

"I'll Be There"

*When I am gone from the world we know
And the seasons come and pass
And the years roll down to wherever they go
And memories stir in the wind-ruffled grass
Of deserts wide 'neath the cedar trees
Under the red-rock rim,
And clouds float by in the bluest sky-
Blue and white designs through the pinion pines.
And the lattices of cedar limbs.
If you stand on the slope of a sage-covered hill
With the sun and the wind in your hair
And look out and down at the scrub-oak brush.
You know that I'll be there.
For I am part of them and they are a part of me
In the patterns of life's design.
They have colored the threads in my pattern of life
In the tapestry of time.
The deserts, the mountains, the hills and the sea
And the long road through the years
Wherever you go on the roads we know
They are all a part of me.
If you pause to enjoy the sunset's glow
As it softens a day of care,
As the colors fade in the evening shade
You know that I'll be there.*
