HERE WE GO

The 2014 college baseball season gets underway this weekend. The Long Beach State Dirtbags will host No. 8 Vanderbilt in a three-game series from Feb. 14-16. The two are facing off to open the season for the second year in a row as the Dirtbags went to Nashville, Tenn. top open the 2013 season with a three-game series at Vanderbilt. The Commodores took two of the three games with the Dirtbags capturing the final game of the series.

SENIOR HEAVY

The Dirtbags enter the season with nine seniors on the roster. Ino Patron and Michael Hill headline the group of senior as two fourth year players at The Beach. Patron is going into his fourth season as a starter and Hill will look to pick up right where he left off with the bat. Both hit over .300 last year. Senior Colton Vaughn will join the pair in the starting lineup and senior Colby Brenner will likely make some starts in the outfield. Jake Stassi returns for his fourth year on the mound for the Dirtbags after posting a team-best 3.32 ERA as a starter last year. Nate Underwood, Josh Frye, Ryan Millson, Nick Rosetta and Josh

Frye also return for their senior seasons and will contribute in various roles on the mound.

WELCOME BACK

The Dirtbags excitedly welcome back three All-Big West selections from 2012 the missed all of the 2013 season. Johnny Bekakis will return to the lineup and to the outfield for the Dirtbags in 2014. He hit .290 and swiped seven bases in 2012 on the way to All-Big West Honorable Mention. Ryan Strufing will return to the starting rotation after surgery sidelined him for 2013. He went 7-3 with a 2.99 ERA as the Saturday starter in 2012 and was also All-Big West Honorable Mention. Finally, 2012 All-Big West Secon Team closer Kyle Friedrichs will return in the same role in 2014. He was also sidelined by surgery last season after posting a 1.88 ERA in 2012 with 10 saves.

FORMER DIRTBAGS LEAD THE WAY AGAIN

The Dirtbags had 14 former players make their way on to major league rosters last year, which is again the most of any college. Shane Peterson and Joey Terdoslavich made their MLB debuts during the 2013 season and Troy Tulowitzki was selected as a starter in the All-Star game. The 2013 season marked the fourth in a row that the Dirtbags had more alums in the majors than any other college.

FOUR DIRTBAGS TAKE THE NEXT STEP

Long Beach State had four players drafted in the 2013 MLB Draft, continuing a run that has seen at least one player drafted in every season in the Dirtbag era. Friday night starter Shane Carle was the first to hear his name called, picked in the 10th round by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Jeff McNeil was picked next, joining the New York Mets in the 12th round. Pitcher Jon Maciel was selected in the 18th round by the Detroit Tigers, and senior Juan Avila rounded out the draft for Long Beach State, picked by the Miami Marlins in the 20th Round.

HEAD COACH TROY BUCKLEY

One of the most respected pitching coaches in the nation, Troy Buckley enters his fourth season as the head coach of Long Beach State after engineering an immediate turnaround within his first two years with the Dirtbags.

Taking the helm after two disappointing campaigns where the Dirtbags finished lower than fourth in the Big West for the first time since 1989, Buckley took command of a team that had lost its five top hitters and its strikeouts leader from the year before.

Under Buckley's leadership, the squad lowered its team ERA by nearly a full point to 3.55 from 4.67, and he led the team to a 29-27 finish against the nation's third-toughest schedule, just missing a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

That improvement continued in 2012, as the Dirtbags again lowered their team ERA, this time from 3.55 to a Big West best 3.08. Finishing above .500 for the second straight year under Buckley, the team was one game away from clinching the Big West championship, and finished with eight players receiving All-Big West honors, including senior Brennan Metzger, whose first-team All-Big West selection was the first for a Dirtbag since 2008.

The Dirtbags again finished over .500 in 2013 for their third consecutive winning season under Buckley. While playing the 10th toughest schedule in the nation, the Dirtbags posted a 29-27 record and had five players earn All-Big West recognition. Jeff McNeil was the second Dirtbag selected to the First Team in as many years. The Dirtbags posted their highest team average during Buckley's tenure with a .266 average in 2013 - 11 points higher than in 2012.

Buckley stepped up as the head coach for Long Beach State after he had made his return as the team's associate head coach for the 2010 season. That move was on the heels of spending two years as the Minor League Pitching Coordinator with the Pirates. In that position, Buckley oversaw the overall development of every arm in the Pirates farm system, and also worked in conjunction with the Major League ballclub over spring training development and through the season regarding player movement.

That opportunity came on the heels of the tremendous success that Long Beach State's players have had both at the collegiate and professional levels. Since Buckley came to Long Beach State in 2001, the Dirtbags have earned five Big West Pitcher of the Year awards, and in 2004 Jered Weaver was named the National Player of the Year after posting a 15-1 record with 213 strikeouts and a 1.62 ERA.

Abe Alvarez, Jered Weaver, Jason Vargas, Cesar Ramos, Andrew Carpenter, Brian Shaw, Andrew Liebel, and Vance Worley were all drafted in the first three rounds of the MLB draft after developing their craft under Buckley, and all but Liebel have reached the Major Leagues. Buckley was also instrumental in the recruiting of fellow major leaguers Troy Tulowitzki and the 2008 American League Rookie of the Year, Evan Longoria. Most recently, Jake Thompson (2nd, 2009) and Andrew Gagnon (3rd, 2010) were selected in the top three rounds and are working through the minor leagues.

After his first season at Long Beach State as an assistant coach, the 49ers never ranked lower than 28th nationally in team ERA, and ranked in the top five nationally three times. In 2002, the 49ers posted a fifth-nationally 2.99 team ERA as Alvarez was named the Big West Pitcher of the Year, and the next year, Weaver joined Alvarez as co-pitchers of the year as Long Beach State reached the Super Regionals with a 39-21 record. Weaver led the staff in 2004 to a 3.11 ERA, fourth-best in the country as the Dirtbags again reached the Super Regionals.

Following the departure of Weaver, rather than suffering a decline, the Dirtbags posted a record ERA in 2005 under Buckley, leading the nation with a 2.53 mark, and posted a team ERA in 3.64 in 2006 and 3.59 in 2007, the latter being the 16th best in the Division I.

Buckley previously served three years at his alma mater, Santa Clara, as an assistant coach. From 1998 to 2000, Buckley was the Broncos' hitting coach, pitching consultant and recruiting coordinator. Prior to his work with the Broncos, Buckley was a coach in the Montreal Expos organization from 1996 to 1997. In 1996, he served as the hitting and third base coach for AA Ottawa and in 1997 he was the pitching coach for the Gulf Coast League rookie league Expos in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Buckley was a ninth-round draft pick of the Minnesota Twins in 1989. He spent three years in the Twins organization, including the 1991 season with AAA Portland. In 1993 and 1994, Buckley was a member of the Reds' AA Chattanooga team before moving to the Expos AA affiliate in Harrisburg in 1995.

Regarded as one of the greatest catchers in Santa Clara history, Buckley was the 1988 WCC Player of the Year and was a second-team All-American after batting .442 with 82 RBIs. Both marks set single-season records. Buckley drove in a school-record 188 runs and also entered himself among the Broncos' all-time greats in batting average (.364), hits (234), doubles (47), home runs (35), total bases (390), extra-base hits (84), and slugging percentage (.606).
