

Lorna Kelly

Auctioneer

Born and raised in England, Lorna Kelly moved to America and became the first female fine arts auctioneer in America at Sotheby's. At a turning point in her life, Ms. Kelly was inspired to travel to India to meet Mother Teresa and to work with her sisters, the Missionaries of Charity — tending to the poorest of the poor in Calcutta. Lorna currently primarily works as a charity auctioneer - using her Sotheby's auction experience, special talents, and unique voice to raise funds and awareness for many causes. A first-rate charity auctioneer, Lorna understands how to generate excitement with an expert's professional touch and a flair for fun—adding just the right amount of sophistication and compassion. One organization which holds special meaning for Lorna is Broadway Cares, Equity Fights AIDS. As a benefit auctioneer, she has helped that organization raise more than $5 million through its benefit auctions.

She looks forward to helping you turn your charity auction or benefit gala into a financial, philanthropic and entertainment success.

Motivational Speaker

Lorna Kelly has been speaking on leadership, personal growth and spiritual topics for more than 25 years. Her practice of self-examination, growth and service to others make a profound and lasting impression. Much of her inspiration for these talks comes from her long association with Mother Teresa and the Missionaries of Charity worldwide, 35 years of meditation practice and her own battle with cancer. These experiences are especially poignant when contrasted with Lorna's work as an Auctioneer and Department Head at Sotheby's in New York.

Your professionalism, your wit and your grace under pressure were wonderful to watch. And the results matched your efforts. We raised more money at this auction than ever before.

*Philip McGee
St. Anthony High School, NJ*

Author

The Camel Knows the Way, Lorna Kelly's first book, published in 1998, is now in its Fifth Edition, and is the culmination of more than 30 years in pursuit of the spiritual path with all its struggles and delights.

The follow up book, In the Footsteps of the Camel, summarizes the events within the 12 fascinating years since Camel's initial publication, including Lorna's multiple health issues and her account of being called as a witness to an execution in Texas - something she could never discuss but is able to write as testimony to the horror of legal murder.

Lorna held fifteen hundred women captive with her charming wit, and passionate delivery of a life lived to the fullest. Laughter, inspiration, and motivation were exactly what we were looking for and she delivered a hundredfold.

*Carol Pirog,
First Annual Diocese of Springfield MA
Catholic Women's Conference*

Contact:

Lorna Kelly
P.O. Box 33
New York, NY 10028
(212) 717-1551