Hi Parents and students!! We will have testing this week. Tuesday is a math test. Honestly, this chapter in math is a review. The grades on daily work have been fabulous, so, I'm not worried about anyone doing poorly. I will be sending home a review sheet tonight for homework.

Wednesday is a test on verbs. This should be fairly easy for our class. We have been talking about verbs since the first week of school. We will review on Tuesday in class. I will also send home a review sheet on Tuesday afternoon. Make sure that your student can successfully complete this page on their own, and they should be fine for testing on Wed.

Thank you,

Mrs. Escobedo
