32 WIPE THE SLATE

BEST PRACTICES

Be quick to forgive as a worship leader. A worship leader who lacks grace with a team member struggling in an area of sin is a worship leader who is set up for their own fall. Weigh the consequences of someone's actions, and err on the side of extending grace.

A forgiving worship leader still guides people on and off the stage as needed, but always does so in the spirit of friendship, leadership, and pastoral care.
