lower your stress level -- with animals the leading approach to distress.

Helping save animals

Not only will you be saving yourself some stress, who wants a stress ball when you can have a cuddle buddy. By adopting you will also be getting a helpless animal off the street

Proven Results

It has been proven in many studies that something as simple as playing with your pet may lower stress level and produce more Oxytocin aka less stress

A word from our happy customers "Adopting a pet has truly changed my life, I no longer sleep alone now I have a lovely cat to cuddle with at night"

We here at Adopt a pet have an assortment of animals ready to relieve your stress from fuzzy dogs to cats that love to cuddle, but maybe you would like a low maintenance animal such as a fish it is almost soothing to watch your fish gently swim around his tank.

Animals help your kids

If you do have children well you are in luck because research has shown that children who grow up with kids grow up are said to be more emotionally intelligent

How to Reduce Stress

After a long day at work the last thing you need is to come home to an empty home. It is far healthier to be greeted by a loving pet, just the sight of said pet may lower stress levels immediately.

The Activities you can enjoy

Having a new pet will open your life up to a new world of stress relieving activities

- You will walk your new pet which will help you forget that 9-5 day
- Dogs love to play fetch throw that as hard as you punch the time clock after your shift is over
- Join new clubs like dog walking clubs or kitty clubs to meet new people and have some social time with your new best friend.
