Beef Rules

The South Dakota Junior Point Show Association (SDJPSA) will be giving an award to juniors who accumulate the greatest number of points in a given year in each breed. The SDJPSA calendar will run from October 1, 2019 to Sept. 1, 2020. Points start at zero each year beginning at Oct. 1.

Breeds will need to have a representation of 5 exhibitors entered per breed per sex for the year to maintain breed representation and to receive year end awards. Example: There needs to be 5 Angus Heifer participants to receive an award. An animal must be shown twice to receive year end awards within your breed.

Points shall be earned on the following basis for every specie:

In class	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th
1	5
2-3	10	5	3
4-5	15	10	5	3	1
6-10	20	15	10	5	3	1	1	1
11-15	25	20	15	10	5	3	1	1
16-20	30	25	20	15	10	5	3	1
21+	35	30	25	20	15	10	5	3

* Any placing not shown above will receive one point.

Anytime an exhibitor is named champion or reserve champion of any breed, he or she will receive the same number of points as the highest point-getting class winner of that breed rather than the number of points for his or her original class. In addition, the breed champion will receive 5 bonus points and the reserve champion will receive 3 bonus points.

When a show selects a top 2 through 5 Overall Breeds, bonus points will be given to those exhibitors. Champion = 10; Res. Champion = 5; 3rd Overall = 3; 4th Overall =2; 5th Overall =1. All points recorded in a class are based on actual number of junior class cattle that enter the showing regardless if they are point show members or not. The points you receive will be based on your actual placing in the junior show.

If one person exhibits more than one head in a breed, only the best placing will be recorded per breed.

Sanctioned shows are encouraged to offer breed & age classes for heifers, regardless of the number entered.

We will conform to specific breed rules; if you are still eligible to show within a breed as a junior member we will allow you to participate in SDJPS in that breed division/s only. Youth are expected to follow the rules of the breed they are exhibiting.

Year-end points are calculated for heifers and market beef by totaling points earned by an exhibitor. Winners in each breed for heifers and steers will be recognized. Overall Heifer and Overall Market Beef points are calculated by adding all points earned throughout the year.
