

In Loving Memory of
WILLIAM E. CARR

BILL AND MARILYN CARR

——
*“The lives we remember are measured not merely in years, but in the love shared,
the lessons taught, and the memories created.”*

February 1, 1935 ~ September 27, 2026

A FATHER'S LEGACY

A father does not tell you that he loves you every day.
 He shows you.
 In the work of his hands.
 In the sacrifices he makes.
 In the lessons he teaches.
 In the encouragement he gives.
 In the example he lives.
 A father's strength becomes his children's foundation.
 His wisdom becomes their guide.
 His values become their inheritance.
 Though we no longer see him, the gifts he gave remain.
 His laughter echoes in our memories.
 His lessons live in our decisions.
 His love is woven into the fabric of our family.
 And so we give thanks for his life,
 for the ways he shaped us,
 for the love he shared,
 and for the legacy that continues through all who knew him.
