes

Gaines' 11 points were a season high...The outcome marked Georgia's first 3-game SEC win streak since 2011...Mann matched his season high of six assists for the second straight game.

Georgia 68, Tennessee 62
Feb. 6, 2013 - Knoxville, Tenn.

Game Summary

Georgia posted its fourth consecutive SEC win -- its third straight on the road -- thanks to another virtuous performance by its leader and some clutch plays at the neediest of times.

Six of Kentavious Caldwell-Pope's game-high 24 points came in the final 90 seconds of play, with the outcome still undecided. Yet he wasn't alone in his heroism.

Georgia also got key buckets from Vincent Williams and freshman Kenny Gaines over the last 3:30. Each time, the Bulldogs' lead had shrunk to a single possession.

After a Kenny Hall basket had trimmed the Georgia lead to 57-55, Williams drove the right side and spun an improbable layup off the glass for a score with 3:34 left. Then, following one of two foul shots by Jarnell Stokes, Gaines found himself with the ball as the shot clock dwindled. He quickly drove the left side and swished a step-back, 15-footer along the baseline for a 61-56 lead with 2:37 remaining.

Matters remained unsettled, however, until Caldwell-Pope asserted himself. His short floater in the lane with 1:34 left put the Bulldogs ahead 63-58. After a Tennessee miss, he sank an NBA-range trey from atop the key with 51 ticks left, sending much of the crowd toward the exits.

Georgia scored on its first possession of the game and never trailed the Volunteers. A Vincent Williams 3-pointer with 10:26 left in the half gave the Bulldogs their largest lead at 18-8. They matched it once more, at 32-22, on another Williams trey at the 2:14 mark.

Just once thereafter did Tennessee pull even. A 3-point play by Jordan McRae with 13:28 left knotted the score at 43, but Georgia responded by scoring the game's next nine points.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia secured this win by scoring on its last seven possessions over the final 3:43...It marked just the third time this season in which Georgia has never trailed...UT took just 39 shots, the fewest by a UGA opponent since Florida attempted 38 on March 3, 2004.

2012-13 Game Summaries

Georgia 52, Texas A&M 46
Feb. 9, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

On a night when its leader struggled for a single shot -- let alone for a score -- Georgia still picked up its fifth straight SEC win by coalescing its lesser parts and by clamping down on defense.

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope managed just three attempts and made none for the first time of his busy career. No matter. Eleven Bulldogs played against Texas A&M and 10 of them scored, led by reserve Nemi Djurisic with 13 points.

Georgia got alley-oop dunks from Brandon Morris (passer) and Donte' Williams (receiver) on back-to-back possessions to open the game. The Bulldogs needed less than 5 1/2 minutes to build its lead into double digits, the first time coming at 11-1 on a jumper by Djurisic.

Texas A&M required nearly eight minutes to score its first field goal, that coming on an Elston Turner jumper that cut the margin to 12-5. Georgia, however, maintained a comfortable margin through the first half, keeping the Aggies cold from the field while nudging ahead on offense.

Georgia's largest lead came at 30-18 on a pair of Caldwell-Pope free throws with 15:45 left. The Aggies, however, slowly got their offense untracked and climbed back into contention.

A 3-pointer by Fabyon Harris, followed by two free throws from J'Mychal Reese, pulled A&M within 35-32 at the 9:40 mark.

After a time out, and with the shot clock under :05, Vincent Williams sank a key 3-pointer to restore distance between the two teams.

The Bulldogs appeared to have matters safely in hand, leading 50-38 with just a minute left. But the Aggies cashed in on two Georgia turnovers -- as well as a technical foul on Caldwell-Pope -- to score eight straight points, the latter two coming with 20 seconds left.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia won its fifth straight SEC game for the first time since 2001...Its 12 FGs were the fewest in a victory since the 1982 team made just 10 in a 26-20 win at Miss. State (pre-shot clock era)...For the second straight time and just for the fourth time this season, Georgia never trailed.

Alabama 52, Georgia 45
Feb. 12, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Alabama brought Georgia's offense and its 5-game winning streak to a halt, forcing the Bulldogs into a second half of frustration before their late rally made things interesting.

Twice inside the 7-minute mark Bama threatened to break the game open. A jumper by Nick Jacobs put the Tide in front 40-32 with 4:54 left.

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope, however, fueled a Georgia rally that eventually put the Bulldogs in the lead, if only for a brief moment. He started a 7-0 run with a layup at the 4:30 mark. After an Alabama turnover, he sank a 3-pointer with 3:42 left, bringing the Dogs within 40-37. Caldwell-Pope then followed a Brandon Morris miss with a tip-in that cut the margin further.

Georgia took a 41-40 lead on a putback dunk by Donte' Williams with 2:36 left. Sixteen seconds later, Levi Randolph sank the first of back-to-back treys for Alabama that decided the outcome. The Tide's lead reached 46-41 on a 3-pointer by Rodney Cooper with 1:36 left.

Thereafter, Georgia managed only a free throw by Williams and a final 3-pointer by Caldwell-Pope with three ticks remaining.

Georgia had taken early command of the game -- leading by as much as 15-6 -- before Bama asserted itself with defense and a variety of scorers. Trevor Releford scored a 3-point play with 8:09 left in the first half to pull even at 15. After an empty trip for Georgia, the Tide took its first lead of the game on a baseline drive and dunk by Retin Obasohan.

Georgia regained the lead once more in the first half, thanks to consecutive baskets by Nemi Djurisic, before Alabama nudged ahead again. The Crimson Tide maintained its advantage until the late rally by Georgia.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia 30.8 percent shooting from the field was a season low...The Bulldogs went nearly 11 minutes in the second half without scoring a field goal...Charles Mann's eight rebounds were a season high.

Ole Miss 84, Georgia 74 (OT)
Feb. 16, 2013 - Oxford, Miss.

Game Summary

Marshall Henderson scored 14 of his game-high 25 points in the final 3:36 of regulation -- 10 of those coming on foul shots -- and Ole Miss rallied to defeat Georgia in a one-sided overtime period.

The Bulldogs appeared to have a firm grasp on the game when Kentavious Caldwell-Pope sank a long 3-pointer with just under 4:00 to play, putting his team ahead 64-56. It was the third time in the preceding two minutes that he had pushed Georgia's lead to its largest margin.

Henderson, whose foul trouble had hindered his effect on the game, then came alive. He drew fouls from Georgia freshman Kenny Gaines on three straight possessions and cashed in each time. By the time his eighth free throw fell, Ole Miss had nudged ahead 66-64, and just 46 seconds had elapsed.

Henderson missed a layup with 27 seconds left that would have given the Rebels a 72-70 lead. Instead, Georgia had the last crack in regulation at a winning score. The Bulldogs nearly pulled off a last-gasp alley-oop play, but Donte' Williams' attempt rolled off the rim at the buzzer.

Caldwell-Pope gave Georgia its last lead of the game at 74-73 on a jumper with 2:44 left in the overtime. LaDarius White countered with a 3-point play and the Rebels were never headed thereafter. Georgia came up empty on its next four possessions while Ole Miss capitalized with scores each time.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia's 30 personal fouls were the most in just over seven years, going back to a 1/28/06 game at Auburn...Henderson's 14 FTs made were the most by a Georgia opponent since Florida's Joakim Noah made 19 in a 2007 game...Vincent Williams handed out a career-high seven assists in this game...It was Georgia's third overtime loss this season...Georgia's +15 rebounding margin was its best in an SEC game, as was its 41-point 1st half.

Arkansas 62, Georgia 60
Feb. 21, 2013 - Fayetteville, Ark.

Game Summary

Georgia rallied to take the lead late in the second half after being down 11 points in the second half, but B.J. Young hit a layup in the lane with just five seconds left to push Arkansas past Georgia.

The Razorbacks controlled nearly the entire game, building a ten point 28-18 halftime lead after an early 9-0 run.

Down 41-30 with 12 minutes remaining in the game, Georgia put together an 11-0 run to tie the game, 41-41. A short time later, Sherrard Brantley, who had a career-high in the Bulldog loss, found Kentavious Caldwell-Pope on the wing who hit go-ahead three to put Georgia up 56-53 with under two minutes remaining. Caldwell-Pope was held scoreless in the first half, but scored 15 in the second frame.

Marshawn Powell countered with a three of his own just second later to bring the score back to a tie, 56-56.

Both teams traded baskets until Arkansas had possession with 33 seconds left and the shot clock turned off. BJ Young drove to his right and sunk a contested layup with just five seconds remaining. Vincent Williams dribbled the length of the court, but couldn't tie the game on a rushed shot in the lane.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia dropped to 0-4 on the season in games decided by four points or less...Caldwell-Pope scored double-digits in his 26th consecutive game...Sherrard Brantley scored a career-high ten points...The loss was only Georgia's fifth when outrebounding its opponent.

Georgia 62, South Carolina 54 (OT)
Feb. 23, 2013 - Athens, Ga.

Game Summary

Georgia dominated the extra period that it was lucky to have at all, thanks to a late rally in regulation that culminated with a tying basket with 8.9 seconds left.

Kentavious Caldwell-Pope did not score in the first half and didn't reach double figures until inside the 4-minute mark of the second period. The Bulldogs' star guard simply found himself mired in the same funk shared by his teammates.

Meanwhile, South Carolina -- which had trailed throughout, sometimes by as many as 10 points -- scratched its way back into contention as the clock wound down. The Gamecocks took their first lead at 47-46 on a spinning bank shot by Lakeem Jackson with 3:30 left.

Things looked even more promising for Carolina when Bruce Ellington sank a long 3-pointer on its next trip, extending the margin to 51-47 with just 1:43 left. That basket, however, proved to be the Gamecocks' last bucket of the game.

A turnover and two missed free throws in the final 90 seconds of regulation proved costly for South Carolina. They enabled Georgia to have one final possession, trailing by three. Caldwell-Pope capitalized by canning a deep 3-pointer that knotted the score at 53.

Georgia outscored Carolina 9-1 in the overtime period. A 3-pointer by Nemi Djurisic with 1:56 left gave the Bulldogs their first breathing room since early in the second half. Charles Mann, who had missed a pair of key foul shots late in regulation, closed the scoring with two free throws just inside the 1-minute mark.

Team / Individual Notes

Georgia's 46 FTs attempted were the third-highest in school history and the most since the 2003 team tried 45 free throws against Vanderbilt...Thanks to a clock malfunction, Carolina actually had two cracks at a game-winning shot in regulation. Ellington missed his first try and, after a long consultation by the officials and another inbounds play, his second shot was blocked by Mann.
