4. What are your favorite memories while an Adams State student, in or out of the classroom? Did you belong to any campus clubs/organizations?

In spring of 1962, the boys of Kit Carson decided to push a bed on bicycle and bag of SLV potatoes to Denver. It was thought to be stupid idea. But 20 brave started toward Denver. Soon local media began to broadcast progress. Excitement swelled at Adams State. Cars with helpers were leaving Alamosa hourly. I finished class and left for the chase. Our car caught the bed outside of Buena Vista and we were dropped off at ½ mile intervals to do our part. The bed moved at 6-7 MPH and was on out skirts when Denver media ran the story soon 2 miles of cars followed the bed. Finally about 25 miles from heart of Denver the Colorado Highway Patrol stopped the bed. They promised to take the bed and bag of potatoes to see governor the next day. The project was a success and no one got hurt. It was a great spring break from studies in 1962.

5. Favorite memories while a Monte Vista student?

I graduated from MVHS in 1959

Our football team beat the rival Alamosa the last game of the year to win the district championship. But we lost in the first round of state

In the summer of 1958 we (class of 59) drove to Alamosa and ran a Pirate flag up flag pole, spray painted doors with the scores of football as we won in 1958 also. Some of the classmates set fire to rags at Alamosa high school door. Stupid but no real damage. Some very outstanding citizens were evicted Darla Self, Ann Mullins, Margret McFadden, Ann Sears, Paul Haram, Ronnie Ransdell, Lorn Schall, Sammy Crawford, Jerry Beth, Kay Foster, John Sharp, Bill Hurd, Me and others. Two preachers kids and leading parents in Monte Vista. Never got caught as they suspected Adams State College Students.

The planning party for senior dance no one wanted to make punch. So Bill Hurd and I volunteered. Immediately the class said "They will spike the Punch". Well we did and would have got away except Bill was collecting from boys to pay for the vodka at the dance.

The class sponsors swore we did not bring alcohol just fruit juice and 7 up in sealed bottles. One 7-up bottle contained a pint of vodka.

My date was the Method Ministers daughter and I gave her some extra high power 7-up. The shit hit the fan and I was called to principals office. He asked and I do not lie. "Yes we did it", I said. "Wayne from you I expected better, it must be bad influence of Bill Hurd" .

High school was a time to push boundaries and have fun. I would love to repeat the whole process again. Many of my classmates have gone.

6A. Who were some of your most influential mentors/professors while at Adams State?

My freshman year I had a great Chemistry Teacher Tommie Tompson (Dr. Tommie). He was a great teacher and I was sorry to see him leave.

But a new professor, Dr. Kay Watkins filled his shoes as both were short but very bright.
One story I remember about Dr. Watkins, he assigned a research paper to class. This was before computers so research was read books and copy important work. The get someone who could type and spell to produce final paper.

Over 100 papers were turned in. The next class there were two stacks 85 in one stack and 15 in the other. The short stack gets A and B (I got A) the big stack gets F.

What is the difference someone ask? The A and B gave credit to sources. The F did not. In science and life we give others credit for their work. A lesson that has remained with me for my career.

6A. Who were some of your most influential mentors/professors at Monte Vista?

7. How did ASU prepare you for your future success?

8. Are you still in contact with friends you made while in college or high school? If so, what about those friendships has lasted through time?

9. Why do you know believe it is important to financially support a MV high school graduate to attend Adams State?

10. Do you believe a SLV native and graduate of a local high school is prepared to be successful outside of the valley and/or Colorado? How

A SLV student lives in clean air and wide open spaces. In my era, and I expect today also, free of gangs and racial hate. The family is at core of life and parents care about success of their children.

As a result, the SLV student resppe authority is more self reliant and does not depend on someone else to pick up slack. Hard work is norm for the middle class rural youth of SLV.
