COUGARS VS REDHAWKS

Thursday's match in Seattle marks the 18th all-time meeting between Washington State and Seattle U. The Cougars hold a 15-2-0 advantage in the series, but the Redhawks won the last contest, besting WSU 2-1 in Pullman, Sept. 9, 2021. The road team has won in the last three matches, with Wazzu winning two in Seattle before SU won last fall in Pullman.

CONTROLLING THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Facing off against teams in their home state, the Cougs have shown they control Washington as WSU holds an impressive 71-15-9 all-time record against teams from the Evergreen State. Among those teams the Cougs have dominated their biggest rivals including Gonzaga (24-1-1), Seattle U (15-2-0), and Pac-12 foe Washington (14-9-8) outscoring those three 179-50.

CAREER COUG MYKIAA MINNISS

With her 76th career start Sunday against Eastern Washington, fifth-year senior Mykiaa Minniss moved into a tie for 7th all-time in career matches started, excluding goalkeepers. Minniss has started every single match of her Cougar career. If Minniss starts all the regular-season matches this year, she would finish as WSU's all-time career starts leader with 92, besting former teammate Sydney Pulver, who finished her career with 91 starts in Crimson & Gray.

COOPER CLOSING ON WSU RECORD BOOK

Sophomore goalkeeper Nadia Cooper is no stranger to re-writing the WSU record book, this season setting her sights on the career goalkeeping lists. Picking up her first cleansheet of the season in the home opener against Portland, Cooper earned her eighth-career shutout and pushed herself onto the WSU all-time goalkeeper shutout list (tied 10th). With the Cougs' win over Eastern Washington, Cooper moved into a tie for 10th in career wins (11).

SHULENBERGER APPROACHES HISTORIC RECORD

Entering his eighth season at the helm of the Cougar soccer program, Shulenberger enters this week with 82 career wins, six shy of the all-time wins record held by former coach Matt Potter. Currently, Shulenberger could tie the record as early as WSU's match at Oregon State and break the record with an 89th win in Pullman against Colorado. Shulenberger also holds the second-best win percentage in program history. Over seven seasons, he has a .638 win percentage.

DETIZIO DOUBLE TROUBLE

Junior Margie Detrizio picked up the second multiple-goal match of her career with a second-half brace against Eastern Washington, Sunday. Detrizio has scored three goals this season to lead WSU, bringing her career total to 10 goals. The forward also leads the team in shots (16) and shots on frame (10).

HOME SWEET HOME

Lower Soccer Field has become something of a fan-fortress for the Cougs. In 2021, the team drew an average of 1,238 fans per match, the highest season average in program history. This season's home opener against Portland drew the fourth-largest crowd in program history with 2,408 fans in attendance. Wazzu is averaging 1,822 fans per game through two matches this season.

PRESEASON PRAISE

The Cougs picked up some of their highest preseason honors in program history. WSU was selected No. 19 in the TopDrawerSoccer preseason poll, matching the highest preseason ranking in team history. Wazzu was also voted No. 20 in the United Soccer Coaches preseason poll, tying its best-ever preseason selection in a national coaches poll.

COUGS TABBED THIRD BY PAC-12 COACHES

Washington State was voted third by coaches of the Pac-12 Conference in this fall's preseason poll. The placement marks the highest selection in program history, including a pair of first-place votes for the first time.

UNITED SOCCER COACHES NAME THREE TO PRESEASON WATCHLISTS

Three Cougs were named to the United Soccer Coaches Division I Players to Watch. Sophomore Nadia Cooper was named to the goalkeepers watchlist. Fifth-year seniors Mykiaa Minniss (D) and Sydney Studer (M) were also named as players to watch at their positions. Only returning student-athletes who were named to a USC All-Region team last season are eligible for the preseason watchlists.

THREE COUGS RETURN WITH ALL-REGION HONORS

A program record five Cougars were named to the 2021 United Soccer Coaches NCAA Division I Women's All-Pacific Region Team. Three return for the 2022 season, including first-team honorees Nadia Cooper and Mykiaa Minniss, alongside Sydney Studer on the second team.

SISTER DUOS POWERING NCAA SOCCER

When junior Jenna Studer transferred to Pullman, she joined her sister and fifth-year senior Sydney on the Cougar roster. The duo are one of 50 sets of sisters playing on the same team in Division-I soccer this season. The Cougs also have junior Marin Whieldon with older sister Shayna serving as the team's coordinator of operations. Wazzu is one of just 10 programs in the country with two sister pairings and the only with a staff-athlete combination.

COOPER RETURNS AS REIGNING GOALKEEPER & FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR

Sophomore goalkeeper Nadia Cooper returns for her second season, as the reigning Pac-12 Freshman and Goalkeeper of the Year. It was a historic run for the young netminder, becoming the first player in program history to earn not only the top freshman award but also the top goalkeeper award. Putting herself among the best to ever do it, Cooper finished the regular season 9-1-3 between the posts while tallying seven solo shutouts despite not taking over the starting job until Sept. 12. She would go on to set the Cougs' all-time record for consecutive shutout minutes with 523:56 minutes to begin her career.

DEFENSIVE CORE RETURNS

Defensively the Cougs were one of the best teams in the country last season, finishing the year with 12 shutouts and just 13 total goals allowed for a 0.59 GAA, the second-best goals against average in program history. They show no signs of letting up, returning a veteran backline, anchored by fifth-year senior captain Mykiaa Minniss and senior Bridget Rieken in the middle. The all-conference duo has been the heart of the Cougs' defense since joining forces in 2019 including leading the team to the College Cup as underclassmen and have played nearly every minute together for the last three seasons. Also, making her return in the lineup is Aaqila McLyn, a redshirt, fifth-year senior who suffered a season-ending injury last preseason and returns for a final campaign.

LYNCH BACK WITH A BANG

Senior forward Grayson Lynch hopes to continue a strong run of form. Last season, Lynch returned from hip surgery to finish second on the team with a career-best 8 goals on the year, while also adding a pair of assists. Scoring in bunches, Lynch notched a pair of braces on the year, becoming the first Cougar with a pair of multi-goal games in a season since all-American Morgan Weaver tallied four multi-goal games in 2019.

PRO COUGS

Establishing themselves among the elite teams in the nation has its perks as the Cougs now have pushed their best into the pro ranks of the NWSL with eight current pros having put on the Crimson and Gray. In each of the last two drafts the Cougs have seen their players go No. 2 overall with Morgan Weaver (2020 - Portland Thorns) and Trinity Rodman (2021 - Washington Spirit). In addition Averie Collins (2020 - Washington Spirit) and Makamae Gomera-Stevens (2021 - Houston Dash) have established themselves in the league while Ella Dederick was signed two a two-year deal by Houston. Outside of the five in the league, Brianna Alger who was selected by the Chicago Red Stars in 2021 heads to the league after completing her fifth season at WSU. In 2021, Elyse Bennett would go No. 7 to Kansas City while Sydney Pulver went No. 25 to new franchise San Diego. The Cougs seven picked in the draft ranks as the second-best in the nation.

WAZZU IN 2021

The Cougs finished the 2021 regular season third in the Pac-12 having posted a 7-1-3 record in conference play. The seven wins tied for the most in program history while the .773 win percentage was the highest in the history of Cougar soccer in conference action.
