

John Randolph Lambart Cavan Cunningham, our Randy, was born November 20, 1953, in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. On Sunday, October 16, 2022, Randy passed away peacefully in his sleep. The day before, he had been joyfully working in his yard, out running errands, and ended the night with his wife, grandson, and the Dodgers baseball game. We later found out the Dodgers lost and we now joke that may have been what got Randy.

Randy's childhood was not easy and had many challenges. He was sent to multiple foster homes until he was placed with the Wolsey family. With the Wolsey's he found a family with nine brothers and sisters, stability, and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Randy served a mission in Mexico City, Mexico, where he learned to speak Spanish and grew to love the Latin people.

Randy worked hard his entire life. He enjoyed working in the oil fields, doing chores in his yard, and being a helping hand with the neighbors. Randy was the first one to show up and found so much joy in being there to serve others. If he could get dirty while serving, he counted it as an added bonus. It was important to him to pass his work ethic down to his kids and truly taught this characteristic by example.

Randy loved to play and watch sports especially his kids and grand-kids. If the Dodgers, Red Wings, Lakers, or Packers were playing we all knew he'd be at home watching it giving the refs and players his professional advice. He loved serving in various callings for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Randy brought humor and laughter into the church on a regular basis and everyone loved him. Randy truly loved his family, his neighbors, and even the random stranger who was helping him at the butcher shop or someone passing by at Costco. It was not uncommon for Randy to greet someone with a hug and a kiss, whether the person receiving that hug and kiss were comfortable with it or not.
