RISK MANAGEMENT

Each Event is different and presents a unique set of risks. From high volume of visitors, to peoples well being in a safe environment. We will assess the whole event and recommend the level of security cover and upon confirmation, we can get on with securing your site.

Risk is part of all our lives. As a society, we need to take risks to grow and develop. From energy to infrastructure, supply chains to airport security, hospitals to housing, effectively managed risks help societies achieve. In our fast paced world, the risks we have to manage evolve quickly. We need to make sure we manage risks so that we minimise their threats and maximise their potential.

Because risk is inherent in everything we do, the type of roles undertaken by risk professionals are incredibly diverse. They include roles in insurance, business continuity, health and safety, corporate governance, planning and protection of assets

CODE OF PRACTICE

Organizations should possess a clearly defined Management structure showing control and accountability at each level of operation.

This British Standard gives recommendations for the management, staffing and operation of an organization providing Security Guarding Services on a static site and/or mobile patrol basis.

BS 7499 explains the normative references as well as the terms and conditions relating to Security Services. It takes an in-depth look at the organization and its resources to ensure the right safety measures are put in place. Other topics include best practice services and the training of security personnel.

BS 8046 From party-goers at music festivals to families attending Christmas events, all will benefit from the much needed new Standard in stewarding and crowd safety thanks to BSI Group's British Standards division. This is a benchmark of good practice and the first of its kind for the industry.

This British Standard, called Event Stewarding and Crowd Safety Services \(BS 8406\), is in line with all health and safety legislation and will assist Local Authorities and event organisers to work with greater assurance in terms of avoiding potential accidents and injuries. It also aims to tackle the frustrating chaos that attendees can suffer from organisers who pay little attention to crowd control. The hope is that Local Authorities make it a requirement when granting a Private Entertainment Licence for large events.
