

2013 SEC Men's Tennis Awards Announced

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The 2013 men's tennis first and second team All-SEC, All-Freshman team, and the yearly awards have been announced by the conference office.

South Carolina head coach Josh Goffi was named SEC Coach of the Year, Tennessee's Mikelis Libietis garnered SEC Player of the Year honors, Mississippi State's Romain Bogaerts was named SEC Freshman of the Year, while Alabama's Daniil Proskura was named Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Ties are not broken which resulted in a 14 member first-team and a 15 member second-team.

A complete list of the awards follows.

Coach of the Year: Josh Goffi, South Carolina

Player of the Year: Mikelis Libietis, Tennessee

Freshman of the Year: Romain Bogaerts, Mississippi State

Scholar Athlete of the Year: Daniil Proskura, Alabama

All-SEC First Team

Andreas Mies, Auburn
Nathan Pasha, Georgia
KU Singh, Georgia
Ben Wagland, Georgia
Tom Jomby, Kentucky
Anthony Rossi, Kentucky
Jonas Lutjen, Ole Miss
Nik Scholtz, Ole Miss
Romain Bogaerts, Mississippi State
Mikelis Libietis, Tennessee
Hunter Reese, Tennessee
Jeremy Efferding, Texas A&M
Gonzales Austin, Vanderbilt
Ryan Lipman, Vanderbilt

All-SEC Second Team

Jarryd Botha, Alabama
Becker O'Shaughnessey, Alabama
Daniel Cochrane, Auburn
Florent Diep, Florida
Stephane Piro, Florida
Chris Simpson, LSU
Stefan Szacinski, LSU
William Kallberg, Ole Miss
Malte Stropp, Mississippi State
Andrew Adams, South Carolina
Tsvetan Mihov, South Carolina
Thiago Pinheiro, South Carolina
Jarryd Chaplin, Tennessee
Harry Adams, Texas A&M
Shane Vinsant, Texas A&M

All-Freshman Team

Becker O'Shaughnessey, Alabama
Ben Wagland, Georgia
Romain Bogaerts, Mississippi State
Harry Adams, Texas A&M
Shane Vinsant, Texas A&M
Kris Yee, Vanderbilt