Imari Havard Heads Up Client Services and Creative For Timeless Havard Poised To Raise The Bar As Client Services Executive

ATLANTA, GA (January 13, 2016) – As Mr. Havard was preparing for his annual birthday weekend ski trip, he received the news from Timeless CEO – Ryan Hill he would now be heading up both the Creative & Client Services teams.

“This decision just makes sense. With over 10 years with the company, no one has a better understanding of our company’s capabilities and client opportunities. And in my 20+ years, I have never worked with an executive better suited for client relationship management. He simply has the perfect temperament matched with uncompromised judgement.” stated Ryan M. Hill, CEO – TIMELESS Family of Companies.

In the his new role, Havard will head up all creative assignments enterprise wide (Creative), and take ownership for revenue retention and growth with all existing Timeless clients with his primary focus being on their largest client Ford Motor Company.

“Wow, I was totally shocked by this move. While this is a huge job, I accept the challenge. And, I am looking forward to working with my new Creative team and strengthening our Client Services approach.” commented Mr. Havard.
