Hitting the Road

Golden Eagles travel to Vanderbilt for the first road test of the season.

The Golden Eagles travel to Nashville for their first road test of the season. After spending the month of November in the comfort of the Eblen Center, Tech kicks off a month on the road against the Vanderbilt Commodores. Tip-off is set for 12:30 p.m.

SETTING THE STAGE:

For the first time this season the Golden Eagles hit the road and take on SEC foe Vanderbilt University. Tech is coming off a dominant performance against Alcorn State and are looking to gain their second straight win. The Purple and Gold are battle-tested, giving up blood, sweat and teeth in each fight.

Toughness is not something that can be taught, but Davis and his staff are molding each player into a fierce competitor.

Standing in their way are the 4-3 Commodores. Vanderbilt defeated fellow Lashay Davis lead the Golden Eagles with 19 point, draining 5 threes in the win against Alcorn State.

Ohio Valley Conference member Austin Peay 67-36 on Wednesday, after being outscored 38-9 in the second half.

This will be the first meeting since 1992 when the Commodores claimed a 87-59 victory. The Golden Eagles hold a 10-6 edge in the series, but Vanderbilt is 5-2 on their court.

A GLANCE AT THE GOLDEN EAGLES

Back at .500, Tech is ready to build their record before conference action begins in January. They have a tough schedule ahead, spending the month of December on the road.

Leading the Golden Eagles is sophomore Diamond Henderson. Henderson is averaging 17.3 points and 3.2 assists per game. Joining Henderson in the backcourt is Jala Harris and Lashay Davis. The pair is averaging 8.5 and 8.3 points per game respectively.

T'Keyah Williams is pulling down 7.5 rebounds per game and three other players average 3+ rebounds per game, Candace Parson, Molly Heady and Kellie Cook.

A LOOK AT THE COMMODORES

The Commodores are lead by Tiffany Clark, averaging 14.1 points and 7.1 rebounds per game this season. In the win against Peay, Clarke scored 19 and grabbed seven rebounds. Jasmine Lister is posting 12.3 points, 4.4 rebounds and 4.9 assists per game. The SEC's leading scorer last year, Christina Foggie is averaging 15.7 points per game this season.

SERIES HISTORY

Vanderbilt and Tech first met in 1978 and played each other three times during that season, with Tech winning all three meetings, including an AIAW Tournament game. The Golden Eagles were 7-0 against the Commodores until 1983. The rivalry grew, with the series growing to 10-6, with Tech holding the edge.

SHINE BRIGHT LIKE A DIAMOND

Diamond Henderson was voted adidas® OVC co-Player of the Week (11/20) after she recorded 26.0 points per game as Tennessee Tech split a pair of games last week. She came off the bench in the loss to Akron and scored a career-high 31 points. In the win over Rice, Henderson recorded 21 points, a career-high six assists and a career-best four steals to go with one blocks.

NEW KID ON THE BLOCK

Lashay Davis was voted adidas® OVC Newcomer of the Week (11/20) after she put up 9.5 points per game while shooting 53.8 percent from the floor as Tennessee Tech went 1-1 last week. She scored 10 points versus Akron and followed that up with nine against Rice. Davis drained three shots from behind the arc against Rice while also dishing out a career-high four assists.

CAPTAINS:

Senior Kellie Cook and junior Molly Heady were named captains of the 2012-13 Tennessee Tech women's basketball team. The duo has high expectations for the team, and with a new coaching staff and a completely different dynamic, the Golden Eagles are seeking an Ohio Valley Conference Championship that eluded the eighth-winningest program in NCAA Division I history last season.

PRESEASON ALL- OVC:

After becoming eligible following fall semester exams due to NCAA transfer rules, Jala Harris made an instant impact for the Golden Eagles, playing in 20 games last season. She finished second on the team in scoring, averaging 14.7 points per game. Last season she also netted a spot on the OVC all-Newcomer team for her efforts.

NO. 1 TARGET:

The Golden Eagles have a giant target on their back after being picked first in the OVC East Division in the OVC preseason poll. Tech has made it to the OVC Tournament championship game the past two seasons.

A NEW ERA:

First year head coach Jim Davis is no stranger to the court, or to the color purple. After 25 years at Clemson, and a brief retirement, Davis returns to his alma mater to see if he can make another run at the NCAA.

New Faces on the Bench:

Joining Davis is a brand new staff. Erin Bath, Davis former player at Clemson, joins him yet again. Bath has several years of coaching experience, along with WNBA and international play. Former Golden Eagle sharp shooter, Allison Clark also joins Davis staff. Clark has been the assistant coach at Middle Tennessee for the past few years. Rounding out the staff is Bart Walker. Walker coached at the JUCO level and found great success leading his team to several championships.

OVC Scholar Athlete:

Kellie Cook was recently awarded the OVC Scholar-Athlete Award. The award is the highest individual honor that can be earned by OVC student-athletes, and is given annually to three men and three women student-athletes of junior or senior status for their accomplishments in both the classroom and athletic arena, and because of their leadership qualities.

Home Sweet Home:

Tech spends the nearly month of November on its home court and eight of its first nine games of the season played in the Eblen Center.

Jim Davis
Head Coach
First Season

Jim Davis holds a master's degree from Tennessee Tech, has led teams to Ohio Valley Conference and Atlantic Coast Conference championships, and has found coaching success on every level from the Tennessee high school ranks to the WNBA. He's the perfect fit to take the reins of the tradition-rich Tennessee Tech women's basketball program.

Jim Davis was named in July as the head coach for the Golden Eagle women's basketball team.

A native of Englewood, Tenn., Davis' coaching resume includes junior high and high school positions, a brilliant six-year span at Roane State Community College, one championship year at Middle Tennessee State, 18 highly successful seasons at Clemson University, a year in the WNBA with the Minnesota Lynx, and the past two seasons as an assistant coach at Young Harris College in Georgia.

Following 18 successful seasons as head coach at Clemson and two as Assistant Athletic Director, Davis tried retirement but quickly found he still yearned to coach. In 2009, he was contacted about taking an assistant coaching position with the Minnesota Lynx.

In 2011, he accepted an assistant coaching assignment at Young Harris College and helped create a new program. In just one season, he helped take the team from inception to a 23-3 record with a roster featuring only freshmen and sophomores.

The majority of Davis' past coaching career was at Clemson, and his record includes a lengthy list of highlights. In 18 years, he led his team to 16 post-season appearances including 14 trips to the NCAA Tournament and two WNIT appearances. While earning 355 victories, he brought the program into national prominence, guiding the Tigers to two championships in the impossibly tough Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC). His Clemson teams advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 four times and climbed to the Elite Eight one time, and he posted 51 victories over Top 25 teams. The team achieved 20 wins or more in 11 of his 18 seasons, and earned Top 25 Final National Rankings 11 times. Davis was named the ACC Coach of the Year in 1990 and 1994.

The record book reflects 501 all-time victories in his 25 seasons as a collegiate head coach, and he is the winningest basketball coach – men or women – in Clemson history.

Even more impressive than his on-court record is the academic success of his student-athletes. During his span as Clemson head coach from 1987 through 2005, Davis saw every single four-year player receive her degree.

Prior to his arrival at Clemson, Davis was a familiar figure with Tennessee Tech fans – if not appreciated – as he served one season as head coach of arch-rival Middle Tennessee State. During the 1986-87 season, he guided the Lady Raiders to a 19-8 record and a share of the Ohio Valley Conference championship. Prior to his stop at Middle Tennessee, Davis spent the 1985-86 season as an assistant coach with the University of Florida Lady Gator basketball program.

A Tennessee native, Davis spent six highly successful years at Roane State Community College in Harriman, Tenn., before moving to Florida. Davis put together one of the most successful stints ever in the junior college ranks by coaching Roane State's Raiderettes to 127 wins against only 35 losses, building a .784 winning percentage. His teams won four Tennessee Junior College Athletic Association divisional championships and one state championship, and were ranked in the Top 10 by the National Junior College Athletic Association three times (1981, 1984, 1985). His biggest accomplishment was the 1984 team's finish of 27-2 and the NJCAA National Championship title.

Before entering the junior college ranks, Davis coached two years at Englewood (Tenn.) Junior High School and 10 seasons in various Tennessee high schools, including stops at Madisonville, Charleston and McMinn high schools. His overall high school record was 197-93, a winning percentage of .679.

Davis graduated from Tennessee Wesleyan College in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education. After doing graduate work at ETSU, he received his master's degree in Educational Administration and Supervision from Tennessee Tech in 1975.

In 1996, Davis was inducted into the Tennessee Junior and Community College Athletic Association Hall of Fame. In the fall of 1996, he was inducted into Tiger Brotherhood, and in 2008 the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame.

Davis becomes only the fifth head coach in the 42-year history of women's basketball at Tennessee Tech.

Davis is married to the former Bobbie Henderson and they have one grown son, Todd, a daughter-in-law, Rhonda, and two grandchildren, Ansleigh Grace and Jacob Garrett.
