

Easiest to install

Simple process allows installers to visually position and mount the lightweight mirror housing, connect wires, and hang the glass.

Lowest risk of damage

Many will mount the housings during construction and save the glass for final preparation. Housing and glass can be shipped separately to minimize site clutter and avoid damage.

Quickest repair

In the unlikely event something goes wrong with a lighted mirror, the glass is easily removed to provide quick access to the internal components.

Cost Savings

Glass chipped or broken can be quickly replaced without purchasing the entire unit.
