RISK MANAGEMENT

Every year millions of pounds are lost on construction sites due to poor security, and with high value machinery lying around it is easy to see why.

Each site is different and presents a unique set of risks. From high volume of visitors to high value machinery being used, we will assess the whole construction site and recommend the level of security cover and upon confirmation, we can get on with securing your site.

Risk is part of all our lives. As a society, we need to take risks to grow and develop. From energy to infrastructure, supply chains to airport security, hospitals to housing, effectively managed risks help societies achieve. In our fast paced world, the risks we have to manage evolve quickly. We need to make sure we manage risks so that we minimise their threats and maximise their potential.

Because risk is inherent in everything we do, the type of roles undertaken by risk professionals are incredibly diverse. They include roles in insurance, business continuity, health and safety, corporate governance, planning and protection of assets

The project on above was Mc Donald's Hotel in Manchester., with a security team of 14 men per day dealing with the day to day running of the project, taking care of traffic control, site deliveries and securing the site.

CODE OF PRACTICE

BS 7984 gives recommendations for the management, staffing and operation of an organization providing Key Holding and Response Services on a contracted basis. It also provides best practice for Security companies and the principles of Key Holding.

Specific recommendations are given on the organization and its documentation, including structure, finances, insurance, premises, sale of services, and drafting of contracts.

Organizations should possess a clearly defined Management structure showing control and accountability at each level of operation.

This British Standard gives recommendations for the management, staffing and operation of an organization providing Security Guarding Services on a static site and/or mobile patrol basis.

BS 7499 explains the normative references as well as the terms and conditions relating to Security Services. It takes an in-depth look at the organization and its resources to ensure the right safety measures are put in place. Other topics include best practice services and the training of security personnel
