

Meghan Jones, Violin

Meghan is currently the Assistant-principal violin of the Sarasota Orchestra.

Originally from Edina, MN, Meghan earned her Bachelor's of Music at Northwestern University as a student of Gerardo Ribeiro and her Master's of Music at Boston University as a student of Peter Zazofsky.

Prior to her position in Sarasota, Meghan performed as a member of the New World Symphony and the Charleston Symphony Orchestra in South Carolina. She has also performed at the Breckenridge Music Festival in Colorado since 2002. Other festival performances include Tanglewood, the National Repertory Orchestra, Spoleto U.S.A. and Encore School for Strings.

Meghan has been on faculty at the Conservatory since 2008 and currently accepts students of all ages and levels.