GAMEDAY STORYLINES

- ▶ UAB begins its 2014 exhibition slate with a pair of contests against Vanderbilt and Belmont. The Blazers defeated the Commodores, 3-1, in Nashville to open last season and haven't faced Belmont since the 2011 season.
- ▶ The Blazers and Does kick-off what is the launch of the long-awaited SEC Network. Thursday's match will be featured in the digital platform online version of the new network.
- ▶ UAB welcomes 12 newcomers to the 2014 squad, all true freshmen, as four seniors and three All-Conference selections return from last season.
- ▶ Outside of UAB's exhibition on Sunday against Belmont, the Blazers will play host to six home contests. After playing seven regular-season matches to begin the season, UAB will return home on Sept. 19 for its home-opener against Chattanooga at 7 p.m.
- ▶ Head coach Harold Warren, now in his fourth season at the helm of the Blazers, is looking to keep the 2013 momentum going, where UAB improved from a two-win season in 2012 to 11 wins last year, advancing to the C-USA Tournament for the first time since 2009.

THE SERIES AGAINST VANDERBILT AND BELMONT

- ▶ While Vanderbilt leads the all-time series 11-3, UAB won the most recent contest, a 3-1 decision at Vanderbilt to open up the 2013 season.
- ▶ UAB won the only meeting between the Bruins and the Blazers, a 3-2 overtime contest back in 2011 in Nashville, Tenn.

EXTENDED ROAD TRIP, LIGHT HOME SLATE

► By the time UAB opens its six-game home schedule on Sept. 19, the Blazers will have played seven matches on the road, with nearly a month of the season almost in the books.

► After making trips to play South Alabama, Davidson and Duke within the first week of competition beginning Aug. 22, UAB will compete in its only tournament action of the year in Charleston, S.C. before traveling to in-state foes Alabama and Troy. The home slate opens on Sept. 19 against Chattanooga, with three of the six home games being played that same week. After a weekend doubleheader with FIU and FAU in mid-October, UAB will close its home schedule on Oct. 30 against Rice.

BLAZERS PICKED SIXTH IN C-USA PRESEASON POLL

► After finishing tied for fourth in the east division of the C-USA standings a season ago, the league's coaches voted UAB to finish sixth in the conference.

► Charlotte was tabbed as the preseason coaches' favorite to win the 2014 championship, while North Texas, Rice, FIU and UTEP round out the top five in front of the Blazers. North Texas' Rachel Holden was selected as the preseason offensive player of the year, while Charlotte's Monica Trickett earned preseason defensive player of the year honors.

About Our Name

The University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) has been an autonomous member of the University of Alabama system since 1969, and has had an intercollegiate athletic program since 1977. UAB is sometimes confused with the University of Alabama (Crimson Tide), which is located in Tuscaloosa. While this is inevitable, it is important to note that the two are indeed separate institutions. In addition, the UAB name is often altered by various media, opponents, merchandisers, etc. Please note that there are only two correct versions of our name: UAB – or – University of Alabama at Birmingham

UAB Falls to Tulsa, 1-0, at C-USA Championship

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The UAB women's soccer team fell to Tulsa, 1-0, Monday afternoon in the first round of the Conference USA Championship to end the Blazers' 2013 season.

Eight minutes into the match, Tulsa's Claire Nicholson lined up for a free kick and passed to Jordan O'Brien who netted the game-winning goal. The Blazers and Golden Hurricane went on to swap possessions and get looks at the net, but Tulsa held on down the stretch to preserve the shutout.

Paige Hanks led UAB with four shots for three on target, while Sam Bradford, Kelsey Waechter, Kimberly Fincher, Jasmine Kauka, Johanna Liney and Kasey Johnson all finished with a shot each. Courtnie Northern allowed just one goal, and picked up five saves including one in a breakaway situation, and one in a diving stab to her right.

UAB's season ends at 11-7-2, one of the most successful seasons in recent history, and a huge turnaround from a 2-17 record a year ago.

"It's a huge turnaround and doesn't happen that often in one year's time. The seniors are the biggest credit for that because they lived through the tough times and saw us grow and helped us grow. We're going to continue to grow and get better and better every year. The very near future is even more promising."

FRESHMAN OVERLOAD

- ▶ Nearly half of the members of the 2014 UAB women’s soccer roster are newcomers. 12 of the 28 members of the 2014 squad are true freshmen, after the Blazers lost a large senior class of six players following last season.
- ▶ The 12 freshmen hail from six different states and feature six defenders, four midfielders and two goalkeepers. Three are originally from Cincinnati, Ohio (Morgan Terry, Meredith Schertzing, Gabrielle Brokamp), while four are from Georgia, one from Oklahoma, Alabama and Illinois, and two from Texas.

Harold Warren, a member of the 2007 national championship coaching staff at USC, was named head coach of the UAB women's soccer program on December 29, 2010.

Warren took over a UAB program that had been guided for 15 years by Paul Harbin, who retired following the 2010 season.

After leading the Blazers to an 8-29-1 record in his first two seasons on campus, Warren completed a turnaround season in 2013 as he led UAB to an 11-7-2 record. It marked just the seventh season in which the Green and Gold reached 11 wins, dating back to the inaugural season in 1996.

UAB reached the 10-win plateau for the first time since the 2009 season, and 2013 marked the fifth 10-win season for the program since 2000. Four Blazers also earned All-Conference USA Honors, as senior Jasmine Kauka and sophomore Paige Hanks earned All-Conference Third Team honors, while Morgan-Key Adams and Kimberly Fincher earned a spot on the All-Freshman Team.

While a member of the coaching staff at USC, Warren helped turn the Trojans into one of the most successful programs in the nation. One of Warren's primary responsibilities with was working with the defense.

The Trojans captured the 2007 NCAA Championship, finishing with a 20-3-2 record as they recorded 15 shutouts and allowed only 13 goals during the season.

In the four years Warren was on staff at USC, the Trojans earned berths in the NCAA Tournament each of those seasons while compiling a cumulative record of 61-20-10.

"We are truly excited to have a coach the caliber of Harold Warren coming on board to lead our women's soccer program," said Director of Athletics Brian Mackin. "He has been around successful programs throughout his career and has had an integral role in the success USC has experienced, including winning a national championship."

Prior to joining the staff at USC, Warren spent four seasons at the University of Arizona. He helped the Wildcats to an NCAA Third Round appearance in 2005. In his four seasons with the Wildcats, Arizona posted a 40-35-7 overall mark.

Before arriving at Arizona, Warren served one year as an assistant at UC Irvine in 2002, where he was also responsible for directing the UC Irvine Soccer Academy.

From 2001-03, Warren was the assistant coach for the California Olympic Development Program's 16-17 age group, and was an ODP scout for Southern California male and female talent.

Warren spent 17 years coaching at the club level for boys and girls teams ranging from 10-19. He won league championships with Riverside Soccer Club and Long Beach Sidekicks, and helped the West Coast Stingers to a Surf Cup semifinal. From 1991-92, he was the head coach for the boys varsity team at Savanna High School in Anaheim.

He has remained involved in club and ODP coaching, heading up the '89 Arizona ODP and the U-15 Arizona Rush Nike Team while in Tucson. He also is a U.S. Soccer Federation licensed coach.

As a player, Warren was a defender and a forward at Riverside Community College before transferring to Cal State Fullerton in 1989. He then transferred to Cal Poly Pomona, where he graduated with a bachelor's of science in communications in 2002.

"I would like to thank Athletic Director Brian Mackin and SWA Derita Ratcliffe for giving me the opportunity to be the second head women's soccer coach in the history of the program," said Warren. "I'm completely honored and blessed with this opportunity. I've worked hard my entire coaching career and being the head women's soccer coach at UAB is a dream come true.

"I'm extremely excited about being the head women's soccer coach. Paul Harbin has done a tremendous job over the last 15 years and I just want to build upon that and take the program to the next level.

"I feel that this program will be a force to reckon with," said Warren. "UAB is a top-notch institution of higher learning, in the great City of Birmingham, and has an unbelievable athletic department with all the support we need to be successful on a national level."

His coach at USC, Ali Khosroshahin, said he has no doubt Warren is ready to lead his own program.

"Harold has been ready for this opportunity for a long time," said Khosroshahin, who has been USC's head coach for four seasons. "When I became the head coach at SC, Harold was at Arizona and the first call I made was to him about joining our program. He has a great handle on recruiting nationally. UAB is getting one of the best coaches in the country. I'm disappointed he is leaving our program, but I am also extremely excited for Harold."
