ABOUT THIS GAME

- Georgia resumes its SEC schedule with a Tuesday night home contest against Vanderbilt. The game wraps up the regular-season series between the two programs. Georgia took the first game in Nashville 13 days ago by a 70-67 score.

- The Bulldogs arrive at this game with a 13-5 overall record, 4-2 in SEC play, and winners of four straight games. Most recently, Georgia defeated Mississippi State 72-66 in Starkville three days ago. The visiting Bulldogs needed every one of J.J. Frazier's career-high 37 points in posting the victory, Georgia's third straight in Starkville. Just one other Bulldog, junior Kenny Gaines, reached double figures in scoring.

For his effort in both Georgia wins, Frazier was named on Monday as the SEC's Player of the Week, the first such honor for a Bulldog since Charles Mann won last January.

- Georgia's recent surge has solidified its place in both objective and subjective metrics that rank all collegiate teams. The Bulldogs begin this week with an official, NCAA-recognized RPI of 25, third-best among all SEC teams. Additionally, Georgia received votes (26 in AP, four in Coaches') in the Top 25 polls this week.

- Tuesday's game is the 139th all-time meeting between these two schools in basketball. Vanderbilt leads the series, which has been renewed annually since 1951, by an 88-50 count. Georgia's win two weeks ago in Nashville stopped a Vandy win streak in the series that had reached nine games.

- On Saturday the Bulldogs will play the first of two regular-season games against "permanent rival" South Carolina, traveling to Columbia for a 4:00 p.m. tipoff. Georgia has won five straight and eight of its past nine matchups against the Gamecocks.

GEORGIA VS. VANDERBILT

• Tuesday's game is the 139th all-time meeting between these two schools in basketball. Vanderbilt leads the series, which has been renewed annually since 1951, by an 88-50 count.

• In the 54 years that Georgia and Vanderbilt played a home-and-home series. Georgia swept the series just seven times and not since 2001.

• Vanderbilt took last season's only matchup by a 59-54 score in Athens on Jan. 29, 2014.

• Oddly, these two programs have met twice in post-season play on their respective home courts. Georgia defeated Vandy at Memorial Gym in the 1991 SEC Tournament second round. Seven years later, Georgia defeated Vandy at Stegeman Coliseum in the NIT third round, earning a trip to New York for the NIT Final Four in the process.

• A geographical breakdown of the series follows:

Games in Athens: UGA leads 33-29

Games in Nashville: Vandy leads 54-14

Neutral-Court Games: Vandy leads 5-3

NOTEWORTHY...

> Some leftovers from the Miss. State game: 1) J.J. Frazier's offensive outburst marked the first time since the 2012-13 season finale that a Georgia player scored over half his team's points (KCP scored 32 points in a 68-63 loss to LSU.) 2) It took 9 minutes, 38 seconds into the second half before a Georgia player besides Frazier scored a field goal. Houston Kessler, who made one of two free throws during that time span, played a career-high 13 minutes in the game...3) The game marked the second time this season that UGA won despite being outrebounded by double digits (K-State was the other.).

> Four-fifths of Georgia's starting unit comprise one of the most experienced groups in the SEC. The seniors (Thornton & Djuricic) and juniors (Mann & Gaines) enter Tuesday's game with a combined 399 career games played, 225 starts and over 9200 minutes played.

> A point of clarification on J.J. Frazier's historic 37-point day in Starkville on Saturday: his were the most points scored by a Georgia player in an SEC game since the school's career scoring leader Litterial Green poured in 38 against Kentucky in 1991. Green also scored 38 points in a loss at UCLA the following year. Frazier was the first Bulldog to score 37 in a conference game since Dominique Wilkins against Florida in 1981.

> Kenny Gaines was perhaps Georgia's best player during the SEC schedule in 2014. He led the Bulldogs in scoring in those 18 games (14.8 ppg) and was the league's top 3-point shooter (45.1%). The 2015 season thus far, however, has been an upstream swim for the junior from Atlanta. He missed all but four days of the pre-season period because of illness. He then sprained his right shoulder while diving for a loose ball Dec. 7 against Colorado and was inactive for another 10 days. Despite his health issues, Gaines has still managed to be Georgia's third-leading scorer.

> Two ties that bind together Georgia's past four SEC games, all victories: 1) through the second halves of all four, Georgia has combined to shoot 52 percent from the field (47x91), highlighted by 64 percent shooting against Florida on Jan. 17. 2) the Bulldogs have made 19 of 23 free throws in the last minute of all four (83%), well above their seasonal percentage of 66.5.

> Georgia's current official RPI of 24 represents rarified air for a Bulldog squad. Not only is it helped by four road wins, but it's also gotten recent boosts from teams that the Bulldogs have beaten, namely Stony Brook, which won at Washington in December; Seton Hall, which opened Big East play with wins over St. John's and Villanova; and Kansas State, which is currently 5-2 in Big 12 play thus far.

> The Bulldogs received a total of 26 votes this week in the AP Top 25, good enough for 32nd place. Thirteen voters -- four each from the South, Northeast and Midwest, with one from the Northwest -- placed Georgia in their Top 25 ballots, one as high as 21st...Thus far, Georgia has continued one of its trademarks from last season: getting to the FT line. The Bulldogs have attempted more free throws (490) than any other SEC team, despite 10 of the league's 14 teams having played one more game than Georgia...In 110 years of basketball, Georgia has played more than one multiple-OT game in a season just twice before this year: in 1978-79 (a 3OT and 4OT game) and 2011 (two 2OT games)...Georgia's 3OT win over Mercer on Dec. 27 was the longest game in Stegeman Coliseum history (building opened in 1964) and the program's first 3OT game since December of 1990...Georgia's win at Chattanooga on Dec. 2 represented the program's largest victory margin in a road game since Hugh Durham's final UGA squad won at Central Florida 83-52 on Dec. 8, 1994...Georgia's win over Florida marked the first time in over seven years that a Bulldog team won despite allowing 50 percent shooting (1st since 11/14/07 vs. Grambling State).

Record vs. Ranked Teams:	7-25

ABOUT THE SCHEDULE...

- According to ESPN.com's own RPI formula, Georgia's schedule is currently the 23rd most difficult in the country, fourth best among SEC teams. Its Basketball Power Index (BPI) -- which takes many more factors into consideration -- rates Georgia's schedule 3rd toughest in the country.
- Georgia's season-opening game at rival Georgia Tech was the earliest meeting ever between the two schools, who have played each other a total of 191 times.
- Participation in the NIT Season Tip-Off, which guarantees that the Bulldogs will face perennial power Gonzaga and another top-flight opponent in New York in late November.
- The return to Athens of traditional SEC foes Kentucky, Florida and Tennessee. In a rare quirk of scheduling, none of these three visited Athens last season, the first time it had happened since 1944.
- Regular-season series against SEC opponents Auburn, Kentucky, Ole Miss, South Carolina and Vanderbilt.
- Long a staple of the SEC schedule, the Wednesday night game has nearly vanished from the Bulldogs' 2015 slate. Of their nine mid-week contests, just three will be played on Wednesday, all on the road: 1/14 at Vandy; 2/11 at Texas A&M; and 2/25 at Ole Miss.
- Four non-conference games against teams which played in the NCAA Tournament last season.
- Additional opponents that played post-season games last season include Kentucky (NCAA), Florida (NCAA), Tennessee (NCAA), LSU (NIT), Arkansas (NIT), Missouri (NIT), St. John's (NIT), Minnesota (NIT), Stony Brook (CBI), Texas A&M (CBI), UTC (CollegeInsider) and Norfolk State (CollegeInsider).
- Among the conferences represented in Georgia's non-conference schedule include:
 - > ACC (Ga. Tech)
 - > Big Ten (Minnesota)
 - > Pac-12 (Colorado)
 - > Big 12 (Kansas State)
 - > Big East (St. John's, Seton Hall)
 - > America East (Stony Brook)
 - > West Coast (Gonzaga)
- When Georgia played at Kansas State on New Year's Eve afternoon, it was a red-letter date for head coach Mark Fox. The Garden City, Kan., native returned to home territory, back to a school where he worked as a young assistant 20 years ago. Fox served seven seasons (1994-2000) under Tom Asbury on the Wildcats coaching staff.
- The Dec. 31 game was also Georgia's first-ever trip to Manhattan. The two teams will return the game in Athens next season at a date to be determined.

ABOUT THE NIT SEASON TIPOFF...

The NIT Season Tipoff -- created in 1985 as the Big Apple Pre-Season NIT -- went from Nov. 18-26. Georgia played host to Stony Brook on Nov. 18 in its only campus game before heading to NYC for games on Nov. 26-28. This was the Bulldogs' fourth all-time appearance in the early-season tournament. Their previous three times came in 10-year increments: 1988, 1998 and 2008. Georgia never advanced to New York among the final four teams, when teams reached NYC by winning preliminary rounds.

When Georgia played Gonzaga on Nov. 26 in New York, it marked the program's eighth trip to the metro area for competition. Bulldog teams have played six previous games in Madison Square Garden:

vs. NYU on Dec. 20, 1948 (L/72-83)
vs. Purdue on Mar. 22, 1982 (L/60-61)
vs. Penn State on Mar. 24, 1998 (L/60-66)
vs. Fresno State on Mar. 26, 1998 (W/95-79)
vs. Texas on Nov. 15, 2002 (L/71-77)
vs. St. John's on Dec. 9, 2009 (L/56-66)

Georgia has made the post-season NIT Final Four twice: in 1982 (lost to Purdue) and again in 1998 (lost to Penn State before defeating Fresno State in the long since defunct consolation game).

MANN NAMED COACHES' ALL-SEC

No question that junior guard Charles Mann has earned the favor of all 14 SEC head basketball coaches. For the third straight year, he has received some kind of all-star recognition from this group.

As the season commences, Mann was named to the 9-man Coaches' Pre-Season All-SEC First Team. This group also named him in 2013 to its SEC All-Freshman team, and last year the coaches anointed him to their post-season All-SEC second team.

Mann led Georgia in scoring, assists, steals and minutes played last season. He also ranked among the top 20 nationally in free throws made and attempted.

The 9-man Coaches All-SEC team follows:

- > Mann
- > Dorian Finney-Smith, Florida
- > Michael Frazier II, Florida
- > Aaron Harrison, Kentucky
- > Andrew Harrison, Kentucky
- > Damian Jones, Vanderbilt
- > Jordan Mickey, LSU
- > Bobby Portis, Arkansas
- > Jarvis Summers, Ole Miss

LANDMARKS TO LOOK FOR IN 2015

With veterans playing key roles for the Bulldogs in 2015, it's nearing time for several to approach individual landmarks in their respective careers.

Leading active career scorers:

Nemi Djuriscic: 953 points (116 games)

Charles Mann: 879 points (83 games)

Kenny Gaines: 740 points (80 games)

Leading active career rebounders:

Marcus Thornton: 570 rebs. (120 games)

Nemi Djuriscic: 493 rebs. (116 games)

*Note: UGA's No. 10 career rebounder, Trey Thompkins, has 693 rebounds.

Leading active career assists:

Charles Mann: 255 assists (83 games)

*Note: UGA's No. 10 career assist leader, Donald Hartry, has 355 assists.

*One additional note: if he completes the season in sound health, Marcus Thornton will likely set the UGA career record for most games played. The current mark, owned by G.G. Smith and Michael Chadwick (1995-99) is 129. Thornton began this season having played in 102 games.

FREE THROWS A KEY IN 2014

A vital element in Georgia's ability to win 20 games last season was its advantage at the free-throw line. The Bulldogs ranked 17th nationally in FT attempts (941 or 27.7/game) and 30th in FTs made (642 or 18.9/game). Each figure was significantly better than their opponents' average. They also shattered single-season school records in the respective categories and tied the school single-game record for attempts (50 vs. South Carolina).

Leading the way was point guard Charles Mann, who attempted nearly 30 percent of the team's foul shots, was second in the SEC and 10th nationally in that category.

BIG OPPORTUNITY FOR THORNTON

Marcus Thornton returns for his senior season, capping a career he started back in the summer of 2010. The Atlanta native was awarded an extra year of eligibility via medical redshirt after he played in nine games of the 2013 season.

The fifth year has given Thornton an opportunity to join a very short list of UGA basketball alumni: those who have played on at least three Bulldog teams to win 20 games.

Of the hundreds of UGA hoops alums that span the past 110 years, only five can say that they played on three 20-game-winning squads: those that were underclassmen on the 1996 Georgia team. Larry Brown, Michael Chadwick, Ray Harrison, Jon Nordin and G.G. Smith played on three consecutive teams that won at least 20 games. If Georgia is fortunate enough to reach that landmark this season, Thornton would join that list.

DOGS PROJECTED 5TH IN SEC BY BLUE RIBBON

Georgia which tied for second in the SEC race a season ago, has been projected to finish fifth in 2015, according to Blue Ribbon Basketball Yearbook, which enjoys a biblical reputation among the world of college hoops. Chattanooga-based writer Chris Dortch edits the Blue Ribbon book each year and covers the SEC material himself.

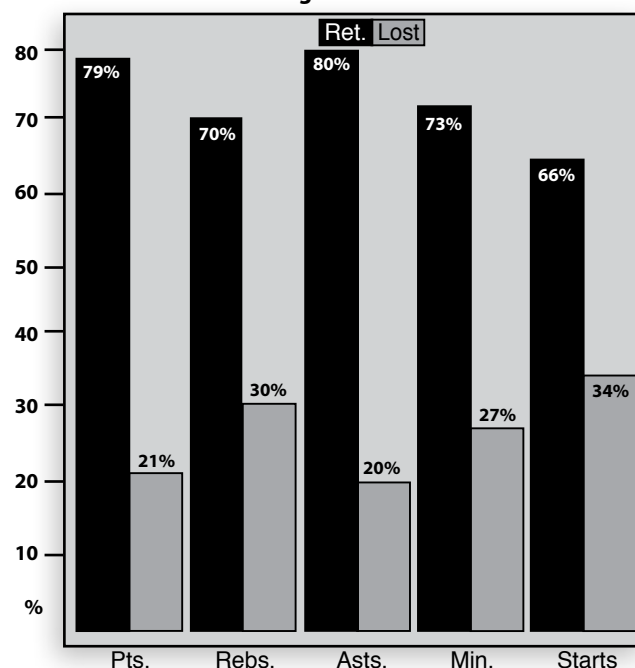

Here's how the SEC will shake down in 2015, according to Blue Ribbon:

1. Kentucky
2. Florida
3. LSU
4. Arkansas
5. Georgia
6. Ole Miss
7. Texas A&M
8. Vanderbilt
9. Missouri
10. Tennessee
11. Auburn
12. Alabama
13. South Carolina
14. Mississippi State

STAFF CHANGES FOR 2015

For the second consecutive year, head coach Mark Fox has introduced a new member of his full-time assistant coaching staff. This year, Atlanta native Yasir Rosemond joined the staff in May of 2014. He came to Athens after two seasons at Samford in Birmingham, Ala. Rosemond is a 2003 graduate of Oregon and spent five seasons on the Ducks' staff under former head coach Ernie Kent.

What the Bulldogs Return/Lose in 2015

Rosemond, like fellow UGA assistant coach Jonas Hayes, is also an alumnus of Douglass High School in Atlanta. He was four years ahead of Hayes and his twin brother Jarvis at the home of the Astros.

Additionally, Matt Bucklin was promoted to Operations Coordinator, after two years as a graduate assistant on the staff. Bucklin, a 2012 UGA graduate and a 4-year letterman, is also the nephew of longtime Michigan State head coach Tom Izzo.

TRIO OF PROSPECTS SIGN EARLY

Georgia signed three high school seniors during the week-long early national signing period, which ended on Wednesday, Nov. 19: forward E'Torrior Wilridge of Beaumont, Texas; guard Will "Turtle" Jackson of Athens; and forward Derek Ogbeide of Mableton, Ga.

Wilridge is currently a senior at Central High School in Beaumont. As a junior last year, he led the Jaguars to a 31-5 record and a berth in the semifinal round of the Texas Class 4A state tournament. He averaged 22.3 points, 12.1 rebounds and 4.0 blocks per game in 2014.

Jackson, meanwhile, is in his senior year at Athens Christian School, which has played for the Class A Private school state semifinals each of the past three years. In his junior season, he averaged 23.7 points, 6.7 rebounds and 7.7 assists for the Eagles.

Jackson becomes the first UGA signee from Athens since Carlos Strong and Terrell Bell, a pair of Cedar Shoals HS teammates, signed with the Bulldogs as part of the Class of 1992.

Ogbeide, a native Nigerian who is from Toronto, Ont., is a senior this season at Peblebrook, which went 24-6 in 2014 and reached the Georgia 6A state semifinals. He averaged 8.3 points, 7.0 rebounds and 4.9 blocks as a junior for the Falcons.

KENNY GAINES

Guard, 6-3, 200, Jr.-2 Letters, Atlanta, Ga. (Whitefield Academy)

2014-15 Season

- The Bulldogs' second-leading scorer on the season, an amazing feat in itself, considering his challenges in gaining sound health.
- Missed nearly all of the preseason because of illness. Rejoined his teammates two days before the opener at Georgia Tech and still managed to play 18 minutes.
- Sprained left shoulder incurred in Colorado game Dec. 7 also forced him to sideline for nearly 10 days.
- Struggled throughout regulation of Georgia's 3OT win vs. Mercer. In the OT periods, however, he scored 10 points, had five rebounds, and either scored or assisted eight of the Bulldogs' 10 field goals.
- Leads the team in steals with 26.
- Georgia's leading scorer in 2OT loss at LSU with 19 points that included 4x4 FTs in the first overtime.

2013-14 Season

- Honorable Mention All-SEC selection by the Associated Press.
- Was the Bulldogs No. 2 scorer and also ranked second on the team in minutes played (28.3) and steals with 22. Also the team's best free throw shooter among its starters (78%).
- Closed the regular season on a hot streak, averaging 19.3 points (almost twice that of any teammate) over the last five games. Shot 58 percent from 3-point range in that span.
- Led Georgia in scoring over the SEC schedule at 14.8 points per game.
- Led the SEC in 3-point shooting accuracy during the 18-game league schedule (45.1%). In fact, he has a career 3-point percentage of 44 percent over 32 SEC games.
- Was named the team's "Most Improved Player" at its post-season awards banquet.
- Scored 19 of his 21 points vs. Ole Miss on Feb. 15 in the 2nd half, including a career-high five 3-pointers. Surpassed that mark with six treys in road game vs. Arkansas two weeks later.
- Not to be overlooked in the win over Ole Miss was his defensive effort on the Rebs' Marshall Henderson that included two second-half blocked shots.
- His two highest point totals last season came in road games (27 @USC, 25 @Arkansas)
- Missed two games with a thigh bruise incurred late in S. Carolina game on Jan. 22.
