The area boasts spectacular bird life and fauna and heritage sites such as the Yanga Wool Shed and Yanga Homestead, which are both in close proximity to the town.

Gazetted as a town on the 4th April 1851, Balranald is considered the oldest settlement on the Lower Murrumbidgee. George James McDonald the Commissioner for Crown Lands named the town after the place he was from, Balranald on the Isle of Uist in the Outer Hebrides of Scotland.

Rich in Heritage & Culture

Culturally, the Balranald area is rich in both Aboriginal and European history, it has a strong wool heritage and a deep connection with the River Red Gum which surrounds the region. You can learn more of the history and heritage of Balranald by visiting the Interpretive Pavilion at the Discovery Centre and walking the Heritage Trail featuring historic buildings & sites of significance.

You can take a tour from Balranald to world heritage Mungo National Park which has attracted world attention arising from archaeological sites containing human remains of at least 40,000 years.

There are also various accommodation options including a caravan park, motels, cabins and farm stay. You will also find a range of services including health services, a well-being centre, hair & beauty salons and automotive services.

WHAT'S THE CONNECTION with BALRANALD & FROGS?

When you visit Balranald, you will see FUNKY FROG SCULPTURES dotted around town, the Welcoming Frog at the Discovery Centre and the frog merchandise at the Visitor Information Centre and in certain shops in town.

So what is the connection?.....It's because of the endangered SOUTHERN BELL FROG also known as the Growling Grass Frog which lives in semi-permanent wetlands in south eastern Australia and is known to live in the wetlands of the Balranald Shire.

It's a large handsome frog and is bright green in colour with splotches of gold, bronze and black along its back. Unfortunately it has disappeared from over 50% of its former range over the past 20 years. Disease, habitat loss, farm chemicals and exotic species may be likely causes.

Next time you visit BALRANALD stop by the Visitor Information Centre and the friendly staff will tell you all about the Southern Bell Frog and about the FUNKY FROG TRAIL to see all the frog sculptures around the town!

Situated between Mildura and Swan Hill, Euston and Robinvale are nestled on opposite banks of the most user-friendly stretches of the Murray River.

The township of Euston grew on the site of the Boomiarcool Station, established by seventeen-year-old Edmund Morey in 1846 at what was then the western limit of European settlement. This station grew to one million acres by 1946, by which time it was known as Euston, after a mansion in Suffolk, England. From the 1850's the land was devoted to wool production and the town developed as a river port with a wharf, ferry, courthouse, police station, hotel, a boiling-down works, wool-scouring plant & eucalyptus factory.

Euston was proclaimed a town in 1885 but virtually ceased to exist when the river trade declined. The building of a railway and road traffic bridge across the Murray River – joining Robinvale in Victoria and Euston in New South Wales – saved Euston from certain extinction. Today one of the main industries in Euston is tourism and this small Murray River town caters very well for visitors looking for a slice of riverside paradise.

The Murray river is the hub of recreation with water skiing, kayaking and house-boating activities. Of course the fishing is also great and there is easy access to the river by a sealed boat ramp. Euston also boasts a 4 STAR resort in the Euston Club. The club caters for all your needs from tempting meals to tennis and bowls. If camping by the river is more your style, then Euston has the spot for you. As an RV friendly town you are encouraged to pull up and enjoy the riverside views.

KYALITE

The ideal watering hole for fishermen

The village of Wakool Crossing (the site of present-day Kyalite) was founded by Henry Talbot, who in about 1848 established a punt service across the Wakool River. When he became established, Talbot brought his family out from Ireland, including his parents and siblings. His brother John came to Wakool Crossing with his family and assisted Henry Talbot to construct an inn and a general store on land Henry had purchased near his punt. In September 1860 Burke and Wills dined at the hotel.

Kyalite is located on the junction of the Wakool & Edward Rivers and the Kyalite Pub is the centre of activity in a village that for years has been an important and popular watering hole for visiting fishermen who camp on the banks of the Wakool or Edward Rivers.

The Kyalite Pub/Caravan Park/General Store

Ken and Vicki became the proud owners in 1989 and ever since, the Pub has been an on going restoration program. Relax with an ice cold drink while you 'read' the pub walls. You will find a full photo history of the pub, complimented with hunting weapons and tools of trade used by our original Bushmen. The pub is also renowned for its delicious meals! Within the Hotel bounds is a quiet friendly caravan park that allows you to enjoy your holiday to the fullest. The park is only a few minutes walk to the boat ramp on the Wakool River. The pub also has a fully stocked general store.

While Balranald offers all the conveniences of a regional centre you may want to explore the less travelled routes during your visit. You should be aware that some of the roads will be unsealed and you will need to take some precautions to ensure safety.

Always tell someone reliable where you are going and when you will be back. Mobile phone coverage is limited in some areas.

Always carry drinking water and food in the vehicle.

Try to avoid travelling at sun up and sun down as this is when the wildlife like to venture out to feed.

Always drive according to road and weather conditions. Check the "visit balranald" website for the latest road conditions. You can also contact the Visitor Information Centre on 1800 444 043.

Watch for kangaroos and emus. Kangaroos generally travel in pairs. If you see one, look out for another.

In the event of an emergency stay with your vehicle. Vehicles are easier to spot than people.

Consider carrying a personal EPIRB (Emergency Position Indicating Radio Beacon)

THE 5 RIVERS

The Murrumbidgee, Murray, Wakool, Edward and Lachlan Rivers make up the Five Rivers that meander and converge within the Balranald Shire and are all on Balranald's doorstep. This is a "bucket list" area for keen anglers & water sport lovers.

The 5 Rivers Fishing Trail

The Murrumbidgee River at Balranald

Balranald has easy access to the Murrumbidgee River for the boating fraternity with two sealed boat ramps and trailer parking. Land based anglers can also enjoy great fishing from the banks.

Anglers who achieve success in this part of the river can thank the dedicated efforts of the local angling club, which has put more than 100,000 native fish into the river.

Every fallen tree and log in the river around Balranald has fish-holding potential. In this part of the river there are some big Murray Cod and Yellow Belly waiting to ambush your lures or suck in a big bardi grub.

Beyond Balranald, the Murrumbidgee snakes 170kms through Yanga National Park and provides an abundance of natural fishing spots.

In Balranald you can access boating ramps from the Balranald Caravan Park and at The Bend located at the end of We Street.

The Murray River at Euston

At Euston, 80km west of Balranald, the mighty Murray River flows. Weir & Lock 15, just downstream from Euston, creates a very wide river upstream that provides an excellent water playground. The river can be accessed by a number of boat ramps in the area.

The water is predominantly deep with rock bars and old snags providing cover for a good number of large Murray Cod. Nearby, Lake Benanee which fills from the Murray River, is a popular fishing and camping spot.

The Wakool & Edward Rivers at Kyalite

Kyalite, 36kms south of Balranald enjoys a reputation for the best Murray Cod waters in Australia. There is easy launching into the Wakool River from the sealed boat ramp and a fifteen minute journey upstream will place you at the mouth of the Edward River.

The Lachlan River at Oxley

Oxley is situated on the Lachlan River. While there is no boat ramp access to the river, it is an ideal spot to test your land based fishing skills. In dry times the river will stop flowing at Oxley, so check on conditions before you head out. Whether you chase Murray Cod, Yellow belly, Perch or Redfin, fishing the Five Rivers Fishing Trail will have you telling plenty of fishing tales.

The Euston Weir & Lock 15 is a fascinating insight into an aspect of the Murray River. Construction of the Weir commenced in 1932 and was completed in 1936. Nowadays its main importance is for irrigation and recreation. 32,000 mega litres of water flows through this system daily. Wander down the hill to the river itself and find the post that marks the famous 1956 flood level.
