A woman dressed in a historical costume, including a white bonnet and a long, patterned dress with a red sash, is standing and interacting with a group of children. She is holding a small object, possibly a piece of paper or a small book, and showing it to the children. The children are gathered around her, looking at the object with interest. The background shows a wooden structure, possibly a barn or a historical building, with a sign that reads "ANDOVER".

Become an Education Volunteer

Exploring Andover's history can help students of all ages build strong connections with their community and develop the skills needed to make important decisions for the community's future. We need help from volunteers like YOU to share these engaging programs with students!

School programs are provided at the Blanchard House and at local schools. Programs are typically 1-2 hours long and take place during school hours. Occasional after school programs and weekend family programs take place during the year. Our training program and volunteer schedules are flexible and provide hands-on experience and training materials.

Our current volunteers include former educators, retirees, as well as parents and people from all different work backgrounds. Have a friend that is interested in volunteering? We're happy to allow you and your friend lead programs together as a team! Anyone looking for an engaging volunteer experience, enjoys working with children, and has an interest in local history can become part of this great group of volunteers!
