Just thought to share with the community-all the banks are hyping cash-back Credit cards but this C2GO & M.I.C. partnered companies have a system to gain cash-back from a Debit card.

How would you like to earn cash back on all of the spending that you and your friends do? After all, how much can you really get back on your own spending? Even though cash back is preferred over miles and points systems, the nationwide average on cash back on your own spending is under $100 per year. If you want to earn more...spend more. Sounds crazy, right?

Introducing a new program that allows you to earn cash back on OTHER PEOPLES spending every time they make purchases on gasoline, groceries, online purchases, bills, and more. There is no limit to the number of people you can add to your crowd so get a card today and start telling your friends about it. They will all have one of these cards one day soon. Will they be in your crowd or someone else's?
