

Brittany Reuss, was born and raised in Lake Geneva, WI and discovered her passion for dance at The Dance Factory in Delavan, WI. She credits her home studio for her excellent training and artistic development as a young artist. s. Reuss graduated from The University of Iowa with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance and Bachelor of Arts in Communication Studies. While studying/training at the University of Iowa she performed in the annual Dance Gala, choreographed for several Undergraduate Concerts and was a core member of the department's touring company, Dancers in Company. Upon graduation, Ms. Reuss taught dance for two years to young dancers ages 6-18yrs and choreographed for their annual recital. She moved to Chicago after accepting a position with NoMi Dance Company. During her four seasons with the company, she performed in works by some of Chicago's finest, Laura Kariotis (artistic director of NoMi), Paul Christiano, Ahmad Simmons, Joshua Blake Carter, Todd Rhoades, Monique Haley, Jessica Miller Tomlinson and Katie Carey. Brittany also had the pleasure of creating two profound works on the company, one to the music of the great Stevie Ray Vaughan. In January of 2016 Ms. Reuss became an ACE Certified Personal Trainer, and working with up to 10 clients a week through LulaFit Concierge Fitness. Ms. Reuss relocated to South Florida in May 2017 in pursuit of a beautiful new adventure. She thanks the lovely people in her life who continue to support her as she dares to pursue her dreams and put happiness first.
