- “reasonable adjustments” for the student, as determined by UCP Student Support and the Additional Learning Support department in accordance with the UCP-ALS001 Higher Education Additional Learner Support and SEND Policy www.ucp.ac.uk/policies

- 13.3 The invigilator will start, conduct and end all exams in accordance with UCP Invigilators Training Guide.
- 13.4 An invigilator will give a student all the information they need, including announcements about the time left during the exam.

- 15.3 If work is crossed through in the answer book it won't be marked. If the student does not cross work out, the marker will consider it to be part of the answer and will mark it, even if it's rough work or an essay plan. You won't be given marks for the same answer twice, even if it appears in both your plan and your answer.

PART 2: START OF AN EXAM

15. Admitting Students into the Exam Room

- 16.1 Students are responsible for presenting themselves outside the exam room at least 15 minutes before the examination is due to begin.
- 16.2 Students are allowed into the exam room by the invigilator 10 minutes prior to the published start time of the exam. This is to allow students to place bags in the cloak room/ front of the

17. Exam Materials

- 18.1 The rules about materials allowed in an exam material must be followed. Materials are classed as either essential, optional or prohibited. Specific guidance to students about the material they allowed in the exam is published in the Module Guides.

 - A valid form of ID.
 - Pens with blue or black ink. You must use pens for all answers, except on computer marked exams.
- 18.3 Optional items:
 - Highlighter pens.
 - A watch. This must be placed on your desk, clearly visible to the invigilator. Smart watches are not permitted.
 - Bags will have to be left, at students own risk, in a cloakroom or at the back or front of the exam room, where the invigilator tells you.
 - Drink which should be in a plain bottle with all labels removed.
- 18.4 Prohibited items

- E-cigarettes or any other kind of hand-held electronic nicotine delivery system.
- Anything not listed as essential or optional on the exam paper.

18.5 If prohibited materials are taken into the exam the student will be subject to disciplinary action.

18. Use of a Calculator

19.1 For some exams, students are permitted to use a calculator or other equipment. Where this is the case, it will be clearly written on the exam paper and communicated to students prior to the exam in the module guide. For modules where a calculator is permitted the calculator must not be manipulated, connected to the internet, have retrievable information stored, or have language translation.

19.2 The calculator must not be a feature of another device such as a mobile phone or a smart watch.

19. Open Book Exams

20.1 For some exams, students are expected to have part of the module material, or other materials, with them. These are called 'open-book exams'. The permitted texts or materials are listed on the exam paper and students will be informed about them in module guides.

20.2 The invigilator will check what each student brings into the exam room, checking that it is the correct version, type and unannotated material.

PART 3: DURING AN EXAM

20. Conduct in an Exam

21.1 Course teaching staff may be present at the start of the exam to assist with identification of candidates unable to provide photographic ID. In practical exams subject teachers/technicians may be on hand in case of any technical difficulties. They must leave the exam before the exam is officially started.

21.2 Students are subject to the authority of the invigilators and must act according to their instructions.

21.3 Students who need to leave the exam room temporarily must always remain supervised.

21. Leaving the Exam Early

22.1 Without the special permission of the Invigilator no student may leave the exam room until 30 minutes of the exam period has elapsed, nor leave their desk during the last fifteen minutes of any exam period. In the case of one-hour exam, student must not leave the room until the exam ends. The answer book should be marked by the invigilator with the time when a student leaves if it is before the final 15 minutes.

22. Toilet Arrangements

23.1 Students who request a toilet visit during the exam will be accompanied by an Invigilator out of the exam venue and to the door of the nearest toilet. Where there is only one invigilator in the exam room, the student must be supervised by the roving invigilator in the breakout space. Students are not allowed to take anything out of the room during the exam. If the invigilator suspects a student might have notes in their possession (e.g. if he or she is wearing a jacket with pockets), the student should be asked to empty their pockets or to confirm they do not have any notes. Invigilators should not search or have any physical contact with the student in this process. Toilets should be checked after each toilet break for written material which may benefit a student using the toilets during the exam.

23.2 The invigilator must note the toilet break time on students' scripts.

23. Fire Alarm

24.1 The fire assembly point for each exam room is on display in the venue. In the event of an emergency all students should be instructed to stop writing, leave all papers, answer books and bags and silently leave the room. The invigilator should take the register with them and if practical close windows and doors.

24.2 Invigilators should keep students together and proceed to the fire assembly point as quickly as possible. It should be made clear to students that exam conditions will continue until they are told otherwise.

24.3 The Invigilator must ensure that all candidates have left the building safely, and contact the Fire Warden. The Exams Officer will help as soon as it is safe to do so.

24. Illness and Rest Breaks

25.1 If a student becomes ill during an exam and must leave the room as a result, the Invigilator should make a note on the script and record the time the student stopped writing. A student who becomes ill may leave the room for a short time then return to complete the paper, as long as they have been continuously accompanied by an Invigilator. Extra time cannot be given.

25.2 Breaks may be allowed for student who have access arrangements due to illness or additional learner support. If the student is allowed rest breaks, the allowed maximum time will be stated on the exam envelope and register. A single rest period can be taken at any time during the examination and can be of any length (subject to 5 minutes minimum) as long as the total rest time taken during the examination does not exceed the allowed maximum. They can remain seated or may exit the examination room, but MUST remain in the company of an invigilator. In either case, they cannot continue writing or reading whilst taking a rest break or talk to any person other than the examination staff.

25.3 The Invigilator must keep a running total of the rest time, and therefore a note of the new exam finish time. The student must be informed of 30 minutes remaining before the latest new examination finish time. No rest period will be permitted after the 5-minute warning has been given.

25. Suspected Irregularity or Misconduct

26.1 A very high standard of conduct is expected in all exams. Any misconduct is a serious matter that can result in disciplinary action.

26.2 If an Invigilator suspects a student of misconduct the student will be removed from the room and inform them of the nature of the suspected misconduct. If other students are still in the exam room they must not be left unattended. The roving invigilator can be asked to take over invigilation in the exam room. The Invigilator shall confiscate any illicit material which appears to be in the possession of the student and annotate the student's answer book to indicate the point at which the student was taken out of the exam room. The student will be permitted to return to the room and continue the exam.

26.3 The Invigilator must then complete an Assessment Irregularity Report (Appendix 1) and submit to the Exams Office along with any confiscated material after the exam.

26. At the end of the Exam

27.1 The exam paper must not be removed from the exam room by a student.

27.2 Students must stay seated and silent until all answer books and exam papers has been collected and checked by an invigilator. Students may not leave the exam venue without the prior permission of an invigilator.

PART 4: AFTER THE EXAM

27. Packing away the Exam Documents

28.1 Exam papers are put into envelopes at the end of the exam. These are sealed and the invigilator signs across the envelope seal.

28.2 Invigilators will return the examination pack, with completed scripts, documents and any other relevant material to the Exams Office within 20 minutes of the exam end time. The invigilator will ensure security of the documents at all times.

28.3 A copy of the exam paper with all the completed students' answer books and the register is sealed in an exam envelope and stored in the exam secure storage area by the Exams Officer. The desk card and anything with a student's name on is removed before it's sent for marking. This means the marker doesn't know it's your work they're marking

28.4 Any surplus exam papers are shredded by the Exam's Officer.

28.5 The Module Leader/ Course Leader picks up the exam papers from the Exams Office and sign a sheet to confirm they have collected the papers. The exam answer books must be scanned and saved to the course file. After the quality of the scan is checked, the paper copies are shredded. When marking the tutor is responsible for maintaining the security of the exam answer books (paper and electronic versions).

28. Exam Extenuating Circumstances

29.1 Should a candidate be unable to attend an exam or have to leave an exam because of illness, suffer bereavement or other trauma, be ill or otherwise disadvantaged or disturbed during an exam, then it is the candidate's responsibility to submit an Extenuating Circumstance claim through the UCP-ASS006 Higher Education Extenuating Circumstance Procedure www.ucp.ac.uk/policies

APPENDIX 1 ASSESSMENT IRREGULARITY REPORT- EXAMINATIONS

If a candidate behaves in such a way that invigilators suspect they are copying from or conferring with other candidates or being in possession of unauthorised material in the examination room the Invigilator should carry out the procedure overleaf and complete the following report.

Name of Student		Student No.
Module Code		Students Course
Venue
Time of suspected irregularity
Nature of allegation
Action taken
Invigilators name
Invigilators Signature

Types of cheating

The most common form of cheating is reference to notes prepared by students for the purpose. In the past notes have been located hidden among answer books or examination papers, attached to rulers, calculators and clothing and written in authorised books and on hands or other parts of the body. Paper handwritten notes may be tiny. You also need to be aware of the possibility of earphones and small recording devices being used. Students may also try to communicate with each other or one student may try to copy another's work.

If you or an Assistant Invigilator suspects a student of cheating in an examination please follow the following procedure:

Ask the invigilator in the break out area to supervise the students remaining in the exam room.

Approach the student to confirm the suspicion

Collect the student's answer book, material and notes and ask the student to accompany you out of the room. In cases where the student is suspected of referring to unauthorised material, confirm the existence of the material if necessary

Remove the student from the examination room

Accompany the suspected candidate/s out of the hall as quietly and discretely as possible.

Confiscate any notes. Inform the student of the nature of the allegation and consequences of the allegation

Once outside, inform the student of the nature of the suspicion and confiscate any written notes. If the notes are written on clothing or another personal item, and cannot be easily removed, the item should be confiscated if appropriate. If notes are written on the body of the student or on clothing which is inappropriate to confiscate, transcribe the content onto paper before instructing the student to remove or wash off the notes. Inform the student the matter will be referred to the Exams Manager and disciplinary action may follow.

Allow the student to return to the examination room.

The candidate should be returned to the room as quickly as possible, no extra time will be added to the published finishing time to compensate. Annotate the student's script with the time of the allegation e.g. student temporarily removed from room due to suspected assessment irregularity, 3.30. Instruct the student to return to the hall and continue the examination.

Complete the report overleaf with reference to the student's formal i.d. and attendance slip.

Confirm the student's ID and complete the form overleaf. Please include names of other invigilators who were witness to the incident. Evidence is needed in order to pursue a disciplinary case.

Submit the report and any evidence to the Exams Manager after the examination.

Submit the report and evidence to the Exams Manager immediately following the examination. You may need to be contacted at a later date to confirm detail of the allegation.
