1 Samuel 8-10, 15 - King Saul

After years without a regular, permanent leader, the people of Israel were united under a monarchy. The story of how Saul became their first king is a combination of two accounts: one favors the idea of having a king; the other is more critical.

l.	First, the favorable account. Read through 1 Samuel 9:1-10:16 and number these events in the correct order.
	Samuel anointed Saul with oil, as the future king.
	The Lord told Samuel to anoint Saul as the new king.
	Kish's son Saul was taller and better looking than anyone else.
	Saul told his uncle about the donkeys, but not that he was to be king.
	Saul couldn't find the donkeys and wanted to go back home.
	When Saul met a band of prophets, he too started to prophesy!
	Saul and his servant found Samuel on his way to eat a sacred meal.
	Kish sent Saul to look for his runaway donkeys.
	Samuel told Saul to go to Tabor, then to Gibeah, and then to Gilgal.
	Saul slept all night on Samuel's roof.
	Saul's servant talked him into visiting a prophet.
	Samuel gave Saul the best meal at the dinner.
2.	According to 1 Samuel 9:15-16, why did the Lord decide to give the people a king?
3.	Now for the unfavorable account. Skim through 1 Samuel 8:1-22 & 10:17-27. According to 8:6-9 & 10:17-19, why was having a king not a good idea?
4.	According to 8:10-18, how would a king eventually treat them?

5.	According to 1 Samuel 15:10-35, the Lord eventually rejected Saul as king. Why?
6.	Which national leaders or politicians have you admired? What qualities did you like?
7.	Which national leaders or politicians have you disliked? What qualities did you not admire?
8.	1 Samuel 15:22-23 may be the key to understanding Saul's tragedy. Color this verse in your Bible and tell how it can serve as a warning for your own life.
