THANK YOU

St. John's would like to make a special thank you to Artemis Fraine (and Phoenix) for her help in the office this summer. She has been volunteering her time until she will return to college in a couple of weeks. Thank you, again, for your generous gift of your time and help.

Remembered at Mass

We stand together in the mystery of Christ's death and resurrection. The following will be remembered during the Holy Eucharist: Bill Hildebrandt, Heinz Barben, Fr. Cannice Dooly, Joan Marie Mignogno, Dick McCall, Lorraine Schwetje, and Maria Elena Hargain.

Deceased: Heinz Barben and Fr. Cannice Dooly, friends of the Nacamuli Family; Joan Marie Mignogno, cousin of Jim Simila, Dick McCall, husband of Martha McCall, Lorraine Schwetje, mother of Kristen Butka, and Maria Elena Hargain, mother of Father Luigi. May they find peace and comfort in the embrace of the Lord and may their families find strength in the Lord and comfort and support from family and friends.

20TH SUNDAY ORDINARY TIME: The elusive answer to “Why?”

“I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing...! Do you think that I have come to establish peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division.”
Luke 12: 49-53

It’s becoming more and more of a challenge for parents of young children today: talking to them about God.

When children show an interest in God or start asking questions about their faith, many parents feel conflicted between their faith in God and the controversies surrounding religious institutions and the failures of many of its leaders. While their children’s spiritual imaginations are growing, their parents’ anxieties and sadness about the inevitable disappointments the world would serve up make those conversations difficult — especially among parents who feel insecure about their own grasp of faith, whose own childhood religious formation was largely a negative experience.

Parents experience similar feelings of loss and inadequacy when struggling to answer their children’s “how come?” regarding violence, sexism and racism. How do white parents explain that what is “normal” for their children isn’t always normal for families of color? How do you reassure children that the places that should be safe — like their schools — sometimes are not?

Meghan Murphy-Gill is the mother of a five-year-old. In an essay in U.S. Catholic [July 2019], the Chicago writer reflects on her own experience of trying to explain life’s painful truths to her own son:

“I don’t try to protect my son’s innocence. That might seem counterintuitive to some parents, but in my experience going to lengths to shield him from the cruel realities of the world only makes my own anxieties worse — and his. Our children do active shooter drills in elementary schools, after all. They want to know why. But they also want our assurances that we will do everything to protect them . . .

“One of the reasons my husband and I decided to baptize our son was because the Christian story was not only the story we had been raised with but also one we believe is holy and filled with truth. It reminds us that, yes, the world can be a terrible place and do terrible things, but those terrible things don’t have the last word.”

The vulnerability and fragileness of our lives are at the heart of today’s difficult passage from Luke’s Gospel. In the divisions we suffer, in the contradictions we encounter, in the disconnect between our faith and values and the demands and expectations of our world and culture, the love of God is the one constant that brings us back to one another, that heals the rifts, that bridges what divides between us. The compassion, the selflessness, the humility, the justice that Jesus demands of those who would be his disciples are the “fire” and “baptism” through which we transform our world in the sacredness of God. Discipleship is not without cost; balancing the Gospel’s ethical and moral imperatives with the day-to-day practical realities of our lives is difficult. The challenge of discipleship, Jesus teaches, is not to let God’s word of justice and mercy divide us but to realize how that word can bring all humanity together as God’s holy people.

Once again thank you!

God Bless,
Fr. Rick

20TH SUNDAY ORDINARY TIME

August 18, 2019

“For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be.” (Luke 12:34)

Jesus encourages us to build up our treasure in heaven. The world encourages us to build up our treasure in real estate, investments, and material goods. How much time are you investing in building up a worldly treasure? How much time are you investing in building up a heavenly treasure? To invest more time in the things of heaven, you must let go of some of the things of this world.

BECOME A ST. JOHN’S PRAYER MINISTER

SMILE WITH YOUR FAMILY

A mother was watching her four-year-old child playing outside in a small plastic pool half filled with water. He was happily walking back and forth across the pool, making big splashes. Suddenly, he stopped, stepped out of the pool, and began to scoop water out of the pool with a pail.

"Why are you pouring the water out, Johnny?" the mother asked.

"Cause my teacher said Jesus walked on water. And this water won't work," the boy replied.

Prayer Ministry

SIGNS OF GOD'S GRACE

"We all need help seeing the signs of God's grace in our lives from time to time. It's easy to over-look our growth in faith, hope, and love amid our weaknesses. But just as Paul helped the Thessalonians, we can help one another by pointing out the evidence that we see in each other.

Where do you see faith, love, and hope in another person? Can you see it in a friend who prayerfully maintains the family home? Can you see it in the older couple who care for each other in their declining health? Can you see it in the single dad who works hard and comes home to his kids without anyone to help him out? When do you speak up! Who knows? You might lift that person's spirits and help them see the grace of God in their lives in a new way."

"Lord, open my eyes to see you at work in the people around me. And open my mouth to encourage them."

Reflections like this are found in The Word Among Us. Pick up a copy from the Narthex.

SUMMERTIME PRAYER

Come enjoy summer evening in prayer. The Rosary is a beautiful and contemplative prayer rich in Christian tradition. We invite you to join us in praying the Rosary on the patio overlooking the garden on Wednesday evenings this summer at 6:30 p.m. (relocated inside if it rains). Drop-ins are encouraged and welcomed! Rosary beads and copies of the prayers will be provided.

BLESS THE FIRE

Imagine: Your house is burning, smoke is curling around everything you have ever owned, ever wanted, ever believed mattered: that favorite picture of the person you love, the dog's favorite toy, the couch where you held each other when you cried. All on fire, blazing. The garbage that needed to be taken out yesterday goes up as easily as the receipt you saved from the first time the two of you had breakfast together.

Every object you love and treasure will soon be ashes.

Now, given the chance, what's the one thing you would take out of the burning house?

The French dramatist and filmmaker Jean Cocteau was once asked that very question: What would he take from his burning house?

Cocteau's answer: "I would take the fire."

Cocteau's response strikes us, at first, as sarcastic and flip, incredibly insensitive to those who have experienced such a catastrophe. But Jesus speaks about "fire" in much the same way: fire that purifies, that enlightens, that destroys the useless so that only the meaningful remains. The reality is that the houses we have can burn and be destroyed — we run in, trying to rescue what we have convinced ourselves is important — and we find ourselves trapped inside the destruction, imprisoned by our possessions. The "fire" that Jesus speaks of is humble, selfless love, love that can transform us and our world. But, as Jesus warns us, it is a love that is often at odds with the demands and values of the world. The Gospel calls us to risk power, prestige and even acceptance for the sake of the "fire" of equality, justice, compassion and reconciliation that every individual possesses by virtue of being a son and daughter of God.

OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

August 7, 2019

Rev. Richard Rusk, Pastor
St. John Neumann Parish
P.O. Box 455
Califon, NJ 07830

Dear Father Rusk,

Please extend my sincere thanks to the parishioners of St. John Neumann Parish for their generous response to the 2019 Bishop's Annual Appeal. With pledges totaling $27,400.74, your parish achieved 72.11 percent of its $38,000 goal as of July 1.

I am grateful to you, your parish staff and Appeal coordinators for your efforts and confident that, with some additional guidance, you will be able to reach goal next year. In the coming months, I ask that you work with the Office of Stewardship & Development staff to review the recommended fundraising best practices and plan how best to implement them in your parish for the 2020 campaign.

Thanks to your efforts, and that of pastors, parish teams and generous parishioners across the diocese, we have raised over $7 million in pledges to date enabling us to continue advancing the mission of Jesus Christ throughout our four counties.

The wonderful response to the 2019 Bishop's Annual Appeal is a reflection of our commitment as a diocesan family to Help Build a Civilization of Love. God bless you and be assured you have my heartfelt gratitude and prayers.
