

There is a rumor going around the state that LCA has lost its accreditation. This is untrue and was started out of ignorance as to how schools are approved in Louisiana. It has been perpetuated by some who would like to injure the good reputation of LCA.

The Louisiana Department of Education does not accredit any non-public school. Non-public schools in Louisiana are “approved.” That being said, if a non-public school is accredited by an approved outside agency (SACS), it is listed as accredited on state paperwork. The majority of non-Catholic, non-public schools choose not to seek an SACS accreditation. They are then listed as “non- accredited state approved” on the paperwork.

Lafayette Christian Academy is State of Louisiana approved. We are accredited by the National Association of Private School (NAPS). Nothing has changed. That is the way that it has been for the past 10 years.

So as you hear these rumors, rest assured that LCA maintains the highest level of academic professionalism. We are always seeking to improve on the success that we have had. Because of our successes, some would like to knock us down. That is the price we have to pay for our academic and sports excellence.
