Suggestions:

- Write about yourself. Have you ever been in a situation where you sit and remark to yourself that 'this could've been a movie?' Sometimes our own lives are as interesting and entertaining as the movies. Make sure you write them down.
- Opposites attract- Why not take an iconic story and flip the characters around. Instead of the beautiful princess kissing the frog, why not make it the handsome prince? Another flip on this would be to take a well-known movie and reverse the characters
- Confinement stories- Create two characters and put them in a location they can't leave and see what happens.
- Read the newspaper- The newspaper is full of incidents which can make it into the 'truth is stranger than fiction' category. Often these news snippets can be combined and interchanged to come up with refreshingly original ideas.
