Makeup Application - $65

Whatever the reason, you want to get glammed up! I can provide a natural daytime look perfect for any photoshoot, shower, or business opportunity. If you're after bolder nighttime glam, I can give you a stunning, smoldering smoky eye. Having worked a multitude of weddings, I am able to create soft and classic looks for you and your bridesmaids. Check out my portfolio tab for before and afters of clients for your inspiration!

Makeup Lesson - $75

When you book with Devorah Beauty for a makeup lesson, you will be given an hour and a half one-on-one time with me at my studio. I ask that you bring all your current makeup, makeup brushes, and anything you'd like to learn how to use (like that contour kit you've barely touched!). We will chat about your makeup needs, and I will advise you which products you currently have that work for you - and if there's anything you're missing. I'll walk you through a makeup application giving pro tips along the way (holy grail techniques, how to hold your brushes properly). As I apply each product, I'll show you how I do so on one half of your face, and you will mimic the technique on the other! I've always believed the best way to learn is to do, and this personalized lesson follows that motto! You will leave with a detailed list of how we applied your makeup so you can refer back to our session! I also have quality makeup brushes available to purchase at a fair & modest price point when compared to MAC and Sephora. So if you feel as though you need to add a contour brush or makeup sponge to your kit, you can get them for as little as $5, with nothing exceeding $15!

Bridal Package - $100

Having the perfect makeup on your big day is a fundamental part of your dream wedding. From the moment your husband-to-be gets his first glimpse, to the photos that become timepieces for your children, your beautiful, glowing face will be imprinted in their hearts forever. When you book your wedding makeup with Devorah Beauty, it includes your bridal trial. This has been packaged for a few reasons: one is to eliminate stress for you - we can meet, discuss your bridal look, and perfect it so you feel calm and confident on the day of your wedding. The second is to alleviate costs by bundling two makeup applications into one at a discounted rate for you! Please note that this package applies to brides who have booked their wedding with Devorah Beauty only.
