ADOPTION CONTRACT - NO DECLAW AGREEMENT

Kitten/Cat: _____ DOB: _____

Kitten/Cat: _____ DOB: _____

Our cats may not be declawed. If you want a declawed cat, ask if we have one that is already declawed. Reason: Declawing is cruel, physically and psychologically, and completely unnecessary. A cat's claws function as part of its fingers and toes. Declawing means amputating the last joint of a cat's toes. The surgery and recovery is extremely painful. Declawing impedes a cat's ability to walk and play as well as protect and groom themselves. Psychologically, cats need to claw as part of their grooming ritual and many cats knead with their claws to express comfort. Declawed cats tend to have higher levels of anxiety because they feel defenseless and often become biters. They also tend to react to stress by acting out such as by not using their litter boxes. Frequent clipping of the tip of the claw can help alleviate damage due to scratching. A volunteer or your vet can show you how to properly clip claws. Give your cat plenty of appropriate things to scratch and gently correct your cat if it scratches the wrong things. A little patience, positive reinforcement, and consistency in training will alleviate the vast majority of scratching problems. Initial: _____

I understand that any failure to perform the foregoing agreement will constitute a breach of contract. In the event of any breach of contract, I authorize The Kitten House Rescue, LLC to reclaim both possession and ownership of the kitty and impose a $5,000 fine. Initial: _____
