

DULCE37

B.1983

BORN IN TUMBISCATIO DE RUIZ, MICHOACAN, MEXICO

RAISED IN CHICAGO 88'

37 SYMBOLIZES "LIVING THROUGH TRINITY 7 DAYS A WEEK" – A WAY OF LIFE...

The background features a dark navy blue field with large, overlapping organic shapes in light blue, bright pink, and orange. In the top-left and bottom-center, there are areas with diagonal hatching in orange/black and pink/black respectively.

“Maybe because I am female, a lot of my work is of the female subject and most is extremely expressive in emotion and color. Lately my work has focused more on my personal spiritual beliefs in which I translate the elements into the religious figures – for example, considering Mother of God whom I like to call Good, representing the water element, and she with Will and Love giving light to the fire element, God – two elements that required balance, air, a third element representing archangels and the fourth element being of Earth, us. This idea indicating that we are made up of all the elements, including the negative energy left from the jealous archangel – this being the demon inside that we fight every day. My angels, sculptures and poems all very much somehow trace back to religious or faithful beliefs with a message of hope.”

-Dulce Maria Diaz, Voyage Chicago September 4, 2018

Conversations ignite and unite creative minds, we all are...if we dare to look inside and get to know ourselves...passed the negative lies we find truth and reach our greatness. Our unique greatness and we are free. -dulce maria diaz

DARE TO BE FREE

“Conversations ignite and unite creative minds, we all are...if we dare to look inside and get to know ourselves...passed the negative lies we find truth and reach our greatness. Our unique greatness and we are free.” – dulce maria diaz