-Helping Missionaries in Vanuatu

November/December 2012

Dear Friends and Family,

Thank you for your prayers for me as I continue helping here in Vanuatu. Matthew Meads and I were able to make the hike into West Coast and preach at the village of Lalalou, where Matthew has been working. It was my first “real” hike and was a lot more intense than I’d expected. The people were very welcoming to us.

A few weeks ago I had the opportunity to preach at Matevulu College, an English high school. There are about 500 students enrolled at the moment, so it was a good crowd. Thank you for praying for me. I was also able to preach last Sunday at Luganville Baptist. It was my first time to preach with a translator.

Jeremy Pinero arrived back in Vanuatu 2 days ago, after a 6 month furlough in Australia. We’ve been busy preparing for his return the last few weeks. I did a lot of painting and repair work in their house (like putting new screens in so the kids won’t get malaria from the mosquitos).

At the moment we are laying cement to finish the floor of our new work shop. We are hoping to finish building the water tower soon, as it will save power and help our well pump to last longer. Although we have a rain tank, we also use the well for a lot of things.

In the next couple weeks, Jeremy is planning to make a big outreach hike across the Big Bay part of our island. The hike will last several days (probably 2 weeks) as we hike to new villages to tell the Gospel to these remote people. Please pray for us as we prepare for this hike and pray for God to prepare the hearts of those we will talk to.

God bless you,

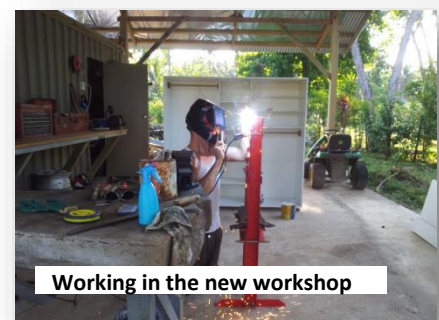

Levi Pitman
