COUGAR SWIMMING OPENS 2026 AT NORTHERN COLORADO, WYOMING

Washington State, 3-0 in dual meets this season, opens the second of its schedule with a road trip to Northern Colorado Friday and Wyoming Saturday. Both meets will be webstreamed with links available on wsucougars.com. The Cougars went 8-0 in dual meets last season. WSU is 3-0 all-time against UNC including a 169-93 win in Pullman last season. The Cougars are 3-1 all-time against the Cowgirls, dropping the last meetings, 140-122 in November of 2018.

RAUCHHOLZ NAMED ACADEMIC SERVICES STUDENT-ATHLETE OF THE MONTH

Anna Rauchholz was named one of the Academic Services Student-Athletes of the Month for November 2025. The senior who swims the backstroke, owns a 3.85 GPA while majoring in biochemistry and molecular biology. The Portland native is the co-president of the ASTEM group that works with a global technology platform to bring innovations in advanced infrastructure solutions and services, and has worked as a summer tutor. Last season, Rauchholz earned All-Mountain West honors as a individual in the 100 back and helped the 200 medley and 400 medley relays to conference titles. Rauchholz capped this fall season with a 100 back win at the Iowa Hawkeye Invitational, breaking her own school record twice in the morning prelims and even final. Rauchholz closed her meet helping the 400 medley relay to a win as the Cougars finished second overall at the meet.

DARCY REVITT NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST SWIMMER OF THE WEEK

Sophomore Darcy Revitt was named the Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Week, the conference office announced the final week of November. Revitt earned her sixth career Mountain West weekly honor after earning four Freshman of the Week awards and one Swimmer of the Week accolade last season. Revitt qualified for the NCAA Championships last year in the 50 and 100 free after winning conference titles in both events. At the Hawkeye Invitational, Revitt helped the Cougars to a runner-up finish among the nine competing teams. The Guildford, England native picked up six wins, set six meet records, broke seven WSU records and set six Mountain West season-best times including one conference record. Revitt helped to the 200 medley relay, 200 free relay, 400 medley relay and 400 free relay to wins at the invite and set seven school records in the 50 free twice, 200 free relay, 400 medley relay, 100 free twice and 400 free relay. Revitt was part of six meet records and recorded six Mountain West Conference season-best times including the conference record in the 100 free. In the seven events Revitt competed in, the sophomore won six of them and recorded a pair of NCAA qualifying times in the 50 free and 100 free.

COUGS FINISH SECOND AT HAWKEYE INVITATIONAL

Washington State closed out the final day of the Hawkeye Invitational with four more wins and four more school records to finish second out of the nine competing teams in November. The Cougars traded leads with Nebraska throughout the day before the Cornhuskers went up for good following the diving event while WSU does not have diving. Nebraska won the meet with 1,281.5 points with the Cougars close behind with 1,263.5 points. The rest of the field finished Iowa third, Illinois fourth, Kansas fifth, Miami (Florida) sixth, UConn seventh, Iowa State eighth and Northern Iowa ninth.

EMILY LUNDGREN NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST SWIMMER OF THE WEEK

Senior Emily Lundgren was named the Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Week following the win over Colorado State. Lundgren earns her first conference honor of the season after earning the same recognition twice last season en route to being named the Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Year and picking up All-America accolades. The senior from Chula Vista, Calif. won all four races she competed in, three as an individual one on a relay team, helping WSU to a 195-66 win over Colorado State in Pullman. Lundgren helped the 200 medley relay win while her three individual wins in the 100 Breast, 200 Breast and 200 IM were career wins No. 49, 50 and 51, respectively, helping the Cougars improve to 3-0 in dual meets this season. Lundgren helped the 200 medley relay to a win with a Gibb Pool-record 1:37.74, the top 200 medley relay time in the Mountain West this season. Lundgren's win in the 200 breast was her 50th career individual win while her 2:10.09 time was third-best in the conference this season and good for No. 21 nationally. Lundgren's 59.54 winning time in the 100 breast was the second-fastest 100 breast time in the conference this season and No. 15 nationally. Lundgren closed her night with a pool-record 2:00.07 to win the 200 IM, the fastest 200 IM time in the Mountain West this season.

LUNDGREN PASSES 50-WIN MILESTONE, COUGS CRUISE PAST COLORADO STATE

Washington State senior Emily Lundgren passed the 50-win milestone as WSU claimed 12 of the 14 events in a 195-66 victory over Colorado State at Gibb Pool last Friday. Lundgren, a three-time All-American and last season's Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Year, won all three individual races against the Rams in the 100 breast, 200 breast and 200 IM for career wins No. 49, 50 and 51 while also helping the 200 medley relay to a win. Six different Cougars and both relay teams notched wins as four more Gibb Pool records fell and two WSU Top-10 times were posted against future Pac-12 Conference opponent. Fellow senior Lauren Wille and sophomore Darcy Revitt each notched a pair of wins while junior Mehlika Yalcin and sophomore Issabelle Parrish each recorded their first career wins. WSU improved to 3-0 in dual meets this season after going a school-best 8-0 last season.

COUGARS SWEEP NORTHERN ARIZONA, SET FIVE POOL RECORDS

The Cougars capped a perfect weekend by sweeping all 11 events in a 168-36 victory over Northern Arizona Nov. 1. WSU set Gibb Pool records in the 200 medley relay, 200 free, 50 free, 200 IM and 400 free relay while improving to 2-0 in dual meets this season after beating Denver Friday. Senior Emily Lundgren, sophomore Darcy Revitt and freshman Barbora Mileisytė each won two races.

WSU CLAIMS 12 EVENTS IN BIG WIN OVER DENVER

Washington State claimed 12 of the 14 events and set two Gibb Pool records in a dominating 190-72 victory over Denver Oct. 31. The Cougars, who went 8-0 in dual meets last season, claimed their first dual of the season in their 2024-25 home-opener. WSU claimed both relay events, senior Emily Lundgren won three races and both senior Lauren Wille and sophomore Darcy Revitt won two races.

COUGS FINISH SECOND AT MPSF OPEN WATER CHAMPIONSHIPS

Cougars posted a second-place finish at the 2025 MPSF Open Water Championships held on the coast of Long Beach, Calif. Oct. 18. In the women's 5K, Hay led the way with a fourth-place finish after posting a 1:03.15, just two seconds off of the winner. Sophomore Tatum Janning was sixth with a 1:03.39 and freshman Vivien Nett was 12th with a 1:03.57. In the afternoon 2000-meter relay, freshman Avery Bulkley, Hay, Janning and Nett finished second with a 25:55, just 43 one-hundredth's of a second behind the winners, Rice. WSU finished ahead of third-place Cal Baptist, fourth-place Fresno State and fifth-place BYU. There were 27 competing relay teams.

AVERY BUCKLEY NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST FRESHMAN OF THE WEEK

Washington State swimmer Avery Bulkley was named the Mountain West Conference Freshman of the Week Oct. 14. Bulkley had an impressive first collegiate meet, winning the 1650 free, finishing fourth in the 500 free and helped the 800 free relay to a second-place finish while the Cougars finished the meet in third place. The freshman from Payson, Utah won the 1650 free with a 17:05.35, good for a five second win and entered Tuesday with the 11th-fastest mile time in the country. Bulkley also helped the 800 free relay team to a second-place finish and placed fourth in the 500 free. Bulkley earns WSU's first conference honor of the season after Darcy Revitt earned the same recognition four times last season.

COUGS FINISH THIRD AT FRESNO STATE INVITE

Washington State tallied seven wins and finished at the season-opening Fresno State Invite, hosted by Fresno State University Oct. 10-11

LUNDGREN NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST CONFERENCE SWIMMER OF THE YEAR

Senior Emily Lundgren was named the Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Year last season. The Chula Vista, Calif. native produced the best season in program history, earning a pair of All-America honors, winning a pair of Mountain West individual titles in the 200 IM and 200 breast and helped the 200 medley relay and 400 medley relay times to conference titles. Lundgren, who was named the MWC Championships Swimmer of the Meet led the team with 23 individual wins during the season. Lundgren broke four school records in the 100 breast, 200 breast, 100 fly and 200 IM, was a part of three school relay records in the 200 free, 200 medley and 400 medley, and broke four WSU Gibb Pool records. Lundgren also earned two Mountain West Swimmer of the Week awards. Lundgren, who qualified for her third straight NCAA Championships, earned All-America Honorable Mention in the 100 breast and became WSU's first All-American after finishing sixth in the 200 breast in the NCAA Championships final, the best finish by any swimmer in program history.

THREE COUGS COMPETED AT NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS IN FEDERAL WAY

Three Washington State swimmers, juniors Emily Lundgren and Dori Hathazi along with freshman Darcy Revitt competed at the 2025 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships. Revitt competed in the 50 free and 100 free while Hathazi competed in the 200 fly, and Lundgren competed in the 200 IM, 100 breast and 200 breast. Revitt opened the prelims breaking her own school record with a 48.05 in the 100 free, good for No. 20 nationally and the third-fastest time by a freshman in the country. Hathazi posted a 1:55.33 in her 200 fly morning prelims, good for No. 25 nationally.

TWO-TIME ALL-AMERICAN EMILY LUNDGREN MAKES HISTORY

Emily Lundgren capped her record-setting week at the NCAA Swimming Championships earning her second All-America honor. Lundgren, who earned All-America Honorable Mention in the 100 Breast, won her 200 breast morning prelim with a school-record 2:06.83, the third-fastest time in the morning prelims. In the evening final, Lundgren posted a 2:06.18 to finish sixth nationally, the best finish by a Cougar in NCAA history after breaking her own school and Mountain West Conference record and became WSU's first All-American since 2000. Lundgren was the first Cougar to swim in an NCAA Final since Erin Eldridge in the 2000 where she finished eighth in the 100 breast. It was Lundgren's third All-America honor after earning honorable mention in the 200 breast in 2023-24 and honorable mention in the 100 breast in 2024-25.

TEN COUGARS, FOUR RELAYS EARN ALL-MOUNTAIN WEST HONORS

Ten Washington State Swimmers and four relay teams received All-Mountain West Conference honors last season. At the 2025 Mountain West Conference Championships in Houston, the Cougars tallied five individual event titles and two relay titles en route to their best finish at a conference championships in program history, finishing fifth.

COUGARS MAKE HISTORY

WSU posted an 8-0 mark in dual meets last season, tying the program record for wins with eight (1978-79, 1979-80, 1996-97, 2001-02, 2015-16) while recording the first undefeated season in program history after the 1991-92 team went 5-0-1.

COUGAR SWIMMING ADDS JACKIE MUDD AS ASSISTANT COACH

Jackie Mudd was named an assistant coach this past summer. Mudd joined WSU after working this past season as an assistant coach for the men's and women's programs at the Colorado School of Mines and has worked as an assistant coach on the USA Swimming program, working with swimmers ages 8-18. In her only season at Colorado School of Mines, Mudd coached the distance and IM group while also serving as the programs' recruiting coordinator where she produced the top Division II incoming recruiting class in the country according to SwimCloud. The Colorado native swam collegiately at Biola University in California where she helped BU to a 2021 conference championship, was a four-time CSCAA Academic All-American and graduated in 2024.

AUSTIN PILLADO PROMOTED TO ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Cougar Swimming's Austin Pillado was promoted to Associate Head Coach this past summer. In his first season at WSU, Pillado helped WSU post a perfect 8-0 record in dual meets, tying the record for single-season wins and the first undefeated season in program history. Three Cougars earned trips to the NCAA Championships, marking just the second in program history with three NCAA selections. Pillado coached freshman Darcy Revitt who qualified for the NCAA Championships while winning a pair of Mountain West Conference titles in the 50 free and 100 free along with helping the 200 medley relay team to a title as well.

HEAD COACH RUSSELL WHITAKER

Russell WHITAKER

Head Coach
2nd Season

Washington State University Athletics tabbed Russell Whitaker to lead the Cougars' Women's Swimming program, Director of Athletics Anne McCoy announced May 23, 2024.

Whitaker worked the previous seven seasons as the Director of Operations and added assistant coach duties prior to the 2023-24 season. Since coming to WSU in 2017, Whitaker has been on staffs who have produced 10 NCAA selections, seven Mountain West titles and one Pac-12 individual champion.

In his first season leading the Cougars, Whitaker saw WSU post a perfect 8-0 record in dual meets, tying the record for single-season wins and the first undefeated season in program history. Three Cougars earned trips to the NCAA Championships, marking just the second in program history with three NCAA selections. Whitaker saw junior Emily Lundgren earn All-America honors in two events while finishing sixth in the 200 breast for the best NCAA finish by a Cougar swimmer in program history. Lundgren was named the Mountain West Conference Swimmer of the Year, ten swimmers and four relays earned all-league honors after WSU claimed five individual titles and two relay championships while four swimmers earned CSC Academic All-District honors led by Lundgren who was also named Academic All-America.

In 2023-24 as an assistant coach, Whitaker helped a pair of Cougar swimmers earn spots in the NCAA Championships, saw Emily Lundgren medal twice at the Pac-12 Championships and later became WSU's first All-American since 2007. Additionally, Lundgren was also named an Academic All-American, four swimmers earned CSC Academic All-District honors and 16 were named to the Pac-12 Winter Academic Honor Roll.

Over the previous six years, Whitaker served as the head club coach for Cougar Aquatics where he produced athletes who have qualified for local championships, Senior & Age Group Zones, Sectionals, Futures, Winter & Summer Junior Nationals, TYR Pro Swim Series, Winter National Qualifiers and U.S. Olympic Trials. Cougar Aquatics has also produced four Scholar All-Americans and one swimmer selected to attend the prestigious 2022 National Select Camp.

For his extensive work at the local and national level, Whitaker was recognized as the Inland Empire Swimming coach of the year in 2022. He also served on the USA Swimming National Select Camp staff for the 2022 women's team as the Assistant Manager and was the Manager for the boy's (13-16) team in 2023 where he worked alongside some of the top swimmers and coaches across the country. Russell is a member of the American Swim Coaches Association where he is currently a Performance Level 4 certified coach – placing him within the top 10% of coaches in the country.

Whitaker graduated from the University of Wyoming in 2017 with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education and earned his Master's in Athletic Administration from Ohio University in 2020.

Whitaker and his wife, Hanna reside in Pullman.
