

September 2015

Charleston South Carolina in August/September 2016

We were still here and have had not much to say the last couple of months. We are still talking to hotels and making a tiring effort to come to an agreement on the hotel price as well as meeting our need for the reunion. John is still working at the selection of the final property. There are plenty of Hotels in Charleston, but the rates are not the lowest in the country. We are trying to stay in the $140.00 or less including Tax, but those hotels just don't have the facilities the size we want for the hospitality room. The banquet rooms seem to be adequate.

The properties in Historical Charleston do not have parking facilities and the parking is 19 to 26 dollars per day.

Hotels want a guaranteed number of rooms to get the complimentary Banquet and Hospitality rooms. We have not had this issue in the past, but Charleston is a tourist town and they get what they ask for. We do have a couple of hotels that we are interested in, and we just might have to just make do with the small Hospitality room space. We are still looking to have the reunion in August or September 2016.
