

Heather Schwab

AVP of Human Resources for Vora Ventures

Heather is responsible for all facets of human resources within the Vora Ventures portfolio of information technology companies. She is a seasoned director who has expansive knowledge within the field of HR. She gained significant experience while working with industry-leading organizations in multi-state and multi-company businesses.

Heather devises and leads unique culture-change programs to improve the working environment for Vora Ventures' large employee base. She supports an organizational culture that promotes exceptional work/life balance and high morale, as well as maintains engaging and fun wellness initiatives.

Heather is the executive member of the Vora Charitable Action Committee, which supports several charities throughout the year, such as the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, Pink Ribbon Girls, Wounded Warrior Project, Reds Community Fund, and many others. With her personal time, Heather contributes to the Ronald McDonald House and YWCA.

Heather holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology from Miami University where she was a member of the Women's Rugby Team, as well as a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Heather earned her SPHR certification in 2010.

www.VoraVentures.com