ERNIE KENT

HEAD COACH
THIRD SEASON
OREGON, 1977

Named the 18th head coach in Washington State men's basketball history, March 31, 2014, veteran coach Ernie Kent enters his fourth season at the helm for the Cougars in 2017-18.

Kent landed on the Palouse looking to make an immediate impact at Washington State. He helped mold a reserve freshman into the Pac-12 Most Improved Player of the Year, as well as an all-conference performer. He improved WSU's conference and overall records, and gave the Cougars their first Pac-12 road win in two years.

In his first season (2014-15), he led WSU to its most overall wins since 2012-13 and most conference wins since 2011-12. The team's 70.6 points per game average marked the highest average since 2010-11 and its 14.6 assists per game marked its most since 1996-97.

Also in his first season, he led senior DaVonté Lacy to All-Pac-12 First Team honors and helped sophomore Josh Hawkinson earn Pac-12 Most Improved Player of the Year after he put together a 13.5 points and 9.2 rebounds per game improvement. Hawkinson was also named All-Pac-12 Honorable Mention as he statistically was the second-most improved scorer in the nation and the most improved rebounder in the nation. Hawkinson led the Pac-12 in rebounding with 10.8 boards per game, ranking 10th in the NCAA, while his 334 total rebounds marked a single-season WSU record, as did his 20 double-doubles, which also ranked fourth in the nation.

The following season (2015-16), Hawkinson earned All-Pac-12 Honorable mention honors for a second-straight year as a junior, as he led the Pac-12 and ranked 11th in the nation with 11.1 rebounds per game. He tied his own WSU record with 20 double-doubles, enough to lead the league and rank 12th in the nation for double-doubles. He also set a WSU record with 11-straight games with a double-double spanning from Dec. 6 until Jan. 14.

In the 2016-17 season, the Cougars matched their 2014-15 mark at 13-18 while tying for ninth in the league at 6-12. Led by Hawkinson in his senior year, the Cougars got their first sweep of Washington since 2010-11 and their first Pac-12 opponent sweep since 2011-12, with two victories over the Huskies and two over Arizona State. At the conclusion of the season, Hawkinson was named All-Pac-12 Second Team, as well as NABC Second Team All-District 20. He was also selected to participate in the Reese's All-Star Game, was a Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Center of the Year Finalist and was a Senior CLASS Award First Team All-American. Hawkinson became WSU's career rebounding and double-double leader with 1,015 rebounds and 56 double-doubles. Hawkinson's 1,015 career rebounds rank him 12th all-time in the Pac-12, while his 583 in conference games only ranks eighth.

Off the court, Kent also led the Cougars to improvement as the team earned the Washington State Seehafer Academic Award in 2014-15, given to the team that shows the strongest positive academic progress in a given term at WSU. The Cougars won the award for just the second time, the first being in 2005. WSU's 2.71 fall semester GPA was the highest since the fall of 2007. In Kent's first two seasons, Junior Longrus and Josh Hawkinson each picked up Pac-12 All-Academic honors twice, as they both were named to the second team in 2014-15 (Longrus a junior and Hawkinson a sophomore) and both to the first team in 2015-16. The first team honors marked the first time a Cougar had been named to the conference all-academic first team since 2010-11 and the first time since 2008-09 that multiple Cougars were named to the first team. Hawkinson was also named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District Team, the first WSU men's basketball student-athlete since Taylor Rochestie in 2008-09. Hawkinson was also named to the first team as a senior in 2016-17, as was the Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Prior to landing in the Palouse, the Cougars' coach spent 13 years as the head coach at his alma mater, Oregon, beginning with the 1997-98 season until the 2009-10 season. Kent spent the last two seasons as a college basketball analyst for Pac-12 Networks after two years as an analyst for Fox Sports Net. He served as both an in-game analyst and was on the studio show, Pac-12 Playbook: Basketball, on the Pac-12 Networks since the show's inception in 2012-13, the first year of the networks.

Kent has also been involved with the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) as he was the president during the 2011-12 season and is currently the associate executive director of the NABC.

Kent has a 325-254 (.561) mark as a head coach, having spent six seasons at the helm for Saint Mary's in Moraga, Calif., and 13 at Oregon.

In his 13 years at Oregon, Kent compiled a 235-174 (.575) record and a 109-125 (.466) conference mark. His 109 conference wins rank 17th most in Pac-12 history (including Pacific-8 and Pacific-10 Conferences). While at Oregon, Kent led the Ducks to seven postseason appearances, including five NCAA Tournament Appearances (2000, 2002, 2003, 2007, 2008) as well as a Pac-10 regular-season (2002) and two conference tournament (2003, 2007) titles.

Kent took two Oregon teams to the NCAA Elite Eight (2002 and 2007) and guided the Ducks to the NIT Final Four on two occasions (1999, 2004). Kent helped produce four NBA First Round Draft selections and became Oregon's all-time wins leader. He was named the 2002 Pac-10 Coach of the Year, while the NABC, USBWA and Basketball Times all recognized him as their district coach of the year, and he was one of 20 Naismith Coach of the Year finalists that season.

Under Kent's direction, the Duck men's basketball team ranked No. 1 amongst Pac-10 schools in the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate several times throughout his head coaching career.

As the head coach at Saint Mary's College in Moraga, Calif., from 1991-92 to 1996-97, Kent put together a 90-80 ledger, including a 23-8 mark in 1996-97 and a berth in the NCAA Tournament. The tournament bid, the first at the school since 1989, was the result of the Gaels' fourth conference title in school history. Kent also guided the Gaels to an 18-10 mark in 1994-95 and still ranks second on the all-time win chart at Saint Mary's.

Kent served as an assistant at Stanford under Mike Montgomery for two years (1990-91), helping the Cardinal advance to the NIT both years and winning the NIT title in 1991.

As an assistant to Boyd Grant at Colorado State (1988-1989), Kent helped aid the Rams in their postseason bids in the 1988 NIT (advancing to the semifinals) and 1989 NCAA Tournament second round after clinching the Western Athletic Conference championship.

From 1980 through 1987, Kent lived in Saudi Arabia where he coached the al-Khaleej Club in Sayhat for three years, helping the team advance to the playoffs each year. He also worked for the Arabian American Oil Company in Dhahran.

Kent began his coaching career at his alma mater in 1977 as the freshman coach under Dick Harter and again assisted in 1979 as an understudy to Jim Haney. In between, he coached Eugene's O'Hara Catholic School for one season.

Kent has served as head coach, assistant coach and committee member for USA Basketball, winning a pair of gold medals in 2001 and 2003. He has coached some of the world's greatest players, including NBA All-Stars and 2008 Olympic gold medalists Carmelo Anthony, Carlos Boozer, Chris Bosh, Andre Iguodala and Deron Williams. A 1977 graduate of Oregon with a degree in community service and public affairs, Kent averaged 7.1 points and 1.8 rebounds during his four-year basketball career with the Ducks (1974-77). He helped lead his team to a No. 8 ranking during his sophomore season. In his time as a student-athlete at UO, Kent was recognized with the Outstanding Service Award for community service and picked up the March of Dimes Outstanding Achievement Award.

A Parade Magazine All-American in 1973 at Rockford, Ill., West High School, he was also named Scholastic All-America by Scholastic Magazine. A National Honor Society member, Kent received the American Legion Outstanding Achievement Award and was named all-state in Illinois and recently inducted into the Rockford Public Schools Athletics Hall of Fame.

"Getting back into coaching for me has meant finding the right program that matches up with my passion, my vision, my beliefs and my commitment; and I feel Washington State University fits all that criteria for me. Bill Moos has a vision and has created enormous energy around Cougar Athletics and I want to be a part of that. Now is the time."

"As a player I saw the energetic environment that George Raveling's teams created, as an assistant I witnessed Kelvin Sampson's squads and saw the magic here and as a head coach I saw the excitement created by Tony Bennett. When WSU is having success, Beasley Coliseum is one of the best environments in the West. The students are so passionate, I saw 5,000 of them out there ready to go during warm-ups, one of the few places I've ever witnessed that. When you've seen that arena full and the program was at its best and now you have the opportunity to lead that program and you understand the potential that exists, that is very special to me."

– Ernie Kent

"Ernie Kent comes to WSU with sterling credentials and the necessary skill set to take the basketball program to higher levels of achievement. He has been a part of the growth of the Pac-12 from eight teams to 10 teams and now to 12 teams, he has lived the history and growth of the conference. Ernie clearly understands what it takes to achieve success in one the most difficult conferences in the country. Congratulations to 'Cougar Nation,' I'm excited about the selection and wish Ernie nothing but success."

– Former Washington State Head Coach George Raveling (1973-83)

BENNIE SELTZER

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST SEASON

WASHINGTON STATE,
1993

A former Cougar standout on the basketball court and 20-year coaching veteran, Bennie Seltzer returned to Pullman and enters his first season as an assistant coach on Ernie Kent's staff in 2017-18.

Seltzer spent the previous two years on Porter Moser's basketball staff at Loyola Chicago as an assistant men's basketball coach. In 2016-17, Seltzer's Ramblers defeated the Cougars in the final game of the Paradise Jam, played at St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands, Nov. 21.

A 6-foot guard, Seltzer starred at WSU from 1990-93, where he is still the school's all-time career assists leader (473). At the point of his graduation, he held the second-best career scoring mark in school history with 1423 points (now ninth), the third-most career steals (now seventh) and the third-most minutes played (now 12th). He capped his WSU career by earning First Team All-Pac 10 honors as a senior, averaging 17.9 points per game, as he helped then-head coach Kelvin Sampson turn around the program. In honor of his standout career, Seltzer was inducted into the Pac-12 Men's Basketball Hall of Honor in 2015.

Seltzer began his coaching career in 1997, serving as an assistant coach for nine seasons under his former coach Sampson at Oklahoma. The Sooners averaged 25 wins per season during his time in Norman and made eight NCAA Tournament trips, including runs to the Sweet 16 (1999), Elite Eight (2003) and Final Four (2002).

In 2006, Seltzer then moved on to Marquette, spending a pair of seasons on Tom Crean's coaching staff. The Golden Eagles made the NCAA Tournament both seasons and Seltzer followed Crean to Indiana, where he was an assistant coach for four years. While in Bloomington, Seltzer was instrumental in recruiting some top-level talent to help the Hoosiers' rebuilding project, bringing in Victor Oladipo and Christian Watford among others as part of a group that would form the foundation of IU's 2012-13 squad that spent 10 weeks ranked No. 1 in the national poll and earned a No. 1 seed for the NCAA Tournament.

In 2012, Seltzer returned to his hometown of Birmingham, Ala. and was named the head coach at Samford University. He unquestionably raised the talent level during his two seasons there, seeing Tim Williams (2013) and Isaiah Williams (2014) earn Southern Conference Freshman of the Year honors, while Williams matured into a First Team All-SoCon pick his sophomore year. After his departure from Samford, Seltzer returned to Bloomington in January 2015 and served as Crean's director of player performance for six months.

In addition to his collegiate experience, Seltzer was one of four court coaches for USA Basketball's national team trials in July 2004, conducting drills, coaching scrimmages and developing players for the group vying for spots on the 2004 USA World Championship for Young Men Qualifying Team. The eventual 12-man team went on to win the gold medal, winning all five of its games.

Seltzer entered the coaching profession after a successful playing career that began at Washington State and took him overseas upon graduation. After leaving Pullman, Seltzer embarked on a four-year professional career that took him to Turkey, Venezuela, Poland and Holland. A native of Birmingham, Ala., Seltzer graduated from A.H. Parker High School in 1989.

He and his wife, DicQues, have two sons; Diamond - who is a Private First Class in the U.S. Marine Corps - and Bennie III.

After two seasons there, McRoy went to Northwood University and spent an entire year recruiting and helping the program to get ready for its first season of competition before moving on the Georgia Southern. He was also profiled in the Chronicle of Higher Education in 2013. In addition at UTPA, McRoy was voted as the No. 2 recruiting coach in the Western Athletic Conference by Next Up Recruits.

FRIEL COURT

AT BEASLEY COLISEUM

The Washington State men's basketball team enters its 45th-consecutive season playing at Friel Court inside Beasley Coliseum. WSU won its 200th game all-time at the venerable facility Dec. 2, 1998 when the Cougars defeated Portland State 74-71 and its 250th game Nov. 17, 2007 with a 67-44 victory over Texas-San Antonio. WSU's most recent milestone came with its 300th win at Friel Court, Feb. 19, 2012, a 72-50 victory over Arizona State.

The Cougars first moved to Friel Court Dec. 1, 1973, and christened their new home with an 80-78 victory over LSU in front of 9,000 fans.

WSU has earned a postseason berth 11 times while calling Friel Court home. The 1979-80 season marked the first of those eight occasions as the Cougars advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 1940-41 team finished as the national runner-up.

During the 2010-11 season, the Cougars hosted, and won, three NIT games at Beasley Coliseum, advancing to the NIT Semifinals in New York for the first time in school history, while winning a school-most three postseason games.

The following season, 2011-12, the Cougars posted an 11-3 record on their home floor, including wins in their first eight games at Beasley of the season. WSU hosted two College Basketball Invitational (CBI) games that season, winning both.

Friel Court has been the site of NCAA first and second round games (1975, 1982 and 1985). In fact, Friel Court was the first stop on UCLA's 1975 NCAA title run, the 10th and final championship for head coach John Wooden. The Bruins needed overtime to defeat Michigan 103-91.

The arena, which currently seats 11,671 for basketball, was formally dedicated in honor of longtime Washington State Head Coach Jack Friel, who directed the Cougars to the 1941 NCAA title game. In the spring of 1981, the coliseum was named in honor of past Washington State Vice President Wallis Beasley. Prior to the 2007-08 season, the court got a new look after being newly refurbished and painted. Prior to the 2011-12 season, the center-hung scoreboard was added to the coliseum, enhancing the fan experience at basketball games. Also at that time, the floor was refurbished again as part of WSU's rebranding initiative. The Cougars gave Friel Court a fresh look again last season, when they installed a new floor, complete with crimson free throw lanes.
