To the House of Commons.

The petition of residents of the UK

Declares that home-to-school transport must remain available and affordable to young people in education, including those who are now required to remain in education or training until the age of 18 years and further declares that an online petition on this matter was signed by 2,747 individuals.

The petitioners therefore request that the House of Commons urges the Government to undertake an urgent review of the provision of home-to-school transport for students in education or training beyond the age of 16 years and to make it compulsory for local authorities to provide this transport to all children in education.

And the petitioners remain, etc.
