

How Software Businesses Can Navigate COVID-19

EVENT DETAILS: Tuesday, June 2, 2020 | 4–5 PM CET

DESCRIPTION: The changes we've faced in our businesses, and the global economy as a whole are the most significant changes we've encountered in decades. Software businesses are still navigating these changes and trying to distill their long-term impact.

What is the impact of COVID-19 on software businesses? How can we best manage the uncertain that lies ahead? In this 60-minute webinar CEO of Volaris Group, Mark Miller, and leaders from our European software businesses will discuss how we've adapted during the COVID-19 crisis. We'll share what's worked, what's not, and how we've seized opportunities along the way.

The event is by invitation only and strictly for decision makers in the software space. Register here.
