OPENING XI

> Washington State enters the week needing to right the ship having gone just 3-4-1 in Pac-12 play and sitting in seventh place in the standings heading into the penultimate week.

> Despite the recent lull the Cougs RPI remains high at #26 with games remaining against #55 Utah, #36 Colorado, and #10 Washington.

> 11 of the Cougs' last 13 games have been decided by one-goal or fewer with WSU going 7-3 in one-goal contests and a 0-0 draw against ASU.

> The Cougs and the Utes have played relatively even the last four seasons with the teams alternating wins and shutouts. Last season Utah clipped the Cougs 1-0 in overtime while WSU won 3-0 in 2017 in the last meeting in Pullman.

> Ella Dederick has 6 full shutouts on the year and has 26 career shutouts (2nd all-time). She is the program's all-time leader in wins (47) and minutes (7457:45) and 3rd in saves (281).

> The Cougars defense has been solid all year allowing just 1.19 gpg, while producing seven shutouts in 16 games. In the last six contests the Cougs have earned three shutouts.

> 10 different Cougars have scored on the year with Morgan Weaver and Averie Collins leading the way with five goals each. Seven different Cougs have scored game-winners with Collins, Makamae Gomera-Stevens and Elyse Bennett tied at two.

> Brianna Alger is #61 in the nation in assists per game at 0.44 (7 total) and tied for #4 in the Pac-12. WSU is #46 overall in assists per contest at 1.81 (29 total).

> In 2019 the Cougars are 4-2-1 and hold a 17-8 scoring advantage.

> WSU remains ranked #23 in the TopDrawerSoccer poll despite falling just outside of the top-25 in the United Soccer Coaches and SoccerAmerica polls.

> WSU's six seniors will be playing their final home contests this weekend (excluding a possible NCAA tournament game). The seniors have combined for 41 wins in the past four seasons including a pair of tournament appearances and a sweet 16 run in 2017.

COUGAR NOTES

LAST TIME OUT

The Cougs dropped a pair of contests on the road at the LA schools falling 3-0 to #7 USC and 2-1 to #18 UCLA. The loss at UCLA marked the first time on the year the Cougs lost a contest after scoring first as MacKenzie Frimpong-Ellertson scored the opening goal in the 33'. WSU could not hold its lead, however, as the Bruins responded with a goal in the 54' and the winner in the 85'. The losses also marked the first time the Cougs had dropped back-to-back games on the year.

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE

In 2019, the Cougars have been dominant on the defensive end of the field with seven shutouts in 16 games. In the two years prior, the Cougs produced 16 shutouts including 11 in 2017, tied for 2nd most in WSU history. On the year, the Cougs have outscored their opposition 27-14. Ella Dederick in goal has been credited with six full shutouts while sharing another with Rachel Johnson.

The Cougs have three shutouts in the last six contests and given up six goals, three coming at USC.

OFFENSIVE WOES

After starting the season red-hot offensively the Cougars have hit a virtual wall over the past few weeks as nearly every defense has come up with career efforts in net. The Cougars' lack of goals is not from a lack of chances as the team remains #9 in the nation in creating chances at 18.25 shots per game.

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE

Taking care of business at home all season long, the Cougs came up with a program record 10 wins at Lower Soccer Field in 2018. The previous record for WSU was eight, done three times prior. Overall, the Cougs went 10-1-1 at home for an .875 win percentage, tied for the third-best percentage in WSU history. The only teams to get past the Cougars at home last year were #2 USC (3-2) and #1 Stanford (1-1 Draw, 2OT). In addition to the wins, the Cougs outscored their opponents 33-12 at home scoring 80% of their goals at Lower Soccer Field. In 2019 the Cougars are 4-2-1 and hold a 17-8 scoring advantage.

All-time, WSU is 155-79-25 at home.

CLOSE CONTESTS BECOMING THE NORM

Tight games show off a team's ability to persevere and the 2019 Cougs have proven their mettle as WSU enters the week an impressive 7-3 in one-goal games and are 2-0-1 in overtime contest. 11 of the last 13 games for the Cougs have been decided by one goal or fewer.

Last season the Cougs were 4-3 in one-goal matches while going 7-6 in 2017.

AN RPI GAME

Playing in the ultra-tough Pac-12 has its advantages as the Cougars enter the week ranked #26 in the RPI. Last season the Cougs were ranked #38 at the end of the year when WSU earned a home game in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

WSU is the fifth-highest ranked team in the Pac-12 trailing #1 Stanford, #5 USC, #10 Washington, and #11 UCLA. The conference has eight teams inside the top-40 and six inside the top-20.

WSU RANKED #23 IN TOPDRAWERSOCCER

Entering the week the Cougars are among the elite as WSU comes in just outside of the top-25 in the country as per the United Soccer Coaches (USC) poll. Earlier this season the Cougs moved as high as #13. In the other major polls the Cougs look even better as they come in at #23 in the nation in the TopDrawerSoccer.com poll. Last season the Cougs climbed as high as #7 in the USC poll and #5 in TDS poll after beginning the year a perfect 10-0-0. The top-10 rankings marked the highest rankings in program history for WSU.

COUGAR VETS LEADING THE WAY

Despite the loss of a few key players from last season, the 2019 Cougars are back and better than ever as eight of 11 starters returned headlined by all-region honoree Morgan Weaver up top and goalkeeper Ella Dederick between the posts. The two captains lead a stacked team of veteran players who have advanced to the second-round of the NCAA Tournament in each of the last two seasons. In addition, the Cougars returned 29 goals (70% of their scoring) from 2018.

The vets have contributed 18 goals and 23 assists.

FRESH FACES MAKING WAVES

While the Cougs enter the year with established veterans at every position WSU also welcomes in 10 new faces that have already made an immediate impact. The most experienced newcomer to the Cougars is graduate-transfer Averie Collins who came to the Palouse after graduating from Stanford. Collins won a national title with the Cardinal and finished her Stanford career with 10 goals, five assists, and 25 points. In addition to Collins, freshman MacKenzie Frimpong-Ellertson earned a spot among the starters while eight of the nine freshmen have seen solid time on the pitch.

Collins enters the week tied for the lead with 5 goals, 2 game-winners, while Frimpong-Ellertson has netted 3. Freshman Skye McMillon got on the scoreboard in her first appearance in the season opener against Seattle U.

WEAVER ONE TO WATCH

Coming off of a career year, senior Morgan Weaver put her name among the best in the nation as the Washington State star was named to the watch list for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy. Weaver became the first Cougar in program history to be named to the preseason watch list. The MAC Hermann Trophy is the most prestigious award in collegiate soccer and is awarded to United Soccer Coaches National Player of the Year in NCAA Division I soccer.

Weaver has scored 5 goals and posted 3 assists on the year.

OFFENSIVE DEPTH TAKES CENTER STAGE

Three-deep at every position it is no surprise that the overall depth has shown through as the Cougars' have 10 different goal scorers accounting for 28 goals. The Cougs also have seven different game-winners on the year. In addition, five of the 10 scorers have been first time scorers (including grad-transfer Averie Collins scoring her first goal at WSU).

BENNETT BACK IN HER GROOVE

Just a year removed from her second ACL surgery, junior Elyse Bennett has refound her footing among the Cougs' weapons up top as the third-year forward enters the week with four goals and four assists. Her four goals ranks third for the Cougs while her four assists are tied for second. She broke through for the first time in Pac-12 play at Oregon when she scored the game-winner for WSU in the air, skying over the Ducks' defense for scoring header.

COLLINS AN IMMEDIATE IMPACT PLAYER

Coming to WSU with championship pedigree, grad-transfer Averie Collins has made an immediate impact on the Cougars as the fifth-year midfielder is tied for the team lead in scoring with five goals and has produced 12 points. Collins has used her size and ball skills to overpower the opposition early, scoring in four different ways including a pair of PKs, a header off a corner, an open play with her right foot, and even from 22-yards out with her left foot. She assisted on the game-winner against #20 Cal.

ALGER'S ASSIST HER WAY INTO THE RECORD BOOKS

Taking over the role of starting left back and primary distributor for the Cougars, junior Brianna Alger wasted no time jumping in with both feet as she picked up a pair of assists on the first two goals of the season. She added an assist in each game at home to run her streak to three-straight games, tying the longest streak in program history. Her 7 total assists and 0.44 assists per game are tied for #4 in the Pac-12 and #61 in the nation. She is tied for 7th all-time in WSU single-season history with her next assist vaulting her into a tie for 3rd. Alger, playing in the back for the first time in her career and has earned two defensive player of the week awards on the year.

ROAD WARRIORS

A season after setting the program record for wins at home, the Cougars have taken their talents on the road this season with an impressive 6-3 mark away from Lower Soccer Field. The Cougs have earned five of their seven shutouts on the road.

WSU's biggest win to date came on the road at #20 Cal when the Cougs won a 1-0 overtime thriller over the Golden Bears.

HAY TRAINS IN AUSTRALIA

The Cougars' freshman keeper, Aly Hay, who is redshirting the 2019 season took her talents to Australia where she trained with the U-19 national team for the first three weeks of October. Hay was one of four keepers in camp looking to make an impact with the Young Matildas. Hay's grandmother is a native Australian making her eligible to compete in the country's national system despite being a native Canadian herself.

WEAVER LEADS THE WAY, CLIMBING THE RECORD BOOKS

Star senior forward Morgan Weaver proved once again to be one of the best players in the country in 2018 after posting a career-best 13 goals, tying for the lead in the Pac-12 in the regular season. Her 13 goals ranked tied for fourth all-time in WSU single season history and finished No. 20 in the country overall.

Weaver ended her junior year on a tear, scoring six goals in the final five games including goals against #1 Stanford and a hat-trick against rival Washington to end the regular season.

With a team-best 5 goals, Weaver has 33 career goals and ranks tied for third all-time in program history. The all-time record for goals sits at 83, held by hall-of-famer Kim Lyness (1990-93). Deka DeWitt's (1997-2000) second place mark of 40 is still within reach of Weaver in her final season on the Palouse.

Her 75 points ranks 5th.

DEDERICK, REMAKING THE RECORD BOOK

After missing most of the 2018 season due to injury, star keeper Ella Dederick returned for the 2019 season and now has become the Cougars' all-time leader in wins with 47. She earned her record victory in a 2-1 win over Oregon State, Sept. 28, at home at Lower Soccer Field. On the year, Dederick is 10-5-1 with 6.5 shutouts and a 1.11 GAA.

She became the program's all-time leading in minutes vs ASU and enters the week at 7457:45 min.

Career Ranking – Wins (1st, 47), Win percentage (4th, 0.619), saves (3rd, 281), goals against average (4th, 0.92), minutes in goal (1st, 7457:45), shutouts (2nd, 26).

ALGER TOP DEFENDER, AGAIN

For the second time this season, junior Brianna Alger was named the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week announced by the conference office Tuesday afternoon. Alger also took home the opening award of the season on Aug. 27. In the last two seasons the Cougars have earned six defensive awards with four weekly honors last season to go with Alger's two this year. Over the weekend, she assisted on both game-winning goals while leading the way to just one goal against and a shutout over Hawai'i.

ALGER NAMED PAC-12'S BEST IN WEEK 1

For the first time in her career, junior Brianna Alger was named the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week as announced by the conference office. The award for Alger was the first of the season for the Cougars and picked up where WSU left off a season ago after the team captured a conference-best nine weekly awards, including four on the defensive side, throughout the year. The junior not only led WSU to the shutout of Seattle U but assisted on the opening two goals of the 4-0 route to open the 2019 season.

COLLINS TAKES TOP PAC-12 HONORS

For the first time at Washington State and the second time in her career, grad-transfer Averie Collins was named the Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week as announced by the conference office Tuesday afternoon. Collins becomes the second Cougar to earn a weekly award in the first three weeks of the year following Brianna Alger earning defensive honors to start the year (Aug. 27). Collins previously earned the award in 2016 while at Stanford.

Collins scored a golden goal for the Cougs at Gonzaga, needing just :09 seconds to end the game with a left-footed screamer from 22-yards out.

COUGS IN CONFERENCE OPENERS

With a 2-1 win over Oregon State to open Pac-12 play the Cougs ran their all-time record to 11-11-3 in conference openers including 5-2-2 since the conference became the Pac-12. The Cougs have won back-to-back openers after knocking off #8 UCLA, 1-0, last season.

All-time the Cougs are 10-11-3 in conference openers and 4-2-2 since the conference became the Pac-12. In the first home contest of conference the Cougs are 9-13-2 all-time.

NON-CONFERENCE DOMINANCE

In their evolution into one of the elite teams in the country, the Cougars have proven to be nearly unbeatable outside of the Pac-12. In 2018, WSU went a perfect 7-0 in non-conference play en route to a 10-0 start. In all, the Cougars have now dropped just two non-conference matches in the last three seasons falling to Santa Clara on Aug. 27, 2017 and Michigan on Sept. 13, 2019.

In the last three seasons the Cougs are 19-2-2 in non-conference play.

SOCCER SELECTED FOURTH BY PAC-12 COACHES

Coming off one of their most successful seasons in program history, the Washington State soccer team caught the attention of the coaches in the Pac-12 Conference as the Cougars were picked to finish fourth in the preseason coaches poll as announced by the conference office. The fourth place pick marks the highest preseason ranking for the Cougars in the preseason poll. Stanford, the four-time defending conference champions, were picked to take the title for a record fifth-consecutive season after receiving seven first-place votes. UCLA came in just behind the Cardinal in the poll after picking up the remaining five first-place votes.

SHULENBERGER WINS #50

Having established his Cougars as one of the elite teams in the country, head coach Todd Shulenberg came up with some of his own career recognition as the fifth-year coach hit the 50 win milestone Sunday, Sept. 15 against LMU. Shulenberg picked up his milestone victory in his 87th contest giving him an impressive .615 winning percentage to get to the total.

Shulenberg's first win came on Aug. 21, 2015 against Seattle U (3-1).

WAZZU IN 2018

The Cougs finished the regular season 12-5-1 and eventually finished 13-6-1 overall including a big win over then #8 UCLA, 1-0, and a draw against #1 Stanford, 1-1. The record for WSU was bolstered by a program record start that saw the Cougs go 10-0, rocketing up the rankings to an all-time high of #7 before injuries and bad luck caused the team to stumble. After getting back on track the Cougs earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament where they would rout Montana, 5-1, at home in the first round. The season would come to an end at #2 Georgetown a week later as the Hoyas took a 1-0 win in the second round to knock the Cougs out of the postseason. The 13 wins on the year for the Cougs marked the third-most wins in a single season for WSU. The second round appearance marked the first time in program history WSU won its first round game in back-to-back seasons.

Overall, four Cougs earned all-conference honors led by first teamer Morgan Weaver who also earned first team all-region honors. Senior Maddy Haro ended her career with second team all-conference and all-region honors while senior Maegan O'Neill saw her injury shortened season finish with a third team award. Freshman Mykiaa Minniss earned all-freshman honors.

COUGS POSTSEASON RUN

The Cougs made a postseason push to the second round for the second-straight season (in 2017 WSU made the third round) as an at-large bid out of the Pac-12. The success in the regular season earned the Cougars a home game in the first round, dismantling Montana 5-1 at Lower Soccer Field on Nov. 9 to earn a trip to the Nation's Capital for a game against one-seed Georgetown. While the Hoyas would prevail in a close 1-0 contest the Cougs run in the postseason was historic as it marked just the first time in program history WSU won first round games in back-to-back seasons.

The win in the first round was the fifth-time the Cougars moved on to round two in 12 NCAA appearances. WSU sports a 4-10-4 record in the NCAA tournament.

WASHINGTON STATE HEAD COACH TODD SHULENBERGER

In just four seasons, coach Shulenberg has reshaped the Cougar program in his image, taking the Cougars among the elite programs in NCAA soccer. In four seasons entering the year, the Cougars won 45 games including a program-record 14 victories in Shulenberg's first season. Shulenberg became the second coach in program history to lead his team out of the first round of the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back season following in the footsteps of Matt Potter who took the Cougs to the second round in 2009 and 2010. In 2017, he became the first coach in WSU history to guide his team to the round of 16 in the NCAA Tournament. In 2018, the Cougars broke a number of program records including beginning the season a perfect 10-0, the best start and longest win-streak in program history. The wins to start the year propelled WSU to a No. 7 ranking in the coaches poll, the highest ranking in the history of Cougar soccer.

By the end of the year, and despite injuries wreaking havoc on the WSU's squad, the Cougars earned a home game in round one of the NCAA Tournament. After posting a 9-1-1 record at home in the regular season, the Cougs would tack on a record 10th home win in the tournament, dismantling Montana, 5-1, to advance to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight year. In all, WSU finished the 2018 season with 13 wins, one-shy of the program record. On the field, the Cougs play was recognized repeatedly over the year by the Pac-12 with a conference best nine weekly awards, the most of any team in the conference on the season. Junior Morgan Weaver and senior Maddy Haro would earn all-region honors for their play with Weaver taking home first team honors.
