OLERUD

Listed below are the 25 former baseball players/coaches who have been inducted into the Washington State Athletics Hall of Fame.

RICK AUSTIN (2012)
Rick Gerald Austin was born Oct. 27, 1946 in Seattle. He attended Lakes High School in Tacoma, Wash., where he competed in baseball, football and track. In 1968, he led the nation with 12 wins and tied a then-Washington State single-season record. His 1.10 ERA in 1968 is third all-time at WSU and his 1.33 mark in 1967 ranks fifth. He was a Pac-8 All-Star, a NCAA District First Team selection and a Second Team All-American in 1968. He was a first round pick of the Cleveland Indians in the June Secondary Phase of the MLB Draft in 1968. Austin spent part of four seasons in MLB, two with the Indians and two with the Milwaukee Brewers. He appeared in 89 games, including eight starts, winning four and saving six.

BUCK BAILEY (1978)
A WSU sports institution for 35 years, Buck came to the university as assistant football coach and became a legend as its colorful - and winning - head baseball coach. Played football and baseball at Texas A & M and Bethany College in West Virginia and was Captain of West team in the first East-West Shrine game in 1925. At WSU, Bailey's baseball teams won 11 Northern Division pennants and were second 10 times. The 1950 team was runnerup for the NCAA title and Bailey's Cougars were seventh nationally in 1956. Athlete-Coach of "Bailey's Angels," barnstorming basketball team made up of WSU sports greats which toured the Northwest and entertained thousands. Died in 1964.

CHUCK "BOBO" BRAYTON (1982)
Chuck "Bobo" Brayton, one of the winningest collegiate baseball coaches in NCAA history, and one of the most innovative and imaginative leaders in the college game. A three-sport letterman at WSU and an All-American at shortstop for the Cougars in 1947, Brayton played on two Championship baseball teams at WSU and, beginning in 1965, coached the Cougars to an unprecedented 13 straight Northern Division pennants…retired after the 1994 season the winningest coach in WSU history and the fourth winningest NCAA Div. I baseball coach at the time of retirement…final record 1,162-523-8 (68.9%)…WSU baseball field, Bailey-Brayton Stadium, named after Brayton and his mentor Buck Bailey…baseball uniform number retired May, 2003.

GORDON BRUNSWICK (2012)
A three-sport athlete at Washington State, Gordon Brunswick earned a total of six letters with the Cougars, one in basketball under head coach Jack Friel (1949-50), two in football for coach Phil Sarboe (1947-48), and three in the sport he's most known for, baseball, under coach Buck Bailey (1948-50). A native of Tacoma, Wash., Brunswick was an all-conference first baseman in 1948 and an all-conference outfielder in 1950. In his three seasons he hit .329 in 41 conference games, having his best season as a sophomore when he hit .462 in 11 league games. As a senior in 1950 the Cougars finished first in the PCC Northern Division with a 12-2 league mark and swept Stanford to advance to the first College World Series held at Omaha, Neb. The Cougars fell to Texas in the championship game, finishing as national runner-up with a 32-6 overall mark. Following the 1950 season Brunswick turned pro, spending five seasons in the minor leagues, including a short stint with AAA Seattle. In his final season, 1954, he signed with the New York Yankees and played for Modesto, San Francisco and the Tri-Cities.

RON CEY (1982)
Ron Cey, the famous "Penguin" of the Los Angeles Dodgers, began his climb to the Major Leagues as a third baseman for Washington State in 1967-68. Cey has played more games at third base for the Dodgers than any other Athlete in the club's history and has set Major League records for runs batted in and home runs. He also tied a National League record for fewest errors by a third baseman and was named to the NL All-Star team six times in his first eight years with the Dodgers.

MARV CHAMBERLAIN (2016)
Marv Chamberlain grew up dreaming of playing baseball at Washington State and fulfilled his dream, producing a record-setting career for the Cougars. The Longview, Wash. native remembers following WSU's 1965 College World Series run where they finished third, but Chamberlain, a high school catcher at the time, made up his mind he was going to play for head coach Bobo Brayton and the Cougs. As a sophomore in 1972, Chamberlain led the Pac-8 Conference in hitting at a .415 clip followed with a junior campaign that saw him hit .345 in conference play and finish the year with a team-best 45 RBI. He capped his career in record-setting fashion, setting or tying 10 school records as a senior in 1974 while leading Washington State to a share of the Pac-8 Northern Division title. The utility man turned first baseman earned ABCA First-Team All-America, All-District and First-Team All-Pac-8 Conference honors after hitting .383 with 16 home runs along with school records for RBI (73) and total bases (127). He also became the first Cougar in program history to reach double-digits in both home runs and stolen bases (15) in the same season. Chamberlain left Washington State the all-time leader in games played (159), at-bats (494), hits (166), runs-batted-in (156), grand slams (3) and tied the record in doubles with 27. He was later selected in the eighth round of the 1974 Major League Baseball Draft by the Montreal Expos before receiving his bachelor's degree in pharmacy.

CLIFF CHAMBERS (1984)
The highlight of an outstanding professional baseball career for Cliff Chambers was a 3-0 no-hit May 9, 1951, as Pittsburgh beat Boston in the second game of a double-header. His pro career included stops in Chicago, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, compiling a 48-53 record, 4.29 ERA in six seasons. His best seasons were 13-7 with Pittsburgh in '49, and a combined 14-12 in 1951 with Pittsburgh and St. Louis (11-6 that year after being traded to St. Louis). He posted an 11-5 career mark at WSU in 1941-42, completing 12 of 18 starts, including nine of 10 in 1942. He posted three shutouts. At the plate, Chambers hit .354 overall and .444 in league play in 1944. He also spent two outstanding years in the minor leagues, including a 28-8 record for Los Angeles in 1947 when he won the strikeout title and was a two-time Pacific Coast League All-Star pick.

GENE CONLEY (1979)
Gene Conley is one of a few persons in sports history to play on two world championship teams - in different sports. Conley spent two years on the Washington State University campus and played on championship basketball and baseball teams. He later played on the Boston Celtics' world championship teams of 1959, 1960 and 1961, and was a pitcher on the Milwaukee Braves team that won the World Series in 1957. At WSU, Conley played center on Coach Jack Friel's championship basketball team of 1950, and he pitched for Coach Buck Bailey's 1950 Cougar team that won the Northern Division and District Eight and finished second in the College World Series.

PETE DUNCAN (2012)
Born Sept. 7, 1948 in Victoria, British Columbia, Peter James Duncan became the first Canadian named to the NCAA All-American team when he was selected as a third baseman in 1970. That season, he led the Pac-8 with a .423 batting average in conference games and a .379 mark overall while tying a then-WSU record for hits with 58. Duncan was named Pac-8 and NCAA District 8 First Team in 1970. The Cougars won the Pac-8 in 1970, and Duncan was honored as the team's Most Inspirational Player. He made seven relief appearances in his Cougar career and, after spending one season at third base in the Kansas City Royals' organization, he was converted to a full-time pitcher. He spent four seasons in the minor leagues as a hurler where he was 28-18 with a 2.54 ERA in 407 innings.

WILLIAM FALLER (2012)
William "Butch" Don Faller was born April 14, 1925 in Mount Vernon, Wash. He played second base for Washington State in 1947 and batted .262 in 13 conference games. In 1948, he moved to shortstop, appeared in 11 conference games and batted .211 (other Cougar statistics are unavailable). Faller played two years (1948-49) in the Philadelphia Phillies' organization where he batted .288 and .287, respectively for Klamath Falls (Ore.). He spent several years teaching and coaching high school in Washington. He was hired in 1961 as the Yakima Valley College (now Yakima Valley Community College) as the head football and baseball coach. In baseball, he replaced Bobo Brayton. His baseball teams won 664 games, 11 conference titles and 18 league and regional championships. The NWAACC championship trophy is named in his honor.

DALE FORD (1983)
Known as "The Whale", Ford is one of WSU's greatest all-around athletes, but baseball was where he excelled. He played in the early and mid-1960's, graduating in 1966. Ford won eight varsity letters in three sports during an era when freshmen couldn't play varsity sports. Dale was a quarterback for two years, won three basketball letters, and was an NCAA record-setting home run hitter in baseball for three years. In 1966 he set an NCAA mark with 17 home runs and at one time held WSU records for home runs in a season, career batting average (.365) and season slugging percentage (.857). He played with the Cub and Angel organizations before knee injuries ended his career. Ford is now a business executive in the Seattle area.

DAN FRISELLA (2012)
Born March 4, 1946 in San Francisco, Daniel Vincent Frisella was a 1963 graduate of Serra High School in San Mateo, Calif. After attending the College of San Mateo, Frisella transferred to Washington State where he was a key member of the Cougar pitching staff in 1965 and 1966. His 0.743 WHIP in 1965 is second-best in school history and his 108 strikeouts in 1966 are a Washington State record for the wood bat era. Frisella recorded five shutouts in his Cougar career, one shy of the Washington State record. He was part of the 1965 team that won the Pac-8 Northern Division and NCAA District 8 titles on its way to the College World Series. He was 17-1 in his Cougar career and helped Washington State win the 1966 Pac-8 Northern Division crown. A third round selection by the New York Mets in the June Secondary Phase of the 1966 MLB Draft, Frisella was with the Mets by 1967. He played for the Mets from 1967-72, then spent the next four seasons pitching for four-different big league clubs. He made 351 appearances in MLB, won 34 games and registered 57 saves.

SCOTT HATTEBERG (2015)
Scott Hatteberg spent three seasons (1989-91) in a Cougar uniform before embarking on an 18-year professional career. An All-State baseball player out of Yakima, Wash., it didn't take long for Hatteberg to make an impact for the Cougars. As a sophomore in 1990 he led the team in hitting (.381), along with hits (88), total bases (145), slugging (.628) and tied a conference record with 29 doubles. He earned first-team All-Pac-10 North honors and was the Region VII Selection Hitter award recipient as Washington State's everyday catcher, where he formed the battery with another WSU Hall of Famer, Aaron Sele. The summer before his junior season he was selected for Team USA and toured Europe with a Pac-10 All-Star team, where he hit a team-best .467. His junior season he hit .365 with 21 doubles, tied for fifth on WSU's single-season list and captured Pac-10 North MVP honors, first-team All-Pac-10 accolades for the second-straight season, and was named to the ABCA All-District second team. He was selected No. 43 overall by the Boston Red Sox in the 1992 MLB Draft. He spent 14 seasons in the major leagues, seven with Boston, four with Oakland and three with Cincinnati, retiring in 2008 with career totals of 1,153 hits, 249 runs, 249 doubles, 106 home runs and 527 RBI. He was one of the featured players in the hit movie, Moneyball.

MARK HENDRICKSON (2016)
One of Washington State's most versatile athletes coming out of Mount Vernon, Wash., Mark Hendrickson played both basketball and baseball for the Cougars in his four-year athletics career (1992-96). On the basketball court, the 6-foot-9 forward made an immediate impact as a freshman during the 1992-93 season, averaging 12.6 points and 8.0 rebounds as he was named to the five-member Pac-10 All-Freshmen Team. Despite his strong start, Hendrickson saved his best for last, as he was a Pac-10 All-Conference First Team pick his junior and senior years. He finished his career as the Pac-10 active leader in double-doubles with 43 in 108 games and became the first Cougar to lead his team in rebounding all four seasons. Hendrickson concluded his basketball career in 1996, holding the school record in career field goal percentage (.567), while ranking second for career rebounds (927) and third for points (1,496). Hendrickson made eight appearances on the mound for the Cougar baseball team during his junior year (1995). Following graduation Hendrickson was the 31st overall pick in the 1996 Draft by the Philadelphia 76ers. After four years in the NBA with four different teams (Philadelphia, Sacramento, New Jersey and Cleveland), he moved on to baseball, where he had been a four-time MLB Draft pick. He spent 10 years in the major leagues, playing with Toronto, Tampa Bay, Los Angeles (Dodgers), Florida and Baltimore, collecting 58 wins and 666 strikeouts before retiring in 2015. Hendrickson is one of 12 athletes all-time to play both in the NBA and MLB, and the only one to play at least four seasons in each league.

MIKE KINKADE (2017)
One of the finest baseball players ever to pass through Washington State, Mike Kinkade left an indelible mark on the history of Cougar baseball during his time. Recruited by and playing his first three seasons under the legendary Bobo Brayton, Kinkade set WSU records for career hits (304), runs (230) and doubles (75) during his career. Starting 224 of 228 games, he also finished second on WSU's all-time lists for games played (228), RBI (197) and at-bats (844), third in triples (12) and walks (125), fifth in batting average (.360) and eighth in home runs (25). For the three-time team captain, his junior season was arguably his finest as he earned All-America second-team honors by National Collegiate Baseball Writers and third-team honors by both Collegiate Baseball and Baseball America after hitting a career-best .388, with 90 hits, a school and Pac-10 North-record 31 doubles, nine home runs and 61 RBI. He was a three-time All-Pac-10 Northern Division First-Team selection, twice as a DH (1993, 1994) and as a catcher (1995), before being drafted in the ninth round of the 1995 MLB June Amateur Draft. Kinkade played six major league seasons, parts of three with the New York Mets, two with the Los Angeles Dodgers and two with the Baltimore Orioles, finishing with a career batting average of .256 with 100 hits, 20 doubles and 10 home runs. He also earned a Gold Medal as a member of the U.S. Olympic Team at the 2000 Sydney Games. Kinkade owns and manages a fitness business in Pullman.

ROBERT McGUIRE (2012)
Robert Charles McGuire was born Dec. 2, 1927. He attended Lincoln High School in Tacoma, Wash. McGuire was a three-time all-conference selection as an outfielder. He was selected to the 1950 NCAA All-District team while leading Washington State to a national runner-up finish. While overall statistics are not available for McGuire's time at Washington State, he batted .304, .377 and .364 for a career average of .353 in conference play. McGuire played four seasons in Minor League Baseball where he batted .265. He also played halfback for the Cougar football team (1947-49) and was inducted into the Tacoma-Pierce Sports Hall of Fame in 1971.

JOE McINTOSH (1987)
Few pitchers ever achieve the success Joe McIntosh enjoyed during a brilliant Cougar career, either on the field, or in the classroom. The Billings, Montana native came out of Billings High in 1969 known as an infielder, but Cougar coach Bobo Brayton saw the makings of a great pitcher his first year on campus and quickly sent him to the mound. In the next three years McIntosh established nine career records and six Pacific-8 Conference marks, plus a host of other records. In addition, the pre-med major was picked to the CoSIDA Academic All-America first team three straight years. He received his Master of Law (L.L.M.) degree in tax from New York University in 1981 and is now a lawyer in Seattle. The 6-2 right hander won all 10 games as a sophomore in 1971, winning the first of three straight Buck Bailey Awards as WSU's top pitcher. He posted a 10-5 mark in 1972, then finished off his career with a 13-3 mark in 1973. He tossed back to back no-hitters that season six days apart, beating Whitworth 8-0 and then Puget Sound 6-0. McIntosh was a member of the USA team that competed in the World Amateur Tournament in the fall of 1972, striking out 21 in 21.1 innings. He shut out Germany, Brazil and El Salvador for a 3-0 mark. Drafted in the 13th round by San Diego, McIntosh's pro career was cut short by an arm injury after being traded to Houston in 1975.

ART McLARNEY (1982)
Art McLarney starred in basketball and baseball for the Cougars in the 1930-32 era, was WSU's first All-American in baseball (1932) and signed a professional baseball contract with the New York Giants after his senior season at WSU. Three-year Northern Division selection and All-Pacific Coast choice in 1930 in basketball. McLarney was a student leader as well as an outstanding athlete and served as Student Body President in 1932. Later was a successful high school and collegiate basketball and baseball coach.

JAY MILLER (2015)
Jay Miller was a four-year letterwinner for the Cougar baseball team from 2002-06, ending his career as Washington State's all-time hits leader. Miller, from Bellevue, Wash., made an immediate impact, leading WSU in batting average (.341), hits (72) and doubles (21) en route to All-Pacific-10 Conference honorable mention honors. Miller continued his assault on the Cougar record book, leading the team in batting average and hits three of his four seasons. He saved his best for last, earning third-team All-America and third-team Pac-10 honors as a senior. That season he batted .361, sixth in the Pac-10, and led the conference in hits (88) and doubles (28), the latter total second in the NCAA. He finished his career as WSU's career hits leader with 307. That total placed him ninth all-time in the Pac-10, while his 74 career doubles were second all-time at WSU and the fifth-most in Pac-10 history. Miller was also tied for third all-time in games played (227), fifth in walks (107), sixth in runs scored (161) and tied for ninth in RBIs (147). Taken in the 17th round by the Philadelphia Phillies, Miller played three seasons in the organization, totaling 197 hits and 29 doubles.

WILLIAM "BILL" NOLLAN (1982)
William "Bill" Nollan won fame in Northwest athletics as both Athlete and coach. Lettered in basketball, baseball and tennis at WSU and pitched on two Championship baseball teams for the Cougars. Coached at Pasco, Hoquiam and Lincoln (Seattle) High Schools. Nollan's teams at Lincoln, his alma mater, won 22 city titles in football, basketball, track and baseball in 27 years. He was "Mr. Cougar" in Seattle and western Washington for many years.

JOHN G. OLERUD (2001)
The only Cougar baseball Athlete ever to be named College Athlete of the Year. The outstanding first baseman and pitcher spent three seasons with the Cougars before turning professional with the Toronto Blue Jays, then the New York Mets and now a star for the Seattle Mariners. Olerud is the only pitcher in NCAA history to win 15 games - he was 15-0 in 1988, and also hit 20 or more home runs - he hit 23 that year. John Olerud still holds numerous WSU records, including career batting average at .434 and single season batting average at .464. Olerud was 26-4 and posted a 3.17 ERA while throwing 241.1 innings over three seasons. His sophomore season was truly magical - he set or equaled 12 school records while being named Athlete of the year by Baseball America. Included was a 22-game hitting streak and a slugging percentage of .876. During his career he set two Pac-10 records and 10 Pac-10 North marks. In January prior to his junior year at WSU, Olerud suffered a subarachnoid hemorrhage, a type of brain seizure. He missed the first 28 games of the spring season, but returned to hit .359 for WSU over the final 27 games. Weeks prior to the start of his senior season, Olerud signed a contract with Toronto and went directly to the Major Leagues. In 1993, Olerud became the first Blue Jay to win a batting title, hitting .363. That year he became just the ninth MLB Athlete since 1900 to collect 200 hits and walk 100 times. Olerud played for the New York Mets two seasons, 1997-98, then signed with Seattle. John joined his father John Sr. in the WSU Athletic Hall of Fame.

JOHN OLERUD (1986)
Paced WSU to third in the 1965 College World Series while returning first-team All-America status as a catcher...led WSU in hitting that year with a .341 average...he won the Coaches Cup (MVP) in 1964 and 1965 and the "Top Hitter" award in 1965...he tied a school career record with 12 home runs and completed his career ranked in the top ten in times at bat, triples, home runs and runs-batted-in...earned Phi Beta Kappa honors in Zoology and pre-med...spent seven years in the California Angels organization following 1965 draft...Washington medical school graduate...currently associate professor of medicine (dermatology) and orthopedics (sports medicine) at University of Washington hospital...born 11-26-43 at Fargo, North Dakota...attended Federal Way (Wash.) High.

TED ROHWER (1989)
Ted Rohwer ranks as one of Washington State's greatest all-around athletes, excelling in football, basketball and baseball. A graduate of Spokane's North Central High, he played for three of the greatest coaches in Cougar history, Babe Hollingbery's first three gridiron teams, Jack Friel's first basketball team in 1929, and as a shortstop and first baseman on Buck Bailey's first three baseball teams. During his football career, the Cougars went 17-7-2, including a 6-1 season in 1926 and a 7-3 finish in 1928. The former sophomore class president at WSU started his basketball career in 1927 for Karl Schlademan. Rohwer was among the top scorers for the Cougars each of three seasons. On the diamond, Rohwer started his career playing for Hack Applequist. A year later, in 1927, Bailey took over the program. During his four varsity seasons as one of WSU's top home run hitters, the Cougars were 60-27. He later turned down pro offers from the Buffalo Bisons (football) and the St. Louis Cardinals (baseball). After coaching stints at Longview High and Portland's Grant and Lincoln Highs and working in private business, Rohwer entered Pacific University's optometry school, graduating in 1955. He then practiced optometry in Seattle (1955-65) and Spokane until his retirement in 1976. He died at age 71 in 1978.

AARON SELE (2013)
Aaron Sele put together one of the most distinguished careers in Cougar baseball history during his three years (1989-91) on the Palouse. In 1990 he received numerous national honors, including All-America honors from the American Baseball Coaches Association (first team) and Baseball America (third team) after posting a 12-3 record, 2.22 ERA with 121 strikeouts in 121 2/3 innings pitched. The following summer he was a member of Team USA, where he led the team in starts, innings pitched and strikeouts, going 5-2. That included a three-hit shutout win over Cuba, the first time Cuba had been shut out in international competition. A two-time all-conference and all-district selection in his career, Sele left school as the career record holder for strikeouts and owned the top-two marks on the WSU single-season list. His name appeared on a Cougar top 10 list for single season or career in more than a dozen places when the Boston Red Sox made him a first round pick, No. 23 overall, in the 1991 MLB Draft. Sele recorded 148 wins over 15 big league seasons, playing for six teams.

RICHARD STILES (2015)
Richard Stiles' impact on Cougar baseball is the stuff movies are made of. Arriving from Yakima, Stiles played for legendary coach Buck Bailey from 1947-49, leading Washington State College to within one game of the College World Series in 1949. That season Stiles posted a 12-1 record, including 10 complete games, as the Cougars won a school-record 33 games. He was named to the AABC All-District 8 and All-Northern Division first teams. Over his final two seasons he set a conference record by winning nine consecutive conference games and finished his career with a 17-2 record. The only person from Washington or Oregon in 1949 accepted to the Northwestern Medical School in Chicago, he deferred his final season at WSC. After one season playing for the St. Louis Browns farm system in 1950, where he had an 11-5 record, Stiles obtained his medical degree and became a family doctor, returning to his hometown to enjoy a lengthy practice. During that time, a young coach at Yakima Valley College, Bobo Brayton, was struck on the head while pitching batting practice. Stiles was one of the physicians who operated on Bobo, saving the Cougar icon's life. Just like in the movies, Stiles found his field of dreams in both Pullman and Yakima.

BOB WAITS (2015)
Bob Waits was a two-sport athlete for the Cougars from 1969-71, playing both baseball and basketball and produced one of the most decorated baseball careers in Washington State history. Waits, known for a letter he wrote to Bobo Brayton in high school stating how he would play two sports in college and steal 50 bases, lettered three times in both baseball and basketball during his record-setting career. Waits played his first two seasons in the outfield before moving to second base for his final season, where he enjoyed a breakout season as a senior, earning first-team All-America honors after setting an NCAA record with 59 stolen bases while also posting a .358 batting average. He finished his career with a .304 batting average and a school-record 94 stolen bases. On the basketball court Waits played for coach Marv Harshman. Following his graduation, Waits coached baseball at Olympia High School before he returned to WSU to coach the Cougar JV team and earn his master's degree in 1975. He later served as an assistant coach under legendary head coach Bobo Brayton in 1977 before entering private business. After a successful stint as a high school baseball coach in the Tri-Cities area, Waits passed away at the age of 35 after a battle with cancer.

1976 TEAM (2026)
The 1976 Washington State Baseball team put together one of the greatest closing stretches in program history to earn its fourth College World Series appearance, 11 seasons after its previous appearance in 1965. Under the direction of legendary Hall of Fame coach Bobo Brayton, the Cougars won 13 of its final 14 regular-season games, including it's final 10 games which featured three-game sweeps over Oregon State, Oregon and Washington. The victories helped the WSU to its seventh-straight Pacific-8 North title with a 16-2 conference record and a berth in the NCAA West Regional, which was hosted in Pullman. Behind four home runs, the Cougars opened the regional with an 8-2 win over Pepperdine, before taking two of three against Cal State Fullerton, both wins coming from tournament MVP Bob Sherwood, to advance the College World Series in Omaha, Neb. Once there, WSU scored early and often, cruising to a 6-1 win over Oklahoma in the opening round. Losses to Arizona State (9-3) and Maine (6-3) ended the Cougars' run in Omaha as they finished the season with a 43-15 record, at the time the most wins in school history. The season had a number of highlights as the Cougars posted 12 come-from-behind victories, pitchers Bob Sherwood and Eric Wilkins each threw no hitters that season, Greg Herrick led the way at the plate hitting a team-best .363, while the Cougars had six players earn All-Pac-8 North first team honors and four players eventually selected in the MLB Draft in Sherwood, Wilkins, Phil Westendorf and Tracy Harris. The Cougars finished the season ranked No. 6 in the nation according to Collegiate Baseball.

1950

The Cougars roared to a 14-2 start and cruised to a 27-4 mark in the regular season, including a 12-2 record and first-place finish in the Pacific Coast Conference Northern Division. WSC swept a pair of games in Pullman against Stanford to capture the PCC crown and traveled to Omaha, Neb., for the first College World Series at the site. After defeating Tufts in the opener, future Major League pitcher Gene Conley and Rod Keough pitched back-to-back complete game victories over Alabama and Rutgers, respectively. WSC was routed by Texas and the Longhorns defeated Rutgers to set up a winner-take-all game with the Cougars. Despite three hits by shortstop Eddie Coleman, the Cougars were blanked 3-0 and finished national runner-up with a 32-6 record.

1956

After a 6-3 start, Washington State ripped off 15-straight wins and went on to post a 26-6 regular season record. Included in the winning streak were five wins by Jerry Bartow, including four of his school single-season record 10 complete games. The Cougars won the Pacific Coast Conference Northern Division with an 11-3 mark and hosted USC with the PCC title and NCAA District 8 spot in the College World Series on the line. Bartow bested the Trojans on a six-hitter in the opener and Bill Rich, who batted .422 in 90 at bats during the season, drove in all five runs in game two and the Cougars swept the series. In Omaha, Neb., Bradley defeated WSC 4-3 in the opener and New Hampshire handed Ron Aiken his only loss of the season to eliminate the Cougars.

1965

Washington State won 16 of its first 17 outings, including 12-straight to open the season, and rolled to a 29-6 regular season record. The Cougars won the Pacific Coast Northern Division at 14-4 and hosted Stanford in the NCAA District 8 Playoff. In the opener against the Indians, Harold Brunstad plated two runs with a double in the eighth to lift WSU to a 2-1 victory and the Cougars routed Stanford 13-3 in game two to give head coach Bobo Brayton his first trip to the College World Series. In Omaha, Neb., WSU split its first two games, defeating Texas and losing to Ohio State. The Cougars edged Connecticut by a run to set up a rematch with the Buckeyes that turned out to be a classic. Steve Arlin struck out 20 Cougars and Ohio State pushed across an unearned run in the 15th inning for a 1-0 win that ended WSU's season. The Cougars finished fourth in the nation according to Collegiate Baseball.

1976

The Cougars won their final 10 regular season games to finish 39-12 and win the Pacific-8 Conference with a 16-2 record. Washington State hosted the NCAA West Regional where the Cougars blasted four home runs, including three off future big-league hurler Mike Scott, to defeat Pepperdine in the opener. WSU took two of three games from Cal State Fullerton behind a pair of wins from tournament MVP Bob Sherwood and advanced to the College World Series in Omaha, Neb. At the CWS, Washington State scored in five of the first six innings and defeated Oklahoma in the first round before losing to Arizona State and Maine to end the season 43-15. Future big-league pitcher Eric Wilkins led the Cougars with 10 victories and WSU averaged over seven runs a game on offense.

* = Perfect Game

NOTE: Jack Friel (1921) went on to be WSU's most successful basketball coach ever (1929-1958, 495-377/.568) and also coached the baseball team during the war years, 1943-45 (29-24 record).
- Albert Hartman's (1916) no-hitter was one error from a perfect game…no ball's were hit out of the infield…he also hit a home run in the game.
